U. S. Bars Red Cars In Berlin

East Zone Trips Made Unopposed

BERLIN (AP) — Three Soviet armored vehicles taking guard replacements to the Soviet war memorial in West Berlin were detained by the U.S. at Checkpoint Charlie more than an hour today.

At 2:45 p.m. the armored personnel carriers the Russians have used for guard movement since Tuesday were still at the checkpoint.

Witnesses reported three American military vehicles were blocking the Russians' way into West Berlin.

Test of Moscow Action

During the night, U.S. Army cars made unopposed excursions into East Berlin to test whether Moscow's abolition of the Soviet commandant's office would be followed by efforts to limit Western movements in the Communist part of this divided city.

Although East German guards made no attempt to interfere with the American vehicles, U.S. authorities said it was still too early to conclude that harassing measures were not in the offing.

One U.S. Army vehicle crossed from West Berlin into the Communist sector just before midnight and returned without difficulty through Checkpoint Charlie, entry point through the Berlin Wall for military personnel.

Transferring Duties

Two more U.S. Army cars followed without meeting any delays.

The Russians announced Wednesday they were doing away with the office of city commandant and transferring his duties "temporarily" to Gen. Ivan Yakubovsky, the Soviet commander for East Germany, who has headquarters at Potsdam, just west of Berlin.

Western officials viewed the action as a Communist effort to cut one more "slice of salami" from Western occupation rights in the campaign to force the allies out of the city. Communist propaganda organs were expected to argue that the Soviets no longer needed a military authority in Berlin and neither did the Allies.

The United States, Britain and France took the view that the sudden switch of command on the Soviet side did not affect Western rights or the Soviet responsibility for what goes on in East Berlin.

President Kennedy told a news conference the Soviet Union could not affect rights of the four occupation powers by a one-sided decision.

Severs Connection

The Soviet action, however, had the effect of severing connections between the Russians and the American, British and French commandants in Berlin. The Soviet commandant was the official to whom the Western comman-

Name New Salem Resident N.Y. State Marine of Year

GILBERT E. GRAY

A Town of Esopus resident, Gilbert E. Gray of New Salem has been chosen as the New York Marine of the Year, it was announced today by Kurt Gruber, commandant of Ulster Detachment, Marine Corps League.

Gray, a local ambulance service operator, as a state winner becomes eligible for the national title to be designated at the national convention of the Marine Corps League this month in Tampa, Fla.

Chosen at Albany

He was chosen at the state convention in Albany from among 68 named as Marines of the Year by various community Marine Corps Leagues in the state. Gray was named Ulster County Marine of the Year July 16.

Marine Gray, a former commandant of Ulster Detachment, now conducts the Doctor's Ambulance Service at 77 Greenkill Avenue. He has been associated with the ambulance business in this locality for several years. Gray was advised that one of the factors leading to his winning the state award was the unique distinction he holds of being Ulster County champion at assisting at births, a record he compiled in his years in the ambulance service.

Commandant Gruber said "we of Ulster Detachment, and indeed each citizen of Ulster County" should be proud of our man who received such a high honor. Every local Marine Corps League certainly agrees with the board in that the award was well deserved."

Marine Gray, a Kingston native, served during the Korean Conflict with the U. S. Marine Corps, being discharged with the rank of sergeant.

He resides with his wife, Bernice and their five children at New Salem.

During his years of service to Marine Corps League he has held many offices both on a local and state-wide level. At present he is state public relations officer. He presently holds citation from the State Marine Corps League for outstanding service and was Marine Ball chairman in 1961 and has held many other committee chairmanships.

Kingston Men Held In Upstate Probe

Two Kingston young men picked up here Wednesday by Troy police on warrants issued in connection with an investigation of the dumping of another man's body in a Troy parking lot Tuesday morning, pleaded innocent today before Troy Police Court Judge Joseph Daly to misdemeanor charges and are in custody in Rensselaer County pending possible later developments.

Arrested yesterday after he gave himself up at local police headquarters, was Robert Frederick Harvey, 21, of 114 O'Neil Street, a railroad laborer. He was booked by Detective Harold DeGraff for violation of Section 43 of the Penal Law, which police describe as "an amnibus section."

Death Called 'Suspicious'

Apprehended last night on Clinton Avenue near Main Street was Thomas Sauer, 21, of 7 Wiltwyck Avenue. He was picked up by Officer Thomas Carpino and turned over to Assistant Chief John Grunmick and Detective William Murray, of the Troy police. Sauer, a restaurant worker, was booked for violation of the same section.

Their arrests came of the probe of the "suspicious" death of Robert Seymour Rush, 47, of 337 Madison Avenue, Albany, a hospital orderly, whose partially clad body was found in the parking lot.

Their pleas of innocent today

Ulster Approves Light District, Eyes Early Start

Following a public hearing held Wednesday night at the Lake Katrine Grange Hall, the proposed Albany Avenue Lighting District was accepted by the Town of Ulster Town Board and members of the town board and Central Hudson engineers will discuss the type of lights and the system will be turned on as quickly as possible. There was no opposition to the proposal.

The light district will be from the Kingston city line north to Neighborhood Road, encircling the IBM, up Boice's Lane and south to Morton Boulevard, connecting Albany Avenue at Ulster Hose Company No. 5.

Smith Hails Action

Francis Smith, president of the Ulster Business Men's Association, expressed to the town board on behalf of the membership of the Association their thanks to the town board for its cooperation and efforts in establishing the Lighting District. He said that through the efforts of the members of the Business Men's Association in circulating petitions it had been possible for the district to be formed.

Members of the Association started circulating petitions for the light district in June of this year and submitted the petition

Will Pour Billions in Space Race

To Overtake Reds By End of Decade

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy says the United States is pouring billions of dollars and a tremendous effort into overtaking Russia in space—"and I think by the end of the decade we will."

This was a sort of hopeful look at long-term prospects in reponse to a news conference question Wednesday about Russia's orbiting of twin cosmonauts.

U. S. Now Behind

It was tempered by mention an even dozen times that this country now is behind, second, or late or that the Soviets have a lead. Kennedy said: "Anybody who attempts to suggest that we are not behind misleads the American people."

Russia or Russians figured in one way or another in a wide range of conference topics.

For example:

Kennedy said "The Bloc"—he meant the Communist bloc—has put large quantities of supplies and an increased number of technicians into Cuba in recent weeks. He said there is no similar information about troops.

He said that if Soviet Premier Khrushchev comes to the United known that Khrushchev will—"I Nations this fall—and he doesn't would hope I would have a chance to talk with him" and any other heads of government who might come.

Comments on Berlin

The President said that Russia's action in abolishing its commandant's office in Berlin certainly cannot by itself affect U.S. rights based on a four-power agreement with the Soviets, Britain and France.

Getting closer to home, Kennedy put himself in the cheering section for a Senate subcommittee's investigation of profits on America's stockpiling of $8 billion in strategic materials.

The President said and repeated that extremely large profits were made by the Hanna Mining Company with very little risk to the firm, that he could under-

JFK Lauds Rendezvous Under Ice

By ELTON C. FAY
AP Military Affairs Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A hide-and-seek maneuver by two U.S. Navy atomic submarines under polar ice points to the way a deep and deadly war could be fought in the Arctic.

President Kennedy announced the hitherto secret operation to a news conference Wednesday, saying that the submarines Skate and Seadragon had made "historic rendezvous" under the ice, then surfaced through an opening at the North Pole.

Surfaced August 2

"This," said Kennedy, "is the first time that two of our submarines have worked together in this manner under the arctic ice pack and I want to congratulate all of those involved in this exceptional technical feat."

The submarine versus submarine operation started July 31 and concluded when the two ships surfaced Aug. 2. Navy experts consider it a major tactical demonstration that antisubmarine warfare in the hostile and weird environment of the ice-capped Arctic Ocean seems feasible in the event of hostilities.

Another phase of submarine warfare, rocket-firing by submersibles, creates urgent requirement for counter-measures. Russia is beginning to build and send to sea atomic submarines. One of the logical launching points for any Soviet submarine rocket attack on the United States and Canada would be the Arctic Ocean.

The U.S. Navy maintains a barrier patrol across one route for Russian submarines into the Atlantic. That barrier extends eastward from Greenland to Iceland and the Faroe Islands. But the Arctic Ocean, on which Russia borders, is wide open.

Attack Subs Only Hope

If Russia should begin deploying rocket submarines under the ice, the United States must create a defensive system. The only apparent means are attack submarines, perhaps sent out on weeks-long patrols to listen electronically under the ice—a new barrier line.

Until now, the United States had no actual experience in submarine hunting in polar areas. Although

Governor at Fair, No Tax Hike Vowed

Governor Nelson Rockefeller visited the 117th annual Dutchess County Fair at Rhinebeck, Wednesday afternoon, and after touring the grounds welcomed more than 10,000 visitors in front of the Administration building.

Today, the governor was carrying his campaign for reelection into Central New York after renewing his stand against a tax increase and sidestepping a commitment on teenage drinking, the Associated Press reported from Syracuse.

Speaks at Nelson House

The governor spent several minutes giving autographs to scores of persons. Prior to his visit at the fair he addressed 300 persons at a businessmen's luncheon at the Nelson House, Poughkeepsie.

The third day of the county fair attracted thousands before noon and with good weather continuing, fair officials anticipate a record attendance for the six days. In the last two days the attendance has far exceeded 20,000.

Lee L. Leachman, Rhinebeck, president of the Dutchess County fair, has set a goal of a record attendance of 110,000 persons for the six-day, six-night exposition which continues through Sunday, Aug. 26.

Visits Various Exhibits

Governor's day proved a success, and fair officials said today Governor Rockefeller appeared to have enjoyed the afternoon, visiting the various exhibits.

Jersey judging of 4-H entries, 4-H demonstrations, voting for the Queen of the 1962 Fair, a free grandstand show and a 4-H talent show on 4-H Hill, were features of the program for this afternoon and tonight.

Rest of Schedule

Gates and exhibit buildings open Friday at 8 a. m., with open class dairy and 4-H steers judging, and an English horse show scheduled for 9 a. m. tomorrow. At 2 p. m. a free grandstand show will be presented, and at 7:30 p. m. the crowning of Agricultural Centennial Queen will take place in front of the grandstand.

On Saturday, 9 a. m. 4-H Dairy showmanship, western frontier horse show, and other attractions are scheduled.

The Republican governor, who has put heavy emphasis on county fairs in his Upstate travels in recent weeks, opened the second day of a four-day tour with a breakfast attended by 175 business and industrial leaders here.

His schedule for the day also included a luncheon of service clubs at Malone and an appearance of the Franklin County Fair at Malone.

The campaign swing began Wednesday in the Poughkeepsie

Settecase, Five Plead Innocent To Heroin Charge

Anthony Settecase, 55, of Lattintown Road, Marlboro, and five other men pleaded innocent Wednesday in Federal District Court in New York City to charges of being members of an international narcotics ring that smuggled more than $100 million worth of heroin into the United States over a 10-year period.

To Set Trial Sept. 28

Judge Edward J. Dimock scheduled Sept. 28 for setting a trial set for the six who entered pleas. The pleading of five others was postponed to next Tuesday.

Settecase, whose bail was originally set at $25,000, was reduced to $15,000.

The Marlboro contractor was one of 11 men picked up earlier this month on charges of conspiring to violate the Federal narcotics law.

Others Identified

Hoderath Elected Lt. Gov. by Area Kiwanis Division

Hubert Hoderath, a faculty member of the Kingston Consolidated School system until his retirement a year ago, this week was elected lieutenant governor of the Hudson Valley Division of Kiwanis International. The election is for the 1963 year.

The local Kiwanian, a member of the Kingston club for more than 20 years, was elected by delegates from 19 clubs in the division during a meeting in Middletown.

Hoderath, who resides at 120 West O'Reilly Street, has resided in Kingston since 1925. He formerly served as director of Vocational Education, principal of Adult Education and as acting principal of Kingston High School during his educational career.

Hoderath has served as a member of or chairman of all Kiwanis action committees; in 1948 he was program chairman; in 1954 he was president of the Kingston club. During the year of his presidency the annual interchange of visits with the Kingston, Ontario club were initiated and recently he was chairman of the 1962 inter-club visit to Kingston, Ontario, where 39 local Kingstonians attended a meeting of that club. He helped organize the Key Club in Kingston High School and served as its faculty advisor for 10 years.

Assassins Missed by Few Inches

10 Bullets Hit President's Car

PARIS (AP) — Police today sought a band of Secret Army Organization killers whose bullets missed President Charles de Gaulle by only inches in an ambush on the outskirts of Paris.

An investigation indicated that Wednesday night's assassination attempt was the second planned this month on the 71-year-old French leader. The other failed to come off.

Admits 'Close Shave'

De Gaulle, unruffled but admitting he had "a close shave," rested with his wife at their guarded country home at Colombey les Deux Eglises.

The police search centered on a dark-haired man, about 30, who rented one of the ambush cars from a suburban garage three days ago. The light panel truck was found booby-trapped and abandoned a few hours after the assassins fired at the motorcade taking De Gaulle to a military airport.

The garage owner, who supplied the clue, said the same dark-haired man rented the same truck for five days on Aug. 4. Police noted that period coincided with De Gaulle's trip to Paris from his country home. He gave a luncheon Aug. 8 at Elysee Palace for visiting Dwight D. Eisenhower.

De Gaulle had come to the capital Wednesday for a Cabinet meeting to draft stronger measures to stem a wave of terrorism blamed on right-wing extremists from Algeria.

De Gaulle's car was hit by at least 10 bullets in a heavy cross-

Schwenk Assured State Hoping for Fall Viaduct Bids

Mayor John J. Schwenk today said the State Department of Public Works has assured him that "very effort is being made" to call for bids and gain a contract for the Washington Avenue viaduct project in the fall.

Common Council legislation Tuesday night locally enabled the state to proceed in advancing project plans and specifications and it is expected that the next important state action will materialize in the early fall.

The ciy delayed action on resolutions which were required by the state to be adopted, because Mayor Schwenk awaited a reply from the state as to whether it would be responsible for replacement of lights on the railroad overpass while it remains in use before and during project construction. Maintenance of the viaduct will revert to the contractor after a contract is awarded.

Mayor Schwenk learned recently that the state will bear the cost of replacing the lights but the city will be responsible for power and maintenance. It is expected that the viaduct will remain in use during construction which will involve replacement of the narrow Esopus Creek bridge and re-establishing the full width of Washington Avenue at grade. A section of Route 28 will also be rebuilt and realigned.

Mayor Says Housing Code Could Speed Downtown UR

Downtown urban renewal is at least eight months ahead of that uptown and will maintain the lead if the Common Council assists with adoption of a housing code and zoning ordinance on schedule, Mayor John J. Schwenk said today.

The mayor complimented the council for its cooperation Tuesday night in approving the uptown urban renewal survey and planning contract, and assured downtown aldermen that he shares "wholeheartedly" their desire to bring Broadway East to its execution stage.

"As mayor of Kingston," he said, "I feel a deep obligation to all of the people of this city, and I have no favorite ward or section. You may be sure," he added, "that I personally place crucial importance and the highest priority on moving the Broadway East project to completion."

Comparing the downtown and uptown urban renewal timetables, the mayor explained that survey and planning of the Broadway East Project started last February, and will be completed before the end of the year. "With planning board and council cooperation in holding public hearings and adopting the master plan, codes and ordinances," he said, "we can begin the actual renewal of downtown by the spring of 1963."

The uptown urban renewal project, he noted, will enter the survey and planning phase in September, and probably will not reach an execution point before late fall of 1963.

"Furthermore," he said, "the federal government, which has

O'Connor Camp Hits Morgenthau at Top

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The chances of Robert M. Morgenthau's winning the Democratic gubernatorial nomination drew added strength today with an endorsement by the party leader in an influential county — Westchester.

William F. Luddy, the county chairman, proposed Wednesday that Morgenthau run at the head of the party's ticket next November, with Frank D. O'Conor, the Queens district attorney, as candidate for the U.S. Senate.

Morgenthau, U.S. attorney for the Southern District of New York, had no comment on the Luddy proposal, which was made at a news conference in New York City. An O'Connor spokesman said, however, that O'Connor was the party's leading gubernatorial candidate and that the Luddy proposal was an attempt "to buy Mr. O'Connor off."

The development was one of several as the party's nominating convention drew nearer.

The Democrats will nominate their ticket Sept. 17-18 in Syracuse. Gov. Rockefeller and Sen. Jacob K. Javits are assured of renomination by the Republicans.

Other developments overnight:

—Rep. Samuel S. Stratton of Schenectady, another gubernatorial hopeful, asked whether Rockefeller was involved in some kind of "a political deal" with Joseph Falcone of Utica, a delegate to the Apalachin gangland convention.

Falcone recently turned himself in to the State Investigation Commission, which had been seeking for four years to question him about the notorious 1957 convention.

Falcone was released from custody after testifying before the commission Tuesday, and Stratton said the freeing of the man was "fantastic." Stratton said he had no evidence of a Rockefeller

Prayer Ban Takes In Everyone: State

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A ban by the U.S. Supreme Court on government - sponsored prayers in public schools applies to local school officials as well as to the state, an Education Department spokesman contends.

Dr. Charles A. Brind, department counsel, gave that view Wednesday in a statement he said was intended as a legal explanation of the court's opinion.

The tribunal on June 25 said that government was "without power to prescribe by law any particular form of prayer which is to be used as an official prayer in carrying on any program of governmentally sponsored religious activity."

The court's action was aimed at a prayer recommended for use in public schools by the State Board of Regents. The 22-word prayer, adopted in 1951, was considered by the Regents to be nonsectarian.

Brind said the ruling applied to boards of education, school superintendents and principals and teachers, as well as to the Regents.

The decision continues to be a major issue in many school districts in the state. Some districts are seeking to find acceptable substitutes to the Regents prayer or to continue use of prayers, such as the Lord's Prayer, which had been traditional in the districts.

Also, many of the ramifications of the court's opinion have yet to be determined.

The Board of Regents, which governs all education in the state, and State Education Commissioner James E. Allen Jr. have said they will issue no blanket policy regarding activities with a religious theme in classrooms. Rather, they say, they will deal with each case as it arises.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — President Kennedy is finding labor just as hard to convert to his new guide lines for a booming economy as he found many leaders of big business and many top men in Congress.

A developing clash with labor could be one of the highlights of the struggle to get the economy moving faster—supposing the government can do it. And labor's sour view of the guidelines is sure to dominate much of next year's labor-management negotiations in many industries.

Over Shorter Week

The labor-administration clash is over a shorter work week. The dispute of the administration with business is over the government's increasing role in collective bargaining and especially in monitoring price policies. The conflict with Congress in the economic field is over taxes and tariffs and spending, among others—all tied to economic growth, jobs and prices.

Labor has told the President it is tired of waiting for a seemingly sidetracked boost to economic growth to find jobs for the four million or more persons out of work, many for long periods.

The union leaders' idea is that a 35-hour instead of a 40-hour week either would furnish more jobs to get the same amount of production or would counteract some of the inroads of automation on factry and office employment.

The administration says it will stand firm on the 40-hour week as the norm. The President thinks that in some lines more work, rather than less, may be needed to get the economy moving fast enough to put all the nation's capacity in operation and all its labor force to work.

And a 35-hour week at the same pay as a 40-hour one would add to the pressure for higher prices. This the administration opposes—as witness its sharp reaction when steel companies tried to raise their prices last April.

Many Under 40 Now

As a matter of fact many labor contracts already call for less than a 40-hour week at standard pay. Anything over that brings extra pay. The most cited example is the 25-hour week won this year by electrical workersin the New York construction industry. But other contracts across the nation call for less than a 40-hour week.

The American Federation of Labor and Congress of Industrial Organizations is calling for a major drive to win more of these shorter week contracts as negotiations come up in the months ahead.

It also will ask Congress to cut the present statutory 40-hour week to 35 by amending the federal Fair Labor Standards Act.

Twist Contest Is Set Friday at Dutchess Fair

Something new in Dutchess County Fair competition — a Twist contest — will take place Friday night, rain or shine, at the Rhinebeck showgrounds on a new dance floor gaily decorated with Japanese lanterns and covered by canvas.

Johnny Mayone's orchestra of Glasco will play the music for this no-holds-barred contest to pick the champion twisters of the Mid-Hudson valley. The contest is free as part of the free dancing nightly to a live orchestra feature of the 117th Dutchess Fair. Prizes will go to the winning twisters and Bill Nimmo, well-known radio-television announcer, will be the master of ceremonies.

Free dancing Saturday night also will be to the music of Mayone's band, and on Sunday night Harry Castiglione's orchestra will play.

Tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock at the Grandstand the fair will crown its Centennial Farm queen, chosen by popular vote. The A-H Baby Beef show will be judged tomorrow morning, with an English horse show slated all day tomorrow and a western horse show all day Saturday.

Free grandstand shows through Sunday night's closing will feature the Harmonica Rascals, every 2 and 8 p. m.

Both teams missed a diamond slam on board 13. The slam is a cinch to make because declarer can win the opening lead, draw trumps, discard one club on the king of hearts, and a second on the jack. This allows North to make his queen, but establishes the ten for a spade discard.

The fact that a slam is lay down implies that it should be bid, and undoubtedly some players would get there, but it is always hard to reach a slam when one player holds all the high cards and the other holds nothing except a six-card suit that he happens to be able to run.

The Americans started with an artificial two club bid and a two diamond weakness response so that West's three diamond call was not a diamond rebid, but merely showed that West held some sort of diamond suit.

The Italians started with a forcing club bid and one diamond as the bust response. Then East showed his great strength by a jump to two hearts. West went to three diamonds to show some sort of a suit and again the Italian East settled for three no-trump.

The Italians made six when East ran off his high cards in other suits and then finessed for the same queen of hearts. The Americans only made five so that Italy gained an International Match Point and finished the first session 25 IMPs behind the Americans in the World Championship series.

Hints Political Deal

Stratton Demands Gov. Jail Falcone

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP) — Rep. Samuel S. Stratton, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, demanded today to know "what kind of a political deal" Gov. Rockefeller had made with Joseph Falcone, who attended the Apalachin gangland convention in 1957.

Falcone, of Utica, had been missing for four years until he turned himself in to authorities last week. He testified Tuesday before the State Investigation Commission.

Released After Hearing

He was released from the custody of a deputy sheriff after the hearing in New York City. Commissioner Myles J. Lane said Falcone had complied with a court order by testifying and had assured the commission he would be available for further questioning if it were necessary.

Stratton, said today he had sent a telegram to the Republican governor in which he demanded that Rockefeller, as the "state's chief law enforcement officer, immediately apprehend and jail Falcone."

In a statement released with the telegram, Stratton said it was "fantastic that a man who has been ducking a state subpoena... for four years and then comes in with a transparent alibi should be allowed to walk out scot-free."

"What kind of a political deal has the governor made with Falcone?" the congressman asked.

In Albany, a spokesman for the governor said that the telegram had not been received and that no comment would be made until it had arrived and had been studied.

Open Door to Others

Stratton, told the Associated Press that he had no evidence of a political deal between the governor and Falcone.

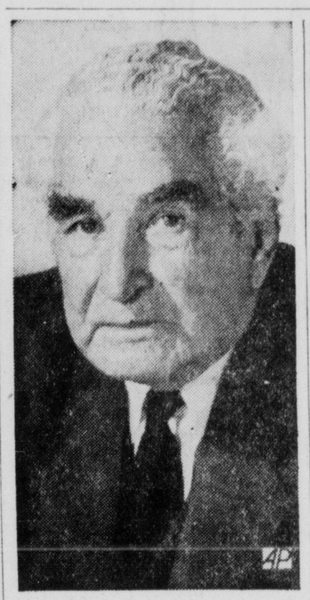
Stratton called Falcone's explanation of his disappearance "transparently false."

Stratton contended that if Rockefeller allowed "this sort of treatment to stand, then he might as well announce to all future racketeers and criminals that they can defy commission subpoenas with an immunity for years and never worry about anything stronger than a rap on the wrist."

Birth of a Tornado

A tornado is born when cool, dry air blows in over warm moist air. The cool air descends while the warm air rises and the collision causes the rotary storm.

FOLK SINGER IN WOODSTOCK—Pete Seeger, regarded as the foremost folk singer of the day and a highly controversial political figure, will present a midnight concert at the Woodstock Playhouse on Saturday, Aug. 25. Seeger was sentenced to a jail term for refusing to answer questions before a Congressional committee but higher courts reversed the sentence. A man very much in the news in recent months, Seeger ranks high among the nation's entertainers. A local note: he is married to Toshi Ohta, daughter of Takashi Ohta, a former Woodstock painter who was associated with the old Maverick Theatre. Mrs. Seeger got her elementary education in the old Bearsville school.



LEADER — Sir Alexander Bustamente, 78, is the new prime minister of Jamaica. The island in the Caribbean became independent on Aug. 6 after 307 years of British rule.

Mrs. Sharpe Closest

Nobody Beats Pro Hutchins at Woodstock Links

J. Carson Hutchins, the Woodstock Country Club golf professional, fired a 34-32-66, so it was not surprising that none of the WCC women were able to Beat The Pro in the annual tournament.

Mrs. Alex Sharpe came the closest with 90-23-67 and Mrs. Phil Salet was two shots away on 96-28-68.

Several prizes were awarded by the pro, including a golf set.

Mrs. A. J. (Wiggie) de Lisio won a prize for low gross 40-36-76. Other prize winners included: Mrs. Sharpe, low net, 67; fifth low net, Mrs. Kermit Schwarz, 99-27-72; low score on second hole, Mrs. Jean Hildebrant, 4; high score on 4th hole, Mrs. William McGrath, 7; high score on No. 7, Mrs. David Fogel, 8; high score on No. 9, Mrs. Albert Bernard, 7.

Lowest putts were: Mrs. Joseph Fitzsimmons, 28; Mrs. Doris Murray, 29; Mrs. Thomas H. Dendy, 30. Mrs. Philip Salet turned in the best poker score with five 6s.

The summaries:

Mrs. Sharpe, 90-23-67; Mrs. Salet, 96-28-68; Mrs. Joseph Forno, 91-21-70; Mrs. Doris Murray, 96-25-71; Mrs. Kermit Schwarz, 99-27-72; Mrs. J. Carson Hutchins, 86-14-72; Mrs. Joseph Fitzsimmons, 89-16-73; Mrs. Thomas H. Dendy, 94-21-73; Mrs. A. J. de Lisio, 76-3-73; Mrs. Jean Hildebrandt, 91-17-74; Mrs. Inger Walker, 92-17-75; Mrs. Harry Kennedy, 91-16-75; Mrs. Paul Wilheim, 100-24-76; Mrs. Albert Bernard, 105-25-80; Mrs. Charles E. Burnett, 95-14-81; Mrs. William McGrath, 103-18-85; Mrs. David Fogel, 108-21-87.

Explosion Is Fatal To Dump Contractor

MECHANICVILLE, N. Y. (AP) —John Palmer, 55, a dump contractor, was injured fatally Wednesday when a barrel of waste silicone material was jarred open and it exploded in his face.

State Police said the Mechanicville man was throwing sand over tightly-sealed barrels, which he collected from the General Electric plant at nearby Waterford, when one opened and blew up at a dump in this Saratoga County community.

Onteora Board Receives Maps For NYC Land at West Hurley

Three topographical drawings of the West Hurley area the Onteora Board of Education may purchase from the City of New York's Board of Water Supply have been turned over to the school architects, Trustee R. C. Cruthers reported at Monday's board meeting.

Cruthers, who has been serving as liaison between the board and City of New York, said the maps contain the necessary data from which the architect can procede with his preliminary layout and fixing of the proposed school building location.

The Engineers Department of the BWS has turned over all necessary information to the New York Board of Estimate which will fix the cost of an acre. The plot of land which is contiguous with Route 28, from a point opposite the juncture of Route 28 and Route 375, consists of approximately 69 acres.

The information from the Board of Estimate is expected in the near future.

Cruthers revealed that it required extensive research of the BWS files and on maps dating back to 1909 to acquire the necessary information. He also noted that the school architects saw no serious problems in building on the site. There are no major stone hazards and water is plentiful.

Insurance Plan

An extensive insurance committee report submitted by the committee chairman Trustee H. Chase Page was filed for future action. I marks an attempt to solve the controversial aspects of Onteora's insurance policies in the past.

District Principal George R. Sullivan was empowered to negotiate a lease with fire commissioners of West Hurley for use of the fire room as a kindergarten room.

In a memorandum to the board, Dr. Sullivan pointed out that the kindergarten enrollment in West Hurley has exceeded the 58 pupils who originally were scheduled to attend kindergarten in two one-half day sessions and is now 72. He recommended that a third half-day session be established in a room in the West Hurley fire hall for a class not to exceed 20 kindergarten children.

The Onteora district would agree to pay a $10 per week rental fee, provide custodial service and provide liability insurance for the West Hurley fire room. The building has already been approved by the State Education Department for use as a temporary quarters.

Faculty Appointments

Three faculty appointments were confirmed: Mrs. Joyce Goodrich, part time, junior high mathematics, salary, $4,960; Joy Ann Kiernan, kindergarten, pro rated salary of $3,990; Mrs. Glenda Hess, former kindergarten teacher in West Hurley, has agreed to teach this session on a half-time basis through November.

Mrs. Lorice Lindstrom was hired for part time clerical work, three hours per day, at the rate of $1.25 an hour.

Eight persons, two from each of the major townships in the district, were named to the Adult Education advisory committee. They are: Hurley, Mrs. Dorothy Narel, Mrs. Helen Schwartz; Shandaken, Henry Bernstein, William Landesman; Olive, Ernest Gardner, Robert Thornell; Woodstock, Irving Kalish, Mrs. Bernice St. Pierre.

The board accepted bids on various items. Adel's Awning and Shade Mfg. of Ashokan was awarded the window shades contract at a bid price of $1,401.

General Baking, Albany, received the bread contract (.20 for 24-oz. loaf); Babcock Farms Dairies, Kingston, white (.05285) and chocolate (.0579) milk; ice cream, Borden's Ice Cream, Albany, .52 Dixie cups, .68 sandwich, .62 cones.

Kaye Sportwair, Inc., Kingston, received contract for eight tumbling mats at $1,167.50.

27 New Faculty Members Named At Onteora CS

Twenty seven new faculty and administrative appointments have been announced by the Onteora Central Schools System for the 1962-63 academic year.

Carol Summers, Irwin Zagar, Bob Jacobson, Sidney Geist and Tom Doyle will be the artists represented. The show will run through Sept. 7.

Geist and Doyle will exhibit recent works of sculpture, while Irwin Zagar will show monoprints. Carol Summers' work is recent wood-block prints and Bob Jacobson's is drawings.

Blind Sale Set For August 27

The annual Woodstock sale of articles from the Albany Association of the Blind will be held Monday, Aug. 27. The sale, which features a wide range of merchandise, is being held on the Lutheran Church lawn from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m.

General chairman of the sale is Mrs. Ivan Freer.

Many useful household articles and attractive gift items are offered for sale. All merchandise is produced in the A.A.B. shops.

Rocky Names Two

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Edgar A. Newell of (604 Crescent) Ogdensburg, a business executive, was appointed by Gov. Rockefeller today to the council of the State Agricultural and Technical Institute at Canton.

The governor also named Stuart A. Allen of Waterville to the Board of Visitors of Utica State Hospital.

Both appointments fill vacancies caused by expiration of terms on the unsalaried boards.

Postpone L.L. Father and Son Woodstock Game

The Father and Son game originally scheduled yesterday by the Woodstock Little League was postponed until Sunday, Sept. 16, at 2 p. m.

The postponement was necessary because the families of many of the players involved in the game are now on vacation. All details of the game remain the same for the Sept. 16 date and refreshments will be served all afternoon and after game time.

At a meeting presided over by the newly-elected president, Joseph Forno, Gene Snyder and Sam Mercer were appointed a committee to make arrangements for the Father and Son game. Mrs. Johnson was reappointed to serve again next year as refreshment chairman and will be in that capacity for the Sept. 16 date.

Following a lengthy discussion on the improvement of the Little League diamond for the 1963 season, the president appointed a committee of Floyd DeWitt, Gene Snyder and himself to assume the responsibility of putting the field in proper shape for next season.

Vaughn Hafele was appointed publicity chairman.

DON'T TRIFLE WITH 'UNCLE'

Considering how much valuable property the United States Post Office Department moves around, it is no wonder that a band of hoodlums finally succumbed to the temptation and spooned up a little for themselves.

The surprising thing is that it doesn't happen more often.

But there are good reasons why most of those who live by breaking the law draw the line this side of the United States government. It might give you some idea when you learn that over a thousand federal employes have been ordered to Boston in the wake of the $1.5 million hijacking of a mail truck near Plymouth, Mass.

Among them are agents of the postal inspection service, the country's oldest special police force, whose first chief was Benjamin Franklin.

It has an outstanding record. Last year, the inspectors arrested 32 persons for mail holdups; 31 were found guilty. It made 4,001 arrests for mail burglary and mailbox looting and got 3,776 convictions.

A mandatory 25-year jail sentence for armed postal robbery helps account for the low number in that category.

For these and other reasons, mail trucks are lightly armed, and not armed at all in small towns and villages. Weapons are carried, however, when especially valuable shipments are being made.

In large cities, armored trucks are regularly borrowed from the Federal Reserve. Frequency of shipments keeps down the concentration of valuables and maximum secrecy also adds to the problems of the crooks.

Convoy cars with armed men sometimes accompany trucks. Unfortunately, it was just before the Plymouth robbery that the postal authorities there ceased using a police escort.

TRIUMPH UNDER THE EARTH

When Hannibal invaded Italy in 218 B. C., it took him nine tortuous days to cross the Alps.

In 1796, Napoleon did it more quickly, without elephants.

But beginning in the spring of 1964, ordinary motorists will be able to cross between France and Italy in under an hour—including customs formalities—thanks to the tunnel under Mt. Blanc.

Now that French and Italian crews, working toward each other since 1958, have met and the 7¼-mile bore is completed, road paving and installation of lighting and other equipment can begin.

When completed, the two-way roadway will be 23 feet wide, with emergency park repair spaces every fifth of a mile. It will chop 125 miles off the distance between Paris and Rome. Over 300,000 vehicles are expected to use the tunnel each year.

The story of the tunnel is one of courage, skill and triumph, not unmixed with tragedy. Seventeen men were killed inside the mountain or in avalanches outside.

When the final breakthrough was made the two crews rushed toward each other and, unlike the soldier of old, indulged in vigorous embracing and back-slapping. They toasted each other in wine that was sweet and well-deserved.

AFTER HIGH SCHOOL

The number of top scholars graduating from high school who go on to college is rising rapidly, and the nation as well as the students will profit from this. A survey made by a University of Pittsburgh team indicates that 70 per cent of the top 30 per cent of high school classes of 1960 entered college within a year.

Reasons for the increase are said to be mainly more counseling of high school students and more scholarships available. Perhaps also more parents and students are becoming aware of the importance of education for competitive careers later.

College never will be the right answer for all students. Many other kinds of training are equally valuable for some. But each one should get as much education as he can, whether the academic or the vocational emphasis happens to suit him best.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THE STATE DEPARTMENT

"The New Bedford (Mass.) Standard-Times" has published an interesting series of articles on "What's Wrong With the State Department?" by Everett S. Allen who spent 18 months of investigation and interviewing.

His orientation appears in the very first sentence of his first article:

"By accident or design, this is where the 'cold war' is being lost."

The articles are interesting and contain considerable material. Random House has just announced the publication, in the near future, of a book entitled, "The Fourth Floor" by Earl E. T. Smith, former United States Ambassador to Cuba. Obviously, the title of this book can only mean that Ambassador Smith is discussing the deskmen of the State Department—the men who make policy as a result of day by day action. No President, no Secretary of State, in recent years, has been able to undo the work of these men.

Allen's series almost gives the impression that there is a hidden hand, a conspiracy, to undermine the United States. My experience with State Department activity goes back to 1917. I would say that from 1919 to 1930, as regards China, that experience was close. The men whose pictures appear in Allen's brochure were not in the Department then. Some of them may not have been born, or at any rate, they were children at school.

But the story was the same as it is today, except that in those days we were worried about Japan and Germany; now it is Russia.

The trouble with the State Department is organic. In the first place, even in simpler days, decisions were made at the lower levels rather than by the responsible officials, the President and the Secretary of State. By the time, a problem reaches the top for action, so much has developed, so many decisions have been made and steps taken, that the higher officials are caught with an accomplished fact which they cannot or will not repudiate. Can not, is more correct—because the time element is a big factor.

Are the men on the Fourth or the Sixth Floors all Communists, Socialists, traitors, scoundrels? Most of them are younger men who have become expert in particular areas of the Earth or on particular subjects. They know languages, history, local customs. They become so absorbed in their specialties that they often become spokesmen for the area rather than for the United States. All countries suffer from this mental transference and it is one reason why they keep shifting men around. In my day in China, this was so true that it was once said of a scholar, "He came to China to convert the Chinese but they got him first."

The situation is now complicated by tenure. Nobody can be fired unless he is a political appointee. The Foreign Service Law, the Civil Service Law, the Veterans Law protect men in their jobs, even if they do stupid but not criminal things. Unless a man can be retired for stupidity or uselessness, a government department becomes clogged with unnecessary persons. Experts do know it all, but that does not mean that they have the wisdom to handle a situation.

The solution, of course, is for the President or the Secretary of State or the National Security Council to lay down a strict policy, not when an emergency arises but long before, and everybody must conform to that in every particular or be fired. The fact of the Cuban situation is that neither President Eisenhower nor Secretary of State, John Foster Dulles, knew anything about Cuba until after Castro was in absolute control. But the Fourth Floor knew as five ambassadors, Hill, Gardner, Smith, Braden and Pauley, have made clear beyond doubt.

This comes down to a matter of the organization of the transmission of material and the responsibility of the top men. This is probably true of most departments of the government. Dealing with more than 100 countries presents an almost impossible technical problem. Secretary of State Hull, for instance, dealt with tariffs and other economic problems and knew nothing of the negotiations which led to war and eventually to an alliance of the Western Powers. John Foster Dulles was interested in isolating Russia and paid little attention to anything else. Dean Rusk needs a good office manager.

The major problem today of the State Department is that decisions be made at the very summit, not by the experts.

All Facts Aren't in On Cholesterol Hassle

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Much of the present hoopla about cholesterol puts me in mind of what used to be said not too many years ago about the relationship of meat (especially red meat) to hypertension, arterial hardening and heart trouble.

Anybody who knew, or pretended to know, anything about diet and medicine could then tell you that eating beefsteak was an invitation to disaster. And so the hypertensives, arteriosclerotics and cardiacs were offered the choice of fish or poultry while other members of the household hesitated only over the decision of "rare" or "well-done."

Today, the dietary picture has undergone a revolution. While other members of the household sit before breakfast plates which "crackle and snap," the hypertensive cardiac puts away hamburger or a small steak. Provided, of course, that all evidences of fat have been removed. And whether or not the fear of cholesterol goes the way of fear of "red meat," only the future will decide.

To those of us who are certain only that overweight hurts the circulatory system, Prof. Arthur Grollman of the University of Texas Southwestern Medical School provides welcome information. He says:

Cholesterol intake is not a proven cause of atherosclerosis.

Cholesterol is actually a steroid, not a fat, and estimates of its concentration in the blood do not necessarily give a measure of the fat content.

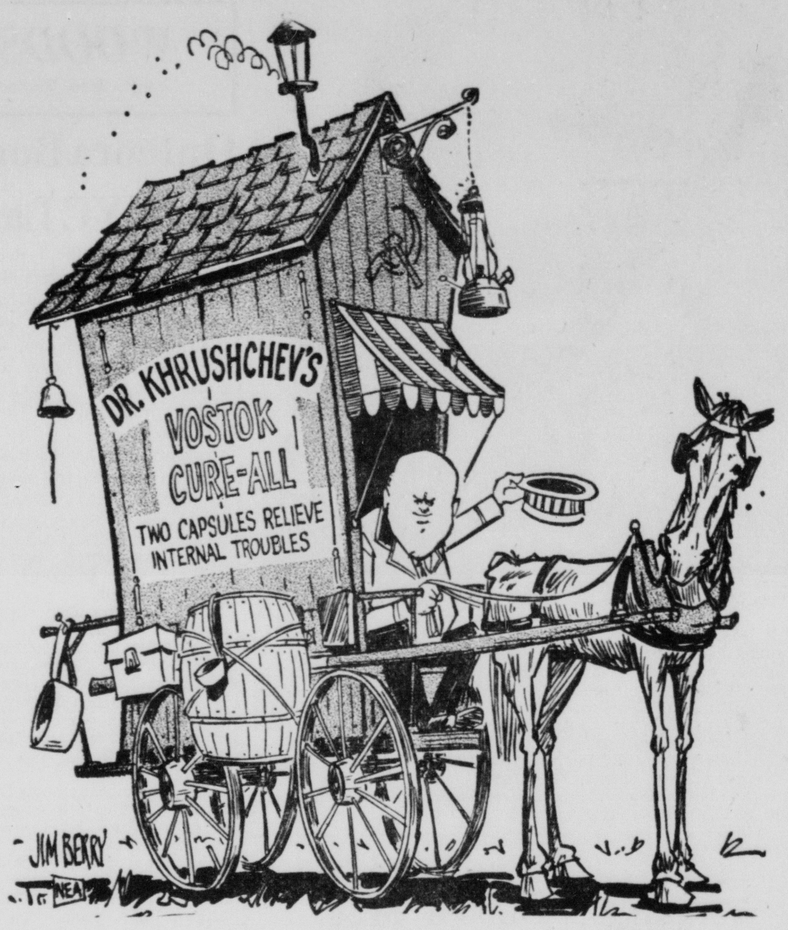
It is a disturbing fact that blood cholesterol determinations admit of wide errors. For example, prolonged application of the tourniquet before obtaining the blood sample may increase the reading by as much as 41 per cent.

Cholesterol occurs in every body cell, where it serves many important functions. "Contrary to the popular impression," says Grollman, "ingested (dietary) cholesterol is not the only source of cholesterol in the body. All body cells are capable of building cholesterol from readily available derivatives of sugars, fats and proteins (meat, cheese)."

The cholesterol deposited in hardened vessels is not necessarily derived from the cholesterol that circulates in the blood. It may have actually been synthesized by the cells of the hardened wall itself.

Variations in the amount of cholesterol in the diet do not necessarily affect the blood level of cholesterol. More than anything, the fat content of the diet affects the cholesterol level. And saturated fats will raise the level to a greater degree than unsaturated fats. So, too, will emotional stresses. Indeed, Grollman believes that emotional stress "may sometimes be more important in causing a high cholesterol level than fat intake."

In summary, Prof. Grollman concludes that while "we certainly want to encourage dietary discretion in the use of fat, and restrict fat intake in patients with high cholesterol levels, we do not need to encourage the prevailing air of panic about cholesterol. All the facts about cholesterol and atherosclerosis are not in yet. And, until they are, we probably can help our patients most by encouraging ordinary discretion."



Washington News

Washington Correspondent, Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Plans for the creation of three new railroad systems in the eastern United States are expected to develop from Interstate Commerce Commission hearings beginning Aug. 20 on the proposed merger of Pennsylvaia Railroad with New York Central System. The other two systems would unite Baltimore & Ohio with Chesapeake & Ohio, and Norfolk & Western with Wabash and Nickel Plate.

So far there has been no petition that ICC consolidate all its merger applications into one general hearing. Each proposal would have to be considered on its own merits. But the effect of one merger on other lines not in any proposed consolidation does have to be carefully weighed.

ICC HEARINGS on the Pennsy-NYC must therefore take in the whole eastern territory. The effects on connecting lines south of Washington, Cincinnati and Louisville, west of St. Louis and Chicago must also be considered, making it a national case.

There are now 42 railroads in the eastern territory. Nineteen roads are included in the three merger plans. Twenty-three are excluded and it is conceded at the start that the three big mergers might mean loss of business by the others.

Merger of Pennsy with NYC has been under study by the two roads for nearly three years and is now pretty well worked out. But even if approved promptly by ICC, the merger could not be put into full effect before the end of 1963.

AS THE Pennsylvania-New York Central Transportation Co., it would become the biggest railroad in the country, with 20,000 miles of track.

Pennsylvania's capitalization is 13 million shares of $10 par value stock, now selling at $11 and a fraction. Its indebtedness is $600 million. NYC capitalization is six million shares of $1 par value, now selling at 12 and a fraction. Its indebtedness is $900 million.

In the proposed merger, NYC stock would be converted to eight million $10 par value shares, giving the new corporation a capitalization of over $200 million.

To speak of this as a merger of two roads, however, is a misconception. The New York Central system has been built up by 500 past mergers and the Pennsylvania by 600.

NYC today owns, leases, controls or has an interest in 86 separate corporations. Over 50 are railroads, 12 are terminal companies, the others bridges, tunnels, piers, coal, real estate, apartment, hotel and miscellaneous companies, including one called Exotic Enterprises. It is 100 per cent owned by Clearfield Coal Co., which is 100 per cent owned by NYC.

The Pennsylvania corporate structure is just as complex.

FEW STOCKHOLDERS bother about all this. Only the corporation executives, lawyers and chief accountants understand it. The corporate superstructure is justifiable for legal protection or tax purposes. Every subsidiary has a profit or loss which must be absorbed by holding companies higher on the pyramid.

Some students of transportation policy have raised the point that before there can be any meaningful railroad mergers, all this traditional organization confusion should be cleared off the tracks.

This is not an issue in the Pennsy-NYC merger now up for approval. ICC considers corporate structure the railroads' own business and does not try to regulate it.

Back in 1920, after the government had run the railroads into the ground during World War I, ICC came up with a plan to merge all United States railroads into 21 economic systems. The roads would have none of it, so the idea died aborning.

If something had been done, the railroads, their employes, the shippers, the lost passengers and the government might not now be going through the present merger fever.

The current railroad urge to merge began in 1957. Since then ICC has approved 15 mergers. It has 13 other applications for class one railroad mergers pending.

CONGRESS NOW HAS before it a bill which would ban all mergers until the end of 1963, pending further study. This is supported by railway empoyes who fear loss of job security and union security. It is opposed by rail management, which says that if the roads can't merge they may go bankrupt.

As Pennsylvania board chairman James M. Symes testified before the Senate Monopoly subcommittee, "The New York, New Haven & Hartford has already gone bankrupt and others are close behind. A series of bankruptcies could very well cause nationalization of all roads."

No one in his right mind wants that.

Today in National Affairs

The 'Mess in Washington': Analyzing the Real Issue

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—There certainly is a "mess in Washington" these days. It is due almost entirely to the fact that the Democratic party is split into a radical—or so-called "liberal"—faction and a conservative faction.

Actually the record of recent years shows that a Democratic-controlled Congress gets along better with a Republican President who tends to be conservative than with a Democratic President. For the radical wing of the Democratic party produces an unstable and confusing situation. Claims were made during the 1960 election campaign that, because the nation had experienced an era of "divided government," it would be better to have both the legislative and executive branches of the government in the hands of the Democrats. But this has not turned out to be a remedy either.

President Eisenhower got along with the Democratic majority in Congress because he had the help of the conservative Democratic bloc as well as the conservative Republican bloc. The bipartisan coalition which was in the majority reflected the conservative mood of the country.

Revolt Against Party

The recent filibuster in Congress was really a revolt by the radical bloc in the Democratic party against its own leadership. This group hoped to turn a hesitant President away from his natural inclination to take a more or less conservative course and to draw him closer to the radical cause. But Mr. Kennedy has had troubles with the conservative bloc, too, as on medical care.

Some aspects of the whole problem of Presidential leadership at a time like this were interestingly discussed the other day by the conservative Democrat, Sen. Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma, often referred to as one of the most powerful men in the Senate. He is a forthright individual who expresses his convictions clearly and sticks to them. He led the fight against the President's legislative proposals on medical care for the aged. Sen. Kerr was asked on an NBC program, "Meet The Press," whether he and other members of the Democratic party in Congress were "going to be dictated to from the White House." He replied:

"Why certainly we are not going to be dictated to by the White House, any more than the White House is going to be dictated to by us. No man in the Senate respects or loves the President of the United States any more than I do. And I shall act on that basis. But I love the people of Oklahoma more than I do the President of the United States."

Divergence of Interest

Mr. Kerr was also asked by Richard Wilson of the Cowles publications the following question:

"Do you feel that it is appropriate for a man who represents one state to insist upon his point of view above the point of view of a man who is elected by all the people of all the states?"

"Well," replied Senator Kerr, "if a man doesn't represent the viewpoint of his constituents, they will get rid of him and send somebody here that will. You know when this government was set up and the Constitution was written, it was written so that each state would have two Senators. And there was a great divergence of interest at the time that that Constitution was written and the first 13 states sent their representatives here. The divergence is even greater today.

Right of Petition

"But remember this, Mr. Wilson, that that divergence between all of the economic groups in this country and the sum total of their welfare is what makes up the strength, the economic progress, the position, the growth and develeopment of this country. And certainly the Constitution said, 'no man shall be denied the right of petition to his Congress,' and that means whether he is a worker, an employer, a farmer, a trucker, a railroader, a power man, an oil man, a manufacturer, a lawyer, a doctor, or whatever his business is.

"The sum total of all of these economic interests make up the sum total of America. And the men in the Congress represent those various interests. And God grant that they always do, because if they didn't then you would have one group of Americans superior over another and then we would cease to be a democracy and lose the benefits of a representative form of government, because, to make that work, we must represent all the people in this country."

The foregoing is an accurate statement of the political theory behind Congressional representation. Its wisdom will be debated. For the American system would be paralyzed if group or organization pressures were to dominate the government. Too often the pressure groups are self-centered and are not willing to listen to argument about the over-all "public interest."

What really has happened to America is that "public interest" is often interpreted, even by a President, as synonymous with political interest. Party responsibility, which was emphasized for decades in American history, has not been fixed in recent years because of rivalry between factions within a party. A bipartisan coalition for more than 30 years now has controlled a majority in both houses of Congress. This has saved America from radicalism.

The Congressional elections in November will determine if this coalition is to be weakened, or if a so-called "liberal" or radical group is going to acquire the balance of power in Congress. If successful, this group could dictate to the White House the course of legislation and move America further toward public ownership, more deficit spending and more and more depreciation of the purchasing power of the dollar. That's the real issue behind the "mess in Washington" today.

Q—How does the interior of an Orthodox church differ from a Roman Catholic or Protestant Church?

A—There is no statuary in the church. It is considered too strong a reminder of pagan idols. Instead, there are flat pictures called icons.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

Attorney Henry Klein of Green Street who was enjoying the Ulster County Art exhibit at the Academy Green told me that Mrs. Grove Webster, who lives at the Gov. Clinton Hotel wanted to meet me. He also told me Mrs. Webster was 90 years old.

Among my friends and readers I have many who have reached or are close to 90. I wish I knew their secret. Most of them do not look 90 or act like it.

I crossed the street to say "Hello" to Bob Browning who was sitting outside the hotel and waved to me from across the street. We are old friends from radio days. Then Mr. Klein came out of the lobby with a spry, slender, lady in a red sweater and jaunty hat all bright and smiling for a nice summer's day. She never looked 90th, and she didn't look 70 either, and I told her so.

She could be in her sixties or so and ready for a long walk. I was the one who felt and looked tired. We sat on the veranda and had a nice chat. She is bright and sharp and with a good sense of humor. She told me that she will be 90 Dec. 1, in which month Dr. George Chandler, also staying at the hotel will be 90.

She wanted to talk to me about Forsyth Alley which runs from Abeel Street to West Union.. She remembers Jane Forsyth had a little candy store there, next to Webster. If she said, the children mentioned Christmas or other holiday even in mid-summer Jane Forsyth would absentmindedly give them candy. Mrs. Webster also remembers and saw the boiler take off from Roach's plant on Ann Street and fly over Broadway to land in Weston's Laundry on Broadway. That happened Thursday, afternoon at 5 p. m. Dec. 14, 1905. At the time Bobby Weston and Louie Weber were in the apartment upstairs. Sam Mann of then 91 Broadway, had left half hour earlier and missed the excitement.

We spoke about the tragic trolley car accident in which her husband, Grove Webster was killed. It happened March 4, 1918 at 6:32 Monday morning, when the New York West Shore newspaper train No. 9 crashed into an uptown bound Kingston City trolley car at the Broadway crossing.

Grove Webster Jr. lived, at the time, at corner Stuyvesant and Broadway. John G. Boyd, a policeman and Wasil Kosteckie died from the tragic accident. Other passengers were: Fred W. Sudheimer, Ben Cohen, J. DeWitt, Dan Healey, Donko Meiniezuk and John Grimm.

My neighbor, Mrs. Gerald Cross told me that John Grimm, then of 7 Foxhall Avenue was her mother's father and she heard her mother speak of it at home.

Mrs. Groves was also interested in the story on the Zoller family in this column as she was formerly a Zoller. One of Mrs. Webster's sons teaches aviation in a university and the other son, Fred, is connected with the telephone company in New York. She has a grandson, Grove Webster V, who is also in aviation. So I spoke to her about the late Col. Gordon Reel who had been my friend, and often talked about aviation from his World War I days. He was a good friend of the famous Brigadier General (Billy) Mitchell and had many autographed pictures from the famous aviator.

I ran across an old postal card, given to me by Tom Walsh, book collector of local interest. The colored postal card is called "Old Revolutionary Houses, Kingston, N. Y. De Wall Tavern and Hoffman House." It was printed in Germany, so I take it a half a century must have passed since this picture was taken. Much interest has been brought about since the DeWaal Tavern on North Front Street is about to be demolished so the land can be black-topped for more parking space on North Front Street.

Miller, Gordon Draw Favorite Vote Spots

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Rep. William E. Miller, the Republican national chairman, and State Sen. Janet Hill Gordon will appear in favored positions on their primary-election ballots Sept. 6.

Farmer William T. Smith, who won nationwide attention last year by driving a Cadillac he said was bought with money received from the federal government for not growing grain, also will appear on the preferred top line on the primary ballot.

The positions candidates will occupy on ballots in 10 primary contests across the state were determined Wednesday in a drawing by Secretary of State Caroline K. Simon.

The candidate whose name appears first on the ballot is considered to have an advantage over his opponent, based on the theory that undecided voters or those unfamiliar with the contestants will vote for the person named on the top line.

The drawing by Mrs. Simon involved only primary fights that embrace more than one county. Ballot positions for contests entirely within one county will be determined by county boards of election.

Miller's name will appear first on the primary ballot over that of Donald C. Chaplain of Lockport in a contest for the GOP nomination for U.S. representative for the 40th district, which includes Niagara County and part of Erie County.

Mrs. Gordon, of Norwich, won the favored position for her primary contest for the Republican nomination for representative from the 35th Congressional District. The district includes eight counties from Montgomery on the east to Ontario on the west.

Her opponent is Assemblyman Robert Quigley of Phelps.

Smith, of Big Flats, is seeking the Republican nomination to the State Senate from the 49th District, comprising Chemung and Steuben counties. His opponent on the second line of the ballot will be Harold A. Jerry Jr., the incumbent.

Smith is bidding for the conservative vote in the district.

The results of some of the other drawings:

Harrop A. Freeman of Ithaca, first, and Theodore W. Maurer of Binghamton, second, in the contest for the Democratic nomination for Congress in the 33rd District, comprising Broome, Tioga, Chemung and Tompkins counties.

Mariano A. Lucca of Buffalo, first, and E. Dent Lackey of Niagara Falls, second, on the primary ballot for the Democratic nomination for representative in the 40th District.

William E. Jess, first, incumbent Walter Van Wiggeren of Ilion, second, and Donald J. Reile of Herkimer, third, Republican nomination for the State Senate, 41st District, made up of Montgomery, Herkimer, Hamilton, and Fulton counties.

Leighton A. Hope of Cortland, first, Wheeler Milmoe of Canastota, second, and Glenn R. Alexander of Cortland, third, Republican nomination for the State Senate in the 46th District, comprising Madison, Otsego, Chenango and Cortland counties.

Alexander Koste of Corning, first, and Joseph E. Hayes, also of Corning, second, Democratic nomination, State Senate, 49th district.

Jay Mullen of Wellsville, first, Eugene T. Forhan of Wellsville, second, Barber B. Conable Jr. of Alexander, third, and James E. Emery of Lakeville, fourth, GOP nomination, State Senate, 53rd district, Livingston, Allegany, Wyoming, Genesee and Orleans counties.

The Republican fight in the 53rd District is for the nomination to succeed Sen. Austin W. Erwin, who is retiring. Mrs. Gordon now represents the 46th District.

Orange Man Is Indicted for 70 Amateurish Bills

NEW YORK (AP) — A handyman from Pine Bush, Orange County, has been charged with possessing 70 counterfeit $20 bills —bills which government agents called "the most atrociously amateur samples of counterfeiting" seen in years.

Perry Allen Heath, 28, was indicted Wednesday by a federal grand jury. He was held in $5,000 bail.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Martin R. Gold said that, despite the "play money" appearance of the bogus bills, Heath managed to palm one off on a Pine Bush grocer.

"It must have been a dark night, or the grocer was very busy at the time," Gold added.

Gold said the bills, made of inferior paper, contained no government seals or serial numbers, and that Heath stamped numbers on them with a round piece of ink-stained wood and an ordinary date stamper.

Heath was arrested at his home Aug. 6 by Secret Service agents, who said they found bogus bills in his pockets.

U.S. Atty. Robert M. Morgenthau said Heath got the counterfeit bills from another man in Richlands, N.C., while on a visit to his parents there earlier this year.

Air Hero, Family Reunited After Gaining Freedom

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Allan Lawrence Pope, a 33-year-old American flier, has been whisked secretly from an Indonesian prison where he was under death sentence to a "wonderful reunion" of six weeks with his wife and two sons in the United States.

Pope was reported in New York on personal business but he was not available to newsmen.

Secret Release July 2

His wife, Yvonne, said Wednesday night at her parents' home in Akron her husband is in good health and "everything has turned out fine for us."

Until his secret release July 2 as part of a general political amnesty by the Indonesian government, the situation was far from rosy for the former Air Force pilot who had won the Distinguished Flying Cross for bravery in Korea.

In April 1960, an Indonesian military court found him guilty of killing 17 members of the Indonesian armed forces in bombing and strafing missions. He was accused of carrying arms and ammunition for rebel forces during an unsuccessful 1958 uprising.

Pope said at his court-martial he had flown one attack mission for the rebels in his World War II-type B26 bomber, but claimed he didn't kill anyone. He denied charges he was to blame for most of the rebel air raids on ships, ports and airfields in eastern Indonesia or that he received $10,000 a mission from the rebels.

The American flier said he joined the rebels without pay. He wanted to fight communism, Pope asserted, and was told the Communists controlled the government of President Sukarno.

Pope was sentenced to death April 29, 1960. His petition for clemency was denied and all prior appeals for his release were fruitless.

The State Department disclosed news of Pope's release Wednesday night and said he has asked the amnesty and his return to the United States be kept secret. He wanted to rejoin his family and rest and relax without fanfare.

"It's been a wonderful experience being reunited with my husband for the past six weeks," Mrs. Pope said. "The boys, Stephen, 6, and Lawrence, 5, hadn't seen their father for four years. I met him when he flew back to this country and we've spent the time since at a hideaway at a friend's place."

Mrs. Pope said they probably will return to their former home in Homestead, Fla.

Pope flew for the French in the Indochina war in an airlift attempt to break the Communist siege of Dien Bien Phu, and for Civil Air Transport of Nationalist China, the line founded by the late U.S. Gen. Claire L. Chenault.

Appeal Likely By Jewish School In Bus Action

VESTAL, N.Y. (AP) — A new Jewish elementary school here appeared likely today to appeal a school district's decision against providing funds to transport a pupil to school.

The appeal would go to the State Education Department.

Common School District 15, which has no schools of its own, has been transporting pupils to public and Roman Catholic schools in nearby Binghamton.

But the voters rejected, by a vote of 29-22 Tuesday night a request from Hillel Academy for $500 to transport a pupil from his home in the district to the academy, which is outside the district but less than ten miles from the pupil's home.

A major factor in the vote was an increase from $30,000 to $65,000 in the tuition the district must pay for its pupils in Binghamton schools in the coming school year. The tuition increase has more than doubled the school district's tax rate.

The academy, sponsored by Jews in the Binghamton-Endicott-Johnson City area, will open next month with an enrollment of 15 pupils in kindergarten and first grade. It is the first Jewish school in the area.

Rabbi Maurice Weisenberg of Temple Beth El in Endicott indicated the school district's decision would be appealed.

A spokesman for the education department said the Vestal dispute had not yet come to the department's attention.

matter of Fact

Fine food, magnificently cooked, immediately brings to mind the French cuisine. But the French learned much of their cooking art from the Italians. Catherine de Medici, in the 16th century, imported Italian cooks to teach the French refinements in cookery.

Although he recently turned two, Prince Andrew already has the look of royalty. There were less solemn moments during the Royal Family's vacation at Windsor Castle.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—One of the semi-secrets of this busy entertainment factory, in which almost every worker has a corporation of his very own, is the fact that "Wide Country," NBC's new action series, is a Ralph Edwards production.

No Tear Jerker

Edwards' shows, including the long-running "This is Your Life," are highly regarded in the industry. But after long years of Edwards' tugging at the nation's heartstrings with surprise confrontations between famous personalities and their long-lost first-grade teachers and presiding over tear-drenched family reunions, NBC apparently doesn't want to confuse the images. "Wide Country" is, all concerned fondly hope, a dramatic program, not a real-life tear jerker.

Edwards became the unlikely producer of the series about a rodeo rider as a result of a corporate marriage of convenience: he had an hour of NBC time sewed up while another show packager had an acceptable series to fill it. They got together.

Earl Holliman, a tall, blond young man who lost his native Louisiana accent somewhere between Oil City High School and the Pasadena Playhouse, gets his second star launching "Wide Country." His first was in "Hotel de Paree," a western that petered out after one season. He thinks the new assignment has a better chance—partly because it was spun off "The Rope Dancers," one of the better Fred Astaire Anthology shows last season, and because it isn't a western.

Holliman, however, will be wearing levis, cowboy boots and a 10-gallon hat.

More Like '66'

"But I'm a rodeo rider, following the circuit," he explained. "I went out and spent some time with these fellows and they live exciting, hard lives and are really, I suppose, the last vestiges of the Old West left. They are really people living out of their time."

"Wide Country" will be more like "Route 66" than "Gunsmoke," insists Holliman, because modern rodeos are held the length and breadth of the nation. The professional riders follow them in station wagons.

In the story Holliman will compete in bronco riding, steer wrestling and other rodeo events. His bitterest rival this year will be one "Stoney Burke," hero of another series—on ABC—about a rodeo rider.

Gardiner Town Supervisor Is Guest Speaker

The regular monthly meeting of the Rosendale Democratic Club Inc. was held at the club rooms Monday night. The meeting was largely attended. The speaker at the meeting was Supervisor George Majestic of the Town of Gardiner who is also a candidate for the assembly.

Supervisor Majestic spoke on his platform saying he was in favor of helping the New York State dairymen, utilizing water ways, suggested dams at Wallkill and Rondout Creek for swimming, boating and fishing which would be good for recreation purposes. The Democratic Club of Rosendale went on record at this meeting by adopting a resolution unanimously in favor of help to the dairy farmer.

The resolution was submitted by Supervisor Majestic to the club.

President Mastro annouced the annual Democratic Association dinner will be held Sunday Aug. 26th at the Capri. Tickets may be obtained from President Mastro.

It was also announced that school for Justices of the Peace will be held after Labor Day for anyone interested in this office. More details of the school will be given at the next meeting. The annual dinner for the club will be held Saturday, Sept. 29 at the Alpine. Tickets for the dinner may be obtained from any of the following: Vincent Steeley, Wilfred Doolittle, Mrs. Margaret Taylor, Peter Costa, President Mastro or any member.

The cake sale committee reported that the sale was a great success. The next meeting of the club will be held Monday Sept. 17.

Republican Picnic

The Rosendale Republican Club will hold a picnic at Fiedler's Mountain View House in Rosendale on Tuesday Aug. 28 at 6:30 p. m. This will be the August meeting of the club. Members are asked to bring their own food. Coffee and dessert will be furnished. The outdoor grill will be available for preparing hot dogs and hamburgers. All members are asked to attend.

Copter Lands Safely

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP)—A helicopter with a pilot and two passengers aboard came down safely in a forced landing Wednesday after developing engine trouble.

Pilot Douglas Green of the Niagara Helicopter Service said the craft had been in the air a few minutes when oil began spewing from the motor. Green put it down in an open field.

Neither Green, nor his two passengers were reported injured.

Out of the Frying Pan

SAN ANDREAS, Calif. (AP)—Anne James found 11 quail eggs on a recent rock-hunting expedition and brought them back to her home in this Mother Lode town.

She put the eggs in a moist cloth and placed them in an electric frying pan turned down to its lowest temperature. For the next seven days, she carefully turned the eggs.

It wasn't a new recipe. The eggs eventually hatched and Anne was the unofficial mother of a flock of live and healthy baby quail.

Salad garnish: mold soft cheddar cheese around pitted olives and roll in finely chopped nuts.

Wide Alarm Out For 2 in Holdup

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—An 18-state alarm was out today for two men who held up a bank on Buffalo's East side and escaped with $7,000.

The bandits, both Negroes, robbed the Liberty Bank's branch office. One used a shotgun to herd bank personnel and customers against a wall while his companion scooped cash from tellers' trays.

They fled in a car as police threw a cordon of squad cars and foot patrolmen into the area to seal off main thoroughfares.

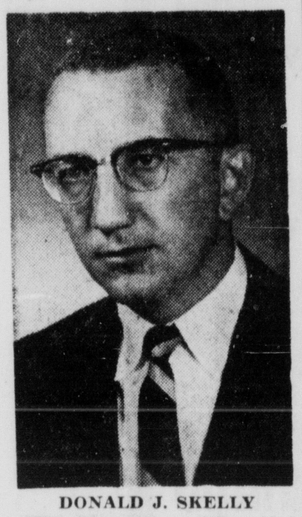
Appointed Senior Engineer in IBM Systems Design



DONALD J. SKELLY

The appointment of Donald J. Skelly of Saugerties as a senior engineer in systems design has been announced by Bruce G. Oldfield, manager of the IBM Command Control Center at Kingston.

Skelly joined IBM in late 1954 as a technical engineer in maintenance programming at Poughkeepsie. He was later transferred to Kingston in a similar capacity and named a methods programmer in June, 1956. Six months later he was named a project engineer and in November, 1958 a development engineer in maintenance programming. In September, 1960, he was selected as a participant in the IBM advanced study program and received a master of science degree in electrical engineering from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in June, 1961. He was named detection systems manager, advanced systems at Kingston in July, 1961, and in early 1962 was transferred to systems design in a similar capacity, a post he has held until his present appointment.

Skelly is a member of the Institute of Radio Engineers and Tau Beta Pi and Eta Kappa Nu honorary societies. He received a bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute.

Skelly, his wife Marilyn and children, Donald, 6, Joseph, 5, Robert, 3, and Thomas, 1, reside at 18 Village Drive, Saugerties.

Sets Sweet Corn Meeting Aug. 28

A Hudson Valley sweet corn variety trial meeting will be held at the Davenport Farms, located on the Hurley Mountain-Lomontville Road, off Route 209, Tuesday, Aug. 28, at 7 p. m.

This meeting will give an opportunity to see main season sweet corn varieties and to talk with some of the suppliers and breeders of these sweet corn varieties.

William H. Palmer, Ulster County Agricultural Agent, reports that there will be replicated plots of Iobelle, Gold Cup, Golden Security, Sure Crop Seneca Wamoum and Seneca Wamoum 61 (white silk). There will also be 27 other varieties to be seen, some of which look very good.

There will be a discussion of corn insects in 1962 and a late planting of sweet corn, June 18, for Helminthosporium study will be seen. Eating corn will be provided for all attending.

Po'keepsie Sells Notes

Notes aggregating $2,750,000 for the temporary financing up to date of Poughkeepsie's new waterworks plant, have been sold, according to the city's finance commissioner Aubrey B. Coons.

The commissioner has informed the Common Council that $100,000 of the notes falling due June 1 had been paid off. Coons recently sold a $750,000 water plant note to the Midland Marine National Bank of Southeastern New York, Poughkeepsie. The interest rate was 1.70 per cent.

For new cooks: slits or "vents" are always cut in the top crust of a fruit pie to allow the steam that forms during baking to escape.

Educational Aid Listed in Booklet For Vets, Families

The New York State Division of Veterans' Affairs has recently produced a new pamphlet entitled, "Educational Benefits and Scholarships for New York State Veterans, Servicemen and Their Families," according to Frank V. Votto, director of the New York State Division of Veterans' Affairs.

This new publication describes educational aids available to New York State veterans, servicemen and their families. Copies of the new pamphlet may be obtained at the local office of the New York State Division of Veterans' Affairs and the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency, 32 Main Street, or by writing direct to the New York State Division of Veterans' Affairs, Research and Publicity Unit, 155 Washington Avenue, Albany 10. Charles Culver, State Veteran Counselor, New York State Division of Veterans Affairs, or John Tyler, director of the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency, 32 Main Street, may be contacted Monday through Friday, 9 to 4 during July and August.

Dissin Appointed

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Benjamin Dissin of the Bronx, has been appointed assistant director of Workmen's Compensation Board Operations effective Aug. 23, 1962, by Colonel E. E. Senior, board chairman. Dissin assumes this post after 27 years of service with the State Insurance Fund, disrupted only by a period of service with the Armed Forces.

Rochester Town Site Included in State Land Bond

An 87-acre tract in the Town of Rochester is among 29 additional purchase agreements signed by the State Conservation Department covering 2,883 acres of non-park recreation lands under New York's $75 million park and recreation land acquisition bond act program, it was announced today.

The land in the Town of Rochester will be added to the Catskill Forest Preserve on the east side of Verncoy Creek.

Dutchess Land Included

Another agreement includes purchase of 59 acres in the Town of Pleasant Valley, Dutchess County for multiple use. Three agreements cover important acquisition in the development of the first state forest in Dutchess County which will provide public recreation land about 70 miles from New York City. In two other agreements in Dutchess County, a 21-acre tract in the Town of LaGrange will also be for multiple use. A small stream crossing one of the parcels can be developed into small pond sites for the establishment of day-use areas.

Current acquisitions which total $315,944 push the "non park" phase of the program past the one-third mark with $5,194,653 spent for 100,841 acres. Under the bond act program $15-million is earmarked for lands in the "other-than-parks" category.

For Narrows Uses

According to Charles W. Mattison, land acquisition consultant, current agreements are for forest preserve, wetlands, fishing rights and multiple use areas. Included are public campsites at Lincoln Pond near Elizabethtown and Crystal Lake near Freemont in the Catskills.

Signed purchase agreements are forwarded to the State Law Department for title searches and closing, and then to the Department of Audit and Control for approval of payment at which time the state takes title to the land. Most agreements are cleared within six to eight months.

Highway Use Tax Due August 31 OwnersReminded

Owners of trucks and buses were reminded today by local District Director James A. O'Hara that the Federal highway use tax is due on Aug. 31.

Revenues collected go into a highway trust fund, created by Congress, to help finance the government's interstate highway building program.

In addition to the Federal highway use tax which affects truck and bus owners, revenues from taxes on motor fuels, tires, inner tubes, retread rubber and other items are being funneled into the highway fund.

Highway use taxes on trucks and buses range from $81 to $180 annually for each vehicle subject to the tax. All trucks operating on public highways are subject to this tax if they meet certain unloaded weight and axle specifications and are registered by state law.

Federal tax return Form 2290, necessary for filing, contains a listing of the specific tax to be paid on trucks according to the month the vehicle was put into operation. Form 2290 also describes the tax to be paid by bus owners.

For buses, the tax is based on unloaded weight of the bus, plus 150 pounds for each unit of seating capacity. This applies primarily to operators of intercity buses. Local transit systems are exempt from the tax under certain conditions. Details and information are available at the Internal Revenue District Office.

Tax Forms 2290 were mailed in June to those who filed highway tax returns last year. Copies of this form, as well as a helpful booklet on the tax, Publication 349, can be obtained from the Internal Revenue District Office and from state motor bureau agencies.

Tax returns for the year beginning July 1, 1962, must be filed by Aug. 31, for every taxable vehicle in highway use in July of this year. The tax may be paid in quarterly installments. Dates for these installments are Aug. 31, Dec. 31, Mar. 31 and June 30.

Truck and bus owners should also remember that vehicles acquired after they have filed their 1962 return are subject to the highway use tax this year. In these cases, a tax return (Form 2290) must be filed by the last day of the month following the month a truck is put into highway use.

Revenue collected from the highway use tax totaled $46.8 million in 1961 and $37.7 million in 1960. Increased enforcement efforts are planned to get fuller compliance with this tax law from truckers and bus operators.

The highway trust fund in 1961, counting proceeds from all of its revenue sources, received a total of $2.8 billion. The largest contributor to this fund were motor fuel taxes, which accounted for $2.3 billion. Annual accumulations in the highway trust fund since it was created in 1957 total $11 billion. The amount contributed by the highway use tax during this period was $177 million.

Alarming Sight

MEAFORD, Ont. (AP) — A small raccoon wandering into this Owen Sound district community caused a lot of excitement. One woman reported the animal was covered in blood.

A policeman investigated and found an irate painter who said the raccoon had knocked over a can of red paint.

Youth Day Set For August 31 At Columbia Fair

CHATHAM — Conceivably there could be a quarter-of-a-million boys and girls of school age at the 122nd Columbia County Fair's Youth Day at Chatham, August 31.

"To be sure," observed Philip D. Mickle, Fair president "if that many show up, facilities of our 31-acre fairgrounds will be taxed somewhat beyond capacity and the 16 Fair Managers will likely have problems that they haven't even thought of up to now. But that many tickets have been made available for distribution for our Fair's special day for school kids."

The ducats appear in some 500 grocery and speciality stores, in special red, white and blue counter cards. Also they will be included with six-pack cartons of one of the more popular sodas. This distribution will be made, on a saturation basis in six counties: Albany, Rensselaer, Greene, Columbia, Dutchess and Berkshire.

Attractions at the Fair on Youth Day have been planned with particular interests of young people in mind. Along with the regular entertainment, which is free, rides will operate at reduced prices, throughout the afternoon; there will be pet shows with generous cash prizes for the winners; there will be the annual 4-H Fashion Parade, opening the evening program.

Senate Moves to Early Passage of Drug Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate moved today toward prompt passage of a drug bill given a new push by President Kennedy.

The bill, designed to strengthen safeguards against the sale of dangerous or ineffective drugs, was listed by Kennedy Wednesday as one of "five particularly important measures" on which Congress will be acting shortly.

To Limit Debate

Others he referred to at his news conference were the farm bill, a constitutional amendment to outlaw the poll tax in federal elections, the trade expansion bill and the U.N. bond issue bill.

Shortly after the drug bill was called up in the Senate late Wednesday, quick agreement was reached on a limitation of debate that should bring a final vote before the end of today's session.

The bill, as first approved by the Senate Judiciary Committee last month, fell short of what Kennedy asked. Since then, in the wake of the furor over the sedative thalidomide, the committee has approved strengthening amendments.

The legislation was introduced more than a year ago by Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., chairman of the Senate Antitrust subcommittee, after a lengthy investigation of the prescription drug industry.

Stripped from the bill by the Judiciary Committee were antitrust provisions Kefauver contends are necessary to substantially reduce what he calls exorbitant drug prices.

Kefauver failed to win administration backing for these provisions, but he has re-offered them in modified form.

His key amendment provides for compulsory licensing of prescription drug patents after three years when the price to the pharmacist represents a mark-up of 500 per cent or more over the factory cost. Licensees would have to pay royalties of 8 per cent on sales.

In the safety area, Kefauver has an amendment giving the government authority to require the testing of new drugs on animals before they are used in clinical testing on humans.

Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., had ready for introduction today a measure which would outlaw the sale and distribution of sleeping pills and pep pills by all except drug companies, hospitals, clinics, public health agencies, doctors and pharmacists. It would establish strict accounting and reporting procedures.

Mystery Satellite Fired in West Coast

POINT ARGUELLO, Calif. (AP) —An unidentified satellite was launched from here in predawn darkness today atop a Blue Scout rocket, the Air Force reported.

A spokesman declined to say what type of satellite it was or whether the launch was successful in putting the satellite into orbit.

Electricians Are Ordered to Work At Space Center

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP) — A federal judge, saying even seconds are important in this nuclear age, ordered striking electricians to resume work today at Redstone Arsenal's Space Research Center.

The National Labor Relations Board had a team of investigators on the scene to see if the judge's order was obeyed.

Idled Nine Days

Construction work on space projects—including the C5 Saturn booster for the United States' planned moonshot—has been idled nine days by the electricians' strike.

U.S. Dist. Judge Clarence W. Allgood gave union leaders a stern lecture Wednesday, telling them to get their men back on the job. The union president, Gordon Freeman, issued a back-to-work order earlier in the day.

Jerome Cooper, lawyer for the union, said after Allgood's order: "We've told them they are free to go to work. Now we will tell them in another way." He did not elaborate.

James Haygood, business agent for Local 558 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, AFL-CIO, said he thought "maybe a few" men might go back to work. He said instructions would be given at a meeting at a union hall in line with the court's directive.

Few Might Return

Allgood made permanent an earlier temporary restraining order prohibiting picketing and ordering the union to "instruct its members to return to work."

He agreed with a National Labor Relations Board attorney, Jules Serot, that telling members they were "free to return to work" was not sufficient.

A spokesman at the Marshall Space Flight Center said about 70 per cent of the construction worker were back on the job Wednesday.

But absence of electricians is holding up vital wiring necessary for construction work, he said.

The electricians posted pickets Aug. 14 in opposition to the employment of non-union workers by Baroco Electrical Construction Co. More than 1,200 members of other building trades unions honored the picket lines. Some returned to work after Allgood's temporary order Friday night.

JFK Lauds

atomic subs have been exploring and mapping the ocean floor of the area since 1958, they have worked singly and purely on exploration and crew training missions.

But on July 31, the Skate, coming up from the Atlantic and the Seadragon from the Pacific, received radioed orders to start hunting each other.

Navy sources said this was a realistic operation, with each submarine using all its equipment and technique for evasion and search—a duel between submarines such as would occur in actual arctic engagement.

Paltz Resident Named

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP) — The National Student Traffic Safety Conference elected Michael Manley of Worthington, Ohio, president at its final business session Wednesday at Bowling Green State University.

Those elected to the 12-member board of directors included David Lihn of Syracuse, N.Y., and James Lynch of New Paltz, N.Y.

Mayor Says

granted the City well over $200,000 to plan these urban renewal project, requires strict adherance to a definite timetable of activities, and checks our progress at regular intervals.

Only a few weeks ago the area HHFA coordinator toured downtown, checked activity reports and said the survey and plannig stage of Broadway East is moving on the schedule fixed in January. This, he said followed a visit from St. Claire Bourne, state housing official, who complimented the city for the fine spirit of cooperation shown by officials and citizens.

Cites City Project

The mayor emphasized that the uptown parking lot project is not part of urban renewal. "These lots," he said, "are a city project, and are being financed by the city as our local contribution to the revitalization of our major business and financial district."

The connection between the parking lots and urban renewal, he explained, is that the lots will produce approximately $3,500,000 in matching federal and state funds for rehabilitation of the uptown district when urban renewal reaches the execution stage there."

Nicholas Huber, 47-Year Employe Of Freeman, Dies

Nicholas T. Huber, 63, of 110 Newkirk Avenue, a long time employe of The Freeman Publishing Company, died Wednesday in this city.

Mr. Huber, a native of Kingston, started with The Freeman in 1915 as an office boy, later becoming a linotype operator. In 1946 he was employed by Western Printing and Lithographing Company of Poughkeepsie. Later the same year he rejoined The Freeman as a linotype operator. Mr. Huber was a member of the International Typographical Union, Local 322, the Freeman Social and the Freeman 20-Year Club.

Was Baseball Star

During the 1920's, Mr. Huber was very active in local semi-pro baseball. He was a pitcher with the Freeman team in the Industrial League and later pitched for the Blue Sox of Rondout in the City League. He also played with the Kelly All Stars, Guldy All Stars and the Shanley Hotel Nine of Napanoch.

Also active at one time in Kingston bowling circles, Mr. Huber played with the St. Peter's League and the Freeman team in the Mercantile League.

Holy Name Officer

He was a member of St. Peter's Church and its Holy Name Society having served as president and vice president of the society. He was also a member of the Kingston Power Boat Association Inc. and Rapid Hose Fire Company No. 1.

Surviving are a daughter, Mary Anne, wife of Alfred P. Wood of Kingston; six sisters, Mrs. Joseph F. Brown of Torrington, Conn., Mrs. Richard Hinkley, Mrs. Augustus J. Winter, Miss Elizabeth M. Huber and Mrs. Kenneth Geary, all of Kingston, Mrs. Joseph N. Gehringer of Bogota, N. J.; two brothers, Felix M. Huber of Irvington, N. J., and Joseph W. Huber of Kingston. Also surviving are two grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

His wife, the former Mary Wojdan, died July 4, 1960. He was the son of the late Nicholas A. and Elizabeth Reis Huber.

Funeral will be held from the Henry J. Bruck Funeral Home, 27 Smith Avenue, Saturday, 9 a. m., thence to St. Peter's Church where a high Mass of requiem will be offered for the repose of his soul at 9:30 a. m. Burial will be in St. Peter's Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home at any time.

Confirms State Probe of Possible Padding Jobs

NEW YORK (AP)—An assistant state attorney general has confirmed the existence of a statewide investigation into possible padding on public construction jobs, it was reported today.

The Long Island Press said investigators are looking into an assortment of unspecified charges involving road building, housing construction and maintenance, and even the cost of guarding excavation sites.

The newspaper said it obtained confirmation of the probe from Asst. Atty. Gen. Allan M. Smiley, who The Press said is directing the investigation.

"The entire investigation may take years," Smiley told The Press. "It involves public construction throughout the whole state, but it would be premature to elaborate at this time."

16 Dead, 200 Hurt Toll in Italian Quakes

NAPLES, Italy (AP) — Thousands of homeless Italians huddled in open rain-soaked encampments today in an earthquake belt which stretched 150 miles from Naples eastward to the Adriatic.

Rain fell for hours Wednesday night, adding to the misery of the homeless survivors of Tuesday's quakes which killed 16 persons and injured 200.

The Italian cabinet in Rome ordered expenditure of $3.84 million in immediate and long-term assistance for the stricken area.

Only mild tremors were felt at Ravello, the vacation site of Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, about 45 miles from the quake's epicenter.

Kingston Men

in Troy were to charges dealing with outraging public decency by dumping the body and refusing to obtain medical aid for Rush.

Troy police, said the Associated Press, dropped a robbery charge against Harvey ,and said Rush had been robbed outside the city. State police took over that phase of the investigation.

Authorities claim that Harvey, who was arrested first, had told them that he and Sauer dragged the body of Rush from an automobile into the lot.

Says Victim 'Passed Out'

Police said a friend of Rush had seen him, in Albany, enter the Kingston man's car and had noted the license number. The Kingston man had asked Rush, they said, where there was "some action."

Rush "passed out" in the car, police were told, and the defendants did not think he was dead when left in the parking lot.

The cause of Rush's death, was not determined by an autopsy, and laboratory tests were ordered.

Rush was said to have been on vacation, and was reported to have told a bartender that he had $50. No money was found on the body.

Met Early Tuesday

Troy police claim Harvey had told them that he and his companion had met Rush on an Albany Street at about 3 a. m. Tuesday. One report said Rush was last seen at the Bottoms Up Grill, 368 Madison Avenue, Albany. His body was reported found less than three hours later. Police said there was no wallet or identification papers, but keys were found. He was identified through fingerprints.

Authorities said their investigation revealed that Rush had a history of heart ailment. An attendant at the Albany Veterans Administration Hospital, he had drawn $133 pay last week, and on Monday began a vacation of two weeks, hospital authorities said.

Police claim information from witnesses who said they saw a car stop and two men drag a body to the edge of the parking lot, and then drive away. Police claim an unknown sum of money was reported taken from Rush's wallet.

Will Pour

stand the desire of some witnesses" to limit the investigation by charging it is an attack on former President Eisenhower, but I think the Congress ought to do its job."

Kennedy spoke of former Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey as a responsible official of the company. Humphrey has contended the inquiry is an attempt to slap at Eisenhower through himself.

Cites Other Cases

Other cases are coming up, Kennedy said, and they involve large profits by a good many people.

The session with reporters got under way with news from Kennedy that the U.S. nuclear submarines Skate and Seadragon one from the Atlantic Fleet and one from the Pacific, had met under the Arctic ice cap and had surfaced together through a hole at the North Pole. Kennedy called it "an historic rendezvous," and "exceptional technical feat," and congratulated all involved.

From there he went into a bid for Congress to hurry along approval of a farm bill, one to tighten drug laws, a constitutional amendment to outlaw poll taxes as a voting requirement in federal elections, his foreign trade bill without restrictive amendments, and a $100 million loan to the United Nations.

This was the right season to bring up political questions. And Kennedy said he will be putting in some time campaigning in late September and October. He described as useful a "nonpolitical trip"—he said it with straight face—to the West Coast last weekend and said a similar trip to such urban centers as Chicago, Cleveland and Philadelphia, to deal with urban problems, is under consideration.

Reports on Judgeship

Two questions involved Negroes. The President said he definitely feels that more than two of 97 U.S. ambassadors should be Negroes. And he said that Senate action on the nomination of Negro leader Thurgood Marshall to a federal circuit court judgeship "has been much too much delayed." He added that he has assurances the Senate will approve it before Congress adjourns.

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP) — Bob Marshall of Palmetto teed off on the 325-yard 10th hole on the Palmetto Pines Golf Course and scored a hole in one recently.

The ball hit a tree about 140 yards out, bounced to the left and rolled 100 yards into the cup on the 14th green.

Wallace's Store Opens With Crowd At Ulster Plaza

The rapidly growing Town of Ulster welcomed a new store today which Supervisor Alexander J. Banyo called "one of the most beautiful business establishments in the State of New York."

Forbes & Wallace Corporation, founded in 1874, opened its modern building in Ulster Shopping Plaza on Albany Avenue Extension, following a get-acquainted breakfast at Skytop Restaurant on Route 28 attended by more than 150 people.

Supervisor Banyo cut a ribbon stretched across the main entrance with a pair of gold-plated scissors and a throng of people entered that crowded all the departments. The spacious parking lot was filled with cars. Closing time today is 9 p. m.

Officials Present

Andrew B. Wallace, president of the corporation, greeted the breakast gathering comprised of business and civic leaders of the Town of Ulster, the City of Kingston, and surrounding area, and from Poughkeepsie, where the firm has had a store for a number of years.

Also present were representatives of the press, radio, bankers, key personnel from Wallace's and members of the board of directors.

"We thank you for this display of interest in the Wallace store," said the president of the firm, and "thank you for accepting our invitation to be at this breakfast."

Interested in Community

A. B. Wallace stressed in his talk that "We are anxious to participate in the affairs of the community, and encourage our personnel to help with activities and problems, if they can be of service in any way.

"We feel that by doing this our store becomes a great er store."

Mr. Wallace pointed out that "a large force has been busy throughout the night to have our new store in its best plumage for the opening which we hope all of you and many more will attend."

Success Indicated

Prior to selecting the Ulster Shopping Plaza as a locale, a number of surveys were made concerning the economy of the area and its buying potential, the Wallace president said. "All indications were for a chance of success, if we put our shoulders to the wheel." he added.

Meeting the opening date today was a lot of work and toil, he said, when August 23 was established as the time 18 months ago. "It is a thrill to be able to greet you and open the doors of the store."

The most modern in fixtures, facilities and other conveniences were the aim of planners and Wallace's Kingston store is the latest in every respect, it was stressed.

Easier for Shoppers

Zonal desks are features of the store to make it easier and speedier for shoppers who desire to make their purchases and leave, or, if they want to inquire about merchandise before buying it saves time.

"This innovation, however, does not eliminate any of the courtesies a good department store wishes to give to its customers," Mr. Wallace said. "Shoppers who like to brouse are welcome, and we nope the public will accept our store."

Supervisor Banyo said that the Town of Ulster "is proud and thrilled with today's accomplishment. The Wallace store is one of the most beautiful business establishments in New York State. All of us are proud to welcome it to the Town of Ulster. Its opening is one of the greatest we ever had and we know it will be part of a great growing town."

Among those at the head the head table with A. B. Wallace and Supervisor Banyo were George Bullin, treasurer of the corporation; Thomas M. McGrath, manager of the Poughkeepsie and Kingston stores, Laurence B. Wallace executive vice president; Charles Turner, who will be in charge of the local store, and Reed Barrows Jr., executive assistant to the vice president.

Forbes and Wallace was founded in 1874 by two Scotsmen, Alexander Forbes and Andrew Brabner Wallace in Springfield, Mass. After the death of his partner in 1896, Mr. Wallace continued to be active in the firm until he died in 1923, the year of the store's 50th anniversary.

B47 Goes Down In Idaho; Fate Of 3 Unknown

SMITH'S FERRY, Idaho (AP) —A B47 bomber crashed and burned this morning in the rugged Boise National Forest.

A spokesman for Mountain Home Air Force Base said the fate of the three-man crew was not known.

The spokesman said the plane was from Davis Mountain Air Force Base in Tucson, Ariz. It was reported on a routine training mission.

The information office at Mountain Home AFB identified the crew members as Lt. Col. Raymond N. McDonald, 40, El Dorado, Tek., the commander; Capt. William C. Lebbs, 30, Omaha, Neb., the co-pilot; and Maj. Glen A. McClure, 38, Waverly, Iowa, the navigator.

Air Force investigators said they could not say definitely that none had survived. The fire and darkness made the search for the bodies difficult.

The crash scene is in southwestern Idaho.

Mark Shalvoy, SJ, offered a high Mass of requiem for the repose of his soul at 10:30 a. m. Responses to the Mass were sung by Angelo Corrado accompanied by Theodore Riccobono, organist. The Mass was largely attended and there were many beautiful floral tributes and spiritual bouquets in the form of Mass cards. Monday evening the Rev. James V. Keating called and offered prayers. The Rev. Olney E. Cook former pastor and the Rev. Russell B. Greene, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church called and offered prayers. Tuesday evening Father Shalvoy called at the funeral home and led those assembled in the recitation of the Holy Rosary. Final blessing was given at the graveside by Father Shalvoy. Bearers were Arthur Warrington, Frank J. Albertini, William J. Hayman, Anthony Casciaro, Jack Longendyke and Richard N. Kiger, all members of the Ulster County Lodge 1562 International Association of Machinists, AFL-CIO, and employes of Electrol Inc.

Says Pennsy-NYC Merger Will Help Gain Customers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Merger of the Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads "will increase our share of the total transportation pie" at the expense of truckers, waterways and airlines, the Pennsylvania's board chairman says.

James W. Symes said Wednesday the proposed Pennsylvania New York Central Transportation Co. would go after business lost by the railroads to other carriers.

"It's been taken away from us and I hope we get some of it back from the other modes — trucks, waterways and airways," he told two Interstate Commerce Commission examiners.

Other railroad mergers haven't been able to win back much of this business because they involved lines extending service into new areas, Symes said.

But the Pennsylvania and the Central, he said, serve essentially the same area—from New York to the Great lakes, the midwest and St. Louis.

This means a merger of the two lines into the nation's biggest rail system would eliminate duplicate facilities, save up to $75 million a year and provide faster, cheaper service, Symes said.

He said the merger would mean more stable employment for the men who work on the railroads. He said the consolidated company would launch job-creating construction and improvement projects which the separate lines cannot afford.

Teachers Elect Megel to New Two-Year Term

By FELIX B. WOLD

DETROIT (AP)—Carl J. Megel, veteran schoolteacher-unionist, is president of the American Federation of Teachers (AFL-CIO) for another two years.

The Chicagoan, AFT president for 10 years, won reelection Wednesday night over rank and filer Dr. Myron Lieberman at the schoolteacher union convention.

Megel, 52, a leader in school unionism for a quarter century, said his 1,034 to 554 triumph supported his policies in guiding the 70,000-member organization of unionized public school teachers.

Lieberman, 43, a summer school faculty member of the University of Illinois and consultant to educational publications, had said he could do better than Megel in bringing new members into the union.

Megel, a huge man with the frame of a steelworker, is known for bitter battles with the National Education Association, also a schoolpeople's organization.

The much bitter and older NEA differs sharply with the AFT over policy. The AFT, a labor union in design and manner of operation, insists the teacher has a right to strike. The NEA opposes this.

Charles Cogen, leader of New York City's schoolteachers' strike last spring, called today for public acceptance of unionism among teachers.

Cogen, president of the New York City United Federation of Teachers, made the plea in a prepared report to the parent AFT on the strike.

Says Baratta Has Aspirations for Judiciary Post

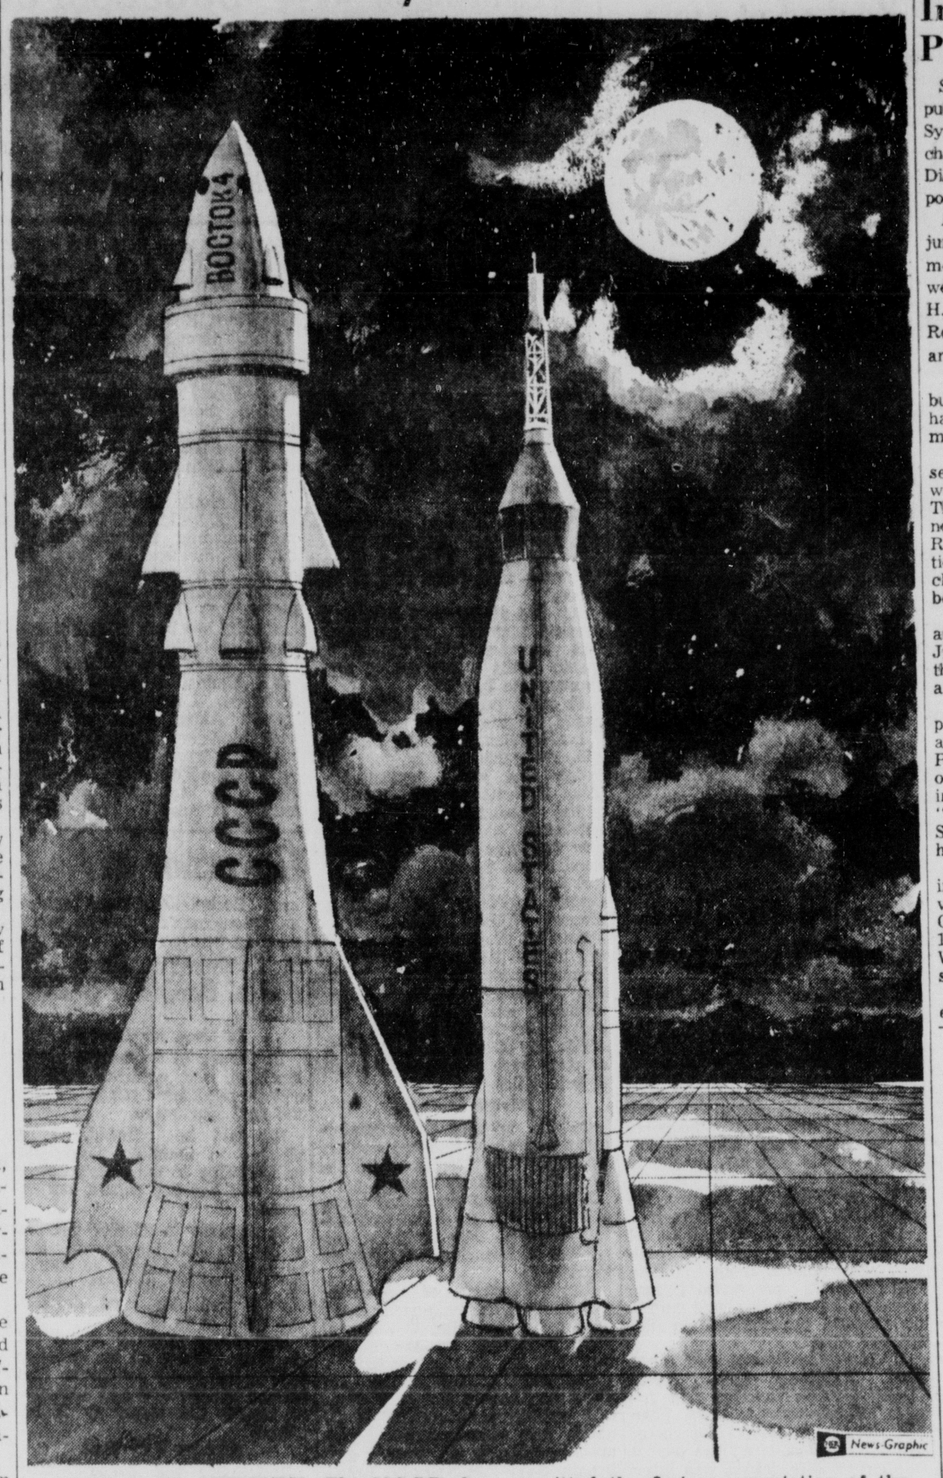
Robert J. Blinn, Amenia, chairman of the Dutchess County Republican Committee, considers District Attorney Raymond C. Baratta has aspirations and qualifications for the judiciary.

Blinn's comment came while calling attention to continued county Republican leadership efforts to advance consideration of Baratta as a possible candidate for the Republican nomination for State Comptroller.

The Dutchess GOP chairman said that if Baratta won the backing of Governor Rockefeller, that would not interfere with the district attorney's apparent ambition to serve on the bench.

Blinn contended that both Supreme Court Justice Leonard Supple, Fishkill, and County Judge John R. Schwartz, Poughkeepsie, will be at retirement age in a few years. He also noted there is always a possibility that a second resident justice will be added to the Ninth Judicial District.

Vostok vs. Mercury —



VOSTOK VS. MERCURY—The U.S.S.R. has permitted the first representation of the rocket boosters used to launch its cosmonauts. Drawing of a Vostok spaceship atop its rockets, left above, is based on a drawing which appeared in the Communist newspaper Pravda. It is not known how closely it resembles the actual vehicle. Beside it is the U.S. Atlas-Mercury combination, used to orbit this country's astronauts. The drawing is not to scale, for the Soviets have never revealed the dimensions or any other details about their huge booster. It is, however, larger and much more powerful than the Atlas.

18 Cited by Radar Detail on Thruway

Eighteen out-of-town motorists on the Thruway halted by the Thruway radar detail during the past weekend, paid a total of $185 in traffic fines when they appeared before Town of Saugerties Justice of the Peace Glenford Myers.

Twelve were arrested for speeding violations and paid a total of $150 in fines. Six others paid a total of $35 for other violations includes no inspection certificate, passing a stop sign, and unlicensed operator.

Onondaga Jury Indicts Syracuse Publisher, Editors

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — The publisher and three editors of the Syracuse Post - Sta dard are charged with contempt of court, Dist. Atty. Joseph A. Ryan reports.

An Onondaga County grand jury handed up sealed indictments Wednesday, and warrants were issued for Publisher Henry H. Keller, Managing Editor Mario Rossi, News Editor Loren Bailey and City Editor John N. Whitney.

They faced arraignment today, but Bailey was on vacation and had not been contacted, a spokesman for the newspaper said.

Because the indictments were sealed, details of the charges were not announced in advance. The Post - Standard, a morning newspaper, said, however, that Ryan had indicated the allegations concerned a prisoner's claim in court that he had been beaten by a police officer.

The newspaper said the story appeared in its early editions July 19 but was withheld from the final edition when a question arose as to its accuracy.

On subsequent days, the newspaper said, explanatory stories appeared in all editions of The Post-Standard. In one of them, an officer whose name had figured in the original account declared, "I extend my thanks to The Post-Standard for their fairness in helping to clarify this matter."

The grand jury, which has been investigating reported sexual perversion and other conditions in Onondaga county jails, returned 17 indictments in a partial report Wednesday. Ten indictments were sealed.

The final grand-jury report is expected Aug. 31.

Exchanges Asked In Soblen Fight

LONDON (AP) — Attorneys for Dr. Robert A. Soblen asked the high court today to compel Home Secretary Henry Brooke to produce exchanges between the U.S. and British governments concerning the fugitive spy.

They asked that Brooke be subpoenaed. Justice John Stephenson did not rule immediately on the request.

The development came at the opening of the third day of hearings on Soblen's second application for a writ of habeas corpus. The 61-year-old psychiatrist is fighting deportation to the United States to serve a life sentence for passing wartime secrets to the Soviet Union.

Soblen was in court again today. He seemed in better health and spirits than Wednesday, when he left the courtroom three times complaining that he felt ill. He claims he is dying of leukemia.

F. Elwyn Jones, the head of Sobien's legal team, charged that the home secretary, by ordering Soblen deported to New York, was trying to extradite him. He contended the doctor had committed no extraditable offensive because espionage is not an extraditable offense under the U.S.-British extradition treaty.

See Ike-JFK Relationship As Increasingly Abrasive

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — That pleasant relationship between President Kennedy and former President Eisenhower is getting increasingly abrasive.

No name-calling, no personal attacks, but blistering criticism of each other's administrations.

Sought Out Ike

Several times in moments of deep concern since he took office Kennedy has sought out Eisenhower to talk with him. This was a switch for Eisenhower, whose relations with his predecessor, former President Truman, were frigid.

But twice within 10 days, Kennedy has traced two of this country's most vital troubles—the space race with Russia and the economy—back to Eisenhower as troubles he inherited.

Eisenhower's criticism of his successor in the White House has picked up steam over the past three months.

A month ago today he said the Kennedy administration "is floundering — thrashing aimlessly about" while doing things he said "have started the whole nation to question its ability to comprehend."

Criticized Farm Program

A month before he said he believes Kennedy is in the clutches of the "big spenders." He had acutely criticized the Kennedy farm program before and after the House killed it with all but one Republican voting against it.

In his television talk to the nation Aug. 13—after the Russians had shot their orbital twins into space—Kennedy admitted the United States was behind but had started late in the 1950s.

Eisenhower, whose administration spanned most of the 1950s, said Aug. 15 in London he does not agree with those who say the Russians have a space lead over the United States.

"I do not agree," he said, "that they (the Russians) have a space lead or that there is a gap. I'm a little tired of that word gap."

Misleads Public

At his news conference Wednesday, Kennedy—saying "anybody who attempts to suggest we are not behind misleads the American people"—stressed:

"We are second to the Soviet Union in long-range boosters. I have said from the beginning we have started late . . . but I believe before the end of this decade is out, the United States will be ahead."

Earlier this month in the Saturday Evening Post Eisenhower said he doubted the wisdom of racing the Soviets to put a man on the moon and criticized the Kennedy administration for spending too much on the space race.

Kennedy, as if answering the spending complaint, said Wednesday:

Increased Budget

"We are well behind but we are making a tremendous effort. We increased, after I took office, after four months, we increased the budget for space by 50 per cent over that of my predecessor.

"The fact of the matter is that this year we submitted a space budget which was greater than the combined eight space budgets of the previous eight years. So this country is making a fast effort which is going to be much bigger next year, and the years to come, and represents a very heavy burden upon us all."

Last June 1 Eisenhower said he and other Republican leaders are "deeply concerned about the direction in which our economy seems to be going" under the Kennedy administration.

But in his Aug. 13 talk on the economy Kennedy said he inherited recession from Eisenhower when he took office Jan. 20, 1961 and that under him the country has had to recover from two Eisenhower recessions: in 1958 as well as 1961.

PHILIP W. JACKSON

Jackson Is Named

and in this capacity will work with Data Systems, Federal Systems and Data Processing divisions management.

Jackson joined IBM in 1949. He designed input/output systems for the tape processing machine and the IBM 702 computer and was also assistant manager of computer development in the Poughkeepsie laboratory in 1955 and 1956. Later he was manager of engineering for the Special Development Division and then manager of product development for the Advanced Systems Development Division at Poughkeepsie. In 1960 he was executive assistant to IBM vice president and group executive T. V. Learson and more recently, he joined DS this year as special assistant to the manager of systems planning and development. Prior to that, he was manager of East Coast laboratories for ASDD in Mohansic.

Dutchess Residents

He is a graduate of Duke University where he received the bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering and is a member of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers and the Institute of Radio Engineers.

Jackson has not yet made plans to move to the Kingston area. Mr. and Mrs. Jackson now live at Tetallbrook Farm, Wappingers Falls, with their four children Philip, Elizabeth, Timothy and Laura.

fire as it sped along a road to the Villlacoublay airport.

One of the bullets missed him by only two inches. Others broke the rear window and pierced side windows. The president was showered with glass but unhurt.

The gunmen—believed numbering at least 10—fired about 150 bullets at the motorcade and hit some of the other cars.

No one in De Gaulle's party was hurt. A passing motorist was wounded in the hand.

Tires Saving Factor

Interior Minister Roger Frey said puncture-proof tires on the president's car and on the police car which followed him were a saving factor. Bullets hit the tires but the cars were able to speed on.

De Gaulle, disdainful of his own safety, always travels in an ordinary French car, but security officials said an attempt will be made now to get him to use a car with bullet-proof glass.

Incendiary grenades were found near the scene of the attack.

De Gaulle was still covered with glass when his car arrived at the airport three miles away. He appeared unperturbed and absolutely calm.

Mrs. De Gaulle also appeared calm. She, the president and their son-in-law, Col. Alain de Boissieu, took off as planned for De Gaulle's country home at Colombey-Les-Deux-Eglises.

Police blamed the ambush on the Secret Army Organization, the underground terrorist movement which fought Algerian independence and remains dedicated to toppling the government.

Tied to Other Attempt

The Secret Army also was blamed for a near-miss attempt to kill De Gaulle with fire bombs as he drove to his country home last September and for a plot to assassinate him during a grass-roots provincial tour last June.

There are many Secret Army supporters among the hundreds of thousands of European refugees from Algeria. Secret Army leaders wanted by the French government, including former premier Georges Bidault, are believes to be directing activities from hideouts in Belgium, Austria and Switzerland.

Hoderath Elected

Hoderath is a trustee of the Home for the Aged; a member of the board of directors of the Community Chest; an elder and clerk of the Consistory of the Fair Street Reformed Church; a member of Kingston Lodge 10, F. & A.M. His principal hobby is photography and he is a member of the Photographic Society of America and the Newburgh Camera Club.

Only Third From Kingston

In the 41 years since Kingston Kiwanis was organized there have been only three other lieutenant governors from the Kingston club: Fred Chidsey, Roger Loughran and Edward Huben, who was lieutenant governor in 1946 and who attended the meeting in Middletown this week.

Delegates from the Kingston club were President Howard C. St. John and immediate Past President Vincent G. Connelly. Also attending from Kingston were Fred Van Deusen and J. Richard Sheil.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — Heavier trading accompanied a resumption of the stock market rally today with some large gains early this afternoon.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.0 with industrials ahead 1.2, rails up .6, and utilities up .7.

Among the general run of key stocks gains ran from fractions to around a point but there were advances of 3 or 4 points among the more widely moving issues.

The market's ability to complete the job of erasing all losses since the "Black Monday" of May 28 brought in additional buying, brokers said. Analysts noted that the month of August has historically produced the best gains of any month but they remarked also that in the past three years rallies have topped out in August.

A growing number of small losses or stocks showing no change betokened precautionary profit taking.

Meanwhile, there was little in the way of fresh news to top Wednesday's stimulating report that General Motors was predicting a seven-million-car sales year in 1963.

First hour volume totaled 980,000 shares, then tapered off to 810,000 in the second hour.

The auto shares kept generally ahead, Ford, GM and American Motors adding fractions while Chrysler dipped. Steels were narrowly higher on balance.

Ban Primary Day Sale Of Alcoholic Beverage

The New York State Liquor Authority has announced that on Primary Day, Sept. 6, the sale of liquor, wine and beer for on-premises consumption will be prohibited during the hours when the polls are open.

A state-wide prohibition also prevails on that day against the sale of liquor and wine for off-premises consumption. Polls will be open outside the New York City metropolitan area from 12 noon until 9 p. m.

Twelve area counties, including Ulster, have local ABC board rules prohibiting the sale of beer for off-premises consumption by grocery stores.

West Haverstraw Facility Listed As Primary Center

ALBANY — The New York State Rehabilitation Hospital at West Haverstraw has been designated as a primary rehabilitation center under the state-wide program for comprehensive rehabilitation centers, the New York State Health Department in Albany announced today.

The center is the ninth in the state-wide program calling for a network of 12 primary centers and 15 secondary rehabilitation centers. The plan was developed at Governor Rockefeller's request, with the assistance of the Committee on Rehabilitation of the State Interdepartmental Health and Hospital Council, which includes the Departments of Education, Health, Mental Hygiene, Insurance, and Social Welfare, and the Governor's Council on Rehabilitation.

Designation of the Rehabilitation Hospital as a primary center is the result of plans to broaden the hospital's services to patients and to have it serve as the focus for coordination of rehabilitation services in the White Plains Region. The region includes the counties of Dutchess, Nassau, Orange, Putnam, Rockland, Suffolk, Sullivan, Ulster, and Westchester.

The Rehabilitation Hospital will employ a rehabilitation services specialist to ensure effective utilization of state and local services for maximum rehabilitation of disabled persons. The specialist will aid in coordinating the services in the center with those of secondary centers to be designated under the Statewide program and with community agencies. He will also serve as secretary to a White Plains regional interdepartmental rehabilitation committee consisting of representatives of state agencies concerned with rehabilitation.

The Rehabilitation Hospital will continue to provide inpatient care for severely disabled persons from all parts of the state. When its expanded program goes into operation, the hospital will also provide outpatient services to persons in the White Plains Region who live within a convenient distance from the hospital.

The primary center is intended for the evaluation and treatment of disabled persons presenting unusually complicated rehabilitation problems.

Evaluation of patients referred to the newly designated rehabilitation center will include: Complete medical evaluation; complete social history; analysis of activities of daily living; muscle and functional testing; psychological evalution; evaluation of vocational potential; and speech evaluation when indicated.

Dobrynin, Rusk To Confer Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin will confer with Secretary of State Dean Rusk this afternoon.

State Department press officer Joseph W. Reap said the Soviet diplomat asked for the appointment.

Rusk and the Soviet envoy met Tuesday. Rusk summoned Dobrynin to his office to urge that the four-power commandants in Berlin meet in an attempt to lessen tension in the city. State Department specialists speculated that it is now the Russian's turn to raise the Berlin issue in meeting with Rusk.

Ulster Approves

to the Town Board at its August meeting.

It was noted at the public hearing that 76 per cent of the residents of the district signed the petition for the new lighting district and that 94 per cent total assessment of the district was accounted for. Over 50 per cent of the residents and astion is required.

To Discuss Type

Type of lights to be installed and the time for completion of work and turning on the energy will be discussed with members of the Town Board and Central Hudson engineers.

Lighting will go into effect as quickly as possible after all negotiations are settled.

Move of Progress

"Authorization for a lighting district is a move of great progress," President Smith of the Ulster Business Men's Association said, "and will improve the growing business district and entice other businesses to locate in the Ulster Business area. He also said that with the growth of the area, "lighting of the avenue will be a great safety factor for the people walking and driving in the shopping area."

Wiere Brothers Booked at State Fair Four Days

Harry, Herbert and Sylvester — the "unpredictable" Wiere Brothers, will clown their way through four days of free grandstand shows at the 1962 New York State Exposition.

Harold L. Creal, director, has announced that the comedy brother act will co-star with Jane Morgan, Neil Sedaka and the Harmonicats Tuesday and Wednesday, August 28 and 29, and Joanie Sommers, Don Adams and the "Cats" Thursday and Friday, August 30 and 31.

The Exposition opens Tuesday, August 28, for seven big days and nights of "fun with a family flavor."

Half-price tickets for the year's biggest entertainment bargain will continue on sale through Monday, August 27, in more than 1,000 outlets across the state.

The Wiere Brothers, who will be seen in two shows daily for the four days—are all expert violinists. With their derbies and sophisticated comedy, they have proved to be one of the funniest comedy trios in show business.

The Brothers, all of whom were born in different European countries, have appeared in many of the nation's leading clubs and have starred on many coast-to-coast television shows.

This past fall, they starred on their own situation comedy television series, entitled "Oh Those Bells."

Second Safe Is Taken From Lake, Delanoy Property

A second safe hauled from the murky waters of Devil's Lake, First Avenue near the city line on Wednesday afternoon, has been identified as the property of Delanoy Fuel and Service, 125 Tremper Avenue, stolen in a burglary the night of Dec. 26, 1961, according to County Investigator Arthur H. Brown.

On Tuesday, a safe about 24 by 28 inches, and a 1958 Saab car, were hoisted from the lake and police still are investigating. Local police said they had gained no further information on the smaller safe.

Investigator Brown said three East Kingston men, Julius Chick, George DeCicco and Joseph Balogh were working near the lake yesterday afternoon when they discovered the partly submerged safe, which was later hoisted to shore by Fatum's wrecker.

The men notified Assistant Jailor Charles McCullough, who lives nearby and he informed the sheriff's office.

Records Intact

Sheriff Claude Bell, Undersheriff Clayton Vredenburgh, Investigator Brown, Identification Officer Earl Conro and Deputy Sheriff Joseph McNierney went to the lake to investigate.

The safe was taken to the sheriff's office, where examination disclosed books, papers and other office records of the Delanoy firm intact.

Investigator Brown said the contents of the safe were removed and are being dried. He said that the books and records appeared in "fairly good condition." The records also included accounts receivable card system. Detective Harold DeGraff assisted in checking the records.

Brown said the safe had been reported stolen from the Tremper Avenue office the night of Dec. 26, 1961. At that time authorities were told the safe contained office records and about three dollars in change. The money was missing.

Weighed 750 Pounds

According to Investigator Brown the safe weighs about 750 pounds. The bottom had been ripped out by the thieves and the records stuffed back before the safe was deposited in the lake. Dimensions of the safe reported by Brown were: height--36 inches, width-27 inches, depth-26 inches. The bottom had seven inches of concrete.

The 1958 Saar car, recovered from the lake Tuesday, had been reported stolen from near the Governor Clinton Hotel on July 23, 1960. Its owner was listed as Richard Paradies, of 109 St. James Street.

The owner of the safe found on Tuesday near the submerged car had not been identified.

Local Man Reported On Rendezvous Vessel

A Lake Katrine youth, Paul Barlow of Halcyon Park, is aboard the nuclear-powered submarine Sea Dragon which completed an historic rendezvous under the polar ice cap with another nuclear-powered sub, USS Skate. The rendezvous was announced Wednesday by President Kennedy.

Young Barlow, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Lebow of Halcyon Park is a graduate of Brooklyn Tech High School. He is a nuclear reactor operator, second class.

U. S. Bars

dants delivered protests against actions by the East German regime affecting West Berliners and Allied personnel in West Berlin, as well as protests against the shooting of East Germans trying to escape across the Berlin wall.

Western protests now must be made by Allied military commanders in West Germany to Yakubovsky, but the change presumably will have little actual effect. The Russian commandant in East Berlin invariable told his Allied counterparts to take their protests to the East German government, which the Allies refuse to recognize or do business with.

Jobless Pay Hit At Hearing of Platform for GOP

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — A "something - for - nothing philosophy" continues in the state's unemployment insurance program despite elimination of some abuses, a spokesman for employers said today.

Gwyn Thomas, executive assistant to the president of Associated Industries of New York State Inc. commented in a statement prepared for a public hearing by the Platform Advisory Committee of the State Republican Party.

Would Halt Picketing

He urged the GOP to support long-sought goals of the state's business and industrial community, such as tightening the unemployment insurance and workmen's compensation programs to prevent abuses.

Thomas also asked for Republican support for legislation to provide for court injunctions to halt picketing that could lead to violence.

He also proposed, without elaboration, a review of labor legislation including "the means for quick, harm - preventing, relief through the courts."

In other recommendations prepared for the hearing:

1. State Sen. Lawrence M. Rulison, R-Syracuse, called for legislation that would permit New York students to use State Regents' scholarships at colleges outside the state. The scholarships now are limited to use at institutions in the state.

2. John Mulroy, Onondaga County executive, and Syracuse Mayor William Walsh, urged legislation to empower municipalities to buy park plots as small as 25 acres under the state's $75 million program for purchase of recreational lands. Purchases now are limited to a minimum of 40 acres. The officials said the smaller plots were more readily available in cities.

Favors Changes

On the question of unemployment insurance, financed entirely by employers, Thomas urged the GOP to back such changes as:

Elimination of provisions under which workers on strike may obtain benefits, thus requiring employers to finance strikes against themselves.

Disqualification of pregnant women from unemployment insurance during the final 13 weeks of their pregnancy on the ground they are not seeking work.

Exempting employers who paid more than half of a retired worker's pension from having to finance any unemployment insurance benefits to the worker during the early months of his retirement.

A more accurate merit rating system to determine how much of a drain on the insurance fund each employer's workers account for and how much that employer should contribute.

The Pony Express existed from April 3, 1860 until Oct. 24, 1861.

Admitting Investment Error Step to Correction

ROGER E. SPEAR

Q—"We need help. We started investing in 1958 and made gains which were lost later by foolish moves. Now we hold Allis-Chalmers, Rheem Mfg., and Glen Alden. Should we wait for recovery or switch into something else?" R. O.

A—When you admit making foolish moves, you've gone a long way toward correcting them. After this homily, let's look at each of your stocks individually.

I definitely do not like Allis-Chalmers, which has a poor current earnings picture, has just cut its dividend in half, and shows bad relative action. I would switch this stock into Pendleton Tool (NYSE).

Rheem has been dropping some unprofitable lines and seems likely to show fair earnings this year—against a deficit in 1960 and 1961. I would hold for now.

Glen Alden plans to merge with Universal Controls, and I believe Carroll Shanks, former head of the Prudential Life and a very able man, will head the merged company. The chances look good for a comeback here.

Q—"I am a widow lady aged 64—with $14,000 from my husband's insurance. I will get a check for $230 a month for life, provided I don't remarry. Also I sell Avon Cosmetics and make $40 a month on that. I would like to invest the $14,000, of which $5,000 is now in the savings bank. My brother-in-law, a banker, suggests $2,000 each in American Telephone, General Motors, Sears Roebuck and Standard Oil of New Jersey. Is this a wise investment the way things are today?" I. B.

A—I should be delighted to have some money in your brother-in-law's bank. He's obviously a sound and conservative man.

I would follow his advice, with one exception. I suggest you add $2,000 to your savings account and divide the remainder of your money among the stocks he advises. That way, you will be half in cash and half in stocks, a very conservative position in an uncertain market.

Governor at area. Rockefeller's stops included a businessmen's luncheon and a meeting with senior citizens, both at Poughkeepsie, the Dutchess County Fair at Rhinebeck and a Dutchess County GOP Committee picnic.

No Need for Increase

In answer to a question at the luncheon, the governor said he saw no need for a tax increase in the next four years.

He said he intended, if re-elected, to maintain pay-as-you-go financing of the state's activities and did not plan a tax increase.

In response to another question at the luncheon, the governor said he had not yet formed an opinion on a proposed increase in the state's minimum legal drinking age from 18 to 21.

Rockefeller said he would not state an opinion on the question until a legislative committee that studied the problem had a chance to review the testimony it received.

Another Fair Visit

Rockefeller will spend Friday in Jefferson and Lewis Counties, and another county fair is on his itinerary. He also will open Republican headquarters in Watertown and will speak at a Republican fund-raising dinner.

On Saturday, his schedule calls for a sailboat regatta at Buffalo, the Erie County Fair, and a visit to Crystal Beach in Ontario, Canada.

O'Connor Camp

connection and was "just asking the question, that's all." Rockefeller, in Syracuse, declined comment.

—Stratton also charged that inaccurate polls were being circulated "in support of the candidacy of various newly projected and unannounced entires into the state gubernatorial sweepstakes." Morgenthau is not an announced candidate.

Stratton said the only poll that counted was election day. He invited "unannounced" Democratic candidates to compete with him in primary elections in Herkimer and Rensselaer counties. In those counties, Stratton is sponsoring convention delegations committed to him.

Hands Off: JFK

—O'Connor proposed at a hearing in New York City before the Democratic State Platform Advisory Committee that the party platform include a plank for a statewide referendum on off-track betting on horse races.

—President Kennedy said at his news conference in Washington he would not take any position on the question of a New York gubernatorial candidate but would leave the decision to the state convention.

Oilers Hoping To Haul Blanda Out for Workout

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Houston Oilers, showing no signs of deterioration after winning their second straight American Football League title last year, hope to haul out venerable George Blanda for a vigorous workout tonight when they play the Buffalo Bills in an exhibition game in Mobile, Ala.

Blanda has spent most of the Oilers three exhibition victories recovering from a thyroid operation, finally taking a brief spell at quarterback last Saturday night in a 20-10 victory over Boston, and coming in to kick four field goals and three conversions the week before in a 33-17 victory over Denver.

In the meantime, the 34-year-old, 13-year pro veteran has watched second-year man Jacky Lee direct the Oilers in fine style. In their first victory, the Cincinnati grad threw three touchdown passes. He added another in the Denver game.

Lee's performance has given coach Frank (Pop) Ivy a good indication that the quarterback slot will be well-protected this year. It probably also has given Blanda's thyroid condition a much faster turn for the better, for he was not expected to see much action until the regular season begins next month.

Wednesday night, the Boston Patriots handed the New York Titans their third straight pre-season loss—taking a 17-10 victory at Lowell, Mass., before a crowd of 11,118. New York also lost all-league fullback Bill Mathis with a broken collarbone.

Veteran Babe Parilli, obtained from Oakland, completed 13 of 26 passes for 156 yards and one touchdown and went one yard on a sneak for the winning score in the fourth quarter. Halfback Ron Burton ran 10 times for 81 yards, including a 39-yard burst that set up the winning touchdown.

Thruway Heading For Travel Record

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Traffic volume on the New York State Thruway was heavier from January through July this year than in any previous seven-month period in the highway's eight-year history, the Thruway Authority said today.

If the current trend continues, motor vehicle traffic will break all existing Thruway records, a spokesman said.

From January through July of this year, drivers rolled up a total of 1,420,942,734 miles on the 559-mile system. The total surpasses the 1,315,402,376 miles logged by travelers in the corresponding period in 1961, a record year.

This summer has been an especially busy one, the spokesman said. Thruway officials reported that more travelers drove on the superhighway on Aug. 5 than during any other 24-hour span in its history. By midnight, Aug. 5 officials had counted 415,594 separate trips on all sections of the system.

This topped a previous high of 391,372 trips in one day set July 1, 1961. The most heavily traveled sections on Aug. this year was the 487 miles from Spring Valley in Rockland County to Williamsville near Buffalo, including the Erie and Berkshire sections.

Some Cuts Restored

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Appropriations Committee approved a bill Wednesday to provide $106,126,500 for the Agriculture Department's Agricultural Research Service in the fiscal year which began July 1. This was $28,653,500 more than the House voted.

The committee restored some cuts which the House had made in research projects and added money for numerous others.

Projects and amounts added to the bill by the committee included $65,000 for staffing of the Ithaca, N.Y., soil and water facility.

Chiang's System On Crops Could Aid Undeveloped

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP) — The intensive system of crop production practiced on small plots on Formosa may set a pattern for undeveloped nations to follow, an official of Nationalist China suggested today.

Y. S. Tsiang, a commissioner of the Sino-American Joint Commission on Rural Reconstruction, said agricultural output on Taiwan had increased 50 percent since the program started 10 years ago. He claimed that the crop yield per plot of ground on the island was the highest in the world.

Tsiang said the heavy production was made possible largely by Taiwan's land-reform program under which the government provided land for tenant farmers.

Tsiang commented in a speech prepared for delivery at the final session of the 54th annual meeting of the American Society of Agronomy. About 2,000 Americans and foreign soil and plant scientists attended the four-day meeting.

Dr. Glenn W. Burton, society president and a U.S. Agriculture Department scientist at Tifton, Ga., told the agronomists Wednesday that they had a responsibility to provide freedom from hunger by developing techniques for increasing world food production.

Reports Hurley Vols Fund Appeal Near Completion

Charles Goble, chairman of Hurley Fire Department fund drive announced today that the 1962 appeal for funds is drawing to a close. Hurley firement have been canvassing the area since August 11, to pick up coin saver cards which were distributed in late April.

Chairman Goble stated that initial evaluation of the drive indicates that sufficient funds will be available for this year's activities. However, additional funds are needed to expand existing programs and to initiate new programs. Funds collected in the annual appeal are used for youth activities such as Little League Baseball, Babe Ruth League Baseball, free Saturday night movies, baby sitters training programs and other civic and charitable activities.

Firemen will continue to contact Hurley residents who were not at home during the initial drive. Chairman Goble extended his thanks to those who have contributed to the drive and stated that anyone not previously contacted who wishes to contribute to this appeal may contact Lt. Paul McGuire of the Hurley Fire Department. Arrangements will be made for a fireman to pick up all donations.

Quell Fires in Accord Saugerties, Olive Bridge

Area fire companies were called out Wednesday afternoon for minor fires, according to a spokesman at the County Fire Control Center.

Accord firemen responded to a call at 2:13 p. m. to extinguish a brush fire off Queens Highway, and at 5:04 p. m. Olive Bridge volunteers quelled a brush fire off Webster Lane. Ashokan firemen went to assist.

At 6:28 p. m. Centerville and Cedar Grove Fire Companies were dispatched to the DiMarco home at Quarryville after smoke was discovered near an electric circuit-breaker box in the cellar. Damage was confined to the electric circuit and an electrician was called to make repairs. Assistant Chief Werner Hegner was in charge.

MARRIAGE EN MASSE—When 70 defectors from Communist North Korea took brides in Seoul, South Korea, they did it in one big ceremony. All of the newlyweds were given farm houses in one of South Korea's "freedom Villages."

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The fruits and vegetables of another generally good growing season are piled high on the market this weekend.

Housewives can take the hint. This is the time to buy for freezing or canning or for immediate low-cost meals. The same fruits and vegetables next winter will be selling at considerably higher prices.

One national food chain reports prices of many items down from last week, but singling out bargains is next to impossible. Regional price differences also confuse the picture.

The picture is clearer at the meat counter. Pork chops, duck and smoked beef tongues are featured by a large chain in the New York City area. At the fish counter, the same chain is offering best buys of scallops and shrimp.

Nationally, roasts, steaks and other beef cuts are at prices comparable to the best of the year. Some pork cuts, such as fresh loins, also are good buys.

Further back on the store shelves and freezers are excellent buys in frozen orange juice and milk.

Orange juice never has been more abundant. Stocks of orange juice recently were at 115,300,000 gallons, about 31 million gallons more than the largest previous late summer figure.

Here are some of the USDA's seasonal features.

Vegetables—Green beans, cabbage, carrots, celery, corn, eggplant, lettuce, onions, peppers, potatoes, radishes, squash, sweet potatoes, tomatoes.

Fruits — Apples, cantaloupes, plums, pears, watermelons, and other melons such as honeydews and cranshaws.

Meats — Frying chickens and turkeys.

Fish — Canned tuna, scallops, fish sticks and portions.

Two Escape Injury

Occupants of two vehicles escaped injury at 8:10 p. m. Wednesday when they sideswiped on Howley Corners Road, Highland. Troopers said the cars were driven by Joseph Nucci Jr., 18, Howley Corners Road, and Robert Sacrider, 54, of North Road, both Highland.

Foreign Students Are Guests at Kingston Rotary

The program presented at the luncheon-meeting of the Kingston Rotary Club Wednesday by three representatives of Camp Rising Sun, a scholarship camp at Rhinebeck, proved to be both unique and enlightening. The three members of the camp who addressed the club were presented by Frank D. Hornbeck, program chairman.

The Louis August Jonas Foundation, Inc., which was established by George E. Jonas, president, in memory of his father, has students from all over the world enrolled in its scholarship camp project.

The speakers, who expressed views on pertinent topics in their countries, included Thyagaraja Anantanarayan of India, who described British rule in India. He pointed out the good and bad features and its effect on future Indian policy.

Christian Kock of Denmark told of the European Market and its effect on his country.

Solomon Oleka of Nigeria discussed the question of a United States of Africa from the viewpoint of a Nigerian.

Three Are Injured In Mishap at Fair

A Dutchess County man and two sons were injured Wednesday morning at the Dutchess County Fair, Rhinebeck, when a loudspeaker fell in the sheep judging tent. Clarence Burnett, 35, Salt Point, assistant superintendent of the sheep show, suffered a head laceration.

His sons, Blaine, 3, and Lyle 6, received emergency aid at the Red Cross building and later taken to Northern Dutchess Hospital for treatment. They also were struck by the loudspeaker, it was reported.

To Close School At Cedar Grove, Transfer Pupils

Cedar Grove School on Kings Highway in Town of Saugerties has been closed by order of Saugerties Central School Board of Education.

This action was taken at a special meeting Wednesday night after receipt by the board of a letter from the State Education Department, Albany. The letter directs the board to either close the school or else install modern sanitary facilities.

There are currently 19 pupils in Grades 1 through 6 registered at the school. The board plans to transfer the teacher, Mrs. Evelina Fuller to a position in another building. The pupils will be transported to Main Street School.

A full report will be issued by the board.

New School Group Has Discussion On Class Shortage

The newly formed SCOPE (Saugerties Committee on Public Education) held its first meeting Tuesday night.

A discussion of the existing classroom shortage in the Saugerties school system dominated a major portion of the meeting.

Virgil Detweiler presented data to the gathering that showed a shortage of 20 classrooms during the coming year. This shortage will necessitate split sessions for the Second, Third and Fourth Grades and kindergarten during the 1962-1963 school year.

It was decided at the meeting that SCOPE should do extensive studies into a number of problems related to the classroom shortage problem. The results of these studies would be made public as soon as they are available.

One of the items to be studied would be the economics of whether or not school taxes would be increased or decreased by building additional classrooms. Such an analysis may show that a reduction in transportation and other costs may more than offset costs of building additional classrooms.

Permanent voter registration for school elections and school bond votes is to be another consideration.

Another study will hopefully reveal to the Saugerties public some of the New York State requirements for school buildings and school programs.

It was pointed out in the meeting that senior citizens comprise a fairly large percentage of the Saugerties school taxpayers. Since these taxpayers may not benefit as much from the public schools as the younger citizens, ways and means to relieve the senior citizens of some of their tax burden will be studied.

The next meeting of SCOPE was scheduled for Tuesday, Sept. 4 at 8 p. m. in the basement of Saugerties Savings Bank. This meeting will be open to the public. It is planned to elect permanent officers at this next meeting.

Detweiler, temporary chairman, said, "If this group is to be effective, it must have participation by a broad cross-section of the business and professional community of Saugerties. Attempts will be made to get representatives of the various civic, social and service organizations at the next meeting."

Jaycees Plan 29 Service Projects

At the regular monthly meeting of Saugerties Junior Chamber of Commerce this week membership approval was given to the budget and a list of projects to be undertaken during the coming year.

Twenty-nine projects, recommended by the board of directors and approved by the membership, will be implemented at various times during the next 12 months. Projects of particular interest to the general public will be a Christmas project, a children's fishing derby, an ice skating competition, an Easter egg hunt, the 1963 July 4th celebration, a band concert and the selection of An Outstanding Saugerties Citizen for 1963.

The Jaycees will also undertake several civic and community improvement projects and will take an active interest in the public affairs of Saugerties. The Jaycees is a young man's service club and young men, ages 21 to 35, are invited to attend the meetings which are held the third Monday of each month at Stonewall Hotel.

Aussie Radio Bans King and I Music During Thai Visit

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Australia's government-controlled radio network has banned the music from "The King and I" during the 18-day Australian tour of the king and queen of Thailand.

"We do not want to risk doing anything that might offend the royal Thai couple," a commission official said.

"The King and I," originally a Broadway musical, is a fictionalized version of the relationship between Thai King Mongkut and Mrs. Anna Leonowens, an English school teacher. The music and movie of the show are banned in Thailand.

Optical Decision Filter

Mom, Moon Riders Could Get Boost From Device

LOS ANGELES (AP—The day of "seeing eye" vacuum cleaners and lawn mowers is coming closer.

A gadget which could guide rug-sweeping and yard-trimming appliances without human help—and distinuish warheads from decoys or submarines from whales—was demonstrated Wednesday at the Western Electronics Show.

Called an optical decision filter, the device was developed to detect crevices and boulders for unmanned moon jeeps.

Builder Sam S. Viglione of Douglas Aircraft's Astropower Electronics Laboratory said the same principles could be used in making instruments to:

1. Recognize fingerprints, signatures or even human faces and then unlock doors and bank vaults.
2. Pinpoint storm centers as they develop beneath orbiting satellites.
3. Guide spaceships through a starfield while the pilots sleep.

The prototype device, which has been miniaturized from a roomful of instruments, fits in a suitcase. Viglione said further research could reduce the size to a three-pound object nine inches long.

It is basically a tiny computer which has been taught to identify 200,000 three-dimensional shapes. It has 400 photo cells in the retina of its "eye" and 400 logic units in its "brain."

The device is sensitive to visible light rays, which enables it to guide vacuum cleaners around furniture and moon jeeps around obstacles.

It could be made sensitive, Viglione says, to other kinds of signals, such as sonar for submarine detection, or the types of electromagnetic radiation given off by superheated missile warheads as they re-enter the atmosphere.

The key to its usefulness is the ability to distinguish between an almost unlimited number of signal patterns, and do it faster than a man can think.

Climbing Fish

The climbing perch is a fish found in Asia and Africa. It can manage to travel great distances overland to reach new water habitats. These fish are equipped with cavities over their gills which enable them to breathe air and they use gill covers as crutches to hobble along.

PRIDE, HAPPINESS MINGLE—Mrs. Pavel Popovich, wife of one of Russia's space twins, smiles happily in Moscow after learning that her husband and his comrade in orbit, Maj. Andrian Nikolayev, had been brought safely to earth.

Deaths

WESTON, Conn. (AP)—Dr. Elbert K. Fretwell, 83, educator and a pioneer in the Boy Scout movement, died Wednesday. Fretwell was chief scout executive of the Boy Scouts of America from 1943 to 1948.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Arthur B. Emmons III, 62, diplomat and mountain climber, died Wednesday of cancer.

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP)—Dr. Giora Josepthal, 50, Israeli minister of development and housing, died Wednesday of a heart attack in Switzerland.

SEATTLE (AP)—Mrs. Dorothy Boehme, 35, whose husband, Dr. Robert E. Boehme, 42, was acquitted last May on a charge of first degree assault with intent to kill her, died Wednesday. Death was attributed to a form of staphylococcic meningitis.

Civil Service Exams List Is Announced

The U. S. Civil Service Commission has announced new examinations for the following positions:

Fishery and Wildlife Biologist, paying $4,345 to $13,730 a year. Most of these positions are with the Fish and Wildlife Service of the Department of the Interior and are located throughout the country. These biologists perform professional and scientific work in connection with the conservation and management of fish and wildlife resources.

Dietician and Pubic Health Nutritionist positions. The Dietician positions pay from $5,355 to $8,955 a year and are located mainly in the Public Health Service throughout the country, in the Department of Public Health of the District of Columbia Government, and in St. Elizabeths Hospital in Washington, D. C. Public Health Nutritionist positions pay from $6,435 to $13,730 a year and are located in the U. S. Public Health Service and Children's Bureau of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare throughout the country. Dieticians and Nutritionists apply scientific knowledge of dietetics and nutrition in research, management, education and other programs devoted to the promotion of good health.

In general, the above positions require academic training and/or professional experience in the appropriate subject matter field. For detailed information about the requirements and instructions on how to apply, see Announcement No. 285 B for Fishery and Wildlife Biologist and No. 286 B for Dietician and Public Health Nutritionists.

Announcements and application forms may be obtained at Central Post Office, Kingston, or from the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C.

Swimming Classes To Be Offered by Scholarship Winner

An adult swimming class for beginners will start Sept. 4, thanks to a grateful recipient of a Red Cross Aquatic School scholarship.

Mrs. William Straub of Washburn Terrace, Saugerties, will conduct the class free of charge for all those interested at the Bill Straub Day Camp, Saugerties, Sept. 4 through 8 from 6 to 9 p. m. Registration may be made by sending a postcard to her at the Saugerties address prior to the first class

She attended the Red Cross School at Prospect, Pa., earlier this summer, earning a Red Cross Water Safety Instructors certificate. Over 200 people from New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania attended the school which offered courses in first aid, boating and canoeing as well as swimming safety.

The scholarship helped Mrs. Straub to fulfill a long-time ambition to attend the school. The classes here were prompted by her gratitude. She said it was "just a way to say thank you."

West Point Concerts Conclude on Sunday; Program Announced

The U. S. Military Academy Band will present the last concert of the summer series next Sunday, at 7 p. m., in the Trophy Point Amphitheatre, West Point.

Lt.-Col. William H. Schempf, commanding officer and director of music, will direct the program featuring percussionist SP5 Angelo Mauceri in the novelty selection The Worried Drummer. Also on the program will be the performance of the overture to Rossini's The Barber of Seville, The Waltzes from Richard Strauss' Der Rosenkavalier, and J. S. Bach's Toccata and Fugue in D-Minor.

Other selections will be Fackeltanz by G. Meyerbeer; Dance of the Hours by A. Ponchielli; and The Stars and Stripes Forever by J. P. Sousa.

The public may attend.

Kripplebush Picnic

The annual Labor Day picnic will be held at the Kripplebush Hall on Sept. 3. A ham supper will be served starting 4 p. m. There will be a food sale and fair. Music will be by the Clayton Band of Ellenville. The public may attend.

Banks-Jones Nuptials Performed at Uptown Church on Aug. 12th

Miss Carol Roberta Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marion S. Jones of Hinsdale Street, this city and Frank F. Banks, son of Frank Banks of Kingston and the late Mrs. Banks, were wed at St. James Methodist Church Sunday, Aug. 12, at 3 p. m.

Officiating was the bride's uncle, the Rev. Stanley Jones, pastor of the Walden Methodist Church. Beverly Lewis was organist and George Ronk of New Paltz, soloist.

The bride's brother Roger Jones of Belvedere Street escorted her in marriage. She wore a white street length with a fingertip veil and carried a cascade of white carnations and miniature white roses.

Miss Sharon Jones of Hasbrouck Avenue, cousin of the bride served as maid of honor. She wore a street length dress of light blue with matching short circular veil and carried a cascade of pink and blue carnations.

Russell LaBombard of Kingston was best man.

A reception was given at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. LeRoy Thomas Jr. of Sawkill.

Mrs. Banks is a 1961 graduate of Kingston High School. She is employed at the J. J. Newberry Store, Kingston. Her husband is employed by the Guarantee Radiator Works as a mechanic.

Mr .and Mrs. Banks will reside at 63 Henry Street, this city.

News of Interest to Fraternal Organizations

Mystic Court No. 62, Order of Amaranth has received an invitation to attend a dinner and reception in honor of the Grand Royla Matron, Mrs. Lillian T. Sayer. The event will be held Saturday, Sept. 8, at 6:30 p. m. at the Elks Club, 332 Caroline Street, Ogdensburg. Reservations must be made by Sept. 1 with Mrs. Dorothy Ferguson, 27 Park Street, Canton.

MR. AND MRS. CHRISTOPHER M. CLARKE

Frances Kathleen Hard, C. M. Clarke Wed Saturday, Aug. 18 at Holy Cross Church

Holy Cross Episcopal Church was the setting for the wedding of Miss Frances Kathleen Hard, daughter of Mrs. Frances E. Hard of 66 Crown Street, and Christopher M. Clarke of Dalhgren, Va., son of Mr. and Mrs. James Clarke of Lancaster, Va.

The Rev. Kenneth A. B. Hinds, rector, officiated at the double ring ceremony 2 p. m., Saturday, August 18. Arrangements of gladioli and pompons decorated the altar for the occasion.

Given in marriage by her uncle, William Von Ohlen of Creek Locks, the bride wore a sheath style gown of silk mist posed over taffeta. It was designed with a bateau neckline, abbreviated sleeves and a fitted bodice embroidered with tiny seed pearls and white bugle beads. The bead motif also decorated the skirt. The overskirt of silk mist terminated in a chapel length train. Her butterfly veil of imported silk illusion was shirred to a stylized rose and petal headpiece of pearls and crystals. She carried a small cascade of frenched white carnations, English ivy and showers of stephanotis.

Miss Lorie Von Ohlen of Creek Locks, a cousin of the bride was maid of honor in an ice blue silk mist sheath dress with handkerchief overskirt. She wore a matching hat with flirtation veil and carried glamorette bouquet of carnations and camellia foliage.

Bridesmaid was Miss Ann McGoey of Saugerties with Miss Jacqueline Von Ohlen of Kingston, sister of the bride, as junior bridesmaid. Miss McGoey's blush pink gown was identical in styling to the honor attendant's and she carried a matching glamorette bouquet. The junior bridesmaid wore a ballerina length gown of pale yellow, styled with a scoop neckline, cummerbund and full skirt. She wore a matching hat and carried a glamorette bouquet.

Clarence Hann of Hyattesville, Md., was best man with David Goudy and Gilbert Kingston, both of Washington, D. C., as ushers.

A reception for 120 guests was held at the Capri Restaurant, Port Ewen.

For a wedding trip to Bermuda, the bride wore a beige two-piece dress with black accessories. Upon their return the couple will make their home in Dahlgren, Va. where Mr. Clarke is territory supervisor for International Business Machines Corporation. The former Miss Hard is a graduate of Kingston High School and was employed as a receptionist at the IBM personnel department here.

Plan Bus Trip

Ulster Juvenile Grange No. 542 will sponsor a bus trip to New York State Fair, Syracuse, Tuesday, Aug. 28. Bus will leave the Grange hall in Ulster Park 6 a. m. and the Central Post Office in Kingston 6:20 a. m. The bus will leave the fair grounds 8 p. m. Reservations may be made by contacting George White, River Road, Ulster Park, or C. W. Freer, 156 Bruyn Avenue.

Local Resident Joins Faculty of Dutchess Community College

A Kingston resident, Albert E. Feldman is among the five new members of the Dutchess Community College faculty to begin teaching assignments next month. He has been named to the post of assistant professor of biology.

Mr. Feldman has been employed for the past several years as a chemist-biologist at the Ashokan Reservoir Laboratory, Ashokan. He has also served as a part-time instructor in the biology department at Bard College. He earned his bachelor of arts and master of arts degrees from Boston University where he also taught courses in biology, botany, histology, anatomy and zoology.

Before assuming his position at the Ashokan Laboratory, Mr. Feldman was a biologist with the Massachusetts Department of Public Health. A member of the American Institute of Biological Sciences, the John Burroughs Natural History Society and the Freshwater Biological Association, he has published several articles in professional journals.

Other new faculty members are Leonard D. Baxter, assistant professor of business administration; Drury H. Cargill, assistant professor of English; Janet M. Junge, instructor of secretarial science and John E. Petersen Jr., instructor of English.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Stoutenburgh, of 181 Pine Street, are the parents of a son, Dennis Joseph, born Wednesday at Kingston Hospital. Mrs. Stoutenburgh is the former Gail Corwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Corwin of Astoria, L. I., and Shokan. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Stoutenburgh of New Paltz.

Good Taste Today

By EMILY POST

Author of "Children Are People" and Etiquette," etc.

WHY NOT A CASH REGISTER?

Q: Could you help me please? It has been some time since I attended a wedding reception, but a few weeks ago I received an invitation to a relative's wedding and to the reception. Having shopped lovingly and thoughtfully for a gift, I had it delivered to the bride's house a week before the wedding date. You can imagine my embarrassment and chagrin when the bride stood at the reception with the groom and each person filed by and handed her money. When it came our turn we just shook hands and wished them happiness.

I asked one of our other relatives about this and she told me that the bride expected each person at the reception to at least give her and the groom the equivalent of our dinner expense. She stated that this was the customary and accepted thing today. (It wasn't the idea of the amount of money; certainly we spent more on the gift than the cost of the two dinner.) Am I getting old-fashioned, or are people getting mercenary? I have spoken to at least five other people and they have told me the same thing: the bride and groom do not get presents any more, only money. What is your opinion of this?

A: My opinion is that nothing could be in worst possible taste, and I find the idea shocking!

Thanking Senders for Flowers

Q: Is it really wrong to send the printed thank-you cards given us by the funeral director? We would not think of sending a printed thank you on any other occasion, but these were given us to help us through this ordeal we wonder if we may quite properly send them?

A: If you add a handwritten expression such as, "Your kindness meant so much to us all" or "Your flowers were lovely," they would be permissible.

Gloves While Dancing

Q: Will you please tell me if it is correct to wear gloves while dancing?

A: Certainly.

County Democratic Women to Attend Conclave on Sept. 6

Women Democratic leaders of eight mid-state counties have been called to an all day Conference at Talavera, the historical estate of Mrs. Van Ness Philip at Claverack, by Mrs: Mae Gurevich, vice chairman of the New York State Democratic Committee.

"Let Doorbells Ring — The Campaign and You" is the theme of this conference, which is sponsored by the Democratic State Committee. The morning session will feature a "buzz session" with Mrs. Ida O. Benderson, vice chairman of the Onondaga County Democratic Committee, as moderator. Discussions will be presented by panelists who are members of the executive council of the State Committee Women's Division and the leaders will be vice chairman of the counties participating, which include Columbia, Delaware, Dutchess, Greene, Otsego, Orange, Sullivan and Ulster.

Mrs. Gurevich will make the closing summary of the morning meeting. The sound film, Let Doorbells Ring, will be shown preceding the buzz session.

The Campaign and You is the topic to be discussed by New York State Democratic Chairman, William H. McKeon, following the luncheon which will be served on the lawn of Talavera. Mr. McKeon will address the Democratic women from the porch, where President Franklin D. Roosevelt often spoke to assembled rallies and picnickers when he was campaigning for state office and during his Presidency.

Greetings will be extended by Charles Alonge, Columbia County Democratic Chairman, and Mrs. Nancy Test of Claverack, Columbia County Women's Division representative, will serve as toastmistress.

Kerhonkson Federated Church Is Setting For Sanborn-Christiana Double Ring Rites

Miss Diane Christiana of Poughkeepsie and James W. Sanborn of Pleasant Valley exchanged nuptial vows at a double ring ceremony 1 p. m. Saturday, Aug. 18 at the Kerhonkson Federated Church. The Rev. Paul Babich, pastor, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Christiana of Kerhonkson. Mr. Sanborn is the son of Merle Sanborn of Brookline, Mass. and the late Mrs. Sanborn.

Vases of white gladioli decorated the altar of the church and white bows marked the pews. Mrs. George Schwab, Mrs. John Saul, Mrs. Robert Young and Mrs. Paul Preville presented vocal selections accompanied by Mrs. Paul Babich, organist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white organza posed over bridal taffeta fashioned with a fitted bodice, three-quarter sleeves and a circlet neckline outlined in Swiss lace. The full skirt swept back into a chapel length circular train. She wore a queen's crown of seed pearls to which was attached the hand rolled illusion veil. Her flowers were stephanotis and orchids.

Matron of honor for her sister was Mrs. Phil McConnell of Kerhonkson. She wore a gown of dacron organza in spring green styled with a molded bodice, mid-length sleeves and a square neckline. The cocktail length skirt was softly pleated and featured a self fabric rose detail at the back. She wore a single rose headpiece in spring green with a circular tulle flirtation veil and carried a bouquet of white carnations centered with spring green flowers.

Bridesmaids were the Misses Elaine Amann of Erie, Pa., Mary Ann Dzielecki and Patricia Golondka, both of Poughkeepsie and Susan Augenstern of Brookline, Mass. They were attired in gowns of azalea, orchid, jonquil and azure styled identically to the honor attendant's. She wore matching rose headpieces with flirtation veils and carried bouquets of white carnations.

Miss Debbie Steenburgh of Stnoe Ridge was flower girl. She wore a blue nylon and taffeta dress with bouffant skirt and cap sleeves and carried a basket of white flower petals.

William Claus of Pleasant Valley was best man with Michael Heslin of Poughkeepsie, Stanley Doremus and Fred Swincicki, both fo Pleasant Valley and Richard Christiana, of Kerhonkson, brother of the bride, as ushers. Thomas Arra of Stone Ridge was ringbearer.

A reception for 170 guests was held at Johnny Mitchells Covered Wagon, Red Oaks Mills, at 3:30 p. m.

The former Miss Christiana is a graduate of Rondout Valley Central School and Krissler Business Institute. She is employed by Central Hudson Gas & Electric, Poughkeepsie.

Mr. Sanborn is a graduate of Brookline High School and Wentworth Business Institute. He is employed at International Business Machines, Poughkeepsie.

Area Girl Receives Degree at Colorado

Miss Cynthia Ann Abbott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Abbott of Saugerties will receive a bachelor of science degree in nursing at the University of Colorado 10 a. m. Saturday.

An estimated 725 degrees will be awarded at the commencement exercises in Macky Auditorium, Boulder Colo. University vice president, Eugene H. Wilson will deliver the address, and a group from the college of music will perform.

The traditional tea for graduates and their families will be held at the president's home 4 to 5 p. m. Friday.

Attends College Preview

The sixth annual college preview at State University College at Fredonia began on Sunday with the registration of 209 high school juniors representing 150 high schools, on the college campus. The students, chosen from over 1,100 applicants will be on campus for four days and will live as typical freshmen in residence halls, eating in the dining hall and attending college classes taught by Fredonia College professors.

Among those attending is Thomas Simms of Box 208, High Falls.

Bye Bye Birdie Is Starting 2nd Week At Cape Cod Tent

Continuing for a second romping, rollicking week at the Cape Cod Melody Tent, Hyannis, Mass., will be Bye Bye Birdie, featuring its Broadway cast, Dick Patterson, Luba Lisa, Sybil Bowan and Wayne Storm. This prize-winning musical satire, with the immediate accent on youth will continue at the Melody Tent through Sept. 1.

The critics are wild about it: "It's the craziest—A scream. So you think you've seen crazy musicals, you haven't until you get a load of Birdie. It's clean, smart, frisky, and abounds with family-type humor and hilarious situations. . . . . Sybil Bowan is 'sweetheart darling's' mother, (the darndest mother since Medea, complete with mink and saddle Oxfords)." . . . Birdie should provide a rollicking evening for adults (if they have the strength!), and there is no better place to take the kids to give them a good laugh at themselves."

Bye Bye Birdie will have matinees at 2:30 p. m. Saturday, Aug. 25, and Thursday, Aug. 30. Box Office is open daily from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m. except Sunday. Tickets are also available at the many Melody Tent agencise located conveniently all over Cape Cod and in New Bedford.

Home Extension Service News

Phyllis W. Barlow, county home demonstration agent of the Ulster County Extension Service Association, points out that the challenge of home accident prevention is great. Each year thousands of people lose their lives in home accidents and hundreds of thousands suffer disabling injuries.

Neat and orderly homes are safer homes. Have a safe place for everything, and keep everything in its place. Eliminate unsafe practices in the kitchen and elsewhere. Check electrical appliances to see that they are in safe repair.

Falls are the leading cause of accidents occuring in the home. Extension specialists point out that good planning reduces the temptation to hurry, and means few accidents. To prevent falls, it also helps to put guards on hazardous places, anchor rugs with skidproof backing, install hand rails, and keep stairs and steps well-lighted. Neatness eliminates the cause of many falls. Keep stairways clear, toys out of the line of traffic, and wipe up spilled grease and liquids promptly.

Don't invite accidents by leaving children alone in your home. If you are going out and leaving them with a baby sitter be sure she knows how to reach the doctor and you.

That proverbial ounce of prevention will never be worth more to you and your family than when you use it to safeguard your home against accidents.

Store hazardous household substances out of reach of children who don't or can't read the label—in a locked place if necessary. And follow the instructions on the label yourself, advise Extension specialists at the New York College of Home Economics at Cornell University.

Such things as cleaning agents, detergents, dry-cleaning preparations, furniture polishes and waxes, laundry bleaches, lighter fluids, silver polishes, and paints, thinners, and removers all are perfectly safe when used according to directions. But if directions are not followed, or if children should eat or drink them, serious injury can result.

All potentially dangerous household items must be conspicuously labeled. The Hazardous Substances Labeling Act states that extremely flammable, corrosive or toxic substances must be labeled "danger." Highly toxic substances must also carry the word "poison." All other hazardous substances must be labeled "warning" or "caution."

But a law alone cannot guarantee safety, specialists emphasize. It is estimated that more than 500 children die each year from eating or drinking such otherwise harmless household products as bleaches, detergents, and furniture polish. Teaching and practicing safety at all times is the only answer, the specialists conclude.

Every member of the family should be trained for fire safety.

Plan at least two escape routes from every room in the house, and for every family member. Anticipate halls and stairs being blocked by fire. Train everyone in the use of escape routes until even younger children understand clearly what to do. Keep exits clear. Plan to use garage and porch roofs, ladders and trees to escape from upper floors.

Know the phone number of the fire department which serves your district, and be sure firemen know how to reach your home.

Get out of the house immediately the minute you discover fire or smoke. Don't stop to dress children or to save valuables. Always have a flashlight handy.

Stay near the floor or crawl to avoid rising gases.

Don't open hot doors. Feel doors first; if they're hot, keep them closed and get out another way or wait for help. Closed wooden doors can keep fire and smoke out of a room for several minutes. Beware of re-entering a house; even the smallest, most harmless-looking fire can give off deadly smoke and fire gases.

Never leave children alone in your home. And, finally, be sure that the baby sitter knows what to do in case of fire.

Choose Melons Now

Chilled melons provide a cool summer dessert or an appetizing way to start the day for low cost at this season of the year says Louise M. Kakargo, assistant home demonstration agent. Melons are one of nature's convenience foods, as little time is involved in preparing and serving them.

A shopper may choose from several different types of melons this season, but the three most familiar melons — cantaloupe, honeydew, and watermelon—make up the bulk of those available. These three favorites account for 98 per cent of all melons in August. In September receipts increase for casabas, cranshaws, Spanish and Persian melons. The latter make up 10 per cent of September melon receipts at metropolitan markets. Though still sizeable, receipts of cantaloupes and watermelon decline in September, while those for honeydews increase.

It's easy to estimate the number of servings available in a melon. At a glance you can tell whether there's going to be much waste because almost all damaged areas show on the outside. Soft spots will not harm the flavor of the fruit but decayed areas will. Examine the surface carefully before buying.

Melons are sold by the pound, either cut or whole, or by the melon according to the size of the melon. You can usually count on two pounds to a serving for watermelon and ½ to ⅓ pound per serving for most other melons.

Whether you're a weight-watcher or just concerned about eating a well-balanced diet, melons fill the bill. While containing few calories, cantaloupe, honeydew, and watermelon are rich in vitamin C (ascorbic acid). One quarter of a medium cantaloupe (⅓ to ½ pound) provides 40 per cent of the recommended daily allowance of vitamin C for an adult man; one-eighth of a honeydew provides about 25 per cent and a two-pound piece of watermelon provides about 35 per cent.

Watermelons, cantaloupes, and the other deeply colored melons are also good sources of vitamin A. One quarter of a cantaloupe or a two-pound piece of watermelon will give about half the recommended daily allowance of vitamin A for an adult.

Many stores now carry frozen melon balls made from cantaloupe and honeydew melons. These can be a treat in midwinter when the fresh melons are just a memory.

You may wish to freeze your own melon balls at home. Use only firm-fleshed, well-colored, ripe melons for freezing. The best time to freeze melons is at the height of the season, when you can get high quality and pay economical prices.

To prepare melons for freezing, wash and halve them. Remove the seeds, and cut into balls using a regular melon baller or a measuring teaspoon, or cut the flesh into ½ to ¾-inch cubes. Cover with a light sugar syrup made of one part sugar to two parts water. Seal and freeze quickly at 0 degrees F. or below. Yield: Dozen cantaloupe — or 28 pounds—22 pints frozen; 1 to 1¼ pounds fresh cantaloupe — one pint frozen.

Frozen melon balls are best if used when only partially thawed, still containing ice crystals. Frozen melon allowed to thaw completely becomes soft and rubbery.

At the Markets

MEATS—Prices for lamb decline seasonally in late summer and fall—look for some decline this year but not to prices as low as last year's. Watch for specials on lamb cuts. Also watch for specials on pork—particularly on ham, including canned hams. You may find pork loin and chops offered at discount. Beef specials will probably include round roast and chuck roast.

Broilers continue reasonably priced, as do turkeys. Turkey prices have been running below those of a year ago.

FRUITS—Local fruit bins are well stocked with avccados, green summer apples, cantaloupe and Honeydew melons, limes, mangoes, yellow peaches, and pears. Blueberries have passed the peak of their season.

VEGETABLES — An abundance of sumer vegetables, many from nearby growing areas, await shoppers. Items include snap beans, beets, cabbage, cauliflower, pascal celery, sweet corn, cucumbers, eggplant, yellow globe onions, peppers, potatoes, squash and tomatoes. Among the locally grown greens to look for are Iceberg lettuce and curly endive and escarole. Carrots, typically in fairly steady supply and available at little change in price the year around, are coming to our stores from California.

Stinging Recess

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Recess ended abruptly Wednesday for a class of 5-year-olds at the Glenwood Baptist church. Someone stepped on a bee hive in a chuck hole.

Twelve of the 50 youngsters and three teachers were stung.

Allowed Through Red Wall, Sees Kin After 25 Years

By AL SANDNER

GRASS LAKE, Mich. (AP) — "I'll never be alone again," the 77-year-old grandmother said as she clutched the hand of the daughter she had not seen in 25 years.

Mrs. Helena Gruebnau, who passed through the Berlin Wall Tuesday, was reunited Wednesday with Mrs. Margaret Reuter—the daughter she left behind in 1937 when she went for a visit to her native Germany.

Arrives in Detroit

She stepped off a jetliner in Detroit, and left shortly afterward for Grass Lake, a suburb of Jackson, Mich., where she spent her first evening watching television. She will live with her daughter, her son-in-law Gilbert and their children. "Mother, God bless you," Mrs. Reuter sobbed as she kissed her mother.

"I have such nice grandchildren," Mrs. Gruebnau said as she saw them for the first time. She has five—the oldest 24, the youngest 12.

Mrs. Gruebnau, one of the few persons allowed by East Germany to cross the wall, made good on a promise made earlier in New York when she told newsmen she would recognize her daughter immediately. She picked her out of the crowd waiting.

The grandmother has forgotten how to speak English, but said through her bilingual lawyer she would learn again.

The lawyer, G. Vernon Leopold —himself a former German refugee—said he believed Mrs. Gruebnau was the first person to apply successfully for reunion with her family under an East-West agreement since the building of the Berlin Wall.

Expected Trouble

Troubles at the wall had the family apprehensive that something would go wrong, Mrs. Reuter said. She couldn't rest easy until she got a telephone call from West Berlin, she said.

Her mother went back to visit relatives but "just stayed too long," Mrs. Reuter said. Husband Jacob Gruebnau, who stayed behind, died in Mount Clemens, Mich., last year.

Maneuvers Claim Lives of 12 GIs

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—The "Swift Strike II" mass maneuvers held for two weeks in North and South Carolina resulted in the deaths of 12 service men, said Gen. Paul D. Adams, commander of the Strike Command, a new combat force.

Adams said the number of fatalities was small considering 70,000 men were involved.

Reds Fire Fifth

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission has announced Russia's firing of a fifth nuclear test explosion in the arctic atmosphere.

The AEC said the test was conducted Wednesday in the vicinity of Novaya Zemlya island and was in the low megaton range, meaning its explosive force was equivalent to that of one to several million tons of TNT.

Panama Closes Schools to Prevent More Violence

PANAMA (AP) — The government closed high schools in Panama City today in an effort to prevent the spread of student violence at the University of Panama.

About 200 high school students joined some 50 striking extremist university students Wednesday in barricading corridors and nailing classroom doors shut to prevent nonstriking students from attending classes at the university.

Moderate students charged that Communists among the extremists were trying to take over the university.

Tough Way for Corn

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — Nothing happened when Aaron Albert Clack, 11, dropped a coin into a popcorn vending machine at a self-service laundry Wednesday.

Aaron slapped the machine a couple of times on its side. Still nothing happened. He stuck his left hand in the chute where the popcorn is supposed to come out. Two fingers became tangled in the blades of a rotor which is supposed to feed popcorn into the chute.

Police dismantled the machine and freed Aron. He was treated at a hospital for cuts and severe burns on the fingers.

Personal Recollections of Kingston Point

By DOROTHY CHIPP KING

In the early part of this century Kingston Point was the only park in the city. As Columbus Point it had been historically important from very early times. Whether Hendrick Hudson stopped there when in 1609 he sailed up the great river which now bears his name is a moot question, but it certainly became a trading post early in the seventeenth century and tradition has it that the British landed there when they burned Kingston in 1777. Important in Colonial days, it gradually sank into obscurity, to be revived by its purchase in 1893 by the late S. D. Coykendall.

In the same year the old horse-drawn cars were replaced by electric trolleys, and in 1896 the Ulster and Delaware Railroad made it a terminal, meeting the Day Boats there and conveying their passengers to their destinations in the Catskills. In 1902 the rival line, the Colonial, was brought by Mr. Coykendall, and, the two lines combined, covered the greater part of the city, making Kingston Point delightfully accessible to the whole population. In a day when the automobile was practically non-existent and comparatively few families had horses and carriages, the only way for the average citizen to get around was on foot or by trolley. On a hot night in summer it was pleasant for the whole family, perhaps with guests, to board one of the "open trolleys," with seats running across the car, breeze down to the Point at an outlay of ten cents per person, round trip, and amuse themselves, according to age and inclination, with what the park had to offer.

There was a merry-go-round for the children (the two largest and best horses were named for the Spanish War heroes, Gen. Shafter and Gen. Miles) and various and sundry games. For the lover and his lass, there were canoes for rent in which to paddle idly round the lagoons, or more rashly on the river, and there were secluded seats in the shadowy parts of the wooded area for what was then called "spooning." For adults there were still pictures shown on a screen, the forerunner of the cinema, and there was "Morphy the man who sings to beat the band" and did he sing to beat the band! A large man, clad in white suit and cap, with a nautical air, his vocal effects were fortissimo to the nth degree! There were picnic tables at which to eat lunch or supper, there was Bath Beach where bathing in the river could be enjoyed, and there was the arrival of the Day Boats, north and south bound. The river played an important role in travel to New York and Albany. If time were no object, it was a delightful way to go to town, though for the very young the night boats, the Baldwin and the Romer, were more exciting. To go to bed in Kingston, and wake up in the great metropolis with a whole day to spend before the Mary Powell brought one home was a rare treat in those days.

My own recollections of Kingston Point, assisted by the diary which all young girls kept in my time, are especially connected with two dates, 1908 and 1909. On May 29, 1908 the Point was the scene of an impressive ceremony. I was a student at Vassar College then and a number of my classmates were visiting me. We went down to Kingston Point to see the flotilla come in, the escort to the ship bearing Gov. George Clinton's remains from Washington where he died in 1812, while serving as vice-president of the United States, to Kingston, the scene of his inauguration as governor of New York. The unusual sight of U. S. Navy ships in the river, five destroyers and two sub-marines, the salutes exchanged, the crowds massed there was an interesting experience. The next day, alas, a heavy rain set in and the funeral parade up Broadway to the First Dutch Churchyard where Gov. Clinton's body was interred with pomp and circumstance was marred by the weather. The gloom was considerably lightened for us, however, by the fact that my father's friend Capt. W. H. Webb U.S.N.RET. brought a suitable number of young naval officers to call on us Among them were acting captains Bingham, Marquart and Daniel and we had a delightful time with these young men. During the weekend, Mrs. Thomas J. Hickey took some of us out to the torpedo boat DeLong. As soon as the officers heard my and my sister's name they looked at us with more attention and brought out from what looked like lockers in the wall of the officers mess-room where they were entertaining us the ship's papers and the log of George W. DeLong who commanded the Jeannette in the ill-fated Arctic expedition in which my father's cousin Lt. Charles Winans Chipp U.S.N. perished, in 1881.

In 1909 there occurred the Hudson-Fulton Celebration and again the river was full of ships, including the replicas of the Half Moon and the Clermont which were anchored off the Point. Some of the ships bore men that day who have since become famous. On the Worden was LT. Harold R. Stark, later chief of operations at the time of Pearl Harbor. On the Dupont was Lt. William F. Halsey, later an admiral and one of the outstanding figures of World War II.

In those days before we had bridges across the Hudson I had some other less agreeable experiences at Kingston Point, for while I was at Vassar we had winters of extremely low temperatures. For two different years, the ferry stopped running for long periods and one was obliged to cross the river in a horse-drawn sleigh or on foot, both of which I did on two or three occasions. It was an eerie experience at any time, but in the late winter just before the break-up of the ice it was a nerve-racking one.

For many years now Kingston Point has suffered an eclipse, the change from trolleys to busses, the withdrawal of the great river boats, the fact that people now go to the Catskills by car instead of by train, the establishment of parks in other parts of the city has changed the situation. On the other hand, boating, water-skiing and allied sports are at a peak in this country and many more people now enjoy cruising on the lovely river at our doors. With that fact in mind a number of citizens intersted in the welfare of Ulster County, have obtained promise of support from the Federal, the State and the city governments with the view of purchasing and maintaining Kingston Point as a park, so perhaps in the future a new and better Kingston Point may rise, like a phoenix, from the ashes of the old one, and our grandchildren may disport themselves, as we did, in that charming old playground, finding delight in the beauty of the Hudson and relaxation in new and more exciting water sports.

Goldwyn Moving Closer to Movie Deal With Video

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Samuel Goldwyn, whose 80th birthday will be marked by an industry dinner Sunday night, shows no loss of his powers as a negotiator.

The backlog of Goldwyn movies, which he wholly owns, is one of the few remaining treasuries as yet untapped by television.

"The networks come around every year to ask me about it," he remarked recently with a contented smile. "The offers get better every time.

Prime Time Must

"When I turn them down, they ask me what I would consider for the films. I tell them I am like a young man who wants to get married. He can't tell you what his future wife will be like, but he knows that he will recognize her when he sees her."

Goldwyn has had offers for the entire backlog and for "Hans Christian Andersen" as a holiday special. So far, no sale.

"I waited until feature pictures were being presented importantly in prime time, not in the afternoon or late at night when working people can't see them," he remarked. "now that the networks are showing them in the evening, I might be interested."

Gig Young is once again carrying the comedy load in "Three on a Match," in which the leading man is Kirk Douglas. His last outing was highly successful "That Touch of Mink" with Cary Grant.

The No. 2 position doesn't bother Gig. Nor does being pegged as a bibulous, offbeat character.

"An actor is always getting typed," he philosophized. "Right after the war, I was typed as Errol Flynn's buddy. Then I did 'Come Fill the Cup' and had a string of drunks.

"I did comedy on the stage in my early career, but I never had any in films until I played 'Oh Men, Oh Women' on Broadway. Now I'm typed in comedy. Listen—the way comedies are selling nowadays, that ain't bad."

'Pigeon' Successful

"The Pigeon That Took Rome" is the latest effort to find laughs in warfare and it is largely successful. The film, photographed in Italy with Hollywood interiors, is a fanciful yarn about undercover work before the liberating of Rome. It explores some familiar themes but with some new twists and a healthy cynicism throughout.

Charlton Heston, obviously happy to be allowed into the 20th century, plays the yard-bitten Yank in fine style, and he gets much help from a lively Italo-American cast including Elsa Martinelli and Harry Guardino.

Official Now

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — The owners of Rex and Bo Bo acquired the dogs 52 days ago but let them run around without licenses. Somebody forgot.

Somebody else pointed it out. Licenses were hurriedly purchased and backdated to July 1.

That was the day Rex and Bo Bo became members of the Police Department's K-9 Corps.

Courts Ordered Open Six Hours

NEW YORK (AP)—Judges have been told to keep their courtrooms open at least six hours a day in line with new regulations effective Sept. 1.

The new rule was among others announced Wednesday by Chief Judge Charles S. Desmond of the Court of Appeals in his capacity as chairman of the new administrative board of the State Judicial Conference. The conference is charged with supervision of the reorganized courts.

Desmond said court sessions under the new system were to begin no later than 10 a.m. and end no earlier than 5 p.m. throughout the state. It will apply in the State Supreme Court, Court of Claims, county courts, the new state-wide family court, surrogate's courts, city and district courts outside New York City and the new civil and criminal courts inside the city..

Judges traditionally have had virtually full power over the operations of their own courtrooms.

Other conference rulings:

1. All newly appointed judges and justices of the supreme, appeals and appellate courts must appoint clerks who are members of the bar.

The regulation will not affect clerks already serving.

2. A ban on photography, broadcasting or television in a courtroom at any time, regardless of whether court is in session.

This rule, however, may be waived by the chief judge of the Court of Appeals or by the presiding justice of the appellate division in which the court is located.

3. A ban against any judge, during his term on the bench, from holding any political party office or taking part in any political campaign "except for judicial office."

At present, the only such prohibition is in the canon of judicial ethics.

4. An extension to the entire state of a rule, now in effect in the first and second departments of the appellate division, forbidding any court employe from accepting gifts "from any attorney or from any person having or likely to have an official transaction with the court."

Leftover cooked meat makes a good sandwich filling if it is chopped fine and mixed with celery and well-seasoned mayonnaise.

Spends Leave on Water

COCOA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Lt. Cmdr. Joseph Edward Coogan of St. Petersburg is back on duty after six days shore leave—most of it on water skis.

Coogan skiied across the state to Fort Myers Beach and return, a roundtrip distance of 440 miles. He spent the five nights ashore.

Woodstock CC Votes To Give Scholarship

The Board of Governors of the Woodstock Country Club has voted to award a golf playing scholarship to the member of the Onteora High school varsity team adjudged the most improved player during the season.

Club president Walter S. Van Wagenen said the Onteora golf coach and members of the physical education department would make the selection.

He also stipulated that a player must be academically in order to be eligible for the award.

If the player selected is a member of a Woodstock Country Club family membership group, the scholarship will be given to the second most improved golfer, Van Wagenen said.

The scholarship grants the young player full course privileges and is in keeping with Woodstock's continued interest in young players.

By a co-incidence all five members of the 1962 Onteora golf varsity are members of Woodstock families. They were David Dean, Thomas DeWitt, John Gordon, Jack Peacock and Jay Van Wagenen, son of the golf coach. Dean and VanWagenen qualified for the Championship Flight at Woodstock this season and rate among the best junior players in the county.

Set Pro-Junior At Edison Links

A Pro-Junior championship will be conducted by the Northeastern PGA Monday, Aug. 27, at the Edison Club in Rexford.

All Northeastern PGA professionals are requested to bring three Junior players. There will be individual pro prizes plus Pro-Junior prizes. A buffet will follow the tournament.

Starting time is 10 a. m., with host pro Bob Haggerty and tournament chairman, Jim Murray, in charge.

The Northeastern will stage its annual Pro-Member at Wolferts Roost Country Club, Albany. The host professional is Bob Smith. Starting time is 11:30 a. m., with a cocktail party at 6:30 p. m. and stag dinner at 7:30.

Jim Murray, Northeastern tournament chairman, has announced that the Schenectady Open, scheduled Sunday, Aug. 26, has been cancelled.

Molina Meeting Joe Brown After Both Are Upset

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP)—When Luis Molina fought Kenny Lane in April, the San Jose lightweight hoped a victory would gain him a bout with the winner of the Joe Brown-Carlos Ortiz title match a week later.

Molina figured Brown would win. Now he's meeting Joe in a 10-rounder here Friday night—a fight arranged after each lost lopsided upset decisions in those April bouts.

"I'm pretty happy about this fight," says Molina, a 23-year-old former Marine who has won 20 of 21 pro bouts. "I hope now it can get me a fight with Ortiz."

Molina isn't at all worried about giving away 13 years and nearly a hundred bouts worth of experience to the ex-champ from Houston, Texas.

"Sure, he's more experienced than I am, but I've had a lot of fights now," he continues.

Molina is ranked No. 4 junior welterweight by the NBA and Ring, but isn't listed on the lightweight ladder. He's knocked out 16 of his 20 victims in two years of professional fighting.

Phils and Mets Beat Big Odds Berra's Homer Wrecks Angels

Yankee Veteran Raps Clincher In 8th Inning

By MIKE RATHET

Yogi Berra, a roly poly Satan, has shoved his pitchfork right into the Angels' inflated haloes.

The veteran catcher played a devil of a game for the New York Yankees Wednesday night, driving in three runs and applying the crusher against the pennant-hopeful Los Angeles Angels with a two-run eighth inning homer that gave the American League leaders a 4-3 victory.

Berra drove in the first Yankee run with a single in the first inning. In the eighth, with the world champions trailing by a run in the second game of the key three-game series, the 37-year-old receiver tagged a two-run homer that knocked the Angel haloes askew.

It was the second sudden-ending finish suffered by the Angels, whose dreams were punctured Tuesday night when the Yankees struck for seven runs in the 10th inning and an 11-4 triumph.

The latest defeat dropped the Angels to third place, six games behind the Yankees and a half-game back of Minnesota. The Twins moved up to 5½ back when their game with Washington was halted by rain after 10 innings with the score tied 8-8.

Elsewhere, Dick Donovan posted victory No. 16 as Cleveland belted Detroit 7-3, Mike Hershberger's ninth inning homer gave the Chicago White Sox a 7-6 decision over Baltimore and Kansas City's Moe Drabowsky won his first in the AL with a 4-2 triumph over Boston.

Donovan Starts Rally

The Senators and Twins played see-saw all night with Minnesota sending it into extra innings with two runs in the ninth. The Senators moved out front in the 10th when Joe Hicks singled and eventually scored on a fielder's choice. Rich Rollins' run-producing single in the bottom half knotted the count again. At this point, rain halted play for the third time and the umpires decided to let them replay it tonight.

Donovan (16-7), a 34-year-old veteran aiming for his first 20-victory season, started the Indians game-winning rally in the eighth inning with his third single. Willie Tasby then reached base on Dick McAuliffe's error on a doubleplay grounder that could have ended the inning. Al Luplow followed with a triple that snapped a 3-3 tie and tagged Don Mossi (8-12) with the loss.

Hershberger decided the White Sox-Orioles struggle with a two-out homer in the ninth off Hoyt Wilhelm (5-9) that won it for Chicago and Frank Baumann (6-4). The Orioles had pulled into a tie at 6-6 in the seventh inning on a walk to Whitey Herzog, singles by Jim Gentile and Brooks Robinson and an error by Jim Landis.

Drabowsky (1-0) gave up a homer to Ed Bressoud in the fourth, then was tagged for one by Gary Geiger in the eighth and John Wyatt had to come on to finish up a seven-hitter.

Jamestown First As NY-Pa League Nears Finale

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The New York-Penn Baseball League race headed down to the wire with three games left today and Jamestown on top by a game.

The Tigers beat Auburn, 9-4, Wednesday night — their 5th straight victory — as lefty Bob Schmidt pitched a six-hitter for his 17th triumph against three defeats.

Second - place Erie hung on grimly, battering Batavia, 11-3, with an 11-hit attack highlighted by Barry Freitag's three-run double.

Back-to-back doubles by Bob Montgomery and Dave Walker and a single by Larry Thomas gave Olean two runs in the seventh inning and a 9-8 triumph over last-place Geneva.

Jamestown finishes the season at Auburn with singles games tonight through Saturday. Erie plays Batavia at Erie tonight, then moves to Batavia for the final two games that will decide the pennant.

PITCHING — Chris Short, Phillies, limited National League leading Los Angeles to three hits for 5-1 victory that made it 11 victories in the last 13 games for Philadelphia.

BATTING—Eddie Kasko, Reds, hit grand slam homer in 10th inning for 9-5 triumph over Chicago Cubs, moving third-place Cincinnati to within four games of National League lead.

Franchise Shifting To Syracuse in 1963

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — A franchise of the Eastern Professional Hockey League, an all-Canadian circuit, apparently will be shifted to Syracuse next season, reported Wednesday that the Chicago Blackhawks of the National Hockey League, holders of the franchise, had reserved 40 nights, beginning in early October, at the War Memorial Auditorium here.

Giant Killers Upset Dodgers, San Francisco

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Picking the Phillies to beat the Dodgers and the Mets to beat the Giants on the same evening is something like drawing to an inside straight.

Usually the house gets rich on such odds. Wednesday night, however, it was the Cincinnati Reds who picked up the chips.

The Reds, making a determined stab at repeating as National League champs, used Eddie Kasko's 10th inning grand slam homer to beat the Chicago Cubs 9-5 while the leading Los Angeles Dodgers and second-place San Francisco Giants took their lumps from a couple of also-rans.

The stumbling Dodgers lost to Philadelphia 5-1 as Chris Short pitched a three-hitter, while San Francisco had New York on the ropes, then let the Mets get away 5-4.

The Reds trail Los Angeles by four games—the closest Cincinnati has been since the second week of the season—and are a half game behind San Francisco. Los Angeles retains a 3½ game margin over San Francisco.

Pittsburgh got three-hit pitching from Tom Sturdivant, blanking Houston 3-0, and Milwaukee rallied to beat St. Louis 6-4 in the others.

The Reds, regaining the form that brought them the pennant last season, got support from an unexpected source in the victory over the Cubs.

Rare Kasko Homer

Kasko, who faces possible loss of his starting assignment with the return of Gene Freese from the injured list, had hit only one home run this season before he unloaded with three men on base in the 10th. It was his 15th homer in six major league seasons.

Short, a lefty, was damaged only by Frank Howard's home run in pitching the Phils past the Dodgers. A walk to Bob Oldis, a sacrifice and Tony Taylor's line single broke a 1-1 tie for the Phils in the seventh and home runs by Johnny Callison and Don Demeter put it out of reach in the eighth. Short walked two in winning his eighth in 15 decisions.

San Francisco rallied from a three-run deficit to tie the Mets 4-4 in the top of the eighth, only to lose it in the bottom of the inning. Ken MacKenzie reached base on an error leading off the Met eighth and Don Larsen was relieved by Bob Garibaldi after walking Richie Ashburn. A single by Charlie Neal drove in the tie-breaker.

Knuckleball specialist Sturdivant (6-3) had a no-hitter for 4 1-3 innings as Pittsburgh eliminated Houston from the race. The only Colt hits were singles by Hal Smith and Al Spangler and a double by Bob Lillis.

Del Crandall delivered an eighth inning pinch hit single that drove in two runs, breaking a 4-4 tie and bringing Milwaukee its fourth straight victory at the expense of St. Louis.

Newburgh Rookie Leaguers Signing Up All Next Week

Registration for the 1963 season will take place all next week, Aug. 27 through Aug. 31, during the Rookie League play-offs at the main diamond of the Newburgh Recreation Park.

Candidates will be able to register from 5:30 p. m. to 7:30 p. m.

The Rookie Baseball League which is open to players age 17 through 23 will expand to six teams for the 1963 season, playing an 18 game split season schedule, nine games in each round.

Each team in the league will have a playing manager and an assistant playing manager over 23 years of age who will be valuable in coaching the younger ball players.

Any former area ball player or young physical education coach from Orange, Dutchess, Putnam or Sullivan County is invited to take part in this American Legion Americanism program.

In 1962 the Rookie League had representation from 14 high schools and 18 colleges.

Shienvold Excels

Crows Trounce Hawks, 6 to 2 For 2nd Half Jaycees Pennant

Arnie Shienvold, the leadoff man and pitcher, opened the game with a home run and the Crows went on to trounce the Hawks, 6-2, to capture the second half championship in the Jaycees Little League.

The Crows will meet the Hawks, first half champs, in the opener of the best-of-three championship series Monday at 5:45 p. m., at Forsyth Park.

The first inning homer inspired Shienvold to a topnotch pitching performance. He blanked the Hawks until the sixth inning with 2 hits and 10 strikeouts.

Crows collected off three Hawk hurlers, with Scot Findholdt taking the loss.

Artie Davis slammed three singles in four times at bat for the Crows. Wayne Havens hit a single and double and Tom Walsh a pair of singletons. Rich Oakley and Bill Lahl accounted for the two Hawk safeties.

Mohawks Shutout Apaches 5-0 to Finish Second

Third baseman Bob Struble slapped three hits Wednesday, including a double and a triple to pace the Mohawks to a 5-0 win over the Apaches in a Met Knot Hole League contest. This was the season finale for the Mohawks and as a result of the win, they finished in the number two spot in the league standings.

Jerry Keller also had a two-bagger for the winners and Blaine Kilmer paced the losing attack with three hits including a double.

Chico Greenice and Bill Plough teamed up to spin a nifty five-hitter for the Mohawks while their teammates were collecting seven hits off Apache pitchers Kilmer and Gary Bittner. Greenige picked up the win and Bittner was tabbed with the loss.

Little Gains Semi-Finals

Playing a strong, steady game, Dick Little turned back Don Bunk in straight sets, 6-4, 6-3, in the quarter final round of the Ulster County tennis championships Wednesday night at Forsyth Park.

Trailing 4-2 in the first set, Little made a strong comeback and with effective use of well executed drop shots, one of the strong points of his game.

Little moved into the semi-finals where he meets tournament favorite, Marty Kaye, this evening at 5:45. In the other semi-final, Pete Zeeh and Richard Smith clash Saturday at 10 a. m.

The singles finals are tentatively scheduled for 11 a. m. Sunday.

Daily Double Is $10.80 at Raceway

MONTICELLO, Aug. 22 — Favorites Butterwyn and Zonamite combined for a small $10.80 Daily Double of numbers 3 and 1 Wednesday at Monticello Raceway.

Sam Caton drove Butterwyn to a wire-to-wire victory in 2:12.3 as the even-money favorite. A three-year-old filly by Scotch Victor, Butterwyn returned short mutuels of 4.20, 3.10 and 2.90. Uncle Si was second and returned 9.10 and 6.30. Tyson's Express was the show horse for 4.50.

Gene Daisey steered Zonamite to a 2:10 triumph in the second race. Daisey sat with Zonamite behind Goldie Rose for almost the entire mile. But in the race for the wire, Zonamite overtook the leader and won comfortably as the 3-2 choice.

Zonamite paid back 5.00, 2.90 and 2.90. Goldie Rose was 3.90 and 3.30 for place. Worthy Grace paid 3.80 for show.

Carmine Abbatiello drove his 43rd winner when he piloted Golden Domino to a stretch victory in 2:09.4 in the third race. The time is a new lifetime record for Golden Domino, a two-year-old colt by Meadow Gold. The second favorite in the betting, Golden Domino paid 6.40 for win.

Sonny Frost, 12-1 in the betting, closed with a rush to win the feature $2,500 Class B-1/B-2 trot in 2:06.3.

Second on the rail for most of the mile, Sonny Frost roared past even-money favorite Tyson Scott to win by three-fourths of a length. Valiant Hanover was third.

Driven by Pat Iovine for Wilbey Stables, Inc. of New Rochelle, Sonny Frost paid $26.60, $6.50 and $3.40.

Duke Rodney Is Favored to Win Challenge Cup

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Three American trotters have been installed top favorites for Saturday's $25,000 Challenge Cup which will have four foreign entries in a field of eight.

Duke Rodney, who finished second in the American Trot, drew the No. 3 post position Wednesday and was installed as the 5-2 favorite for the Roosevelt Raceway event.

Porterhouse, a doubtful starter, looked good in a recent workout and drew the No. 1 post. The American Trot winner was listed as second choice with Su Mac Lake, 1961 International winner, the third choice.

Harness racing results Wednesday night:

Saratoga—Yankee Tardios ($5) won the $2,000 Albany Lions Club Pace by a neck over Walter Knight with a 2:04 3-5. Don Huff reined the 4-year-old stallion.

Vernon — Torrence Hanover ($23.50) came out of fourth place in the stretch to win a $3,500 Invitational Trot by a length over Lucky Demon. Time for the mile was 2:03. Whitey Dennison drove.

Batavia — Sis's Brother ($8.10) took a $1,700 Class B1 trot in 2:04 1-5.

Edge Hits 497

Celestes Edge linked games of 172, 143, 182 for 497 in the Business Girls League. Team results: J&G Drywall 1, DeLuca Cleaners 2; WBAZ Radio 2, Local 259 (1); Colonial Knitwear 2, Houghtaling Cities Service 1; Gene's Bar and Grill 2, Wimpy's 1.

7 Horse Field Going Today in Spa Steeplechase

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. (AP) — The 55th running of the Saratoga Steeplechase Handicap attracted a field of seven today for the feature event at the Saratoga Track.

The 2½-mile test over big jumps will gross $19,425 if all seven entries go, with $12,625.25 going to the winner.

Becky's Ship and Negocio, the entry of Mrs. G. E. Tenner and Mrs. P. Poe, were the overnight favorites.

Edith D. Jacobs' Affectionately and Bohemia Stable's Kelso, both odds - on - favorites, captured Wednesday's top events.

Affectionately, undisputed 2-year-old filly queen, led all the way to take the 71st running of the $50,000 added Spinaway. She paid $2.60.

Kelso, horse of the year in 1960-61, held off a bid from Call The Witness to win an overnight event on the grass course. Kelso paid $2.50, shortest price at the meeting.

All Male Bowlers

There will be a meeting at the Bowlerama tonight at 8 o'clock for all men who wish to bowl Wednesdays at 9 p. m. at the new Mid-City Lanes. Average is no barrier and all bowlers are invited.

Football Physicals

Saugerties High School will hold its physical examinations for all candidates Aug. 29 at 9 a. m. Dr. R. B. Wenger, school physician, will examine the candidates.

Mrs. Liguore-Mrs. Overbagh Win Member-Guest Tourney

Mrs. Thomas Liguore and her guest, Mrs. Gerald Overbagh of Rip Van Winkle, combined for a best-ball 70 to win Wednesday's women's Member-Guest tournament at Wiltwyck Country Club. Twenty six tandems competed.

Two shots off the pace were Mrs. Herbert Martin and Mrs. Thelma Demarest (Stamford) with 72.

Other leaders were: Mrs. Harry Spiesman-Mrs. Ben Rothberg (Stamford), 74; Mrs. Clifford Smith - Mrs. John Purvis (Twaalfskill), 75; Mrs. Beatrice Cullum - Mrs. Bernard Feeney (Twaalfskill), 76; Mrs. Charlotte Lapine - Mrs. Harry Kennedy (Woodstock), 76; Mrs. Gerald Gruberg - Mrs. Arthur Fields (Shawangunk), 77; Mrs. Samuel Levine-Miss Janet Fochi (Woodstock), 77.

Mrs. George Rifenbary was hostess for the day.

Play Team Match

A return match will be played with the I.B.M. Country Club women on Tuesday, Aug. 28. I.B.M. won the opener, 19½ to 16½. A "Par-Bogey" tournament will be staged by the Wiltwyck women the following day.

Bud Russell's 73 Leads at Taconic

Pierce (Bud) Russell, Troy attorney and several times champion at Troy Country Club, fired a 2-over-par 73 at picturesque Taconic course in Williamstown, Mass. Wednesday to lead the Class A field in the weekly Eastern New York Golf Association tournament.

Leon Randall of Wiltwyck, the only scratch player in the field, carded a 75 and Charles J. Turck had 80-5-75. Maurice Davenport posted 88-7-81. Wiltwyck had no representation in Class B and C.

Russell, a former president of the New York State Golf Association and also former head of ENYGA posted a 36-37-over the 6,630-yard layout to win by two strokes. His card showed 16 pars and two bogeys.

George Holcomb, Hoosick Falls, took the Class A net award with 68, using an 8 handicap.

The Class B and C shotmakers played at Battenkill, with Al Silvernell, Glens Falls, leading Class B with a gross 78 and Saul Weisberg, Van Schaick, pacing Class C with a 79. Net winners were Eli Albert, Ballston Spa CC, Class B, with 69 and Bill Lurie, Van Schaick, Class C, with 65. Albert had a 13 handicap and Lurie 24.

Next Tuesday the association will hold its annual Ray Delahant Memorial tourney at Troy CC.

Greene's Largest Spectator Event Coming Sunday

Greene County's largest spectator sport event will take place this coming Sunday in the form of Saint Patrick's Central Catholic High School's second annual Horse Show at the Blue Chips Stables, West Coxsackie, from 9:30 a. m. until dark.

The first running of the show last September attracted 75 top Eastern New York exhibitors and over a thousand spectators. Sunday's show promises to eclipse last year's mark, attracting championship calibre exhibitors from a wider area to compete in eight additional classes.

Saint Patrick's show is the second largest horse show in upstate New York sanctioned by the American Horse Show Association. Exhibitors can gain qualification for the National Horse Show at Madison Square Garden, the Internationals, and for Olympic competition.

The show, conducted to supplement the new high school's operating budget, has been successful in providing an atmosphere of Christian sociability among workers, exhibitors, and spectators, the ideal conditions for an enjoyable family outing.

Racing Classic On Long Island

BRIDGEHAMPTON, L. I., N. Y. — A world championship auto race meeting, ranking in importance with Le Mans in France; Italy's Targa Florio; Germany's 1,000 kilometers of the Nuerburgring and the Florida classics at Daytona Beach and Sebring, has been scheduled for the Bridgehampton Race Circuit next month.

The "Bridgehampton Double 400", to be held on September 15-16, is the first international championship motor race in the metropolitan area since the Vanderbilt Cup events of 1936 and 1937 at Roosevelt Raceway.

The Saturday and Sunday contests will be for Grand Touring cars and sports-racing autos. Each day's 87-lap race will total 400 kilometers (248.5 miles) over the challenging racing roadway.

With points counting toward the world championship for manufacturers, the races are certain to draw factory teams and top competitors from Europe, Latin America and the cream of domestic drivers.

Stroke Is Fatal For Illinois HS Football Player

GILLESPIE, Ill. (AP) — A Gillespie High School football player passed out in a locker room after a morning drill Wednesday and died about three hours later at St. Francis Hospital.

He was 15-year-old Andy Yurkovich, 6-foot-1½ and 244 pounds, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Yurkovich of nearby Benld, Ill.

Coroner James Warden said an autopsy showed the cause of death to be heat stroke.

A teammate of Yurkovich, Patrick Wesley, 15, of Gillespie also complained of feeling ill in the locker room. He was in satisfactory condition at the hospital.

Coach August Dicenso said the players engaged in a light drill for about 75 minutes in football uniforms, including pads. The coach said it was hot and he watched the players closely to avoid over-exertion.

Mrs. Davenport Plays Kowalski

Mrs. M. Richard Davenport defeated Mrs. Howard DeWitt, 8 and 7, to gain the finals in the women's Championship Flight at Wiltwyck Country Club.

Mrs. Davenport will meet Alyce Kowalski, who eliminated the defending champion, Mrs. Charles Kovacs, in the 1962 finals Saturday morning in an 18-hole playoff.

Unearned Tally In 7th Gives Catskill Win 2-1

The Catskill American Legion baseball team picked up a run in the seventh inning on a two-base throwing error, a wild pitch and a passed ball to edge the Saugerties American Legion team 2-1 and even the series between the two teams at a game apiece.

Saugerties hurried out front 1-0 in the opening frame on back-to-back doubles by Dodig and Marelli. Catskill came right back in the third to knot the score when Marra walked, moved to second on an error by the catcher, Cramer walked, a double steal was executed and Marra scored as B. Patterson grounded out second to first.

Catskill picked up the winning tally when Marra reached second after grounding to the third baseman who overthrew first, took third on a wild pitch and scored on a passed ball.

Horning worked the distance for Catskill, gave up no free trips to first, struck out seven and allowed seven hits to gain the win.

Buytkins started for Saugerties, worked six innings, walked one and struck out seven. May came on in relief, walked none and struck out one while getting tagged with the loss.

Catskill had only two hits, singles by Johnson and Leipshultz. Besides Dodig and Marelli's run producing back-to-back blows, Buytkins and Davis also had doubles for Saugerties.

Saugerties won the first game of the home-and-home series 3-2 last week in Saugerties. The two teams begin another home-and-home series Wednesday night.

Reel Handle

PRIMROSE, Neb.—(NEA)—Jewell Hemmingson came up with a new northern pike lure—a reel handle with hooks attached.

Fishing in a gravel pit near Primrose, Hemmingson landed a three-pound northern. He found a reel handle in its stomach when he cleaned the fish.

The handle, which Hemmingson is using now, came from Alex Long's reel. Long lost it a few days ago fishing in the same gravel pit.

Lasher Pitches, Bats Subway to 14-1 Playoff Win

B. Lasher crashed a homer with the bases full of teammates in the second inning thus giving himself all the runs he needed as he turned in a one-hitter and paced the Subway to a 14-1 trouncing of Yallum's Monday in City Softball League playoff game at Deitz Stadium.

Lasher's blow highlighted the Subway's big inning in which they scored seven times before the side was out.

Lasher also had two other base blows and R. Scheffel and B. Slover chipped in with two hits apiece. Slover had a double and Smith slammed a triple for the winners.

Lasher worked the route, gave up the lone safety, walked four and struck out three enroute to the win. Carpino and J. Amato Sr. teamed up to allow 11 hits and five walks while striking out four. Carpino was tagged with the loss.

LL Manager Says Boys Are Serious At Williamsport

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—Baseball is serious business at the Little League World Series, or as serious as anything can be to a 12-year-old boy with braces on his teeth.

"The pillow fighters were eliminated along the way," says Don James, manager of the Kankakee, Ill., team.

"In one of the regional tournaments we played in, the kids on the other teams were up half the night, screaming, running around and having pillow fights.

"Those teams didn't make it to the series. Here it's serious business. Lights go out at 10 o'clock. All these boys are here to win."

Kankakee is one of the favorites. "We're in good shape," James says. "Oh, I think my center fielder is a little homesick, but he's coming around."

The Illinois team meets Pitman, N.J., today, in one of the semifinal games. Monterrey, Mexico, and San Jose, Calif., meet in the second semifinal.

The other four teams, Kunitachi, Japan; Del Rio, Tex.; Stoney Creek, Ontario, Canada, and the team from the U.S. Army post at Poitiers France, have dropped into the consolation bracket.

Consolation games are scheduled for Friday, and the championship game Saturday.

Airplane Grid Circuit Possible Says ND Chief

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—A proposed Airplane Football Conference for colleges spanning both coasts is "a definite possibility by 1970," says the president of Notre Dame University.

The Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh said in a newspaper interview Wednesday that "in this era of the airplane, it is practically as easy for us to travel to California for a game as it is to get to Iowa and back."

He said the proposed league, in the talking stage for several years, ideally would consist of 10 to 15 schools of comparable academic level, including major independent east and west coast teams, the service academies and Notre Dame.

Houston Is Out Of NL Race, Bucs Make It Official

PITTSBURGH (AP)—To those who fearlessly predicted the Houston Colts wouldn't win the National League pennant this year, fret no further. They won't.

The Colts, winners of 45 games in 126 tries in their first year, officially were eliminted from the pennant race Wednesday night, losing to Pittsburgh 3-0 on Tom Sturdivant's three-hitter. Even with this fate, Manager Harry Craft isn't complaining.

"We haven't even thought of being eliminated," Craft said. "It's farthest from our minds. We still have a tremendous lot of work to do the rest of the season."

The ninth-place Colts are the second team to drop from the official chase. The New York Mets accomplished it earlier this month.

"In one sense, we're not disappointed," said Craft, who became used to disappointment with the lowly Kansas City Athletics in the American League. "Before the season, all of the polls had us finishing in 10th place.

"If we can't stay out of last with the spread between us and the Mets we better hang them up. I even think there's a chance that we'll finish eighth. We're only a game and a half from there now."

Highlands Dog Show Announced

The Hudson Highlands Dog Training Club, Inc., will sponsor an All-Breed and Obedience Match Show on Sunday, Sept. 16 at Tarr Oval, Route 52, Newburgh.

Entries will be taken from 1 p. m., with Obedience judging to start at 1:30 p. m. and Breed judging at 2 p. m. In case of rain, the show will be held indoors at Mac's Teenage Canteen, 5 Washington Terrace, Newburgh, opposite the Grand Union parking lot.

Several attractive trophies, ribbons and rozettes will be awarded. Further information may be obtained by writing the show chairman, Mrs. Joseph R. Keesler, Union Avenue, R. D. 3, Box 8, Newburgh.

San Francisco Schoolgirl in USGA Semifinals

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—A stalwart San Francisco schoolgirl moved into the semifinals of the 14th U.S. Golf Association Girls Junior Championship today with the hope that her putting problems were behind her.

Janice Ferraris, at 15 the San Francisco city womens titlist, tossed a nine-hole string in one-over-par at the tourney favorite, Roberta Albers of Temple Terrace, Fla., and crushed her, 4 and 3.

Today, she met the Western girls junior champion, Mary Lou Daniel of Louisville, Ky., over the Country Club of Buffalo's 6,102-yard, par 72 course.

Maryland junior titlist Mary Alice Sawyer of Baltimore faced Sue Lance of Woodland Hills, Calif., in the other 18-hole semifinal.

The 17-year-old Miss Daniel beat Bonnie Werner of New Berlin, Wis., 4 and 3. Miss Sawyer survived the tournament's longest match to beat Renee Powell in 21 holes. Miss Lance beat a fellow Californian, Michele Yapp of Santa Cruz, 6 and 5.

Columbus Takes Richmond 5-3 on Bailey's Blast

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Shortstop Bobby Bailey boosted his average to .296, his home run total to 23, his runs scored to 94, and his runs-batted-in to 85 Wednesday night in leading the Columbus Jets to their seventh straight International League victory, 5-3 over Richmond.

Richmond right-hander George Haney allowed only two hits in seven innings, but the first was a three-run homer by Bailey in the first following two walks and the second was a solo homer in the sixth by Larry Elliot.

Left-hander Don Rowe pitched a six-hitter for his 10th victory in the game at Columbus, one of four played in the IL Wednesday night.

Management on Top in Softball

MONTICELLO — Sparked by some late-game heroics by directors Sidney Sussman, Milt Kutsher and Don Hammond, the management softballers frolicked to a 14-9 decision over the horsemen in All-Monticello Raceway softball game today at Kutsher's Country Club.

Sussman, chairman of the board of directors, ignited an 11-run rally in the sixth inning with a walk. Kutsher and Hammond followed with hits in pinch-hitting roles and the rally was on. Sussman emerged as the winning pitcher.

The horsemen, paced by a first-inning grand-slam homer by Gene Daisey, took a commanding 8-0 lead. They led 9-3 going into the sixth when management launched its winning rally.

Pitching for the Horsemen were Billy Mitchell, Bob Interdonato, Buddy Kummer and Tony Colombo. Fred Rosenberg carried the brunt of the mound work for the winners.

The Horsemen were also represented by leading driver Carmine Abbatiello, who played left field and third base, Russ Palmer, Sam Smith, Bill Vaughan, Frank Popfinger and Lew Gregory. Lucien Fontaine added moral support from the sidelines.

The Horsemen want revenge and have challenged management to a return game next Wednesday at the Windsor Hotel. The challenge has been accepted.

Ike Risks Rough Copter Trip to Keep Erin Date

ROUNDWOOD, Ireland (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower risked a helicopter flight in rough weather today rather than disappoint his friend, former Irish President Sean T. O'Kelly.

Eisenhower flew from Dublin in the rain and landed on the front lawn of O'Kelly's home. The nearby peaks of the Wicklow Hills were shrouded in mist and a hard wind was blowing.

Roundwood is the highest village in Ireland, nestling amid the peaks of the Wicklows.

"I told you I was coming," said the ex-president as he stepped from his helicopter, "and here I am."

The Irish ex-president, who was Eisenhower's guest in the White House in 1959, stood beaming in the rain. About 150 people, the village's entire population, waited on the lawn with him.

With the rain running down his face and the wind tugging at his coat, Eisenhower said: "I'm having a wonderful time—despite the weather. Thank you for this splendid welcome. Now, I'd like to present my grandchildren."

David Eisenhower, 14 stood beside him shivering in a lightweight suit.

"This is my grandfather, David—I mean, my grandson," said the former president.

Then he introduced his granddaughter Anne, 13. Though her hair was matted by the rain, she managed a smile.

"And this," said Eisenhower, "is Craig Godsen."

Someone laughed. "I mean Craig Gosden," said the former president.

Craig is the 12-year-old son of Freeman Gosden, Amos of the American radio team of Amos and Andy. The Gosdens are close friends of the Eisenhowers and are making the current European tour with them.

Smiling and nodding his approval, O'Kelly invited the visitors into his home.

Inside he presented Eisenhower with a bottle of 20-year-old Irish whisky.

"That's for taking home with you," he said. "This other is for drinking now."

Gunman's Shots Fatal to Groom Of Four Days

RENO, Nev. (AP)—A young California man, married here Monday evening, died today after being shot twice in the head by a gunman who kidnaped him and his bride from their motel room early Wednesday and raped the wife.

Jack Foster, 23, of Yreka, Calif., died at 5 a.m. at Washoe Medical Clinic in Reno where he had been taken with two bullet wounds.

Mrs. Foster, also 23, of Medford, Ore., was treated for shock at Carson-Tahoe Hospital in Carson City, Nev.

Lester Morford III, 18, of Santa Rosa, Calif., is in jail charged with assault with intent to kill.

Larry Fister, Nevada highway patrolman, chased him down and captured him in the Foster car at Silver Springs, east of Reno, shortly after Mrs. Foster leaped from the vehicle in Carson City and reported the attack.

Foster's bride, Patricia, told officers a young man broke into their room and kidnaped them at gun point in their auto. They drove to Truckee, Calif., then to Lake Tahoe, then headed east.

She said the gunman shot her husband and dumped him from the car, raped her twice and drove to Carson City, where she escaped.

Passing motorists found Foster and he was rushed to a hospital.

Laborer Is Sentenced

A 2-year-old Newburgh laborer, was sentenced Tuesday by Acting County Judge W. Vincent Grady to six months in the Dutchess County Jail. Ernest James Ponessa, 27, of 21 East Parmenter Street, Newburgh, had pleaded guilty to charges of burglary third degree and petit larceny. He was accused of entering the Dutchess Home Beverages Co., Poughkepsie, and taking $8.50. Ponessa was given credit for 66 days served.

Report Indicates Wassaic School Is Overcrowded

Reports from the State Mental Hygiene Department have been received by Dr. Ernest Steblen, acting director of the Wassaic State School for Mental Defectives, Amenia, disclosing that the institution is caring for 355 more patients than its designed capacity.

Dr. Steblen stated in the absence of Dr. George F. Etling, director, who is on vacation, that the state school in eastern Dutchess County was designed for 3,552 children and adults, and the present registration is 3,907.

State Mental Hygiene Department officials have made known that patients at the Wassaic School, Willowbrook and Letchworth Village, will be transferred to the Bronx State Hospital when the first new building is completed next Spring.

EAL to Resume 323 Trips Today

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Eastern Air Lines planned to resume service on 323 flights today and a spokesman said the 60-day strike against the big carrier is ended.

J. O. Jarrard, vice president in charge of industrial relations, said Eastern has replaced all striking employes and is proceeding toward full operation, scheduled for Sept. 13.

Eastern said full jet service would resume today and piston-engine flights will be restored Sept. 13.

A spokesman said both types of planes will be used when full service is resumed. He said some of the less-profitable flights will be dropped, but did not say how many.

Army, Rutgers Will Resume Next Year

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP) —A home-and-home football series between Army and Rutgers was announced here today.

The first game will be played Oct. 16, 1965 at West Point. Army will visit Rutgers Oct. 15, 1966.

The teams met six times previously, Army winning five of the contests. The last game was played in 1914, the first in 1891.

Report 15 Red Ships Cuba-Bound

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fifteen Communist ships were reported en route to Cuba today.

They are in addition to 16 vessels said to have docked at Cuban ports late last month with an estimated 3,000 to 5,000 Communist bloc technicians plus large quantities of goods including weapons.

President Kennedy said at his news conference Wednesday the U.S. government has information that Red "supplies and technicians of rather intensive quantity in recent weeks" have been landing on the Caribbean island.

Kennedy gave no figures, but said there is no information that Russian soldiers have come to Cuba or that the Communist aid is a buildup for an invasion of another country.

The President declined to assess the significance of the stepped-up assistance to the Communist-linked regime of Fidel Castro, saying "We are examining it now."

Other U.S. authorities indicated they do not yet know what the Reds are up to.

One speculation is that Moscow wants to strengthen the Communist hold on Cuba by sending in large numbers of "technicians" who will operate in key positions.

Another is that the Cuban economy is sagging so badly that the Communist bloc has decided massive aid is needed to revive its Western Hemisphere ally.

It is speculated also that the Communist help—while not of the kind for any large scale foreign attack—will augment efforts to export communism from Cuba to other Latin American countries through subversive means.

Pioneer Nuclear Ship Research Aids Development

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Writer

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP)—Development of the pioneering nuclear merchant ship Savannah has shown the way to building improved yet cheaper atomic powered vessels for world commerce.

Robert E. Wilson, a member of the Atomic Energy Commission, made that report Wednesday, forecasting that such advances could lead to:

1. Nuclear powered freighters that would speed across the Atlantic in four days—faster than luxury liners like the Queen Mary, and almost twice as fast as conventionally fueled cargo ships.

2. Long-range, 60-knot hydrofoils—ocean-going craft that would operate with only their foils submerged, while the hull rode above the water line.

3. Fast-stepping "ground effect machines" which would ride on a cushion of air near the surface of the water at speeds of perhaps 150 knots.

Wilson discussed these possibilities in a speech honoring the completion of the maiden voyage of the 22,000-ton, $53 million nuclear merchant ship, the first of its kind in the world.

He said experience acquired mainly in building the Savannah "has resulted in reactor designs which would reduce the . . . Savannah power plant weight and construction cost by 50 per cent and the operating cost by 60 per cent."

The cost of the reactor in the Savannah was $13 million, and its weight is 2,500 tons.

Po'keepsie Police Thwart Suicide Attempt in Jail

Alertness of two Poughkeepsie policemen Tuesday night thwarted a suicide attempt in the city jail, when a prisoner was cut down after police found him hanging in a cell.

Police chief John L. Martin said Wednesday, John Griffin, 57, homeless and jobless, was held for city court arraignment on a misdemeanor. Two policemen found Griffin hanging and cut his undershirt that had been fashioned into a noose.

A fire department emergency crew revived Griffin with oxygen. The man later was committed to a state institution for observation.

Toronto Women Cross Lake in Amphib Car

TORONTO (AP)—Two Toronto wives crossed Lake Ontario by automobile Wednesday.

They drove their amphibious car into the middle of a water show as a crowd of more than 4,000 cheered.

Mrs. Shirley Blatchford, a schoolteacher, and Mrs. Margaret Heintenseer, a dietitian, made the 32-mile trip from Youngstown, N.Y., in about six hours driving an amphibious West German "Amphicar".

The women arrived at the Aquarama '62 show with every hair in place and fresh coats of lipstick.

They had bet their husbands a bottle of champagne each they would make the voyage. The husbands went along by boat.

Tough Curbs Part Of Farm Measure Voted by Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has swiftly passed a new farm bill with a dose of the tough controls President Kennedy requested to reduce surpluses of corn and feed grains.

The measure, approved Wednesday by a 47-37 vote, now must go to a conference committee where differences between the Senate and House versions will be ironed out.

The House in June scrapped the original administration bill with its staff compulsory controls. In its place, the House passed a measure to continue for another year the present voluntary wheat and feed grain programs.

The Senate wrote into the measure a provision that could sharply reduce or wipe out price supports starting with the 1964 crop of corn, sorghum grains, barley and other livestock feed grains.

Another key provision—similar to one rejected earlier by the House—would establish production controls over wheat beginning with the 1964 crop if producers agree in a referendum next year.

Boos, Cheers, Applause

EDINBURGH, Scotland (AP) — The first performance of a ban-the-bomb cantata ended amid boos, cheers and polite applause.

The cantata—"On the Bridge at Hiroshima"—was composed by Italy's Luigi Nono especially for the Edinburgh Festival.

It was performed Wednesday night by the London Symphony Orchestra.

It is estimated that someone flees from a Communist country every minute of every day.

Firefighting Case Of Tillson Man Slated for Trial

A jury trial has been scheduled for Vincent Sudowski, owner of property off Springtown Road, Tillson, for Sept. 19, 7 p. m. at the Maple Hill School.

The defendant is accused of obstructing an attempt to extinguish a forest fire near his property, August 4. Norman Kellar, attorney for the defendant, requested the jury trial to be held before Justice of the Peace Edward Brodsky, Town of Rosendale.

Sudowski was accused of violating Section 1901 of the Penal Law on complaint of Forest ranger Byron E. Hill, who reportedly told authorities Sudowski refused to permit him on his property to check a forest fire. Sudowski previously posted $100 bond pending disposition of the charge.

It was reported that Tillson firemen and others had fought forest fires near the Sudowski property and on August 4, Hill drove his car through Sudowski's yard to enter the woods to check the fire. Sudowski, it was reported, fired a shot from a rifle over the ranger's automobile, and refused to permit him to go further. Hill backed his car to a main road after the defendant reportedly refused to permit him to turn around on his property.

London Mum About Meg's Second Child

LONDON (AP)—A spokesman today announced two more public engagements for Princess Margaret but said nothing about reports that she's expecting a second child.

The spokesman said the princess and her husband would attend a ball on Oct. 19 and on Oct. 23 will visit a poor folks home.

Two days ago the Daily Mirror said she was expecting a baby next year.

U. S. Bars Red Cars In Berlin

East Zone Trips Made Unopposed

BERLIN (AP) — Three Soviet armored vehicles taking guard replacements to the Soviet war memorial in West Berlin were detained by the U.S. at Checkpoint Charlie more than an hour today.

At 2:45 p.m. the armored personnel carriers the Russians have used for guard movement since Tuesday were still at the checkpoint.

Witnesses reported three American military vehicles were blocking the Russians' way into West Berlin.

Test of Moscow Action

During the night, U.S. Army cars made unopposed excursions into East Berlin to test whether Moscow's abolition of the Soviet commandant's office would be followed by efforts to limit Western movements in the Communist part of this divided city.

Although East German guards made no attempt to interfere with the American vehicles, U.S. authorities said it was still too early to conclude that harassing measures were not in the offing.

One U.S. Army vehicle crossed from West Berlin into the Communist sector just before midnight and returned without difficulty through Checkpoint Charlie, entry point through the Berlin Wall for military personnel.

Transferring Duties

Two more U.S. Army cars followed without meeting any delays.

The Russians announced Wednesday they were doing away with the office of city commandant and transferring his duties "temporarily" to Gen. Ivan Yakubovsky, the Soviet commander for East Germany, who has headquarters at Potsdam, just west of Berlin.

Western officials viewed the action as a Communist effort to cut one more "slice of salami" from Western occupation rights in the campaign to force the allies out of the city. Communist propaganda organs were expected to argue that the Soviets no longer needed a military authority in Berlin and neither did the Allies.

The United States, Britain and France took the view that the sudden switch of command on the Soviet side did not affect Western rights or the Soviet responsibility for what goes on in East Berlin.

President Kennedy told a news conference the Soviet Union could not affect rights of the four occupation powers by a one-sided decision.

Severs Connection

The Soviet action, however, had the effect of severing connections between the Russians and the American, British and French commandants in Berlin. The Soviet commandant was the official to whom the Western comman-

Name New Salem Resident N.Y. State Marine of Year

GILBERT E. GRAY

A Town of Esopus resident, Gilbert E. Gray of New Salem has been chosen as the New York Marine of the Year, it was announced today by Kurt Gruber, commandant of Ulster Detachment, Marine Corps League.

Gray, a local ambulance service operator, as a state winner becomes eligible for the national title to be designated at the national convention of the Marine Corps League this month in Tampa, Fla.

Chosen at Albany

He was chosen at the state convention in Albany from among 68 named as Marines of the Year by various community Marine Corps Leagues in the state. Gray was named Ulster County Marine of the Year July 16.

Marine Gray, a former commandant of Ulster Detachment, now conducts the Doctor's Ambulance Service at 77 Greenkill Avenue. He has been associated with the ambulance business in this locality for several years. Gray was advised that one of the factors leading to his winning the state award was the unique distinction he holds of being Ulster County champion at assisting at births, a record he compiled in his years in the ambulance service.

Commandant Gruber said "we of Ulster Detachment, and indeed each citizen of Ulster County" should be proud of our man who received such a high honor. Every local Marine Corps League certainly agrees with the board in that the award was well deserved."

Marine Gray, a Kingston native, served during the Korean Conflict with the U. S. Marine Corps, being discharged with the rank of sergeant.

He resides with his wife, Bernice and their five children at New Salem.

During his years of service to Marine Corps League he has held many offices both on a local and state-wide level. At present he is state public relations officer. He presently holds citation from the State Marine Corps League for outstanding service and was Marine Ball chairman in 1961 and has held many other committee chairmanships.

Kingston Men Held In Upstate Probe

Two Kingston young men picked up here Wednesday by Troy police on warrants issued in connection with an investigation of the dumping of another man's body in a Troy parking lot Tuesday morning, pleaded innocent today before Troy Police Court Judge Joseph Daly to misdemeanor charges and are in custody in Rensselaer County pending possible later developments.

Arrested yesterday after he gave himself up at local police headquarters, was Robert Frederick Harvey, 21, of 114 O'Neil Street, a railroad laborer. He was booked by Detective Harold DeGraff for violation of Section 43 of the Penal Law, which police describe as "an amnibus section."

Death Called 'Suspicious'

Apprehended last night on Clinton Avenue near Main Street was Thomas Sauer, 21, of 7 Wiltwyck Avenue. He was picked up by Officer Thomas Carpino and turned over to Assistant Chief John Grunmick and Detective William Murray, of the Troy police. Sauer, a restaurant worker, was booked for violation of the same section.

Their arrests came of the probe of the "suspicious" death of Robert Seymour Rush, 47, of 337 Madison Avenue, Albany, a hospital orderly, whose partially clad body was found in the parking lot.

Ulster Approves Light District, Eyes Early Start

Following a public hearing held Wednesday night at the Lake Katrine Grange Hall, the proposed Albany Avenue Lighting District was accepted by the Town of Ulster Town Board and members of the town board and Central Hudson engineers will discuss the type of lights and the system will be turned on as quickly as possible. There was no opposition to the proposal.

The light district will be from the Kingston city line north to Neighborhood Road, encircling the IBM, up Boice's Lane and south to Morton Boulevard, connecting Albany Avenue at Ulster Hose Company No. 5.

Smith Hails Action

Francis Smith, president of the Ulster Business Men's Association, expressed to the town board on behalf of the membership of the Association their thanks to the town board for its cooperation and efforts in establishing the Lighting District. He said that through the efforts of the members of the Business Men's Association in circulating petitions it had been possible for the district to be formed.

Members of the Association started circulating petitions for the light district in June of this year and submitted the petition

To Overtake Reds By End of Decade

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy says the United States is pouring billions of dollars and a tremendous effort into overtaking Russia in space—"and I think by the end of the decade we will."

This was a sort of hopeful look at long-term prospects in reponse to a news conference question Wednesday about Russia's orbiting of twin cosmonauts.

U. S. Now Behind

It was tempered by mention an even dozen times that this country now is behind, second, or late or that the Soviets have a lead. Kennedy said: "Anybody who attempts to suggest that we are not behind misleads the American people."

Russia or Russians figured in one way or another in a wide range of conference topics.

For example:

Kennedy said "The Bloc"—he meant the Communist bloc—has put large quantities of supplies and an increased number of technicians into Cuba in recent weeks. He said there is no similar information about troops.

He said that if Soviet Premier Khrushchev comes to the United known that Khrushchev will—"I Nations this fall—and he doesn't would hope I would have a chance to talk with him" and any other heads of government who might come.

Comments on Berlin

The President said that Russia's action in abolishing its commandant's office in Berlin certainly cannot by itself affect U.S. rights based on a four-power agreement with the Soviets, Britain and France.

Getting closer to home, Kennedy put himself in the cheering section for a Senate subcommittee's investigation of profits on America's stockpiling of $8 billion in strategic materials.

The President said and repeated that extremely large profits were made by the Hanna Mining Company with very little risk to the firm, that he could under-

Assassins Missed by Few Inches

10 Bullets Hit President's Car

PARIS (AP) — Police today sought a band of Secret Army Organization killers whose bullets missed President Charles de Gaulle by only inches in an ambush on the outskirts of Paris.

An investigation indicated that Wednesday night's assassination attempt was the second planned this month on the 71-year-old French leader. The other failed to come off.

Admits 'Close Shave'

De Gaulle, unruffled but admitting he had "a close shave," rested with his wife at their guarded country home at Colombey les Deux Eglises.

The police search centered on a dark-haired man, about 30, who rented one of the ambush cars from a suburban garage three days ago. The light panel truck was found booby-trapped and abandoned a few hours after the assassins fired at the motorcade taking De Gaulle to a military airport.

The garage owner, who supplied the clue, said the same dark-haired man rented the same truck for five days on Aug. 4. Police noted that period coincided with De Gaulle's trip to Paris from his country home. He gave a luncheon Aug. 8 at Elysee Palace for visiting Dwight D. Eisenhower.

De Gaulle had come to the capital Wednesday for a Cabinet meeting to draft stronger measures to stem a wave of terrorism blamed on right-wing extremists from Algeria.

De Gaulle's car was hit by at least 10 bullets in a heavy cross-

JFK Lauds Rendezvous Under Ice

By ELTON C. FAY
AP Military Affairs Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A hide-and-seek maneuver by two U.S. Navy atomic submarines under polar ice points to the way a deep and deadly war could be fought in the Arctic.

President Kennedy announced the hitherto secret operation to a news conference Wednesday, saying that the submarines Skate and Seadragon had made "historic rendezvous" under the ice, then surfaced through an opening at the North Pole.

Surfaced August 2

"This," said Kennedy, "is the first time that two of our submarines have worked together in this manner under the arctic ice pack and I want to congratulate all of those involved in this exceptional technical feat."

The submarine versus submarine operation started July 31 and concluded when the two ships surfaced Aug. 2. Navy experts consider it a major tactical demonstration that antisubmarine warfare in the hostile and weird environment of the ice-capped Arctic Ocean seems feasible in the event of hostilities.

Another phase of submarine warfare, rocket-firing by submersibles, creates urgent requirement for counter-measures. Russia is beginning to build and send to sea atomic submarines. One of the logical launching points for any Soviet submarine rocket attack on the United States and Canada would be the Arctic Ocean.

The U.S. Navy maintains a barrier patrol across one route for Russian submarines into the Atlantic. That barrier extends eastward from Greenland to Iceland and the Faroe Islands. But the Arctic Ocean, on which Russia borders, is wide open.

Attack Subs Only Hope

If Russia should begin deploying rocket submarines under the ice, the United States must create a defensive system. The only apparent means are attack submarines, perhaps sent out on weeks-long patrols to listen electronically under the ice—a new barrier line.

Until now, the United States had no actual experience in submarine hunting in polar areas. Although

Governor at Fair, No Tax Hike Vowed

Governor Nelson Rockefeller visited the 117th annual Dutchess County Fair at Rhinebeck, Wednesday afternoon, and after touring the grounds welcomed more than 10,000 visitors in front of the Administration building.

Today, the governor was carrying his campaign for reelection into Central New York after renewing his stand against a tax increase and sidestepping a commitment on teenage drinking, the Associated Press reported from Syracuse.

Speaks at Nelson House

The governor spent several minutes giving autographs to scores of persons. Prior to his visit at the fair he addressed 300 persons at a businessmen's luncheon at the Nelson House, Poughkeepsie.

The third day of the county fair attracted thousands before noon and with good weather continuing, fair officials anticipate a record attendance for the six days. In the last two days the attendance has far exceeded 20,000.

Lee L. Leachman, Rhinebeck, president of the Dutchess County fair, has set a goal of a record attendance of 110,000 persons for the six-day, six-night exposition which continues through Sunday, Aug. 26.

Visits Various Exhibits

Governor's day proved a success, and fair officials said today Governor Rockefeller appeared to have enjoyed the afternoon, visiting the various exhibits.

Jersey judging of 4-H entries, 4-H demonstrations, voting for the Queen of the 1962 Fair, a free grandstand show and a 4-H talent show on 4-H Hill, were features of the program for this afternoon and tonight.

Rest of Schedule

Gates and exhibit buildings open Friday at 8 a. m., with open class dairy and 4-H steers judging, and an English horse show scheduled for 9 a. m. tomorrow. At 2 p. m. a free grandstand show will be presented, and at 7:30 p. m. the crowning of Agricultural Centennial Queen will take place in front of the grandstand.

On Saturday, 9 a. m. 4-H Dairy showmanship, western frontier horse show, and other attractions are scheduled.

The Republican governor, who has put heavy emphasis on county fairs in his Upstate travels in recent weeks, opened the second day of a four-day tour with a breakfast attended by 175 business and industrial leaders here.

His schedule for the day also included a luncheon of service clubs at Malone and an appearance of the Franklin County Fair at Malone.

The campaign swing began Wednesday in the Poughkeepsie

Settecase, Five Plead Innocent To Heroin Charge

Anthony Settecase, 55, of Lattintown Road, Marlboro, and five other men pleaded innocent Wednesday in Federal District Court in New York City to charges of being members of an international narcotics ring that smuggled more than $100 million worth of heroin into the United States over a 10-year period.

To Set Trial Sept. 28

Judge Edward J. Dimock scheduled Sept. 28 for setting a trial set for the six who entered pleas. The pleading of five others was postponed to next Tuesday.

Settecase, whose bail was originally set at $25,000, was reduced to $15,000.

The Marlboro contractor was one of 11 men picked up earlier this month on charges of conspiring to violate the Federal narcotics law.

Hoderath Elected Lt. Gov. by Area Kiwanis Division

Hubert Hoderath, a faculty member of the Kingston Consolidated School system until his retirement a year ago, this week was elected lieutenant governor of the Hudson Valley Division of Kiwanis International. The election is for the 1963 year.

The local Kiwanian, a member of the Kingston club for more than 20 years, was elected by delegates from 19 clubs in the division during a meeting in Middletown.

Hoderath, who resides at 120 West O'Reilly Street, has resided in Kingston since 1925. He formerly served as director of Vocational Education, principal of Adult Education and as acting principal of Kingston High School during his educational career.

Hoderath has served as a member of or chairman of all Kiwanis action committees; in 1948 he was program chairman; in 1954 he was president of the Kingston club. During the year of his presidency the annual interchange of visits with the Kingston, Ontario club were initiated and recently he was chairman of the 1962 inter-club visit to Kingston, Ontario, where 39 local Kingstonians attended a meeting of that club. He helped organize the Key Club in Kingston High School and served as its faculty advisor for 10 years.

Schwenk Assured State Hoping for Fall Viaduct Bids

Mayor John J. Schwenk today said the State Department of Public Works has assured him that "very effort is being made" to call for bids and gain a contract for the Washington Avenue viaduct project in the fall.

Common Council legislation Tuesday night locally enabled the state to proceed in advancing project plans and specifications and it is expected that the next important state action will materialize in the early fall.

The city delayed action on resolutions which were required by the state to be adopted, because Mayor Schwenk awaited a reply from the state as to whether it would be responsible for replacement of lights on the railroad overpass while it remains in use before and during project construction. Maintenance of the viaduct will revert to the contractor after a contract is awarded.

Mayor Schwenk learned recently that the state will bear the cost of replacing the lights but the city will be responsible for power and maintenance. It is expected that the viaduct will remain in use during construction which will involve replacement of the narrow Esopus Creek bridge and re-establishing the full width of Washington Avenue at grade. A section of Route 28 will also be rebuilt and realigned.

Mayor Says Housing Code Could Speed Downtown UR

Downtown urban renewal is at least eight months ahead of that uptown and will maintain the lead if the Common Council assists with adoption of a housing code and zoning ordinance on schedule, Mayor John J. Schwenk said today.

The mayor complimented the council for its cooperation Tuesday night in approving the uptown urban renewal survey and planning contract, and assured downtown aldermen that he shares "wholeheartedly" their desire to bring Broadway East to its execution stage.

"As mayor of Kingston," he said, "I feel a deep obligation to all of the people of this city, and I have no favorite ward or section. You may be sure," he added, "that I personally place crucial importance and the highest priority on moving the Broadway East project to completion."

Comparing the downtown and uptown urban renewal timetables, the mayor explained that survey and planning of the Broadway East Project started last February, and will be completed before the end of the year. "With planning board and council cooperation in holding public hearings and adopting the master plan, codes and ordinances," he said, "we can begin the actual renewal of downtown by the spring of 1963."

The uptown urban renewal project, he noted, will enter the survey and planning phase in September, and probably will not reach an execution point before late fall of 1963.

"Furthermore," he said, "the federal government, which has

O'Connor Camp Hits Morgenthau at Top

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The chances of Robert M. Morgenthau's winning the Democratic gubernatorial nomination drew added strength today with an endorsement by the party leader in an influential county — Westchester.

William F. Luddy, the county chairman, proposed Wednesday that Morgenthau run at the head of the party's ticket next November, with Frank D. O'Conor, the Queens district attorney, as candidate for the U.S. Senate.

Morgenthau, U.S. attorney for the Southern District of New York, had no comment on the Luddy proposal, which was made at a news conference in New York City. An O'Connor spokesman said, however, that O'Connor was the party's leading gubernatorial candidate and that the Luddy proposal was an attempt "to buy Mr. O'Connor off."

The development was one of several as the party's nominating convention drew nearer.

The Democrats will nominate their ticket Sept. 17-18 in Syracuse. Gov. Rockefeller and Sen. Jacob K. Javits are assured of renomination by the Republicans.

Other developments overnight:

—Rep. Samuel S. Stratton of Schenectady, another gubernatorial hopeful, asked whether Rockefeller was involved in some kind of "a political deal" with Joseph Falcone of Utica, a delegate to the Apalachin gangland convention.

Falcone recently turned himself in to the State Investigation Commission, which had been seeking for four years to question him about the notorious 1957 convention.

Falcone was released from custody after testifying before the commission Tuesday, and Stratton said the freeing of the man was "fantastic." Stratton said he had no evidence of a Rockefeller

Prayer Ban Takes In Everyone: State

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A ban by the U.S. Supreme Court on government - sponsored prayers in public schools applies to local school officials as well as to the state, an Education Department spokesman contends.

Dr. Charles A. Brind, department counsel, gave that view Wednesday in a statement he said was intended as a legal explanation of the court's opinion.

The tribunal on June 25 said that government was "without power to prescribe by law any particular form of prayer which is to be used as an official prayer in carrying on any program of governmentally sponsored religious activity."

The court's action was aimed at a prayer recommended for use in public schools by the State Board of Regents. The 22-word prayer, adopted in 1951, was considered by the Regents to be nonsectarian.

Brind said the ruling applied to boards of education, school superintendents and principals and teachers, as well as to the Regents.

The decision continues to be a major issue in many school districts in the state. Some districts are seeking to find acceptable substitutes to the Regents prayer or to continue use of prayers, such as the Lord's Prayer, which had been traditional in the districts.

Also, many of the ramifications of the court's opinion have yet to be determined.

The Board of Regents, which governs all education in the state, and State Education Commissioner James E. Allen Jr. have said they will issue no blanket policy regarding activities with a religious theme in classrooms. Rather, they say, they will deal with each case as it arises.

NEW YORK (AP) — President Kennedy is finding labor just as hard to convert to his new guidelines for a booming economy as he found many leaders of big business and many top men in Congress.

A developing clash with labor could be one of the highlights of the struggle to get the economy moving faster—supposing the government can do it. And labor's sour view of the guidelines is sure to dominate much of next year's labor-management negotiations in many industries.

Over Shorter Week

The labor-administration clash is over a shorter work week. The dispute of the administration with business is over the government's increasing role in collective bargaining and especially in monitoring price policies. The conflict with Congress in the economic field is over taxes and tariffs and spending, among others—all tied to economic growth, jobs and prices.

Labor has told the President it is tired of waiting for a seemingly sidetracked boost to economic growth to find jobs for the four million or more persons out of work, many for long periods.

The union leaders' idea is that a 35-hour instead of a 40-hour week either would furnish more jobs to get the same amount of production or would counteract some of the inroads of automation on factry and office employment.

The administration says it will stand firm on the 40-hour week as the norm. The President thinks that in some lines more work, rather than less, may be needed to get the economy moving fast enough to put all the nation's capacity in operation and all its labor force to work.

And a 35-hour week at the same pay as a 40-hour one would add to the pressure for higher prices. This the administration opposes—as witness its sharp reaction when steel companies tried to raise their prices last April.

Many Under 40 Now

As a matter of fact many labor contracts already call for less than a 40-hour week at standard pay. Anything over that brings extra pay. The most cited example is the 25-hour week won this year by electrical workersin the New York construction industry. But other contracts across the nation call for less than a 40-hour week.

The American Federation of Labor and Congress of Industrial Organizations is calling for a major drive to win more of these shorter week contracts as negotiations come up in the months ahead.

It also will ask Congress to cut the present statutory 40-hour week to 35 by amending the federal Fair Labor Standards Act.

Twist Contest Is Set Friday at Dutchess Fair

Something new in Dutchess County Fair competition — a Twist contest — will take place Friday night, rain or shine, at the Rhinebeck showgrounds on a new dance floor gaily decorated with Japanese lanterns and covered by canvas.

Johnny Mayone's orchestra of Glasco will play the music for this no-holds-barred contest to pick the champion twisters of the Mid-Hudson valley. The contest is free as part of the free dancing nightly to a live orchestra feature of the 117th Dutchess Fair. Prizes will go to the winning twisters and Bill Nimmo, well-known radio-television announcer, will be the master of ceremonies.

Free dancing Saturday night also will be to the music of Mayone's band, and on Sunday night Harry Castiglione's orchestra will play.

Tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock at the Grandstand the fair will crown its Centennial Farm queen, chosen by popular vote. The A-H Baby Beef show will be judged tomorrow morning, with an English horse show slated all day tomorrow and a western horse show all day Saturday.

Free grandstand shows through Sunday night's closing will feature the Harmonica Rascals, every 2 and 8 p. m.

Both teams missed a diamond slam on board 13. The slam is a cinch to make because declarer can win the opening lead, draw trumps, discard one club on the king of hearts, and a second on the jack. This allows North to make his queen, but establishes the ten for a spade discard.

The fact that a slam is lay down implies that it should be bid, and undoubtedly some players would get there, but it is always hard to reach a slam when one player holds all the high cards and the other holds nothing except a six-card suit that he happens to be able to run.

The Americans started with an artificial two club bid and a two diamond weakness response so that West's three diamond call was not a diamond rebid, but merely showed that West held some sort of diamond suit.

The Italians started with a forcing club bid and one diamond as the bust response. Then East showed his great strength by a jump to two hearts. West went to three diamonds to show some sort of a suit and again the Italian East settled for three no-trump.

The Italians made six when East ran off his high cards in other suits and then finessed for the same queen of hearts. The Americans only made five so that Italy gained an International Match Point and finished the first session 25 IMPs behind the Americans in the World Championship series.

Although it is now on everyone's lips, "astronaut" is a comparatively new word in our language. When women are selected to make trips around the earth and to the moon and other planets, another new word will be used more and more frequently. That word, "astronette."

Hints Political Deal

Stratton Demands Gov. Jail Falcone

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP) — Rep. Samuel S. Stratton, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, demanded today to know "what kind of a political deal" Gov. Rockefeller had made with Joseph Falcone, who attended the Apalachin gangland convention in 1957.

Falcone, of Utica, had been missing for four years until he turned himself in to authorities last week. He testified Tuesday before the State Investigation Commission.

Released After Hearing

He was released from the custody of a deputy sheriff after the hearing in New York City. Commissioner Myles J. Lane said Falcone had complied with a court order by testifying and had assured the commission he would be available for further questioning if it were necessary.

Stratton, said today he had sent a telegram to the Republican governor in which he demanded that Rockefeller, as the "state's chief law enforcement officer, immediately apprehend and jail Falcone."

In a statement released with the telegram, Stratton said it was "fantastic that a man who has been ducking a state subpoena... for four years and then comes in with a transparent alibi should be allowed to walk out scot-free."

"What kind of a political deal has the governor made with Falcone?" the congressman asked.

In Albany, a spokesman for the governor said that the telegram had not been received and that no comment would be made until it had arrived and had been studied.

Open Door to Others

Stratton, told the Associated Press that he had no evidence of a political deal between the governor and Falcone.

Stratton called Falcone's explanation of his disappearance "transparently false."

Stratton contended that if Rockefeller allowed "this sort of treatment to stand, then he might as well announce to all future racketeers and criminals that they can defy commission subpoenas with an immunity for years and never worry about anything stronger than a rap on the wrist."

FOLK SINGER IN WOODSTOCK—Pete Seeger, regarded as the foremost folk singer of the day and a highly controversial political figure, will present a midnight concert at the Woodstock Playhouse on Saturday, Aug. 25. Seeger was sentenced to a jail term for refusing to answer questions before a Congressional committee but higher courts reversed the sentence. A man very much in the news in recent months, Seeger ranks high among the nation's entertainers. A local note: he is married to Toshi Ohta, daughter of Takashi Ohta, a former Woodstock painter who was associated with the old Maverick Theatre. Mrs. Seeger got her elementary education in the old Bearsville school.

LEADER — Sir Alexander Bustamente, 78, is the new prime minister of Jamaica. The island in the Caribbean became independent on Aug. 6 after 307 years of British rule.

Nobody Beats Pro Hutchins at Woodstock Links

J. Carson Hutchins, the Woodstock Country Club golf professional, fired a 34-32-66, so it was not surprising that none of the WCC women were able to Beat The Pro in the annual tournament.

Mrs. Alex Sharpe came the closest with 90-23-67 and Mrs. Phil Salet was two shots away on 96-28-68.

Several prizes were awarded by the pro, including a golf set.

Mrs. A. J. (Wiggie) de Lisio won a prize for low gross 40-36-76. Other prize winners included: Mrs. Sharpe, low net, 67; fifth low net, Mrs. Kermit Schwarz, 99-27-72; low score on second hole, Mrs. Jean Hildebrant, 4; high score on 4th hole, Mrs. William McGrath, 7; high score on No. 7, Mrs. David Fogel, 8; high score on No. 9, Mrs. Albert Bernard, 7.

Lowest putts were: Mrs. Joseph Fitzsimmons, 28; Mrs. Doris Murray, 29; Mrs. Thomas H. Dendy, 30. Mrs. Philip Salet turned in the best poker score with five 6s.

The summaries:

Mrs. Sharpe, 90-23-67; Mrs. Salet, 96-28-68; Mrs. Joseph Forno, 91-21-70; Mrs. Doris Murray, 96-25-71; Mrs. Kermit Schwarz, 99-27-72; Mrs. J. Explosion Is Fatal To Dump Contractor

MECHANICVILLE, N. Y. (AP) —John Palmer, 55, a dump contractor, was injured fatally Wednesday when a barrel of waste silicone material was jarred open and it exploded in his face.

State Police said the Mechanicville man was throwing sand over tightly-sealed barrels, which he collected from the General Electric plant at nearby Waterford, when one opened and blew up at a dump in this Saratoga County community.

Onteora Board Receives Maps For NYC Land at West Hurley

Three topographical drawings of the West Hurley area the Onteora Board of Education may purchase from the City of New York's Board of Water Supply have been turned over to the school architects, Trustee R. C. Cruthers reported at Monday's board meeting.

Cruthers, who has been serving as liaison between the board and City of New York, said the maps contain the necessary data from which the architect can procede with his preliminary layout and fixing of the proposed school building location.

The Engineers Department of the BWS has turned over all necessary information to the New York Board of Estimate which will fix the cost of an acre. The plot of land which is contiguous with Route 28, from a point opposite the juncture of Route 28 and Route 375, consists of approximately 69 acres.

The information from the Board of Estimate is expected in the near future.

Cruthers revealed that it required extensive research of the BWS files and on maps dating back to 1909 to acquire the necessary information. He also noted that the school architects saw no serious problems in building on the site. There are no major stone hazards and water is plentiful.

Insurance Plan

An extensive insurance committee report submitted by the committee chairman Trustee H. Chase Page was filed for future action. I marks an attempt to solve the controversial aspects of Onteora's insurance policies in the past.

District Principal George R. Sullivan was empowered to negotiate a lease with fire commissioners of West Hurley for use of the fire room as a kindergarten room.

In a memorandum to the board, Dr. Sullivan pointed out that the kindergarten enrollment in West Hurley has exceeded the 58 pupils who originally were scheduled to attend kindergarten in two one-half day sessions and is now 72. He recommended that a third half-day session be established in a room in the West Hurley fire hall for a class not to exceed 20 kindergarten children.

The Onteora district would agree to pay a $10 per week rental fee, provide custodial service and provide liability insurance for the West Hurley fire room. The building has already been approved by the State Education Department for use as a temporary quarters.

Faculty Appointments

Three faculty appointments were confirmed: Mrs. Joyce Goodrich, part time, junior high mathematics, salary, $4,960; Joy Ann Kiernan, kindergarten, pro rated salary of $3,990; Mrs. Glenda Hess, former kindergarten teacher in West Hurley, has agreed to teach this session on a half-time basis through November.

Mrs. Lorice Lindstrom was hired for part time clerical work, three hours per day, at the rate of $1.25 an hour.

Eight persons, two from each of the major townships in the district, were named to the Adult Education advisory committee. They are: Hurley, Mrs. Dorothy Narel, Mrs. Helen Schwartz; Shandaken, Henry Bernstein, William Landesman; Olive, Ernest Gardner, Robert Thornell; Woodstock, Irving Kalish, Mrs. Bernice St. Pierre.

The board accepted bids on various items. Adel's Awning and Shade Mfg. of Ashokan was awarded the window shades contract at a bid price of $1,401.

General Baking, Albany, received the bread contract (.20 for 24-oz. loaf); Babcock Farms Dairies, Kingston, white (.05285) and chocolate (.0579) milk; ice cream, Borden's Ice Cream, Albany, .52 Dixie cups, .68 sandwich, .62 cones.

Kaye Sportwair, Inc., Kingston, received contract for eight tumbling mats at $1,167.50.

Blind Sale Set For August 27

The annual Woodstock sale of articles from the Albany Association of the Blind will be held Monday, Aug. 27. The sale, which features a wide range of merchandise, is being held on the Lutheran Church lawn from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m.

General chairman of the sale is Mrs. Ivan Freer.

Many useful household articles and attractive gift items are offered for sale. All merchandise is produced in the A.A.B. shops.

Rocky Names Two

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Edgar A. Newell of (604 Crescent) Ogdensburg, a business executive, was appointed by Gov. Rockefeller today to the council of the State Agricultural and Technical Institute at Canton.

The governor also named Stuart A. Allen of Waterville to the Board of Visitors of Utica State Hospital.

Both appointments fill vacancies caused by expiration of terms on the unsalaried boards.

Postpone L.L. Father and Son Woodstock Game

The Father and Son game originally scheduled yesterday by the Woodstock Little League was postponed until Sunday, Sept. 16, at 2 p. m.

The postponement was necessary because the families of many of the players involved in the game are now on vacation. All details of the game remain the same for the Sept. 16 date and refreshments will be served all afternoon and after game time.

At a meeting presided over by the newly-elected president, Joseph Forno, Gene Snyder and Sam Mercer were appointed a committee to make arrangements for the Father and Son game. Mrs. Johnson was reappointed to serve again next year as refreshment chairman and will be in that capacity for the Sept. 16 date.

Following a lengthy discussion on the improvement of the Little League diamond for the 1963 season, the president appointed a committee of Floyd DeWitt, Gene Snyder and himself to assume the responsibility of putting the field in proper shape for next season.

Vaughn Hafele was appointed publicity chairman.

DON'T TRIFLE WITH 'UNCLE'

Considering how much valuable property the United States Post Office Department moves around, it is no wonder that a band of hoodlums finally succumbed to the temptation and spooned up a little for themselves.

The surprising thing is that it doesn't happen more often.

But there are good reasons why most of those who live by breaking the law draw the line this side of the United States government. It might give you some idea when you learn that over a thousand federal employes have been ordered to Boston in the wake of the $1.5 million hijacking of a mail truck near Plymouth, Mass.

Among them are agents of the postal inspection service, the country's oldest special police force, whose first chief was Benjamin Franklin.

It has an outstanding record. Last year, the inspectors arrested 32 persons for mail holdups; 31 were found guilty. It made 4,001 arrests for mail burglary and mailbox looting and got 3,776 convictions.

A mandatory 25-year jail sentence for armed postal robbery helps account for the low number in that category.

For these and other reasons, mail trucks are lightly armed, and not armed at all in small towns and villages. Weapons are carried, however, when especially valuable shipments are being made.

In large cities, armored trucks are regularly borrowed from the Federal Reserve. Frequency of shipments keeps down the concentration of valuables and maximum secrecy also adds to the problems of the crooks.

Convoy cars with armed men sometimes accompany trucks. Unfortunately, it was just before the Plymouth robbery that the postal authorities there ceased using a police escort.

TRIUMPH UNDER THE EARTH

When Hannibal invaded Italy in 218 B. C., it took him nine tortuous days to cross the Alps.

In 1796, Napoleon did it more quickly, without elephants.

But beginning in the spring of 1964, ordinary motorists will be able to cross between France and Italy in under an hour—including customs formalities—thanks to the tunnel under Mt. Blanc.

Now that French and Italian crews, working toward each other since 1958, have met and the 7¼-mile bore is completed, road paving and installation of lighting and other equipment can begin.

When completed, the two-way roadway will be 23 feet wide, with emergency park repair spaces every fifth of a mile. It will chop 125 miles off the distance between Paris and Rome. Over 300,000 vehicles are expected to use the tunnel each year.

The story of the tunnel is one of courage, skill and triumph, not unmixed with tragedy. Seventeen men were killed inside the mountain or in avalanches outside.

When the final breakthrough was made the two crews rushed toward each other and, unlike the soldier of old, indulged in vigorous embracing and back-slapping. They toasted each other in wine that was sweet and well-deserved.

AFTER HIGH SCHOOL

The number of top scholars graduating from high school who go on to college is rising rapidly, and the nation as well as the students will profit from this. A survey made by a University of Pittsburgh team indicates that 70 per cent of the top 30 per cent of high school classes of 1960 entered college within a year.

Reasons for the increase are said to be mainly more counseling of high school students and more scholarships available. Perhaps also more parents and students are becoming aware of the importance of education for competitive careers later.

College never will be the right answer for all students. Many other kinds of training are equally valuable for some. But each one should get as much education as he can, whether the academic or the vocational emphasis happens to suit him best.

'These Days'

THE STATE DEPARTMENT

"The New Bedford (Mass.) Standard-Times" has published an interesting series of articles on "What's Wrong With the State Department?" by Everett S. Allen who spent 18 months of investigation and interviewing.

His orientation appears in the very first sentence of his first article:

"By accident or design, this is where the 'cold war' is being lost."

The articles are interesting and contain considerable material. Random House has just announced the publication, in the near future, of a book entitled, "The Fourth Floor" by Earl E. T. Smith, former United States Ambassador to Cuba. Obviously, the title of this book can only mean that Ambassador Smith is discussing the deskmen of the State Department—the men who make policy as a result of day by day action. No President, no Secretary of State, in recent years, has been able to undo the work of these men.

Allen's series almost gives the impression that there is a hidden hand, a conspiracy, to undermine the United States. My experience with State Department activity goes back to 1917. I would say that from 1919 to 1930, as regards China, that experience was close. The men whose pictures appear in Allen's brochure were not in the Department then. Some of them may not have been born, or at any rate, they were children at school.

But the story was the same as it is today, except that in those days we were worried about Japan and Germany; now it is Russia.

The trouble with the State Department is organic. In the first place, even in simpler days, decisions were made at the lower levels rather than by the responsible officials, the President and the Secretary of State. By the time a problem reaches the top for action, so much has developed, so many decisions have been made and steps taken, that the higher officials are caught with an accomplished fact which they cannot or will not repudiate. Can not, is more correct—because the time element is a big factor.

Are the men on the Fourth or the Sixth Floors all Communists, Socialists, traitors, scoundrels? Most of them are younger men who have become expert in particular areas of the Earth or on particular subjects. They know languages, history, local customs. They become so absorbed in their specialties that they often become spokesmen for the area rather than for the United States. All countries suffer from this mental transference and it is one reason why they keep shifting men around. In my day in China, this was so true that it was once said of a scholar, "He came to China to convert the Chinese but they got him first."

The situation is now complicated by tenure. Nobody can be fired unless he is a political appointee. The Foreign Service Law, the Civil Service Law, the Veterans Law protect men in their jobs, even if they do stupid but not criminal things. Unless a man can be retired for stupidity or uselessness, a government department becomes clogged with unnecessary persons. Experts do know it all, but that does not mean that they have the wisdom to handle a situation.

The solution, of course, is for the President or the Secretary of State or the National Security Council to lay down a strict policy, not when an emergency arises but long before, and everybody must conform to that in every particular or be fired. The fact of the Cuban situation is that neither President Eisenhower nor Secretary of State, John Foster Dulles, knew anything about Cuba until after Castro was in absolute control. But the Fourth Floor knew as five ambassadors, Hill, Gardner, Smith, Braden and Pauley, have made clear beyond doubt.

This comes down to a matter of the organization of the transmission of material and the responsibility of the top men. This is probably true of most departments of the government. Dealing with more than 100 countries presents an almost impossible technical problem. Secretary of State Hull, for instance, dealt with tariffs and other economic problems and knew nothing of the negotiations which led to war and eventually to an alliance of the Western Powers. John Foster Dulles was interested in isolating Russia and paid little attention to anything else. Dean Rusk needs a good office manager.

The major problem today of the State Department is that decisions be made at the very summit, not by the experts.

All Facts Aren't in On Cholesterol Hassle

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Much of the present hoopla about cholesterol puts me in mind of what used to be said not too many years ago about the relationship of meat (especially red meat) to hypertension, arterial hardening and heart trouble.

Anybody who knew, or pretended to know, anything about diet and medicine could then tell you that eating beefsteak was an invitation to disaster. And so the hypertensives, arteriosclerotics and cardiacs were offered the choice of fish or poultry while other members of the household hesitated only over the decision of "rare" or "well-done."

Today, the dietary picture has undergone a revolution. While other members of the household sit before breakfast plates which "crackle and snap," the hypertensive cardiac puts away hamburger or a small steak. Provided, of course, that all evidences of fat have been removed. And whether or not the fear of cholesterol goes the way of fear of "red meat," only the future will decide.

To those of us who are certain only that overweight hurts the circulatory system, Prof. Arthur Grollman of the University of Texas Southwestern Medical School provides welcome information. He says:

Cholesterol intake is not a proven cause of atherosclerosis.

Cholesterol is actually a steroid, not a fat, and estimates of its concentration in the blood do not necessarily give a measure of the fat content.

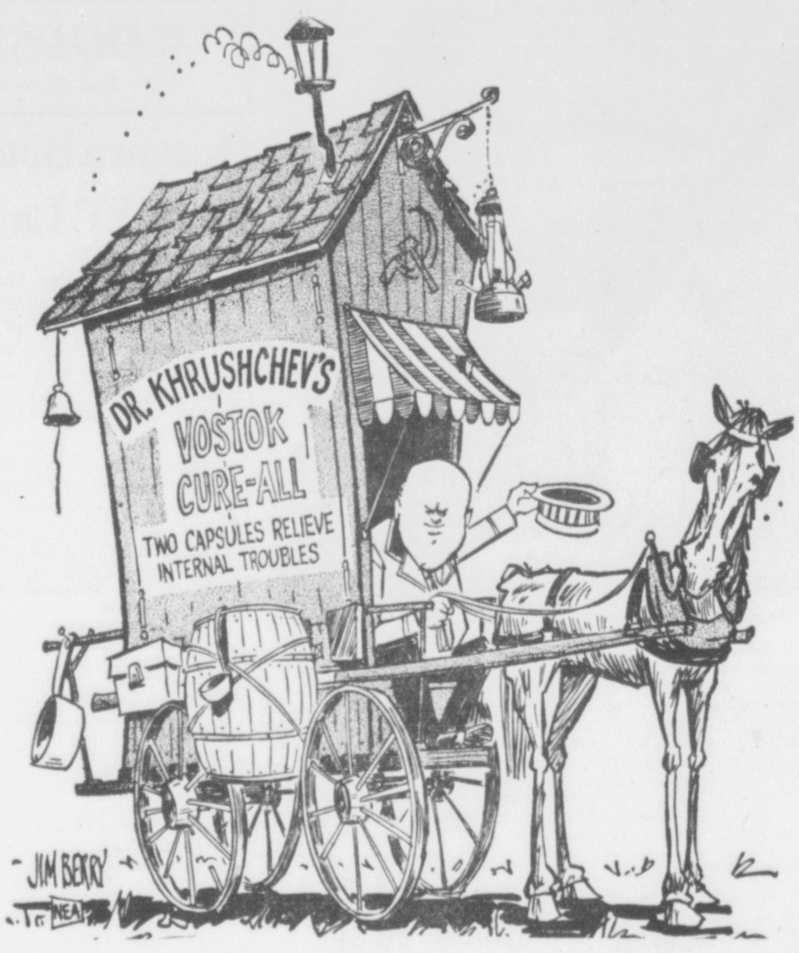
It is a disturbing fact that blood cholesterol determinations admit of wide errors. For example, prolonged application of the tourniquet before obtaining the blood sample may increase the reading by as much as 41 per cent.

Cholesterol occurs in every body cell, where it serves many important functions. "Contrary to the popular impression," says Grollman, "ingested (dietary) cholesterol is not the only source of cholesterol in the body. All body cells are capable of building cholesterol from readily available derivatives of sugars, fats and proteins (meat, cheese)."

The cholesterol deposited in hardened vessels is not necessarily derived from the cholesterol that circulates in the blood. It may have actually been synthesized by the cells of the hardened wall itself.

Variations in the amount of cholesterol in the diet do not necessarily affect the blood level of cholesterol. More than anything, the fat content of the diet affects the cholesterol level. And saturated fats will raise the level to a greater degree than unsaturated fats. So, too, will emotional stresses. Indeed, Grollman believes that emotional stress "may sometimes be more important in causing a high cholesterol level than fat intake."

In summary, Prof. Grollman concludes that while "we certainly want to encourage dietary discretion in the use of fat, and restrict fat intake in patients with high cholesterol levels, we do not need to encourage the prevailing air of panic about cholesterol. All the facts about cholesterol and atherosclerosis are not in yet. And, until they are, we probably can help our patients most by encouraging ordinary discretion."



Washington News

Washington Correspondent, Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Plans for the creation of three new railroad systems in the eastern United States are expected to develop from Interstate Commerce Commission hearings beginning Aug. 20 on the proposed merger of Pennsylvaia Railroad with New York Central System. The other two systems would unite Baltimore & Ohio with Chesapeake & Ohio, and Norfolk & Western with Wabash and Nickel Plate.

So far there has been no petition that ICC consolidate all its merger applications into one general hearing. Each proposal would have to be considered on its own merits. But the effect of one merger on other lines not in any proposed consolidation does have to be carefully weighed.

ICC HEARINGS on the Pennsy-NYC must therefore take in the whole eastern territory. The effects on connecting lines south of Washington, Cincinnati and Louisville, west of St. Louis and Chicago must also be considered, making it a national case.

There are now 42 railroads in the eastern territory. Nineteen roads are included in the three merger plans. Twenty-three are excluded and it is conceded at the start that the three big mergers might mean loss of business by the others.

Merger of Pennsy with NYC has been under study by the two roads for nearly three years and is now pretty well worked out. But even if approved promptly by ICC, the merger could not be put into full effect before the end of 1963.

AS THE Pennsylvania-New York Central Transportation Co., it would become the biggest railroad in the country, with 20,000 miles of track.

Pennsylvania's capitalization is 13 million shares of $10 par value stock, now selling at $11 and a fraction. Its indebtedness is $600 million. NYC capitalization is six million shares of $1 par value, now selling at 12 and a fraction. Its indebtedness is $900 million.

In the proposed merger, NYC stock would be converted to eight million $10 par value shares, giving the new corporation a capitalization of over $200 million.

To speak of this as a merger of two roads, however, is a misconception. The New York Central system has been built up by 500 past mergers and the Pennsylvania by 600.

NYC today owns, leases, controls or has an interest in 86 separate corporations. Over 50 are railroads, 12 are terminal companies, the others bridges, tunnels, piers, coal, real estate, apartment, hotel and miscellaneous companies, including one called Exotic Enterprises. It is 100 per cent owned by Clearfield Coal Co., which is 100 per cent owned by NYC.

The Pennsylvania corporate structure is just as complex.

FEW STOCKHOLDERS bother about all this. Only the corporation executives, lawyers and chief accountants understand it. The corporate superstructure is justifiable for legal protection or tax purposes. Every subsidiary has a profit or loss which must be absorbed by holding companies higher on the pyramid.

Some students of transportation policy have raised the point that before there can be any meaningful railroad mergers, all this traditional organization confusion should be cleared off the tracks.

This is not an issue in the Pennsy-NYC merger now up for approval. ICC considers corporate structure the railroads' own business and does not try to regulate it.

Back in 1920, after the government had run the railroads into the ground during World War I, ICC came up with a plan to merge all United States railroads into 21 economic systems. The roads would have none of it, so the idea died aborning.

If something had been done, the railroads, their employes, the shippers, the lost passengers and the government might not now be going through the present merger fever.

The current railroad urge to merge began in 1957. Since then ICC has approved 15 mergers. It has 13 other applications for class one railroad mergers pending.

CONGRESS NOW HAS before it a bill which would ban all mergers until the end of 1963, pending further study. This is supported by railway empoyes who fear loss of job security and union security. It is opposed by rail management, which says that if the roads can't merge they may go bankrupt.

As Pennsylvania board chairman James M. Symes testified before the Senate Monopoly subcommittee, "The New York, New Haven & Hartford has already gone bankrupt and others are close behind. A series of bankruptcies could very well cause nationalization of all roads."

No one in his right mind wants that.

The 'Mess in Washington': Analyzing the Real Issue

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—There certainly is a "mess in Washington" these days. It is due almost entirely to the fact that the Democratic party is split into a radical—or so-called "liberal"—faction and a conservative faction.

Actually the record of recent years shows that a Democratic-controlled Congress gets along better with a Republican President who tends to be conservative than with a Democratic President. For the radical wing of the Democratic party produces an unstable and confusing situation. Claims were made during the 1960 election campaign that, because the nation had experienced an era of "divided government," it would be better to have both the legislative and executive branches of the government in the hands of the Democrats. But this has not turned out to be a remedy either.

President Eisenhower got along with the Democratic majority in Congress because he had the help of the conservative Democratic bloc as well as the conservative Republican bloc. The bipartisan coalition which was in the majority reflected the conservative mood of the country.

Revolt Against Party

The recent filibuster in Congress was really a revolt by the radical bloc in the Democratic party against its own leadership. This group hoped to turn a hesitant President away from his natural inclination to take a more or less conservative course and to draw him closer to the radical cause. But Mr. Kennedy has had troubles with the conservative bloc, too, as on medical care.

Some aspects of the whole problem of Presidential leadership at a time like this were interestingly discussed the other day by the conservative Democrat, Sen. Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma, often referred to as one of the most powerful men in the Senate. He is a forthright individual who expresses his convictions clearly and sticks to them. He led the fight against the President's legislative proposals on medical care for the aged. Sen. Kerr was asked on an NBC program, "Meet The Press," whether he and other members of the Democratic party in Congress were "going to be dictated to from the White House." He replied:

"Why certainly we are not going to be dictated to by the White House, any more than the White House is going to be dictated to by us. No man in the Senate respects or loves the President of the United States any more than I do. And I shall act on that basis. But I love the people of Oklahoma more than I do the President of the United States."

Divergence of Interest

Mr. Kerr was also asked by Richard Wilson of the Cowles publications the following question:

"Do you feel that it is appropriate for a man who represents one state to insist upon his point of view above the point of view of a man who is elected by all the people of all the states?"

"Well," replied Senator Kerr, "if a man doesn't represent the viewpoint of his constituents, they will get rid of him and send somebody here that will. You know when this government was set up and the Constitution was written, it was written so that each state would have two Senators. And there was a great divergence of interest at the time that that Constitution was written and the first 13 states sent their representatives here. The divergence is even greater today.

Right of Petition

"But remember this, Mr. Wilson, that that divergence between all of the economic groups in this country and the sum total of their welfare is what makes up the strength, the economic progress, the position, the growth and development of this country. And certainly the Constitution said, 'no man shall be denied the right of petition to his Congress,' and that means whether he is a worker, an employer, a farmer, a trucker, a railroader, a power man, an oil man, a manufacturer, a lawyer, a doctor, or whatever his business is.

"The sum total of all of these economic interests make up the sum total of America. And the men in the Congress represent those various interests. And God grant that they always do, because if they didn't then you would have one group of Americans superior over another and then we would cease to be a democracy and lose the benefits of a representative form of government, because, to make that work, we must represent all the people in this country."

The foregoing is an accurate statement of the political theory behind Congressional representation. Its wisdom will be debated. For the American system would be paralyzed if group or organization pressures were to dominate the government. Too often the pressure groups are self-centered and are not willing to listen to argument about the over-all "public interest."

What really has happened to America is that "public interest" is often interpreted, even by a President, as synonymous with political interest. Party responsibility, which was emphasized for decades in American history, has not been fixed in recent years because of rivalry between factions within a party. A bipartisan coalition for more than 30 years now has controlled a majority in both houses of Congress. This has saved America from radicalism.

The Congressional elections in November will determine if this coalition is to be weakened, or if a so-called "liberal" or radical group is going to acquire the balance of power in Congress. If successful, this group could dictate to the White House the course of legislation and move America further toward public ownership, more deficit spending and more and more depreciation of the purchasing power of the dollar. That's the real issue behind the "mess in Washington" today.

Q—How does the interior of an Orthodox church differ from a Roman Catholic or Protestant Church?

A—There is no statuary in the church. It is considered too strong a reminder of pagan idols. Instead, there are flat pictures called icons.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

Attorney Henry Klein of Green Street who was enjoying the Ulster County Art exhibit at the Academy Green told me that Mrs. Grove Webster, who lives at the Gov. Clinton Hotel wanted to meet me. He also told me Mrs. Webster was 90 years old.

Among my friends and readers I have many who have reached or are close to 90. I wish I knew their secret. Most of them do not look 90 or act like it.

I crossed the street to say "Hello" to Bob Browning who was sitting outside the hotel and waved to me from across the street. We are old friends from radio days. Then Mr. Klein came out of the lobby with a spry, slender, lady in a red sweater and jaunty hat all bright and smiling for a nice summer's day. She never looked 90th, and she didn't look 70 either, and I told her so.

She could be in her sixties or so and ready for a long walk. I was the one who felt and looked tired. We sat on the veranda and had a nice chat. She is bright and sharp and with a good sense of humor. She told me that she will be 90 Dec. 1, in which month Dr. George Chandler, also staying at the hotel will be 90.

She wanted to talk to me about Forsyth Alley which runs from Abeel Street to West Union. She remembers Jane Forsyth had a little candy store there, next to Webster. If she said, the children mentioned Christmas or other holiday even in mid-summer Jane Forsyth would absentmindedly give them candy. Mrs. Webster also remembers and saw the boiler take off from Roach's plant on Ann Street and fly over Broadway to land in Weston's Laundry on Broadway. That happened Thursday, afternoon at 5 p. m. Dec. 14, 1905. At the time Bobby Weston and Louie Weber were in the apartment upstairs. Sam Mann of then 91 Broadway, had left half hour earlier and missed the excitement.

We spoke about the tragic trolley car accident in which her husband, Grove Webster was killed. It happened March 4, 1918 at 6:32 Monday morning, when the New York West Shore newspaper train No. 9 crashed into an uptown bound Kingston City trolley car at the Broadway crossing.

Grove Webster Jr. lived, at the time, at corner Stuyvesant and Broadway. John G. Boyd, a policeman and Wasil Kosteckie died from the tragic accident. Other passengers were: Fred W. Sudheimer, Ben Cohen, J. DeWitt, Dan Healey, Denko Meiniezuk and John Grimm.

My neighbor, Mrs. Gerald Cross told me that John Grimm, then of 7 Foxhall Avenue was her mother's father and she heard her mother speak of it at home.

Mrs. Groves was also interested in the story on the Zoller family in this column as she was formerly a Zoller. One of Mrs. Webster's sons teaches aviation in a university and the other son, Fred, is connected with the telephone company in New York. She has a grandson, Grove Webster V, who is also in aviation. So I spoke to her about the late Col. Gordon Red who had been my friend, and often talked about aviation from his World War I days. He was a good friend of the famous Brigadier General (Billy) Mitchell and had many autographed pictures from the famous aviator.

I ran across an old postal card, given to me by Tom Walsh, book collector of local interest. The colored postal card is called "Old Revolutionary Houses, Kingston, N. Y. De Wall Tavern and Hoffman House." It was printed in Germany, so I take it a half a century must have passed since this picture was taken. Much interest has been brought about since the DeWaal Tavern on North Front Street is about to be demolished so the land can be black-topped for more parking space on North Front Street.

Miller, Gordon Draw Favorite Vote Spots

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Rep. William E. Miller, the Republican national chairman, and State Sen. Janet Hill Gordon will appear in favored positions on their primary-election ballots Sept. 6.

Farmer William T. Smith, who won nationwide attention last year by driving a Cadillac he said was bought with money received from the federal government for not growing grain, also will appear on the preferred top line on the primary ballot.

The positions candidates will occupy on ballots in 10 primary contests across the state were determined Wednesday in a drawing by Secretary of State Caroline K. Simon.

The candidate whose name appears first on the ballot is considered to have an advantage over his opponent, based on the theory that undecided voters or those unfamiliar with the contestants will vote for the person named on the top line.

The drawing by Mrs. Simon involved only primary fights that embrace more than one county. Ballot positions for contests entirely within one county will be determined by county boards of election.

Miller's name will appear first on the primary ballot over that of Donald C. Chaplain of Lockport in a contest for the GOP nomination for U.S. representative for the 40th district, which includes Niagara County and part of Erie County.

Mrs. Gordon, of Norwich, won the favored position for her primary contest for the Republican nomination for representative from the 35th Congressional District. The district includes eight counties from Montgomery on the east to Ontario on the west.

Her opponent is Assemblyman Robert Quigley of Phelps.

Smith, of Big Flats, is seeking the Republican nomination to the State Senate from the 49th District, comprising Chemung and Steuben counties. His opponent on the second line of the ballot will be Harold A. Jerry Jr., the incumbent.

Smith is bidding for the conservative vote in the district.

The results of some of the other drawings:

Harrop A. Freeman of Ithaca, first, and Theodore W. Maurer of Binghamton, second, in the contest for the Democratic nomination for Congress in the 33rd District, comprising Broome, Tioga, Chemung and Tompkins counties.

Mariano A. Lucca of Buffalo, first, and E. Dent Lackey of Niagara Falls, second, on the primary ballot for the Democratic nomination for representative in the 40th District.

William E. Jess, first, incumbent Walter Van Wiggeren of Ilion, second, and Donald J. Reile of Herkimer, third, Republican nomination for the State Senate, 41st District, made up of Montgomery, Herkimer, Hamilton, and Fulton counties.

Leighton A. Hope of Cortland, first, Wheeler Milmoe of Canastota, second, and Glenn R. Alexander of Cortland, third, Republican nomination for the State Senate in the 46th District, comprising Madison, Otsego, Chenango and Cortland counties.

Alexander Koste of Corning, first, and Joseph E. Hayes, also of Corning, second, Democratic nomination, State Senate, 49th district.

Jay Mullen of Wellsville, first, Eugene T. Forhan of Wellsville, second, Barber B. Conable Jr. of Alexander, third, and James E. Emery of Lakeville, fourth, GOP nomination, State Senate, 53rd district, Livingston, Allegany, Wyoming, Genesee and Orleans counties.

The Republican fight in the 53rd District is for the nomination to succeed Sen. Austin W. Erwin, who is retiring. Mrs. Gordon now represents the 46th District.

Orange Man Is Indicted for 70 Amateurish Bills

NEW YORK (AP) — A handyman from Pine Bush, Orange County, has been charged with possessing 70 counterfeit $20 bills —bills which government agents called "the most atrociously amateur samples of counterfeiting" seen in years.

Perry Allen Heath, 28, was indicted Wednesday by a federal grand jury. He was held in $5,000 bail.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Martin R. Gold said that, despite the "play money" appearance of the bogus bills, Heath managed to palm one off on a Pine Bush grocer.

"It must have been a dark night, or the grocer was very busy at the time," Gold added.

Gold said the bills, made of inferior paper, contained no government seals or serial numbers, and that Heath stamped numbers on them with a round piece of ink-stained wood and an ordinary date stamper.

Heath was arrested at his home Aug. 6 by Secret Service agents, who said they found bogus bills in his pockets.

U.S. Atty. Robert M. Morgenthau said Heath got the counterfeit bills from another man in Richlands, N.C., while on a visit to his parents there earlier this year.

Air Hero, Family Reunited After Gaining Freedom

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Allan Lawrence Pope, a 33-year-old American flier, has been whisked secretly from an Indonesian prison where he was under death sentence to a "wonderful reunion" of six weeks with his wife and two sons in the United States.

Pope was reported in New York on personal business but he was not available to newsmen.

Secret Release July 2

His wife, Yvonne, said Wednesday night at her parents' home in Akron her husband is in good health and "everything has turned out fine for us."

Until his secret release July 2 as part of a general political amnesty by the Indonesian government, the situation was far from rosy for the former Air Force pilot who had won the Distinguished Flying Cross for bravery in Korea.

In April 1960, an Indonesian military court found him guilty of killing 17 members of the Indonesian armed forces in bombing and strafing missions. He was accused of carrying arms and ammunition for rebel forces during an unsuccessful 1958 uprising.

Pope said at his court-martial he had flown one attack mission for the rebels in his World War II-type B26 bomber, but claimed he didn't kill anyone. He denied charges he was to blame for most of the rebel air raids on ships, ports and airfields in eastern Indonesia or that he received $10,000 a mission from the rebels.

The American flier said he joined the rebels without pay. He wanted to fight communism, Pope asserted, and was told the Communists controlled the government of President Sukarno.

Pope was sentenced to death April 29, 1960. His petition for clemency was denied and all prior appeals for his release were fruitless.

The State Department disclosed news of Pope's release Wednesday night and said he has asked the amnesty and his return to the United States be kept secret. He wanted to rejoin his family and rest and relax without fanfare.

"It's been a wonderful experience being reunited with my husband for the past six weeks," Mrs. Pope said. "The boys, Stephen, 6, and Lawrence, 5, hadn't seen their father for four years. I met him when he flew back to this country and we've spent the time since at a hideaway at a friend's place."

Mrs. Pope said they probably will return to their former home in Homestead, Fla.

Pope flew for the French in the Indochina war in an airlift attempt to break the Communist siege of Dien Bien Phu, and for Civil Air Transport of Nationalist China, the line founded by the late U.S. Gen. Claire L. Chenault.

Appeal Likely By Jewish School In Bus Action

VESTAL, N.Y. (AP) — A new Jewish elementary school here appeared likely today to appeal a school district's decision against providing funds to transport a pupil to school.

The appeal would go to the State Education Department.

Common School District 15, which has no schools of its own, has been transporting pupils to public and Roman Catholic schools in nearby Binghamton.

But the voters rejected, by a vote of 29-22 Tuesday night a request from Hillel Academy for $500 to transport a pupil from his home in the district to the academy, which is outside the district but less than ten miles from the pupil's home.

A major factor in the vote was an increase from $30,000 to $65,000 in the tuition the district must pay for its pupils in Binghamton schools in the coming school year. The tuition increase has more than doubled the school district's tax rate.

The academy, sponsored by Jews in the Binghamton-Endicott-Johnson City area, will open next month with an enrollment of 15 pupils in kindergarten and first grade. It is the first Jewish school in the area.

Rabbi Maurice Weisenberg of Temple Beth El in Endicott indicated the school district's decision would be appealed.

A spokesman for the education department said the Vestal dispute had not yet come to the department's attention.

Fine food, magnificently cooked, immediately brings to mind the French cuisine. But the French learned much of their cooking art from the Italians. Catherine de Medici, in the 16th century, imported Italian cooks to teach the French refinements in cookery.

Although he recently turned two, Prince Andrew already has the look of royalty. There were less solemn moments during the Royal Family's vacation at Windsor Castle.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—One of the semi-secrets of this busy entertainment factory, in which almost every worker has a corporation of his very own, is the fact that "Wide Country," NBC's new action series, is a Ralph Edwards production.

No Tear Jerker

Edwards' shows, including the long-running "This is Your Life," are highly regarded in the industry. But after long years of Edwards' tugging at the nation's heartstrings with surprise confrontations between famous personalities and their long-lost first-grade teachers and presiding over tear-drenched family reunions, NBC apparently doesn't want to confuse the images. "Wide Country" is, all concerned fondly hope, a dramatic program, not a real-life tear jerker.

Edwards became the unlikely producer of the series about a rodeo rider as a result of a corporate marriage of convenience: he had an hour of NBC time sewed up while another show packager had an acceptable series to fill it. They got together.

Earl Holliman, a tall, blond young man who lost his native Louisiana accent somewhere between Oil City High School and the Pasadena Playhouse, gets his second star launching "Wide Country." His first was in "Hotel de Paree," a western that petered out after one season. He thinks the new assignment has a better chance—partly because it was spun off "The Rope Dancers," one of the better Fred Astaire Anthology shows last season, and because it isn't a western.

Holliman, however, will be wearing levis, cowboy boots and a 10-gallon hat.

More Like '66'

"But I'm a rodeo rider, following the circuit," he explained. "I went out and spent some time with these fellows and they live exciting, hard lives and are really, I suppose, the last vestiges of the Old West left. They are really people living out of their time."

"Wide Country" will be more like "Route 66" than "Gunsmoke," insists Holliman, because modern rodeos are held the length and breadth of the nation. The professional riders follow them in station wagons.

In the story Holliman will compete in bronco riding, steer wrestling and other rodeo events. His bitterest rival this year will be one "Stoney Burke," hero of another series—on ABC—about a rodeo rider.

Gardiner Town Supervisor Is Guest Speaker

The regular monthly meeting of the Rosendale Democratic Club Inc. was held at the club rooms Monday night. The meeting was largely attended. The speaker at the meeting was Supervisor George Majestic of the Town of Gardiner who is also a candidate for the assembly.

Supervisor Majestic spoke on his platform saying he was in favor of helping the New York State dairymen, utilizing water ways, suggested dams at Wallkill and Rondout Creek for swimming, boating and fishing which would be good for recreation purposes. The Democratic Club of Rosendale went on record at this meeting by adopting a resolution unanimously in favor of help to the dairy farmer.

The resolution was submitted by Supervisor Majestic to the club.

President Mastro annouced the annual Democratic Association dinner will be held Sunday Aug. 26th at the Capri. Tickets may be obtained from President Mastro.

It was also announced that school for Justices of the Peace will be held after Labor Day for anyone interested in this office. More details of the school will be given at the next meeting. The annual dinner for the club will be held Saturday, Sept. 29 at the Alpine. Tickets for the dinner may be obtained from any of the following: Vincent Steeley, Wilfred Doolittle, Mrs. Margaret Taylor, Peter Costa, President Mastro or any member.

The cake sale committee reported that the sale was a great success. The next meeting of the club will be held Monday Sept. 17.

Republican Picnic

The Rosendale Republican Club will hold a picnic at Fiedler's Mountain View House in Rosendale on Tuesday Aug. 28 at 6:30 p. m. This will be the August meeting of the club. Members are asked to bring their own food. Coffee and dessert will be furnished. The outdoor grill will be available for preparing hot dogs and hamburgers. All members are asked to attend.

Copter Lands Safely

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP)—A helicopter with a pilot and two passengers aboard came down safely in a forced landing Wednesday after developing engine trouble.

Pilot Douglas Green of the Niagara Helicopter Service said the craft had been in the air a few minutes when oil began spewing from the motor. Green put it down in an open field.

Neither Green, nor his two passengers were reported injured.

Out of the Frying Pan

SAN ANDREAS, Calif. (AP)—Anne James found 11 quail eggs on a recent rock-hunting expedition and brought them back to her home in this Mother Lode town.

She put the eggs in a moist cloth and placed them in an electric frying pan turned down to its lowest temperature. For the next seven days, she carefully turned the eggs.

It wasn't a new recipe. The eggs eventually hatched and Anne was the unofficial mother of a flock of live and healthy baby quail.

Salad garnish: mold soft cheddar cheese around pitted olives and roll in finely chopped nuts.

Wide Alarm Out For 2 in Holdup

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—An 18-state alarm was out today for two men who held up a bank on Buffalo's East side and escaped with $7,000.

The bandits, both Negroes, robbed the Liberty Bank's branch office. One used a shotgun to herd bank personnel and customers against a wall while his companion scooped cash from tellers' trays.

They fled in a car as police threw a cordon of squad cars and foot patrolmen into the area to seal off main thoroughfares.

Dissin Appointed

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Benjamin Dissin of the Bronx, has been appointed assistant director of Workmen's Compensation Board Operations effective Aug. 23, 1962, by Colonel E. E. Senior, board chairman. Dissin assumes this post after 27 years of service with the State Insurance Fund, disrupted only by a period of service with the Armed Forces.

Appointed Senior Engineer in IBM Systems Design

DONALD J. SKELLY

The appointment of Donald J. Skelly of Saugerties as a senior engineer in systems design has been announced by Bruce G. Oldfield, manager of the IBM Command Control Center at Kingston.

Skelly joined IBM in late 1954 as a technical engineer in maintenance programming at Poughkeepsie. He was later transferred to Kingston in a similar capacity and named a methods programmer in June, 1956. Six months later he was named a project engineer and in November, 1958 a development engineer in maintenance programming. In September, 1960, he was selected as a participant in the IBM advanced study program and received a master of science degree in electrical engineering from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in June, 1961. He was named detection systems manager, advanced systems at Kingston in July, 1961, and in early 1962 was transferred to systems design in a similar capacity, a post he has held until his present appointment.

Skelly is a member of the Institute of Radio Engineers and Tau Beta Pi and Eta Kappa Nu honorary societies. He received a bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute.

Skelly, his wife Marilyn and children, Donald, 6, Joseph, 5, Robert, 3, and Thomas, 1, reside at 18 Village Drive, Saugerties.

Sets Sweet Corn Meeting Aug. 28

A Hudson Valley sweet corn variety trial meeting will be held at the Davenport Farms, located on the Hurley Mountain-Lomontville Road, off Route 209, Tuesday, Aug. 28, at 7 p. m.

This meeting will give an opportunity to see main season sweet corn varieties and to talk with some of the suppliers and breeders of these sweet corn varieties.

William H. Palmer, Ulster County Agricultural Agent, reports that there will be replicated plots of Iobelle, Gold Cup, Golden Security, Sure Crop Seneca Wamoum and Seneca Wamoum 61 (white silk). There will also be 27 other varieties to be seen, some of which look very good.

There will be a discussion of corn insects in 1962 and a late planting of sweet corn, June 18, for Helminthosporium study will be seen. Eating corn will be provided for all attending.

Po'keepsie Sells Notes

Notes aggregating $2,750,000 for the temporary financing up to date of Poughkeepsie's new waterworks plant, have been sold, according to the city's finance commissioner Aubrey E. Coons.

The commissioner has informed the Common Council that $100,000 of the notes falling due June 1 had been paid off. Coons recently sold a $750,000 water plant note to the Midland Marine National Bank of Southeastern New York, Poughkeepsie. The interest rate was 1.70 per cent.

Rochester Town Site Included in State Land Bond

An 87-acre tract in the Town of Rochester is among 29 additional purchase agreements signed by the State Conservation Department covering 2,883 acres of non-park recreation lands under New York's $75 million park and recreation land acquisition bond act program, it was announced today.

The land in the Town of Rochester will be added to the Catskill Forest Preserve on the east side of Verncoy Creek.

Dutchess Land Included

Another agreement includes purchase of 59 acres in the Town of Pleasant Valley, Dutchess County for multiple use. Three agreements cover important acquisition in the development of the first state forest in Dutchess County which will provide public recreation land about 70 miles from New York City. In two other agreements in Dutchess County, a 21-acre tract in the Town of LaGrange will also be for multiple use. A small stream crossing one of the parcels can be developed into small pond sites for the establishment of day-use areas.

Current acquisitions which total $315,944 push the "non park" phase of the program past the one-third mark with $5,194,653 spent for 100,841 acres. Under the bond act program $15-million is earmarked for lands in the "other-than-parks" category.

For Narrows Uses

According to Charles W. Mattison, land acquisition consultant, current agreements are for forest preserve, wetlands, fishing rights and multiple use areas. Included are public campsites at Lincoln Pond near Elizabethtown and Crystal Lake near Freemont in the Catskills.

Signed purchase agreements are forwarded to the State Law Department for title searches and closing, and then to the Department of Audit and Control for approval of payment at which time the state takes title to the land. Most agreements are cleared within six to eight months.

Highway Use Tax Due August 31 OwnersReminded

Owners of trucks and buses were reminded today by local District Director James A. O'Hara that the Federal highway use tax is due on Aug. 31.

Revenues collected go into a highway trust fund, created by Congress, to help finance the government's interstate highway building program.

In addition to the Federal highway use tax which affects truck and bus owners, revenues from taxes on motor fuels, tires, inner tubes, retread rubber and other items are being funneled into the highway fund.

Highway use taxes on trucks and buses range from $81 to $180 annually for each vehicle subject to the tax. All trucks operating on public highways are subject to this tax if they meet certain unloaded weight and axle specifications and are registered by state law.

Federal tax return Form 2290, necessary for filing, contains a listing of the specific tax to be paid on trucks according to the month the vehicle was put into operation. Form 2290 also describes the tax to be paid by bus owners.

For buses, the tax is based on unloaded weight of the bus, plus 150 pounds for each unit of seating capacity. This applies primarily to operators of intercity buses. Local transit systems are exempt from the tax under certain conditions. Details and information are available at the Internal Revenue District Office.

Tax Forms 2290 were mailed in June to those who filed highway tax returns last year. Copies of this form, as well as a helpful booklet on the tax, Publication 349, can be obtained from the Internal Revenue District Office and from state motor bureau agencies.

Tax returns for the year beginning July 1, 1962, must be filed by Aug. 31, for every taxable vehicle in highway use in July of this year. The tax may be paid in quarterly installments. Dates for these installments are Aug. 31, Dec. 31, Mar. 31 and June 30.

Truck and bus owners should also remember that vehicles acquired after they have filed their 1962 return are subject to the highway use tax this year. In these cases, a tax return (Form 2290) must be filed by the last day of the month following the month a truck is put into highway use.

Revenue collected from the highway use tax totaled $46.8 million in 1961 and $37.7 million in 1960. Increased enforcement efforts are planned to get fuller compliance with this tax law from truckers and bus operators.

The highway trust fund in 1961, counting proceeds from all of its revenue sources, received a total of $2.8 billion. The largest contributor to this fund were motor fuel taxes, which accounted for $2.3 billion. Annual accumulations in the highway trust fund since it was created in 1957 total $11 billion. The amount contributed by the highway use tax during this period was $177 million.

Alarming Sight

MEAFORD, Ont. (AP) — A small raccoon wandering into this Owen Sound district community caused a lot of excitement. One woman reported the animal was covered in blood.

A policeman investigated and found an irate painter who said the raccoon had knocked over a can of red paint.

Youth Day Set For August 31 At Columbia Fair

CHATHAM — Conceivably there could be a quarter-of-a-million boys and girls of school age at the 122nd Columbia County Fair's Youth Day at Chatham, August 31.

"To be sure," observed Philip D. Mickle, Fair president "if that many show up, facilities of our 31-acre fairgrounds will be taxed somewhat beyond capacity and the 16 Fair Managers will likely have problems that they haven't even thought of up to now. But that many tickets have been made available for distribution for our Fair's special day for school kids."

The ducats appear in some 500 grocery and speciality stores, in special red, white and blue counter cards. Also they will be included with six-pack cartons of one of the more popular sodas. This distribution will be made, on a saturation basis in six counties: Albany, Rensselaer, Greene, Columbia, Dutchess and Berkshire.

Attractions at the Fair on Youth Day have been planned with particular interests of young people in mind. Along with the regular entertainment, which is free, rides will operate at reduced prices, throughout the afternoon; there will be pet shows with generous cash prizes for the winners; there will be the annual 4-H Fashion Parade, opening the evening program.

Charge Dismissed

A third degree assault charge against Louis Black, 25, of 169 Hasbrouck Avenue, was dismissed in city court today. The charge was lodged Aug. 8 by his wife Joyce, police said.

Senate Moves to Early Passage of Drug Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate moved today toward prompt passage of a drug bill given a new push by President Kennedy.

The bill, designed to strengthen safeguards against the sale of dangerous or ineffective drugs, was listed by Kennedy Wednesday as one of "five particularly important measures" on which Congress will be acting shortly.

To Limit Debate

Others he referred to at his news conference were the farm bill, a constitutional amendment to outlaw the poll tax in federal elections, the trade expansion bill and the U.N. bond issue bill.

Shortly after the drug bill was called up in the Senate late Wednesday, quick agreement was reached on a limitation of debate that should bring a final vote before the end of today's session.

The bill, as first approved by the Senate Judiciary Committee last month, fell short of what Kennedy asked. Since then, in the wake of the furor over the sedative thalidomide, the committee has approved strengthening amendments.

The legislation was introduced more than a year ago by Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., chairman of the Senate Antitrust subcommittee, after a lengthy investigation of the prescription drug industry.

Stripped from the bill by the Judiciary Committee were antitrust provisions Kefauver contends are necessary to substantially reduce what he calls exorbitant drug prices.

Kefauver failed to win administration backing for these provisions, but he has re-offered them in modified form.

His key amendment provides for compulsory licensing of prescription drug patents after three years when the price to the pharmacist represents a mark-up of 500 per cent or more over the factory cost. Licensees would have to pay royalties of 8 per cent on sales.

In the safety area, Kefauver has an amendment giving the government authority to require the testing of new drugs on animals before they are used in clinical testing on humans.

Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., had ready for introduction today a measure which would outlaw the sale and distribution of sleeping pills and pep pills by all except drug companies, hospitals, clinics, public health agencies, doctors and pharmacists. It would establish strict accounting and reporting procedures.

Mystery Satellite Fired in West Coast

POINT ARGUELLO, Calif. (AP) —An unidentified satellite was launched from here in predawn darkness today atop a Blue Scout rocket, the Air Force reported.

A spokesman declined to say what type of satellite it was or whether the launch was successful in putting the satellite into orbit.

Electricians Are Ordered to Work At Space Center

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP) — A federal judge, saying even seconds are important in this nuclear age, ordered striking electricians to resume work today at Redstone Arsenal's Space Research Center.

The National Labor Relations Board had a team of investigators on the scene to see if the judge's order was obeyed.

Idled Nine Days

Construction work on space projects—including the C5 Saturn booster for the United States' planned moonshot—has been idled nine days by the electricians' strike.

U.S. Dist. Judge Clarence W. Allgood gave union leaders a stern lecture Wednesday, telling them to get their men back on the job. The union president, Gordon Freeman, issued a back-to-work order earlier in the day.

Jerome Cooper, lawyer for the union, said after Allgood's order: "We've told them they are free to go to work. Now we will tell them in another way." He did not elaborate.

James Haygood, business agent for Local 558 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, AFL-CIO, said he thought "maybe a few" men might go back to work. He said instructions would be given at a meeting at a union hall in line with the court's directive.

Few Might Return

Allgood made permanent an earlier temporary restraining order prohibiting picketing and ordering the union to "instruct its members to return to work."

He agreed with a National Labor Relations Board attorney, Jules Serot, that telling members they were "free to return to work" was not sufficient.

A spokesman at the Marshall Space Flight Center said about 70 per cent of the construction worker were back on the job Wednesday.

But absence of electricians is holding up vital wiring necessary for construction work, he said.

The electricians posted pickets Aug. 14 in opposition to the employment of non-union workers by Baroco Electrical Construction Co. More than 1,200 members of other building trades unions honored the picket lines. Some returned to work after Allgood's temporary order Friday night.

JFK Lauds

atomic subs have been exploring and mapping the ocean floor of the area since 1958, they have worked singly and purely on exploration and crew training missions.

But on July 31, the Skate, coming up from the Atlantic and the Seadragon from the Pacific, received radioed orders to start hunting each other.

Navy sources said this was a realistic operation, with each submarine using all its equipment and technique for evasion and search—a duel between submarines such as would occur in actual arctic engagement.

Paltz Resident Named

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP) — The National Student Traffic Safety Conference elected Michael Manley of Worthington, Ohio, president at its final business session Wednesday at Bowling Green State University.

Those elected to the 12-member board of directors included David Lihn of Syracuse, N.Y., and James Lynch of New Paltz, N.Y.

Mayor Says

granted the City well over $200,000 to plan these urban renewal project, requires strict adherance to a definite timetable of activities, and checks our progress at regular intervals.

Only a few weeks ago the area HHFA coordinator toured downtown, checked activity reports and said the survey and plannig stage of Broadway East is moving on the schedule fixed in January. This, he said followed a visit from St. Claire Bourne, state housing official, who complimented the city for the fine spirit of cooperation shown by officials and citizens.

Cites City Project

The mayor emphasized that the uptown parking lot project is not part of urban renewal. "These lots," he said, "are a city project, and are being financed by the city as our local contribution to the revitalization of our major business and financial district."

The connection between the parking lots and urban renewal, he explained, is that the lots will produce approximately $3,500,000 in matching federal and state funds for rehabilitation of the uptown district when urban renewal reaches the execution stage there."

Difference

Graphite, which is used in "lead" pencils, is one of the world's softest minerals and the diamond is the hardest, yet both are pure carbon. Their vast difference is due to the different arrangement of the carbon atoms.

Nicholas Huber, 47-Year Employe Of Freeman, Dies

Nicholas T. Huber, 63, of 110 Newkirk Avenue, a long time employe of The Freeman Publishing Company, died Wednesday in this city.

Mr. Huber, a native of Kingston, started with The Freeman in 1915 as an office boy, later becoming a linotype operator. In 1946 he was employed by Western Printing and Lithographing Company of Poughkeepsie. Later the same year he rejoined The Freeman as a linotype operator. Mr. Huber was a member of the International Typographical Union, Local 322, the Freeman Social and the Freeman 20-Year Club.

Was Baseball Star

During the 1920's, Mr. Huber was very active in local semi-pro baseball. He was a pitcher with the Freeman team in the Industrial League and later pitched for the Blue Sox of Rondout in the City League. He also played with the Kelly All Stars, Guldy All Stars and the Shanley Hotel Nine of Napanoch.

Also active at one time in Kingston bowling circles, Mr. Huber played with the St. Peter's League and the Freeman team in the Mercantile League.

Holy Name Officer

He was a member of St. Peter's Church and its Holy Name Society having served as president and vice president of the society. He was also a member of the Kingston Power Boat Association Inc. and Rapid Hose Fire Company No. 1.

Surviving are a daughter, Mary Anne, wife of Alfred P. Wood of Kingston; six sisters, Mrs. Joseph F. Brown of Torrington, Conn., Mrs. Richard Hinkley, Mrs. Augustus J. Winter, Miss Elizabeth M. Huber and Mrs. Kenneth Geary, all of Kingston, Mrs. Joseph N. Gehringer of Bogota, N. J.; two brothers, Felix M. Huber of Irvington, N. J., and Joseph W. Huber of Kingston. Also surviving are two grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

His wife, the former Mary Wojdan, died July 4, 1960. He was the son of the late Nicholas A. and Elizabeth Reis Huber.

Funeral will be held from the Henry J. Bruck Funeral Home, 27 Smith Avenue, Saturday, 9 a. m., thence to St. Peter's Church where a high Mass of requiem will be offered for the repose of his soul at 9:30 a. m. Burial will be in St. Peter's Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home at any time.

Confirms State Probe of Possible Padding Jobs

NEW YORK (AP)—An assistant state attorney general has confirmed the existence of a statewide investigation into possible padding on public construction jobs, it was reported today.

The Long Island Press said investigators are looking into an assortment of unspecified charges involving road building, housing construction and maintenance, and even the cost of guarding excavation sites.

The newspaper said it obtained confirmation of the probe from Asst. Atty. Gen. Allan M. Smiley, who The Press said is directing the investigation.

"The entire investigation may take years," Smiley told The Press. "It involves public construction throughout the whole state, but it would be premature to elaborate at this time."

16 Dead, 200 Hurt Toll in Italian Quakes

NAPLES, Italy (AP) — Thousands of homeless Italians huddled in open rain-soaked encampments today in an earthquake belt which stretched 150 miles from Naples eastward to the Adriatic.

Rain fell for hours Wednesday night, adding to the misery of the homeless survivors of Tuesday's quakes which killed 16 persons and injured 200.

The Italian cabinet in Rome ordered expenditure of $3.84 million in immediate and long-term assistance for the stricken area.

Only mild tremors were felt at Ravello, the vacation site of Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, about 45 miles from the quake's epicenter.

Kingston Men

in Troy were to charges dealing with outraging public decency by dumping the body and refusing to obtain medical aid for Rush.

Troy police, said the Associated Press, dropped a robbery charge against Harvey ,and said Rush had been robbed outside the city. State police took over that phase of the investigation.

Authorities claim that Harvey, who was arrested first, had told them that he and Sauer dragged the body of Rush from an automobile into the lot.

Says Victim 'Passed Out'

Police said a friend of Rush had seen him, in Albany, enter the Kingston man's car and had noted the license number. The Kingston man had asked Rush, they said, where there was "some action."

Rush "passed out" in the car, police were told, and the defendants did not think he was dead when left in the parking lot.

The cause of Rush's death, was not determined by an autopsy, and laboratory tests were ordered.

Rush was said to have been on vacation, and was reported to have told a bartender that he had $50. No money was found on the body.

Met Early Tuesday

Troy police claim Harvey had told them that he and his companion had met Rush on an Albany Street at about 3 a. m. Tuesday. One report said Rush was last seen at the Bottoms Up Grill, 368 Madison Avenue, Albany. His body was reported found less than three hours later. Police said there was no wallet or identification papers, but keys were found. He was identified through fingerprints.

Authorities said their investigation revealed that Rush had a history of heart ailment. An attendant at the Albany Veterans Administration Hospital, he had drawn $133 pay last week, and on Monday began a vacation of two weeks, hospital authorities said.

Police claim information from witnesses who said they saw a car stop and two men drag a body to the edge of the parking lot, and then drive away. Police claim an unknown sum of money was reported taken from Rush's wallet.

Will Pour

stand the desire of some witnesses" to limit the investigation by charging it is an attack on former President Eisenhower, but I think the Congress ought to do its job."

Kennedy spoke of former Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey as a responsible official of the company. Humphrey has contended the inquiry is an attempt to slap at Eisenhower through himself.

Cites Other Cases

Other cases are coming up, Kennedy said, and they involve large profits by a good many people.

The session with reporters got under way with news from Kennedy that the U.S. nuclear submarines Skate and Seadragon one from the Atlantic Fleet and one from the Pacific, had met under the Arctic ice cap and had surfaced together through a hole at the North Pole. Kennedy called it "an historic rendezvous," and "exceptional technical feat," and congratulated all involved.

From there he went into a bid for Congress to hurry along approval of a farm bill, one to tighten drug laws, a constitutional amendment to outlaw poll taxes as a voting requirement in federal elections, his foreign trade bill without restrictive amendments, and a $100 million loan to the United Nations.

This was the right season to bring up political questions. And Kennedy said he will be putting in some time campaigning in late September and October. He described as useful a "nonpolitical trip"—he said it with straight face —to the West Coast last weekend and said a similar trip to such urban centers as Chicago, Cleveland and Philadelphia, to deal with urban problems, is under consideration.

Reports on Judgeship

Two questions involved Negroes. The President said he definitely feels that more than two of 97 U.S. ambassadors should be Negroes. And he said that Senate action on the nomination of Negro leader Thurgood Marshall to a federal circuit court judgeship "has been much too much delayed." He added that he has assurances the Senate will approve it before Congress adjourns.

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP) — Bob Marshall of Palmetto teed off on the 325-yard 10th hole on the Palmetto Pines Golf Course and scored a hole in one recently.

The ball hit a tree about 140 yards out, bounced to the left and rolled 100 yards into the cup on the 14th green.

Wallace's Store Opens With Crowd At Ulster Plaza

The rapidly growing Town of Ulster welcomed a new store today which Supervisor Alexander J. Banyo called "one of the most beautiful business establishments in the State of New York."

Forbes & Wallace Corporation, founded in 1874, opened its modern building in Ulster Shopping Plaza on Albany Avenue Extension, following a get-acquainted breakfast at Skytop Restaurant on Route 28 attended by more than 150 people.

Supervisor Banyo cut a ribbon stretched across the main entrance with a pair of gold-plated scissors and a throng of people entered that crowded all the departments. The spacious parking lot was filled with cars. Closing time today is 9 p. m.

Officials Present

Andrew B. Wallace, president of the corporation, greeted the breakast gathering comprised of business and civic leaders of the Town of Ulster, the City of Kingston, and surrounding area, and from Poughkeepsie, where the firm has had a store for a number of years.

Also present were representatives of the press, radio, bankers, key personnel from Wallace's and members of the board of directors.

"We thank you for this display of interest in the Wallace store," said the president of the firm, and "thank you for accepting our invitation to be at this breakfast."

Interested in Community

A. B. Wallace stressed in his talk that "We are anxious to participate in the affairs of the community, and encourage our personnel to help with activities and problems, if they can be of service in any way.

"We feel that by doing this our store becomes a great er store."

Mr. Wallace pointed out that "a large force has been busy throughout the night to have our new store in its best plumage for the opening which we hope all of you and many more will attend."

Success Indicated

Prior to selecting the Ulster Shopping Plaza as a locale, a number of surveys were made concerning the economy of the area and its buying potential, the Wallace president said. "All indications were for a chance of success, if we put our shoulders to the wheel." he added.

Meeting the opening date today was a lot of work and toil, he said, when August 23 was established as the time 18 months ago. "It is a thrill to be able to greet you and open the doors of the store."

The most modern in fixtures, facilities and other conveniences were the aim of planners and Wallace's Kingston store is the latest in every respect, it was stressed.

Easier for Shoppers

Zonal desks are features of the store to make it easier and speedier for shoppers who desire to make their purchases and leave, or, if they want to inquire about merchandise before buying it saves time.

"This innovation, however, does not eliminate any of the courtesies a good department store wishes to give to its customers," Mr. Wallace said. "Shoppers who like to brouse are welcome, and we nope the public will accept our store."

Supervisor Banyo said that the Town of Ulster "is proud and thrilled with today's accomplishment. The Wallace store is one of the most beautiful business establishments in New York State. All of us are proud to welcome it to the Town of Ulster. Its opening is one of the greatest we ever had and we know it will be part of a great growing town."

Among those at the head the head table with A. B. Wallace and Supervisor Banyo were George Bullin, treastrer of the corporation; Thomas M. McGrath, manager of the Poughkeepsie and Kingston stores, Laurence B. Wallace executive vice president; Charles Turner, who will be in charge of the local store, and Reed Barrows Jr., executive assistant to the vice president.

Forbes and Wallace was founded in 1874 by two Scotsmen, Alexander Forbes and Andrew Brabner Wallace in Springfield, Mass. After the death of his partner in 1896, Mr. Wallace continued to be active in the firm until he died in 1923, the year of the store's 50th anniversary.

B47 Goes Down In Idaho; Fate Of 3 Unknown

SMITH'S FERRY, Idaho (AP) —A B47 bomber crashed and burned this morning in the rugged Boise National Forest.

A spokesman for Mountain Home Air Force Base said the fate of the three-man crew was not known.

The spokesman said the plane was from Davis Mountain Air Force Base in Tucson, Ariz. It was reported on a routine training mission.

The information office at Mountain Home AFB identified the crew members as Lt. Col. Raymond N. McDonald, 40, El Dorado, Tek., the commander; Capt. William C. Lebbs, 30, Omaha, Neb., the co-pilot; and Maj. Glen A. McClure, 38, Waverly, Iowa, the navigator.

Air Force investigators said they could not say definitely that none had survived. The fire and darkness made the search for the bodies difficult.

The crash scene is in southwestern Idaho.

Says Pennsy-NYC Merger Will Help Gain Customers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Merger of the Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads "will increase our share of the total transportation pie" at the expense of truckers, waterways and airlines, the Pennsylvania's board chairman says.

James W. Symes said Wednesday the proposed Pennsylvania New York Central Transportation Co. would go after business lost by the railroads to other carriers.

"It's been taken away from us and I hope we get some of it back from the other modes — trucks, waterways and airways," he told two Interstate Commerce Commission examiners.

Other railroad mergers haven't been able to win back much of this business because they involved lines extending service into new areas, Symes said.

But the Pennsylvania and the Central, he said, serve essentially the same area—from New York to the Great lakes, the midwest and St. Louis.

This means a merger of the two lines into the nation's biggest rail system would eliminate duplicate facilities, save up to $75 million a year and provide faster, cheaper service, Symes said.

He said the merger would mean more stable employment for the men who work on the railroads. He said the consolidated company would launch job-creating construction and improvement projects which the separate lines cannot afford.

Teachers Elect Megel to New Two-Year Term

By FELIX B. WOLD

DETROIT (AP)—Carl J. Megel, veteran schoolteacher-unionist, is president of the American Federation of Teachers (AFL-CIO) for another two years.

The Chicagoan, AFT president for 10 years, won reelection Wednesday night over rank and filer Dr. Myron Lieberman at the schoolteacher union convention.

Megel, 52, a leader in school unionism for a quarter century, said his 1,034 to 554 triumph supported his policies in guiding the 70,000-member organization of unionized public school teachers.

Lieberman, 43, a summer school faculty member of the University of Illinois and consultant to educational publications, had said he could do better than Megel in bringing new members into the union.

Megel, a huge man with the frame of a steelworker, is known for bitter battles with the National Education Association, also a schoolpeople's organization.

The much bitter and older NEA differs sharply with the AFT over policy. The AFT, a labor union in design and manner of operation, insists the teacher has a right to strike. The NEA opposes this.

Charles Cogen, leader of New York City's schoolteachers' strike last spring, called today for public acceptance of unionism among teachers.

Cogen, president of the New York City United Federation of Teachers, made the plea in a prepared report to the parent AFT on the strike.

Says Baratta Has Aspirations for Judiciary Post

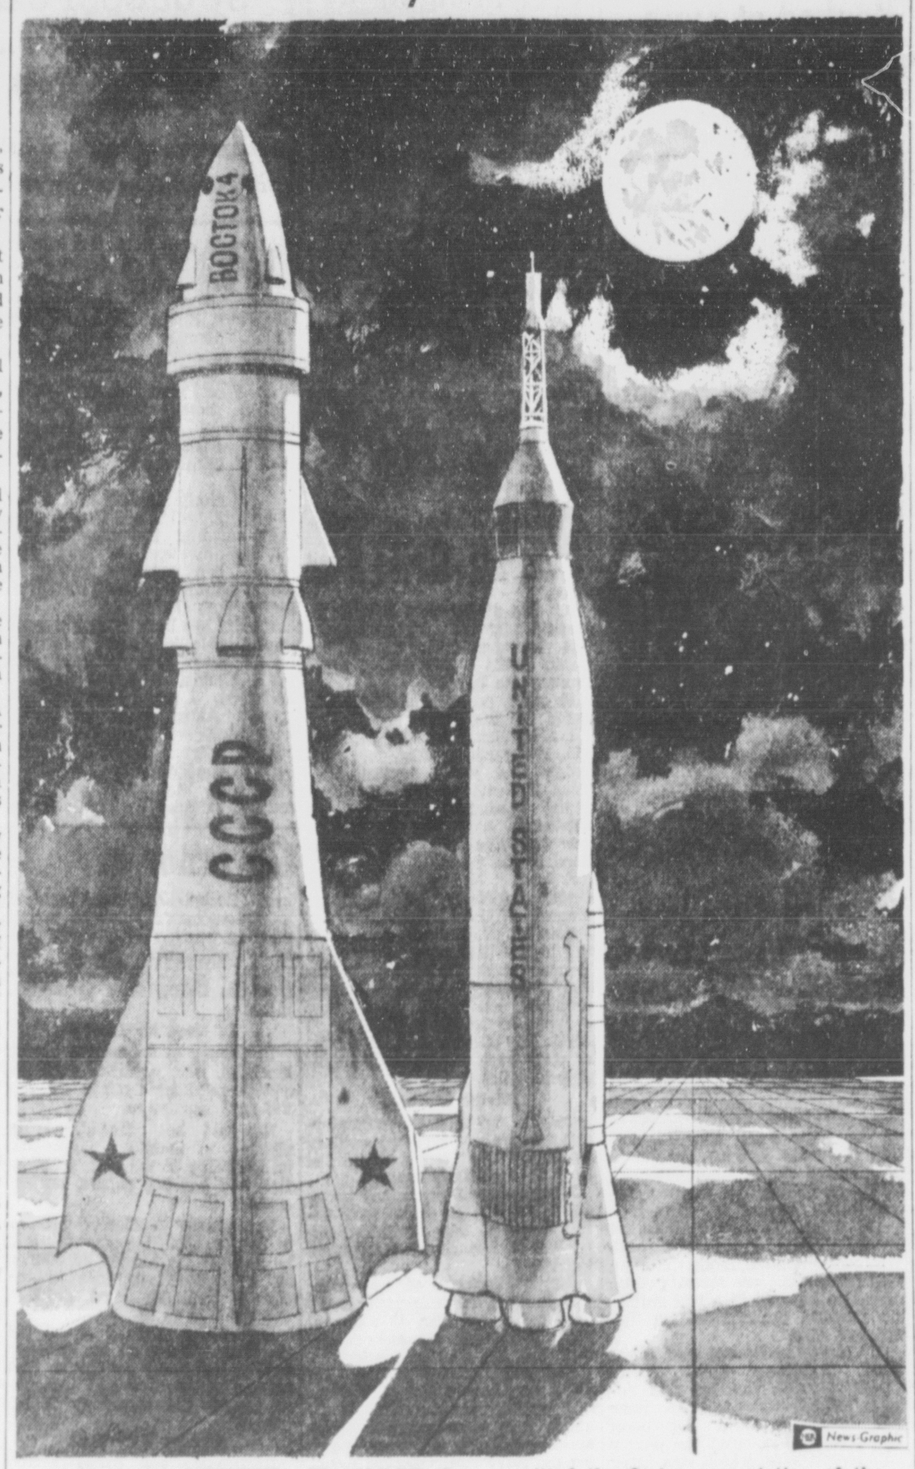
Robert J. Blinn, Amenia, chairman of the Dutchess County Republican Committee, considers District Attorney Raymond C. Baratta has aspirations and qualifications for the judiciary.

Blinn's comment came while calling attention to continued county Republican leadership efforts to advance consideration of Baratta as a possible candidate for the Republican nomination for State Comptroller.

The Dutchess GOP chairman said that if Baratta won the backing of Governor Rockefeller, that would not interfere with the district attorney's apparent ambition to serve on the bench.

Blinn contended that both Supreme Court Justice Leonard Supple, Fishkill, and County Judge John R. Schwartz, Poughkeepsie, will be at retirement age in a few years. He also noted there is always a possibility that a second resident justice will be added to the Ninth Judicial District.

Vostok vs. Mercury —



VOSTOK VS. MERCURY—The U.S.S.R. has permitted the first representation of the rocket boosters used to launch its cosmonauts. Drawing of a Vostok spaceship atop its rockets, left above, is based on a drawing which appeared in the Communist newspaper Pravda. It is not known how closely it resembles the actual vehicle. Beside it is the U.S. Atlas-Mercury combination, used to orbit this country's astronauts. The drawing is not to scale, for the Soviets have never revealed the dimensions or any other details about their huge booster. It is, however, larger and much more powerful than the Atlas.

Onondaga Jury Indicts Syracuse Publisher, Editors

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — The publisher and three editors of the Syracuse Post - Sta dard are charged with contempt of court, Dist. Atty. Joseph A. Ryan reports.

An Onondaga County grand jury handed up sealed indictments Wednesday, and warrants were issued for Publisher Henry H. Keller, Managing Editor Mario Rossi, News Editor Loren Bailey and City Editor John N. Whitney.

They faced arraignment today, but Bailey was on vacation and had not been contacted, a spokesman for the newspaper said.

Because the indictments were sealed, details of the charges were not announced in advance. The Post - Standard, a morning newspaper, said, however, that Ryan had indicated the allegations concerned a prisoner's claim in court that he had been beaten by a police officer.

The newspaper said the story appeared in its early editions July 19 but was withheld from the final edition when a question arose as to its accuracy.

On subsequent days, the newspaper said, explanatory stories appeared in all editions of The Post-Standard. In one of them, an officer whose name had figured in the original account declared, "I extend my thanks to The Post-Standard for their fairness in helping to clarify this matter."

The grand jury, which has been investigating reported sexual perversion and other conditions in Onondaga county jails, returned 17 indictments in a partial report Wednesday. Ten indictments were sealed.

The final grand-jury report is expected Aug. 31.

Exchanges Asked In Soblen Fight

LONDON (AP) — Attorneys for Dr. Robert A. Soblen asked the high court today to compel Home Secretary Henry Brooke to produce exchanges between the U.S. and British governments concerning the fugitive spy.

They asked that Brooke be subpoenaed. Justice John Stephenson did not rule immediately on the request.

The development came at the opening of the third day of hearings on Soblen's second application for a writ of habeas corpus. The 61-year-old psychiatrist is fighting deportation to the United States to serve a life sentence for passing wartime secrets to the Soviet Union.

Soblen was in court again today. He seemed in better health and spirits than Wednesday, when he left the courtroom three times complaining that he felt ill. He claims he is dying of leukemia.

F. Elwyn Jones, the head of Soblen's legal team, charged that the home secretary, by ordering Soblen deported to New York, was trying to extradite him. He contended the doctor had committed no extraditable offensive because espionage is not an extraditable offense under the U.S.-British extradition treaty.

See Ike-JFK Relationship As Increasingly Abrasive

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — That pleasant relationship between President Kennedy and former President Eisenhower is getting increasingly abrasive.

No name-calling, no personal attacks, but blistering criticism of each other's administrations.

Sought Out Ike

Several times in moments of deep concern since he took office Kennedy has sought out Eisenhower to talk with him. This was a switch for Eisenhower, whose relations with his predecessor, former President Truman, were frigid.

But twice within 10 days, Kennedy has traced two of this country's most vital troubles—the space race with Russia and the economy—back to Eisenhower as troubles he inherited.

Eisenhower's criticism of his successor in the White House has picked up steam over the past three months.

A month ago today he said the Kennedy administration "is floundering — thrashing aimlessly about" while doing things he said "have started the whole nation to question its ability to comprehend."

Criticized Farm Program

A month before he said he believes Kennedy is in the clutches of the "big spenders." He had acutely criticized the Kennedy farm program before and after the House killed it with all but one Republican voting against it.

In his television talk to the nation Aug. 13—after the Russians had shot their orbital twins into space—Kennedy admitted the United States was behind but had started late in the 1950s.

Eisenhower, whose administration spanned most of the 1950s, said Aug. 15 in London he does not agree with those who say the Russians have a space lead over the United States.

"I do not agree," he said, "that they (the Russians) have a space lead or that there is a gap. I'm a little tired of that word gap."

Misleads Public

At his news conference Wednesday, Kennedy—saying "anybody who attempts to suggest we are not behind misleads the American people"—stressed:

"We are second to the Soviet Union in long-range boosters. I have said from the beginning we have started late . . . but I believe before the end of this decade is out, the United States will be ahead."

Earlier this month in the Saturday Evening Post Eisenhower said he doubted the wisdom of racing the Soviets to put a man on the moon and criticized the Kennedy administration for spending too much on the space race.

Kennedy, as if answering the spending complaint, said Wednesday:

Increased Budget

"We are well behind but we are making a tremendous effort. We increased, after I took office, after four months, we increased the budget for space by 50 per cent over that of my predecessor.

"The fact of the matter is that this year we submitted a space budget which was greater than the combined eight space budgets of the previous eight years. So this country is making a fast effort which is going to be much bigger next year, and the years to come, and represents a very heavy burden upon us all."

Last June 1 Eisenhower said he and other Republican leaders are "deeply concerned about the direction in which our economy seems to be going" under the Kennedy administration.

But in his Aug. 13 talk on the economy Kennedy said he inherited recession from Eisenhower when he took office Jan. 20, 1961 and that under him the country has had to recover from two Eisenhower recessions: in 1958 as well as 1961.

PHILIP W. JACKSON

Jackson Is Named

and in this capacity will work with Data Systems, Federal Systems and Data Processing divisions management.

Jackson joined IBM in 1949. He designed input/output systems for the tape processing machine and the IBM 702 computer and was also assistant manager of computer development in the Poughkeepsie laboratory in 1955 and 1956. Later he was manager of engineering for the Special Development Division and then manager of product development for the Advanced Systems Development Division at Poughkeepsie. In 1960 he was executive assistant to IBM vice president and group executive T. V. Learson and more recently, he joined DS this year as special assistant to the manager of systems planning and development. Prior to that, he was manager of East Coast laboratories for ASDD in Mohansic.

Dutchess Residents

He is a graduate of Duke University where he received the bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering and is a member of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers and the Institute of Radio Engineers.

Jackson has not yet made plans to move to the Kingston area. Mr. and Mrs. Jackson now live at Tetaiibrook Farm, Wappingers Falls, with their four children Philip, Elizabeth, Timothy and Laura.

Secret OAS

fire as it sped along a road to the Villacoublay airport.

One of the bullets missed him by only two inches. Others broke the rear window and pierced side windows. The president was showered with glass but unhurt.

The gunmen—believed numbering at least 10—fired about 150 bullets at the motorcade and hit some of the other cars.

No one in De Gaulle's party was hurt. A passing motorist was wounded in the hand.

Tires Saving Factor

Interior Minister Roger Frey said puncture-proof tires on the president's car and on the police car which followed him were a saving factor. Bullets hit the tires but the cars were able to speed on.

De Gaulle, disdainful of his own safety, always travels in an ordinary French car, but security officials said an attempt will be made now to get him to use a car with bullet-proof glass.

Incendiary grenades were found near the scene of the attack.

De Gaulle was still covered with glass when his car arrived at the airport three miles away. He appeared unperturbed and absolutely calm.

Mrs. De Gaulle also appeared calm. She, the president and their son-in-law, Col. Alain de Boissieu, took off as planned for De Gaulle's country home at Colombey-Les-Deux-Eglises.

Police blamed the ambush on the Secret Army Organization, the underground terrorist movement which fought Algerian independence and remains dedicated to toppling the government.

Tied to Other Attempt

The Secret Army also was blamed for a near-miss attempt to kill De Gaulle with fire bombs as he drove to his country home last September and for a plot to assassinate him during a grass-roots provincial tour last June.

There are many Secret Army supporters among the hundreds of thousands of European refugees from Algeria. Secret Army leaders wanted by the French government, including former premier Georges Bidault, are believes to be directing activities from hideouts in Belgium, Austria and Switzerland.

Hoderath Elected

Hoderath is a trustee of the Home for the Aged; a member of the board of directors of the Community Chest; an elder and clerk of the Consistory of the Fair Street Reformed Church; a member of Kingston Lodge 10, F. & A.M. His principal hobby is photography and he is a member of the Photographic Society of America and the Newburgh Camera Club.

Only Third From Kingston

In the 41 years since Kingston Kiwanis was organized there have been only three other lieutenant governors from the Kingston club: Fred Chidsey, Roger Loughran and Edward Huben, who was lieutenant governor in 1946 and who attended the meeting in Middletown this week.

Delegates from the Kingston club were President Howard C. St. John and immediate Past President Vincent G. Connelly. Also attending from Kingston were Fred Van Deusen and J. Richard Sheil.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — Heavier trading accompanied a resumption of the stock market rally today with some large gains early this afternoon.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.0 with industrials ahead 1.2, rails up .6, and utilities up .7.

Among the general run of key stocks gains ran from fractions to around a point but there were advances of 3 or 4 points among the more widely moving issues.

The market's ability to complete the job of erasing all losses since the "Black Monday" of May 28 brought in additional buying, brokers said. Analysts noted that the month of August has historically produced the best gains of any month but they remarked also that in the past three years rallies have topped out in August.

A growing number of small losses or stocks showing no change betokened precautionary profit taking.

Meanwhile, there was little in the way of fresh news to top Wednesday's stimulating report that General Motors was predicting a seven-million-car sales year in 1963.

First hour volume totaled 980,000 shares, then tapered off to 810,000 in the second hour.

Ban Primary Day Sale Of Alcoholic Beverage

The New York State Liquor Authority has announced that on Primary Day, Sept. 6, the sale of liquor, wine and beer for on-premises consumption will be prohibited during the hours when the polls are open.

A state-wide prohibition also prevails on that day against the sale of liquor and wine for off-premises consumption. Polls will be open outside the New York City metropolitan area from 12 noon until 9 p. m.

Twelve area counties, including Ulster, have local ABC board rules prohibiting the sale of beer for off-premises consumption by grocery stores.

West Haverstraw Facility Listed As Primary Center

ALBANY — The New York State Rehabilitation Hospital at West Haverstraw has been designated as a primary rehabilitation center under the state-wide program for comprehensive rehabilitation centers, the New York State Health Department in Albany announced today.

The center is the ninth in the state-wide program calling for a network of 12 primary centers and 15 secondary rehabilitation centers. The plan was developed at Governor Rockefeller's request, with the assistance of the Committee on Rehabilitation of the State Interdepartmental Health and Hospital Council, which includes the Departments of Education, Health, Mental Hygiene, Insurance, and Social Welfare, and the Governor's Council on Rehabilitation.

Designation of the Rehabilitation Hospital as a primary center is the result of plans to broaden the hospital's services to patients and to have it serve as the focus for coordination of rehabilitation services in the White Plains Region. The region includes the counties of Dutchess, Nassau, Orange, Putnam, Rockland, Suffolk, Sullivan, Ulster, and Westchester.

The Rehabilitation Hospital will employ a rehabilitation services specialist to ensure effective utilization of state and local services for maximum rehabilitation of disabled persons. The specialist will aid in coordinating the services in the center with those of secondary centers to be designated under the Statewide program and with community agencies. He will also serve as secretary to a White Plains regional interdepartmental rehabilitation committee consisting of representatives of state agencies concerned with rehabilitation.

The Rehabilitation Hospital will continue to provide inpatient care for severely disabled persons from all parts of the state. When its expanded program goes into operation, the hospital will also provide outpatient services to persons in the White Plains Region who live within a convenient distance from the hospital.

The primary center is intended for the evaluation and treatment of disabled persons presenting unusually complicated rehabilitation problems.

Evaluation of patients referred to the newly designated rehabilitation center will include: Complete medical evaluation; complete social history; analysis of activities of daily living; muscle and functional testing; psychological evalution; evaluation of vocational potential; and speech evaluation when indicated.

Dobrynin, Rusk To Confer Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin will confer with Secretary of State Dean Rusk this afternoon.

State Department press officer Joseph W. Reap said the Soviet diplomat asked for the appointment.

Rusk and the Soviet envoy met Tuesday. Rusk summoned Dobrynin to his office to urge that the four-power commandants in Berlin meet in an attempt to lessen tension in the city. State Department specialists speculated that it is now the Russian's turn to raise the Berlin issue in meeting with Rusk.

Ulster Approves

to the Town Board at its August meeting.

It was noted at the public hearing that 76 per cent of the residents of the district signed the petition for the new lighting district and that 94 per cent total assessment of the district was accounted for. Over 50 per cent of the residents and astion is required.

To Discuss Type

Type of lights to be installed and the time for completion of work and turning on the energy will be discussed with members of the Town Board and Central Hudson engineers.

Lighting will go into effect as quickly as possible after all negotiations are settled.

Move of Progress

"Authorization for a lighting district is a move of great progress," President Smith of the Ulster Business Men's Association said, "and will improve the growing business district and entice other businesses to locate in the Ulster Business area. He also said that with the growth of the area, "lighting of the avenue will be a great safety factor for the people walking and driving in the shopping area."

Wiere Brothers Booked at State Fair Four Days

Harry, Herbert and Sylvester — the "unpredictable" Wiere Brothers, will clown their way through four days of free grandstand shows at the 1962 New York State Exposition.

Harold L. Creal, director, has announced that the comedy brother act will co-star with Jane Morgan, Neil Sedaka and the Harmonicats Tuesday and Wednesday, August 28 and 29, and Joanie Sommers, Don Adams and the "Cats" Thursday and Friday, August 30 and 31.

The Exposition opens Tuesday, August 28, for seven big days and nights of "fun with a family flavor."

Half-price tickets for the year's biggest entertainment bargain will continue on sale through Monday, August 27, in more than 1,000 outlets across the state.

The Wiere Brothers, who will be seen in two shows daily for the four days—are all expert violinists. With their derbies and sophisticated comedy, they have proved to be one of the funniest comedy trios in show business.

The Brothers, all of whom were born in different European countries, have appeared in many of the nation's leading clubs and have starred on many coast-to-coast television shows.

This past fall, they starred on their own situation comedy television series, entitled "Oh Those Bells."

Second Safe Is Taken From Lake, Delanoy Property

A second safe hauled from the murky waters of Devil's Lake, First Avenue near the city line on Wednesday afternoon, has been identified as the property of Delanoy Fuel and Service, 125 Tremper Avenue, stolen in a burglary the night of Dec. 26, 1961, according to County Investigator Arthur H. Brown.

On Tuesday, a safe about 24 by 28 inches, and a 1958 Saab car, were hoisted from the lake and police still are investigating. Local police said they had gained no further information on the smaller safe.

Investigator Brown said three East Kingston men, Julius Chick, George DeCicco and Joseph Balogh were working near the lake yesterday afternoon when they discovered the partly submerged safe, which was later hoisted to shore by Fatum's wrecker.

The men notified Assistant Jailor Charles McCullough, who lives nearby and he informed the sheriff's office.

Records Intact

Sheriff Claude Bell, Undersheriff Clayton Vredenburgh, Investigator Brown, Identification Officer Earl Conro and Deputy Sheriff Joseph McNierney went to the lake to investigate.

The safe was taken to the sheriff's office, where examination disclosed books, papers and other office records of the Delanoy firm intact.

Investigator Brown said the contents of the safe were removed and are being dried. He said that the books and records appeared in "fairly good condition." The records also included accounts receivable card system. Detective Harold DeGraff assisted in checking the records.

Brown said the safe had been reported stolen from the Tremper Avenue office the night of Dec. 26, 1961. At that time authorities were told the safe contained office records and about three dollars in change. The money was missing.

Weighed 750 Pounds

According to Investigator Brown the safe weighs about 750 pounds. The bottom had been ripped out by the thieves and the records stuffed back before the safe was deposited in the lake. Dimensions of the safe reported by Brown were: height--36 inches, width-27 inches, depth-26 inches. The bottom had seven inches of concrete.

The 1958 Saar car, recovered from the lake Tuesday, had been reported stolen from near the Governor Clinton Hotel on July 23, 1960. Its owner was listed as Richard Paradies, of 109 St. James Street.

The owner of the safe found on Tuesday near the submerged car had not been identified.

Local Man Reported On Rendezvous Vessel

A Lake Katrine youth, Paul Barlow of Halcyon Park, is aboard the nuclear-powered submarine Sea Dragon which completed an historic rendezvous under the polar ice cap with another nuclear-powered sub, USS Skate. The rendezvous was announced Wednesday by President Kennedy.

Young Barlow, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Lebow of Halcyon Park is a graduate of Brooklyn Tech High School. He is a nuclear reactor operator, second class.

U. S. Bars

dants delivered protests against actions by the East German regime affecting West Berliners and Allied personnel in West Berlin, as well as protests against the shooting of East Germans trying to escape across the Berlin wall.

Western protests now must be made by Allied military commanders in West Germany to Yakubovsky, but the change presumably will have little actual effect. The Russian commandant in East Berlin invariable told his Allied counterparts to take their protests to the East German government, which the Allies refuse to recognize or do business with.

Jobless Pay Hit At Hearing of Platform for GOP

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — A "something - for - nothing philosophy" continues in the state's unemployment insurance program despite elimination of some abuses, a spokesman for employers said today.

Gwyn Thomas, executive assistant to the president of Associated Industries of New York State Inc. commented in a statement prepared for a public hearing by the Platform Advisory Committee of the State Republican Party.

Would Halt Picketing

He urged the GOP to support long-sought goals of the state's business and industrial community, such as tightening the unemployment insurance and workmen's compensation programs to prevent abuses.

Thomas also asked for Republican support for legislation to provide for court injunctions to halt picketing that could lead to violence.

He also proposed, without elaboration, a review of labor legislation including "the means for quick, harm - preventing, relief through the courts."

In other recommendations prepared for the hearing:

1. State Sen. Lawrence M. Rulison, R-Syracuse, called for legislation that would permit New York students to use State Regents' scholarships at colleges outside the state. The scholarships now are limited to use at institutions in the state.

2. John Mulroy, Onondaga County executive, and Syracuse Mayor William Walsh, urged legislation to empower municipalities to buy park plots as small as 25 acres under the state's $75 million program for purchase of recreational lands. Purchases now are limited to a minimum of 40 acres. The officials said the smaller plots were more readily available in cities.

Favors Changes

On the question of unemployment insurance, financed entirely by employers, Thomas urged the GOP to back such changes as:

Elimination of provisions under which workers on strike may obtain benefits, thus requiring employers to finance strikes against themselves.

Disqualification of pregnant women from unemployment insurance during the final 13 weeks of their pregnancy on the ground they are not seeking work.

Exempting employers who paid more than half of a retired worker's pension from having to finance any unemployment insurance benefits to the worker during the early months of his retirement.

A more accurate merit rating system to determine how much of a drain on the insurance fund each employer's workers account for and how much that employer should contribute.

The Pony Express existed from April 3, 1860 until Oct. 24, 1861.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING...

ROGER E. SPEAR

Q—"We need help. We started investing in 1958 and made gains which were lost later by foolish moves. Now we hold Allis-Chalmers, Rheem Mfg., and Glen Alden. Should we wait for recovery or switch into something else?" R. O.

A—When you admit making foolish moves, you've gone a long way toward correcting them. After this homily, let's look at each of your stocks individually.

I definitely do not like Allis-Chalmers, which has a poor current earnings picture, has just cut its dividend in half, and shows bad relative action. I would switch this stock into Pendleton Tool (NYSE).

Rheem has been dropping some unprofitable lines and seems likely to show fair earnings this year—against a deficit in 1960 and 1961. I would hold for now.

Glen Alden plans to merge with Universal Controls, and I believe Carroll Shanks, former head of the Prudential Life and a very able man, will head the merged company. The chances look good for a comeback here.

Q—"I am a widow lady aged 64—with $14,000 from my husband's insurance. I will get a check for $230 a month for life, provided I don't remarry. Also I sell Avon Cosmetics and make $40 a month on that. I would like to invest the $14,000, of which $5,000 is now in the savings bank. My brother-in-law, a banker, suggests $2,000 each in American Telephone, General Motors, Sears Roebuck and Standard Oil of New Jersey. Is this a wise investment the way things are today?" I. B.

A—I should be delighted to have some money in your brother-in-law's bank. He's obviously a sound and conservative man.

I would follow his advice, with one exception. I suggest you add $2,000 to your savings account and divide the remainder of your money among the stocks he advises. That way, you will be half in cash and half in stocks, a very conservative position in an uncertain market.

Governor at area. Rockefeller's stops included a businessmen's luncheon and a meeting with senior citizens, both at Poughkeepsie, the Dutchess County Fair at Rhinebeck and a Dutchess County GOP Committee picnic.

No Need for Increase

In answer to a question at the luncheon, the governor said he saw no need for a tax increase in the next four years.

He said he intended, if re-elected, to maintain pay-as-you-go financing of the state's activities and did not plan a tax increase.

In response to another question at the luncheon, the governor said he had not yet formed an opinion on a proposed increase in the state's minimum legal drinking age from 18 to 21.

Rockefeller said he would not state an opinion on the question until a legislative committee that studied the problem had a chance to review the testimony it received.

Another Fair Visit

Rockefeller will spend Friday in Jefferson and Lewis Counties, and another county fair is on his itinerary. He also will open Republican headquarters in Watertown and will speak at a Republican fund-raising dinner.

On Saturday, his schedule calls for a sailboat regatta at Buffalo, the Erie County Fair, and a visit to Crystal Beach in Ontario, Canada.

O'Connor Camp

connection and was "just asking the question, that's all." Rockefeller, in Syracuse, declined comment.

—Stratton also charged that inaccurate polls were being circulated "in support of the candidacy of various newly projected and unannounced entires into the state gubernatorial sweepstakes." Morgenthau is not an announced candidate.

Stratton said the only poll that counted was election day. He invited "unannounced" Democratic candidates to compete with him in primary elections in Herkimer and Rensselaer counties. In those counties, Stratton is sponsoring convention delegations committed to him.

Hands Off: JFK

—O'Connor proposed at a hearing in New York City before the Democratic State Platform Advisory Committee that the party platform include a plank for a statewide referendum on off-track betting on horse races.

—President Kennedy said at his news conference in Washington he would not take any position on the question of a New York gubernatorial candidate but would leave the decision to the state convention.

Oilers Hoping To Haul Blanda Out for Workout

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Houston Oilers, showing no signs of deterioration after winning their second straight American Football League title last year, hope to haul out venerable George Blanda for a vigorous workout tonight when they play the Buffalo Bills in an exhibition game in Mobile, Ala.

Blanda has spent most of the Oilers three exhibition victories recovering from a thyroid operation, finally taking a brief spell at quarterback last Saturday night in a 20-10 victory over Boston, and coming in to kick four field goals and three conversions the week before in a 33-17 victory over Denver.

In the meantime, the 34-year-old, 13-year pro veteran has watched second-year man Jacky Lee direct the Oilers in fine style. In their first victory, the Cincinnati grad threw three touchdown passes. He added another in the Denver game.

Lee's performance has given coach Frank (Pop) Ivy a good indication that the quarterback slot will be well-protected this year. It probably also has given Blanda's thyroid condition a much faster turn for the better, for he was not expected to see much action until the regular season begins next month.

Wednesday night, the Boston Patriots handed the New York Titans their third straight pre-season loss—taking a 17-10 victory at Lowell, Mass., before a crowd of 11,118. New York also lost all-league fullback Bill Mathis with a broken collarbone.

Veteran Babe Parilli, obtained from Oakland, completed 13 of 26 passes for 156 yards and one touchdown and went one yard on a sneak for the winning score in the fourth quarter. Halfback Ron Burton ran 10 times for 81 yards, including a 39-yard burst that set up the winning touchdown.

Thruway Heading For Travel Record

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Traffic volume on the New York State Thruway was heavier from January through July this year than in any previous seven-month period in the highway's eight-year history, the Thruway Authority said today.

If the current trend continues, motor vehicle traffic will break all existing Thruway records, a spokesman said.

From January through July of this year, drivers rolled up a total of 1,420,942,734 miles on the 559-mile system. The total surpasses the 1,315,402,376 miles logged by travelers in the corresponding period in 1961, a record year.

This summer has been an especially busy one, the spokesman said. Thruway officials reported that more travelers drove on the superhighway on Aug. 5 than during any other 24-hour span in its history. By midnight, Aug. 5 officials had counted 415,594 separate trips on all sections of the system.

This topped a previous high of 391,372 trips in one day set July 1, 1961. The most heavily traveled sections on Aug. this year was the 487 miles from Spring Valley in Rockland County to Williamsville near Buffalo, including the Erie and Berkshire sections.

Some Cuts Restored

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Appropriations Committee approved a bill Wednesday to provide $106,126,500 for the Agriculture Department's Agricultural Research Service in the fiscal year which began July 1. This was $28,653,500 more than the House voted.

The committee restored some cuts which the House had made in research projects and added money for numerous others.

Projects and amounts added to the bill by the committee included $65,000 for staffing of the Ithaca, N.Y., soil and water facility.

Chiang's System On Crops Could Aid Undeveloped

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP) — The intensive system of crop production practiced on small plots on Formosa may set a pattern for undeveloped nations to follow, an official of Nationalist China suggested today.

Y. S. Tsiang, a commissioner of the Sino-American Joint Commission on Rural Reconstruction, said agricultural output on Taiwan had increased 50 percent since the program started 10 years ago. He claimed that the crop yield per plot of ground on the island was the highest in the world.

Tsiang said the heavy production was made possible largely by Taiwan's land-reform program under which the government provided land for tenant farmers.

Tsiang commented in a speech prepared for delivery at the final session of the 54th annual meeting of the American Society of Agronomy. About 2,000 Americans and foreign soil and plant scientists attended the four-day meeting.

Dr. Glenn W. Burton, society president and a U.S. Agriculture Department scientist at Tifton, Ga., told the agronomists Wednesday that they had a responsibility to provide freedom from hunger by developing techniques for increasing world food production.

Reports Hurley Vols Fund Appeal Near Completion

Charles Goble, chairman of Hurley Fire Department fund drive announced today that the 1962 appeal for funds is drawing to a close. Hurley firement have been canvassing the area since August 11, to pick up coin saver cards which were distributed in late April.

Chairman Goble stated that initial evaluation of the drive indicates that sufficient funds will be available for this year's activities. However, additional funds are needed to expand existing programs and to initiate new programs. Funds collected in the annual appeal are used for youth activities such as Little League Baseball, Babe Ruth League Baseball, free Saturday night movies, baby sitters training programs and other civic and charitable activities.

Firemen will continue to contact Hurley residents who were not at home during the initial drive. Chairman Goble extended his thanks to those who have contributed to the drive and stated that anyone not previously contacted who wishes to contribute to this appeal may contact Lt. Paul McGuire of the Hurley Fire Department. Arrangements will be made for a fireman to pick up all donations.

Quell Fires in Accord Saugerties, Olive Bridge

Area fire companies were called out Wednesday afternoon for minor fires, according to a spokesman at the County Fire Control Center.

Accord firemen responded to a call at 2:13 p. m. to extinguish a brush fire off Queens Highway, and at 5:04 p. m. Olive Bridge volunteers quelled a brush fire off Webster Lane. Ashokan firemen went to assist.

At 6:28 p. m. Centerville and Cedar Grove Fire Companies were dispatched to the DiMarco home at Quarryville after smoke was discovered near an electric circuit-breaker box in the cellar. Damage was confined to the electric circuit and an electrician was called to make repairs. Assistant Chief Werner Hegner was in charge.

MARRIAGE EN MASSE—When 70 defectors from Communist North Korea took brides in Seoul, South Korea, they did it in one big ceremony. All of the newlyweds were given farm houses in one of South Korea's "freedom Villages."

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The fruits and vegetables of another generally good growing season are piled high on the market this weekend.

Housewives can take the hint. This is the time to buy for freezing or canning or for immediate low-cost meals. The same fruits and vegetables next winter will be selling at considerably higher prices.

One national food chain reports prices of many items down from last week, but singling out bargains is next to impossible. Regional price differences also confuse the picture.

The picture is clearer at the meat counter. Pork chops, duck and smoked beef tongues are featured by a large chain in the New York City area. At the fish counter, the same chain is offering best buys of scallops and shrimp.

Nationally, roasts, steaks and other beef cuts are at prices comparable to the best of the year. Some pork cuts, such as fresh loins, also are good buys.

Further back on the store shelves and freezers are excellent buys in frozen orange juice and milk.

Orange juice never has been more abundant. Stocks of orange juice recently were at 115,300,000 gallons, about 31 million gallons more than the largest previous late summer figure.

Here are some of the USDA's seasonal features.

Vegetables—Green beans, cabbage, carrots, celery, corn, eggplant, lettuce, onions, peppers, potatoes, radishes, squash, sweet potatoes, tomatoes.

Fruits — Apples, cantaloupes, plums, pears, watermelons, and other melons such as honeydews and cranshaws.

Meats — Frying chickens and turkeys.

Fish — Canned tuna, scallops, fish sticks and portions.

Two Escape Injury

Occupants of two vehicles escaped injury at 8:10 p. m. Wednesday when they sideswiped on Howley Corners Road, Highland. Troopers said the cars were driven by Joseph Nucci Jr., 18, Howley Corners Road, and Robert Sacrider, 54, of North Road, both Highland.

To Close School At Cedar Grove, Transfer Pupils

Cedar Grove School on Kings Highway in Town of Saugerties has been closed by order of Saugerties Central School Board of Education.

This action was taken at a special meeting Wednesday night after receipt by the board of a letter from the State Education Department, Albany. The letter directs the board to either close the school or else install modern sanitary facilities.

There are currently 19 pupils in Grades 1 through 6 registered at the school. The board plans to transfer the teacher, Mrs. Evelina Fuller to a position in another building. The pupils will be transported to Main Street School.

A full report will be issued by the board.

New School Group Has Discussion On Class Shortage

The newly formed SCOPE (Saugerties Committee on Public Education) held its first meeting Tuesday night.

A discussion of the existing classroom shortage in the Saugerties school system dominated a major portion of the meeting.

Virgil Detweiler presented data to the gathering that showed a shortage of 20 classrooms during the coming year. This shortage will necessitate split sessions for the Second, Third and Fourth Grades and kindergarten during the 1962-1963 school year.

It was decided at the meeting that SCOPE should do extensive studies into a number of problems related to the classroom shortage problem. The results of these studies would be made public as soon as they are available.

One of the items to be studied would be the economics of whether or not school taxes would be increased or decreased by building additional classrooms. Such an analysis may show that a reduction in transportation and other costs may more than offset costs of building additional classrooms.

Permanent voter registration for school elections and school bond votes is to be another consideration.

Another study will hopefully reveal to the Saugerties public some of the New York State requirements for school buildings and school programs.

It was pointed out in the meeting that senior citizens comprise a fairly large percentage of the Saugerties school taxpayers. Since these taxpayers may not benefit as much from the public schools as the younger citizens, ways and means to relieve the senior citizens of some of their tax burden will be studied.

The next meeting of SCOPE was scheduled for Tuesday, Sept. 4 at 8 p. m. in the basement of Saugerties Savings Bank. This meeting will be open to the public. It is planned to elect permanent officers at this next meeting.

Detweiler, temporary chairman, said, "If this group is to be effective, it must have participation by a broad cross-section of the business and professional community of Saugerties. Attempts will be made to get representatives of the various civic, social and service organizations at the next meeting."

Jaycees Plan 29 Service Projects

At the regular monthly meeting of Saugerties Junior Chamber of Commerce this week membership approval was given to the budget and a list of projects to be undertaken during the coming year.

Twenty-nine projects, recommended by the board of directors and approved by the membership, will be implemented at various times during the next 12 months. Projects of particular interest to the general public will be a Christmas project, a children's fishing derby, an ice skating competition, an Easter egg hunt, the 1963 July 4th celebration, a band concert and the selection of An Outstanding Saugerties Citizen for 1963.

The Jaycees will also undertake several civic and community improvement projects and will take an active interest in the public affairs of Saugerties. The Jaycees is a young man's service club and young men, ages 21 to 35, are invited to attend the meetings which are held the third Monday of each month at Stonewall Hotel.

Aussie Radio Bans King and I Music During Thai Visit

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Australia's government-controlled radio network has banned the music from "The King and I" during the 18-day Australian tour of the king and queen of Thailand.

"We do not want to risk doing anything that might offend the royal Thai couple," a commission official said.

"The King and I," originally a Broadway musical, is a fictionalized version of the relationship between Thai King Mongkut and Mrs. Anna Leonowens, an English school teacher. The music and movie of the show are banned in Thailand.

Foreign Students Are Guests at Kingston Rotary

The program presented at the luncheon-meeting of the Kingston Rotary Club Wednesday by three representatives of Camp Rising Sun, a scholarship camp at Rhinebeck, proved to be both unique and enlightening. The three members of the camp who addressed the club were presented by Frank D. Hornbeck, program chairman.

The Louis August Jonas Foundation, Inc., which was established by George E. Jonas, president, in memory of his father, has students from all over the world enrolled in its scholarship camp project.

The speakers, who expressed views on pertinent topics in their countries, included Thyagaraja Anantanarayan of India, who described British rule in India. He pointed out the good and bad features and its effect on future Indian policy.

Christian Kock of Denmark told of the European Market and its effect on his country.

Solomon Oleka of Nigeria discussed the question of a United States of Africa from the viewpoint of a Nigerian.

Three Are Injured In Mishap at Fair

A Dutchess County man and two sons were injured Wednesday morning at the Dutchess County Fair, Rhinebeck, when a loudspeaker fell in the sheep judging tent. Clarence Burnett, 35, Salt Point, assistant superintendent of the sheep show, suffered a head laceration.

His sons, Blaine, 3, and Lyle 6, received emergency aid at the Red Cross building and later taken to Northern Dutchess Hospital for treatment. They also were struck by the loudspeaker, it was reported.

NAVAL ARM — The Hayashio (Rapid Current) puts out to sea from the Kure naval base for a trial run. Craft is first Japanese-built submarine since World War II.

Optical Decision Filter

Mom, Moon Riders Could Get Boost From Device

LOS ANGELES (AP—The day of "seeing eye" vacuum cleaners and lawn mowers is coming closer.

A gadget which could guide rug-sweeping and yard-trimming appliances without human help—and distinuish warheads from decoys or submarines from whales—was demonstrated Wednesday at the Western Electronics Show.

Called an optical decision filter, the device was developed to detect crevices and boulders for unmanned moon jeeps.

Builder Sam S. Viglione of Douglas Aircraft's Astropower Electronics Laboratory said the same principles could be used in making instruments to:

1. Recognize fingerprints, signatures or even human faces and then unlock doors and bank vaults.
2. Pinpoint storm centers as they develop beneath orbiting satellites.
3. Guide spaceships through a starfield while the pilots sleep.

The prototype device, which has been miniaturized from a roomful of instruments, fits in a suitcase. Viglione said further research could reduce the size to a three-pound object nine inches long.

It is basically a tiny computer which has been taught to identify 200,000 three-dimensional shapes. It has 400 photo cells in the retina of its "eye" and 400 logic units in its "brain."

The device is sensitive to visible light rays, which enables it to guide vacuum cleaners around furniture and moon jeeps around obstacles.

It could be made sensitive, Viglione says, to other kinds of signals, such as sonar for submarine detection, or the types of electromagnetic radiation given off by superheated missile warheads as they re-enter the atmosphere.

The key to its usefulness is the ability to distinguish between an almost unlimited number of signal patterns, and do it faster than a man can think.

Climbing Fish

The climbing perch is a fish found in Asia and Africa. It can manage to travel great distances overland to reach new water habitats. These fish are equipped with cavities over their gills which enable them to breathe air and they use gill covers as crutches to hobble along.

PRIDE, HAPPINESS MINGLE—Mrs. Pavel Popovich, wife of one of Russia's space twins, smiles happily in Moscow after learning that her husband and his comrade in orbit, Maj. Andrian Nikolayev, had been brought safely to earth.

Deaths

WESTON, Conn. (AP)—Dr. Elbert K. Fretwell, 83, educator and a pioneer in the Boy Scout movement, died Wednesday. Fretwell was chief scout executive of the Boy Scouts of America from 1943 to 1948.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Arthur B. Emmons III, 62, diplomat and mountain climber, died Wednesday of cancer.

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP)—Dr. Giora Josepthal, 50, Israeli minister of development and housing, died Wednesday of a heart attack in Switzerland.

SEATTLE (AP)—Mrs. Dorothy Boehme, 35, whose husband, Dr. Robert E. Boehme, 42, was acquitted last May on a charge of first degree assault with intent to kill her, died Wednesday. Death was attributed to a form of staphylococcic meningitis.

Civil Service Exams List Is Announced

The U. S. Civil Service Commission has announced new examinations for the following positions:

Fishery and Wildlife Biologist, paying $4,345 to $13,730 a year. Most of these positions are with the Fish and Wildlife Service of the Department of the Interior and are located throughout the country. These biologists perform professional and scientific work in connection with the conservation and management of fish and wildlife resources.

Dietician and Pubic Health Nutritionist positions. The Dietician positions pay from $5,355 to $8,955 a year and are located mainly in the Public Health Service throughout the country, in the Department of Public Health of the District of Columbia Government, and in St. Elizabeths Hospital in Washington, D. C. Public Health Nutritionist positions pay from $6,435 to $13,730 a year and are located in the U. S. Public Health Service and Children's Bureau of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare throughout the country. Dieticians and Nutritionists apply scientific knowledge of dietetics and nutrition in research, management, education and other programs devoted to the promotion of good health.

In general, the above positions require academic training and/or professional experience in the appropriate subject matter field. For detailed information about the requirements and instructions on how to apply, see Announcement No. 285 B for Fishery and Wildlife Biologist and No. 286 B for Dietician and Public Health Nutritionists.

Announcements and application forms may be obtained at Central Post Office, Kingston, or from the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C.

Swimming Classes To Be Offered by Scholarship Winner

An adult swimming class for beginners will start Sept. 4, thanks to a grateful recipient of a Red Cross Aquatic School scholarship.

Mrs. William Straub of Washburn Terrace, Saugerties, will conduct the class free of charge for all those interested at the Bill Straub Day Camp, Saugerties, Sept. 4 through 8 from 6 to 9 p. m. Registration may be made by sending a postcard to her at the Saugerties address prior to the first class

She attended the Red Cross School at Prospect, Pa., earlier this summer, earning a Red Cross Water Safety Instructors certificate. Over 200 people from New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania attended the school which offered courses in first aid, boating and canoeing as well as swimming safety.

The scholarship helped Mrs. Straub to fulfill a long-time ambition to attend the school. The classes here were prompted by her gratitude. She said it was "just a way to say thank you."

West Point Concerts Conclude on Sunday; Program Announced

The U. S. Military Academy Band will present the last concert of the summer series next Sunday, at 7 p. m., in the Trophy Point Amphitheatre, West Point.

Lt.-Col. William H. Schempf, commanding officer and director of music, will direct the program featuring percussionist SP5 Angelo Mauceri in the novelty selection The Worried Drummer. Also on the program will be the performance of the overture to Rossini's The Barber of Seville, The Waltzes from Richard Strauss' Der Rosenkavalier, and J. S. Bach's Toccata and Fugue in D-Minor.

Other selections will be Fackeltanz by G. Meyerbeer; Dance of the Hours by A. Ponchielli; and The Stars and Stripes Forever by J. P. Sousa.

The public may attend.

Kripplebush Picnic

The annual Labor Day picnic will be held at the Kripplebush Hall on Sept. 3. A ham supper will be served starting 4 p. m. There will be a food sale and fair. Music will be by the Clayton Band of Ellenville. The public may attend.

Banks-Jones Nuptials Performed at Uptown Church on Aug. 12th

Miss Carol Roberta Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marion S. Jones of Hinsdale Street, this city and Frank F. Banks, son of Frank Banks of Kingston and the late Mrs. Banks, were wed at St. James Methodist Church Sunday, Aug. 12, at 3 p. m.

Officiating was the bride's uncle, the Rev. Stanley Jones, pastor of the Walden Methodist Church. Beverly Lewis was organist and George Ronk of New Paltz, soloist.

The bride's brother Roger Jones of Belvedere Street escorted her in marriage. She wore a white street length with a fingertip veil and carried a cascade of white carnations and miniature white roses.

Miss Sharon Jones of Hasbrouck Avenue, cousin of the bride served as maid of honor. She wore a street length dress of light blue with matching short circular veil and carried a cascade of pink and blue carnations.

Russell LaBombard of Kingston was best man.

A reception was given at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. LeRoy Thomas Jr. of Sawkill.

Mrs. Banks is a 1961 graduate of Kingston High School. She is employed at the J. J. Newberry Store, Kingston. Her husband is employed by the Guarantee Radiator Works as a mechanic.

Mr .and Mrs. Banks will reside at 63 Henry Street, this city.

Frances Kathleen Hard, C. M. Clarke Wed Saturday, Aug. 18 at Holy Cross Church

Holy Cross Episcopal Church was the setting for the wedding of Miss Frances Kathleen Hard, daughter of Mrs. Frances E. Hard of 66 Crown Street, and Christopher M. Clarke of Dahlgren, Va., son of Mr. and Mrs. James Clarke of Lancaster, Va.

The Rev. Kenneth A. B. Hinds, rector, officiated at the double ring ceremony 2 p. m., Saturday, August 18. Arrangements of gladioli and pompons decorated the altar for the occasion.

Given in marriage by her uncle, William Von Ohlen of Creek Locks, the bride wore a sheath style gown of silk mist posed over taffeta. It was designed with a bateau neckline, abbreviated sleeves and a fitted bodice embroidered with tiny seed pearls and white bugle beads. The bead motif also decorated the skirt. The overskirt of silk mist terminated in a chapel length train. Her butterfly veil of imported silk illusion was shirred to a stylized rose and petal headpiece of pearls and crystals. She carried a small cascade of frenched white carnations, English ivy and showers of stephanotis.

Miss Lorie Von Ohlen of Creek Locks, a cousin of the bride was maid of honor in an ice blue silk mist sheath dress with handkerchief overskirt. She wore a matching hat with flirtation veil and carried glamorette bouquet of carnations and camellia foliage.

Bridesmaid was Miss Ann McGoey of Saugerties with Miss Jacqueline Von Ohlen of Kingston, sister of the bride, as junior bridesmaid. Miss McGoey's blush pink gown was identical in styling to the honor attendant's and she carried a matching glamorette bouquet. The junior bridesmaid wore a ballerina length gown of pale yellow, styled with a scoop neckline, cummerbund and full skirt. She wore a matching hat and carried a glamorette bouquet.

Clarence Hann of Hyattesville, Md., was best man with David Goudy and Gilbert Kingston, both of Washington, D. C., as ushers.

A reception for 120 guests was held at the Capri Restaurant, Port Ewen.

For a wedding trip to Bermuda, the bride wore a beige two-piece dress with black accessories. Upon their return the couple will make their home in Dahlgren, Va. where Mr. Clarke is territory supervisor for International Business Machines Corporation. The former Miss Hard is a graduate of Kingston High School and was employed as a receptionist at the IBM personnel department here.

Good Taste Today

WHY NOT A CASH REGISTER?

Q: Could you help me please? It has been some time since I attended a wedding reception, but a few weeks ago I received an invitation to a relative's wedding and to the reception. Having shopped lovingly and thoughtfully for a gift, I had it delivered to the bride's house a week before the wedding date. You can imagine my embarrassment and chagrin when the bride stood at the reception with the groom and each person filed by and handed her money. When it came our turn we just shook hands and wished them happiness.

I asked one of our other relatives about this and she told me that the bride expected each person at the reception to at least give her and the groom the equivalent of our dinner expense. She stated that this was the customary and accepted thing today. (It wasn't the idea of the amount of money; certainly we spent more on the gift than the cost of the two dinner.) Am I getting old-fashioned, or are people getting mercenary? I have spoken to at least five other people and they have told me the same thing: the bride and groom do not get presents any more, only money. What is your opinion of this?

A: My opinion is that nothing could be in worst possible taste, and I find the idea shocking!

Thanking Senders for Flowers

Q: Is it really wrong to send the printed thank-you cards given us by the funeral director? We would not think of sending a printed thank you on any other occasion, but these were given us to help us through this ordeal we wonder if we may quite properly send them?

A: If you add a handwritten expression such as, "Your kindness meant so much to us all" or "Your flowers were lovely," they would be permissible.

Gloves While Dancing

Q: Will you please tell me if it is correct to wear gloves while dancing?

A: Certainly.

County Democratic Women to Attend Conclave on Sept. 6

Women Democratic leaders of eight mid-state counties have been called to an all day Conference at Talavera, the historical estate of Mrs. Van Ness Philip at Claverack, by Mrs: Mae Gurevich, vice chairman of the New York State Democratic Committee.

"Let Doorbells Ring — The Campaign and You" is the theme of this conference, which is sponsored by the Democratic State Committee. The morning session will feature a "buzz session" with Mrs. Ida O. Benderson, vice chairman of the Onondaga County Democratic Committee, as moderator. Discussions will be presented by panelists who are members of the executive council of the State Committee Women's Division and the leaders will be vice chairman of the counties participating, which include Columbia, Delaware, Dutchess, Greene, Otsego, Orange, Sullivan and Ulster.

Mrs. Gurevich will make the closing summary of the morning meeting. The sound film, Let Doorbells Ring, will be shown preceding the buzz session.

The Campaign and You is the topic to be discussed by New York State Democratic Chairman, William H. McKeon, following the luncheon which will be served on the lawn of Talavera. Mr. McKeon will address the Democratic women from the porch, where President Franklin D. Roosevelt often spoke to assembled rallies and picnickers when he was campaigning for state office and during his Presidency.

Greetings will be extended by Charles Alonge, Columbia County Democratic Chairman, and Mrs. Nancy Test of Claverack, Columbia County Women's Division representative, will serve as toastmistress.

Kerhonkson Federated Church Is Setting For Sanborn-Christiana Double Ring Rites

Miss Diane Christiana of Poughkeepsie and James W. Sanborn of Pleasant Valley exchanged nuptial vows at a double ring ceremony 1 p. m. Saturday, Aug. 18 at the Kerhonkson Federated Church. The Rev. Paul Babich, pastor, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Christiana of Kerhonkson. Mr. Sanborn is the son of Merle Sanborn of Brookline, Mass. and the late Mrs. Sanborn.

Vases of white gladioli decorated the altar of the church and white bows marked the pews. Mrs. George Schwab, Mrs. John Saul, Mrs. Robert Young and Mrs. Paul Preville presented vocal selections accompanied by Mrs. Paul Babich, organist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white organza posed over bridal taffeta fashioned with a fitted bodice, three-quarter sleeves and a circlet neckline outlined in Swiss lace. The full skirt swept back into a chapel length circular train. She wore a queen's crown of seed pearls to which was attached the hand rolled illusion veil. Her flowers were stephanotis and orchids.

Matron of honor for her sister was Mrs. Phil McConnell of Kerhonkson. She wore a gown of dacron organza in spring green styled with a molded bodice, mid-length sleeves and a square neckline. The cocktail length skirt was softly pleated and featured a self fabric rose detail at the back. She wore a single rose headpiece in spring green with a circular tulle flirtation veil and carried a bouquet of white carnations centered with spring green flowers.

Bridesmaids were the Misses Elaine Amann of Erie, Pa., Mary Ann Dzielecki and Patricia Golondka, both of Poughkeepsie and Susan Augenstern of Brookline, Mass. They were attired in gowns of azalea, orchid, jonquil and azure styled identically to the honor attendant's. She wore matching rose headpieces with flirtation veils and carried bouquets of white carnations.

Miss Debbie Steenburgh of Stnoe Ridge was flower girl. She wore a blue nylon and taffeta dress with bouffant skirt and cap sleeves and carried a basket of white flower petals.

William Claus of Pleasant Valley was best man with Michael Heslin of Poughkeepsie, Stanley Doremus and Fred Swincicki, both fo Pleasant Valley and Richard Christiana, of Kerhonkson, brother of the bride, as ushers. Thomas Arra of Stone Ridge was ringbearer.

A reception for 170 guests was held at Johnny Mitchells Covered Wagon, Red Oaks Mills, at 3:30 p. m.

The former Miss Christiana is a graduate of Rondout Valley Central School and Krissler Business Institute. She is employed by Central Hudson Gas & Electric, Poughkeepsie.

Mr. Sanborn is a graduate of Brookline High School and Wentworth Business Institute. He is employed at International Business Machines, Poughkeepsie.

Bye Bye Birdie Is Starting 2nd Week At Cape Cod Tent

Continuing for a second romping, rollicking week at the Cape Cod Melody Tent, Hyannis, Mass., will be Bye Bye Birdie, featuring its Broadway cast, Dick Patterson, Luba Lisa, Sybil Bowan and Wayne Storm. This prize-winning musical satire, with the immediate accent on youth will continue at the Melody Tent through Sept. 1.

The critics are wild about it: "It's the craziest—A scream. So you think you've seen crazy musicals, you haven't until you get a load of Birdie. It's clean, smart, frisky, and abounds with family-type humor and hilarious situations. . . . . Sybil Bowan is 'sweetheart darling's' mother, (the darndest mother since Medea, complete with mink and saddle Oxfords)." . . . Birdie should provide a rollicking evening for adults (if they have the strength!), and there is no better place to take the kids to give them a good laugh at themselves."

Bye Bye Birdie will have matinees at 2:30 p. m. Saturday, Aug. 25, and Thursday, Aug. 30. Box Office is open daily from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m, except Sunday. Tickets are also available at the many Melody Tent agencise located conveniently all over Cape Cod and in New Bedford.

Home Extension Service News

Phyllis W. Barlow, county home demonstration agent of the Ulster County Extension Service Association, points out that the challenge of home accident prevention is great. Each year thousands of people lose their lives in home accidents and hundreds of thousands suffer disabling injuries.

Neat and orderly homes are safer homes. Have a safe place for everything, and keep everything in its place. Eliminate unsafe practices in the kitchen and elsewhere. Check electrical appliances to see that they are in safe repair.

Falls are the leading cause of accidents occuring in the home. Extension specialists point out that good planning reduces the temptation to hurry, and means few accidents. To prevent falls, it also helps to put guards on hazardous places, anchor rugs with skidproof backing, install hand rails, and keep stairs and steps well-lighted. Neatness eliminates the cause of many falls. Keep stairways clear, toys out of the line of traffic, and wipe up spilled grease and liquids promptly.

Don't invite accidents by leaving children alone in your home. If you are going out and leaving them with a baby sitter be sure she knows how to reach the doctor and you.

That proverbial ounce of prevention will never be worth more to you and your family than when you use it to safeguard your home against accidents.

Store hazardous household substances out of reach of children who don't or can't read the label—in a locked place if necessary. And follow the instructions on the label yourself, advise Extension specialists at the New York College of Home Economics at Cornell University.

Such things as cleaning agents, detergents, dry-cleaning preparations, furniture polishes and waxes, laundry bleaches, lighter fluids, silver polishes, and paints, thinners, and removers all are perfectly safe when used according to directions. But if directions are not followed, or if children should eat or drink them, serious injury can result.

All potentially dangerous household items must be conspicuously labeled. The Hazardous Substances Labeling Act states that extremely flammable, corrosive or toxic substances must be labeled "danger." Highly toxic substances must also carry the word "poison." All other hazardous substances must be labeled "warning" or "caution."

But a law alone cannot guarantee safety, specialists emphasize. It is estimated that more than 500 children die each year from eating or drinking such otherwise harmless household products as bleaches, detergents, and furniture polish. Teaching and practicing safety at all times is the only answer, the specialists conclude.

Every member of the family should be trained for fire safety.

Plan at least two escape routes from every room in the house, and for every family member. Anticipate halls and stairs being blocked by fire. Train everyone in the use of escape routes until even younger children understand clearly what to do. Keep exits clear. Plan to use garage and porch roofs, ladders and trees to escape from upper floors.

Know the phone number of the fire department which serves your district, and be sure firemen know how to reach your home.

Get out of the house immediately the minute you discover fire or smoke. Don't stop to dress children or to save valuables. Always have a flashlight handy.

Stay near the floor or crawl to avoid rising gases.

Don't open hot doors. Feel doors first; if they're hot, keep them closed and get out another way or wait for help. Closed wooden doors can keep fire and smoke out of a room for several minutes. Beware of re-entering a house; even the smallest, most harmless-looking fire can give off deadly smoke and fire gases.

Never leave children alone in your home. And, finally, be sure that the baby sitter knows what to do in case of fire.

Choose Melons Now

Chilled melons provide a cool summer dessert or an appetizing way to start the day for low cost at this season of the year says Louise M. Kakargo, assistant home demonstration agent. Melons are one of nature's convenience foods, as little time is involved in preparing and serving them.

A shopper may choose from several different types of melons this season, but the three most familiar melons — cantaloupe, honeydew, and watermelon—make up the bulk of those available. These three favorites account for 98 per cent of all melons in August. In September receipts increase for casabas, cranshaws, Spanish and Persian melons. The latter make up 10 per cent of September melon receipts at metropolitan markets. Though still sizeable, receipts of cantaloupes and watermelon decline in September, while those for honeydews increase.

It's easy to estimate the number of servings available in a melon. At a glance you can tell whether there's going to be much waste because almost all damaged areas show on the outside. Soft spots will not harm the flavor of the fruit but decayed areas will. Examine the surface carefully before buying.

Melons are sold by the pound, either cut or whole, or by the melon according to the size of the melon. You can usually count on two pounds to a serving for watermelon and ½ to ⅓ pound per serving for most other melons.

Whether you're a weight-watcher or just concerned about eating a well-balanced diet, melons fill the bill. While containing few calories, cantaloupe, honeydew, and watermelon are rich in vitamin C (ascorbic acid). One quarter of a medium cantaloupe (⅓ to ½ pound) provides 40 per cent of the recommended daily allowance of vitamin C for an adult man; one-eighth of a honeydew provides about 25 per cent and a two-pound piece of watermelon provides about 35 per cent.

Watermelons, cantaloupes, and the other deeply colored melons are also good sources of vitamin A. One quarter of a cantaloupe or a two-pound piece of watermelon will give about half the recommended daily allowance of vitamin A for an adult.

Many stores now carry frozen melon balls made from cantaloupe and honeydew melons. These can be a treat in midwinter when the fresh melons are just a memory.

You may wish to freeze your own melon balls at home. Use only firm-fleshed, well-colored, ripe melons for freezing. The best time to freeze melons is at the height of the season, when you can get high quality and pay economical prices.

To prepare melons for freezing, wash and halve them. Remove the seeds, and cut into balls using a regular melon baller or a measuring teaspoon, or cut the flesh into ½ to ¾-inch cubes. Cover with a light sugar syrup made of one part sugar to two parts water. Seal and freeze quickly at 0 degrees F. or below. Yield: Dozen cantaloupe — or 28 pounds—22 pints frozen; 1 to 1¼ pounds fresh cantaloupe — one pint frozen.

Frozen melon balls are best if used when only partially thawed, still containing ice crystals. Frozen melon allowed to thaw completely becomes soft and rubbery.

At the Markets

MEATS—Prices for lamb decline seasonally in late summer and fall—look for some decline this year but not to prices as low as last year's. Watch for specials on lamb cuts. Also watch for specials on pork—particularly on ham, including canned hams. You may find pork loin and chops offered at discount. Beef specials will probably include round roast and chuck roast.

Broilers continue reasonably priced, as do turkeys. Turkey prices have been running below those of a year ago.

FRUITS—Local fruit bins are well stocked with avocados, green summer apples, cantaloupe and Honeydew melons, limes, mangoes, yellow peaches, and pears. Blueberries have passed the peak of their season.

VEGETABLES — An abundance of sumer vegetables, many from nearby growing areas, await shoppers. Items include snap beans, beets, cabbage, cauliflower, pascal celery, sweet corn, cucumbers, eggplant, yellow globe onions, peppers, potatoes, squash and tomatoes. Among the locally grown greens to look for are Iceberg lettuce and curly endive and escarole. Carrots, typically in fairly steady supply and available at little change in price the year around, are coming to our stores from California.

Stinging Recess

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Recess ended abruptly Wednesday for a class of 5-year-olds at the Glenwood Baptist church. Someone stepped on a bee hive in a chuck hole.

Twelve of the 50 youngsters and three teachers were stung.

Oldest, Smallest Bows to Newest, Largest Carrier

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—The Navy's oldest and smallest attack carrier has turned over its job as part of 6th Fleet's attack striking force in the Mediterranean to the newest and largest carrier in the fleet.

The 86,000-ton, nuclear-powered Enterprise officially relieved the venerable Shangri-La, 40,000-ton veteran of World War II. The Shangri-La is on the way home to Mayport Naval Station near Jacksonville.

Agree on Exits

VIENTIANA Laos (AP)—Neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma's coalition cabinet agreed today on three exit points for the evacuation of foreign troops from Laos.

They are Vientiane, on the Thailand border; and the Plaine des Jarres and Nhommarat, both near the border of Communist North Viet Nam.

Named Cape

The Cape of Good Hope received its name from King John II, of Portugal, who hoped that a sea route to India had been found. Dias, the Portuguese explorer who discovered the cape, had called it "Cape of Storms."

Allowed Through Red Wall, Sees Kin After 25 Years

By AL SANDNER

GRASS LAKE, Mich. (AP) — "I'll never be alone again," the 77-year-old grandmother said as she clutched the hand of the daughter she had not seen in 25 years.

Mrs. Helena Gruebnau, who passed through the Berlin Wall Tuesday, was reunited Wednesday with Mrs. Margaret Reuter—the daughter she left behind in 1937 when she went for a visit to her native Germany.

Arrives in Detroit

She stepped off a jetliner in Detroit, and left shortly afterward for Grass Lake, a suburb of Jackson, Mich., where she spent her first evening watching television. She will live with her daughter, her son-in-law Gilbert and their children. "Mother, God bless you," Mrs. Reuter sobbed as she kissed her mother.

"I have such nice grandchildren," Mrs. Gruebnau said as she saw them for the first time. She has five—the oldest 24, the youngest 12.

Mrs. Gruebnau, one of the few persons allowed by East Germany to cross the wall, made good on a promise made earlier in New York when she told newsmen she would recognize her daughter immediately. She picked her out of the crowd waiting.

The grandmother has forgotten how to speak English, but said through her bilingual lawyer she would learn again.

The lawyer, G. Vernon Leopold —himself a former German refugee—said he believed Mrs. Gruebnau was the first person to apply successfully for reunion with her family under an East-West agreement since the building of the Berlin Wall.

Expected Trouble

Troubles at the wall had the family apprehensive that something would go wrong, Mrs. Reuter said. She couldn't rest easy until she got a telephone call from West Berlin, she said.

Her mother went back to visit relatives but "just stayed too long," Mrs. Reuter said. Husband Jacob Gruebnau, who stayed behind, died in Mount Clemens, Mich., last year.

Maneuvers Claim Lives of 12 GIs

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—The "Swift Strike II" mass maneuvers held for two weeks in North and South Carolina resulted in the deaths of 12 service men, said Gen. Paul D. Adams, commander of the Strike Command, a new combat force.

Adams said the number of fatalities was small considering 70,000 men were involved.

Reds Fire Fifth

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission has announced Russia's firing of a fifth nuclear test explosion in the arctic atmosphere.

The AEC said the test was conducted Wednesday in the vicinity of Novaya Zemlya island and was in the low megaton range, meaning its explosive force was equivalent to that of one to several million tons of TNT.

Panama Closes Schools to Prevent More Violence

PANAMA (AP) — The government closed high schools in Panama City today in an effort to prevent the spread of student violence at the University of Panama.

About 200 high school students joined some 50 striking extremist university students Wednesday in barricading corridors and nailing classroom doors shut to prevent nonstriking students from attending classes at the university.

Moderate students charged that Communists among the extremists were trying to take over the university.

Tough Way for Corn

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — Nothing happened when Aaron Albert Clack, 11, dropped a coin into a popcorn vending machine at a self-service laundry Wednesday.

Aaron slapped the machine a couple of times on its side. Still nothing happened. He stuck his left hand in the chute where the popcorn is supposed to come out. Two fingers became tangled in the blades of a rotor which is supposed to feed popcorn into the chute.

Police dismantled the machine and freed Aron. He was treated at a hospital for cuts and severe burns on the fingers.

Wool Knit Styles for City and Country

Woolknit fashions for autumn are aimed at both city and country wear. Turtle neck dress (left) in clay color has big patch pockets. Bold stripes (center) are detailed with braid trim in this two-piece woolknit dress. The two-piece tennis dress (right) has sweater copied from a man's classic sweater style and paired with slim skirt. These fashions are from Mia Editions. First two fashions shown would be perfect for travel.

Personal Recollections of Kingston Point

By DOROTHY CHIPP KING

In the early part of this century Kingston Point was the only park in the city. As Columbus Point it had been historically important from very early times. Whether Hendrick Hudson stopped there when in 1609 he sailed up the great river which now bears his name is a moot question, but it certainly became a trading post early in the seventeenth century and tradition has it that the British landed there when they burned Kingston in 1777. Important in Colonial days, it gradually sank into obscurity, to be revived by its purchase in 1893 by the late S. D. Coykendall.

In the same year the old horse-drawn cars were replaced by electric trolleys, and in 1896 the Ulster and Delaware Railroad made it a terminal, meeting the Day Boats there and conveying their passengers to their destinations in the Catskills. In 1902 the rival line, the Colonial, was brought by Mr. Coykendall, and, the two lines combined, covered the greater part of the city, making Kingston Point delightfully accessible to the whole population. In a day when the automobile was practically non-existent and comparatively few families had horses and carriages, the only way for the average citizen to get around was on foot or by trolley. On a hot night in summer it was pleasant for the whole family, perhaps with guests, to board one of the "open trolleys," with seats running across the car, breeze down to the Point at an outlay of ten cents per person, round trip, and amuse themselves, according to age and inclination, with what the park had to offer.

There was a merry-go-round for the children (the two largest and best horses were named for the Spanish War heroes, Gen. Shafter and Gen. Miles) and various and sundry games. For the lover and his lass, there were canoes for rent in which to paddle idly round the lagoons, or more rashly on the river, and there were secluded seats in the shadowy parts of the wooded area for what was then called "spooning." For adults there were still pictures shown on a screen, the forerunner of the cinema, and there was "Morphy the man who sings to beat the band" and did he sing to beat the band! A large man, clad in white suit and cap, with a nautical air, his vocal effects were fortissimo to the nth degree! There were picnic tables at which to eat lunch or supper, there was Bath Beach where bathing in the river could be enjoyed, and there was the arrival of the Day Boats, north and south bound. The river played an important role in travel to New York and Albany. If time were no object, it was a delightful way to go to town, though for the very young the night boats, the Baldwin and the Romer, were more exciting. To go to bed in Kingston, and wake up in the great metropolis with a whole day to spend before the Mary Powell brought one home was a rare treat in those days.

My own recollections of Kingston Point, assisted by the diary which all young girls kept in my time, are especially connected with two dates, 1908 and 1909. On May 29, 1908 the Point was the scene of an impressive ceremony. I was a student at Vassar College then and a number of my classmates were visiting me. We went down to Kingston Point to see the flotilla come in, the escort to the ship bearing Gov. George Clinton's remains from Washington where he died in 1812, while serving as vice-president of the United States, to Kingston, the scene of his inauguration as governor of New York. The unusual sight of U. S. Navy ships in the river, five destroyers and two sub-marines, the salutes exchanged, the crowds massed there was an interesting experience. The next day, alas, a heavy rain set in and the funeral parade up Broadway to the First Dutch Churchyard where Gov. Clinton's body was interred with pomp and circumstance was marred by the weather. The gloom was considerably lightened for us, however, by the fact that my father's friend Capt. W. H. Webb U.S.N.RET. brought a suitable number of young naval officers to call on us. Among them were acting captains Bingham, Marquart and Daniel and we had a delightful time with these young men. During the weekend, Mrs. Thomas J. Hickey took some of us out to the torpedo boat DeLong. As soon as the officers heard my and my sister's name they looked at us with more attention and brought out from what looked like lockers in the wall of the officers' mess-room where they were entertaining us the ship's papers and the log of George W. DeLong who commanded the Jeannette in the ill-fated Arctic expedition in which my father's cousin Lt. Charles Winans Chipp U.S.N. perished, in 1881.

In 1909 there occurred the Hudson-Fulton Celebration and again the river was full of ships, including the replicas of the Half Moon and the Clermont which were anchored off the Point. Some of the ships bore men that day who have since become famous. On the Worden was LT. Harold R. Stark, later chief of operations at the time of Pearl Harbor. On the Dupont was Lt. William F. Halsey, later an admiral and one of the outstanding figures of World War II.

In those days before we had bridges across the Hudson I had some other less agreeable experiences at Kingston Point, for while I was at Vassar we had winters of extremely low temperatures. For two different years, the ferry stopped running for long periods and one was obliged to cross the river in a horse-drawn sleigh or on foot, both of which I did on two or three occasions. It was an eerie experience at any time, but in the late winter just before the break-up of the ice it was a nerve-racking one.

For many years now Kingston Point has suffered an eclipse, the change from trolleys to busses, the withdrawal of the great river boats, the fact that people now go to the Catskills by car instead of by train, the establishment of parks in other parts of the city has changed the situation. On the other hand, boating, water-skiing and allied sports are at a peak in this country and many more people now enjoy cruising on the lovely river at our doors. With that fact in mind a number of citizens intersted in the welfare of Ulster County, have obtained promise of support from the Federal, the State and the city governments with the view of purchasing and maintaining Kingston Point as a park, so perhaps in the future a new and better Kingston Point may rise, like a phoenix, from the ashes of the old one, and our grandchildren may disport themselves, as we did, in that charming old playground, finding delight in the beauty of the Hudson and relaxation in new and more exciting water sports.

Courts Ordered Open Six Hours

NEW YORK (AP)—Judges have been told to keep their courtrooms open at least six hours a day in line with new regulations effective Sept. 1.

The new rule was among others announced Wednesday by Chief Judge Charles S. Desmond of the Court of Appeals in his capacity as chairman of the new administrative board of the State Judicial Conference. The conference is charged with supervision of the reorganized courts.

Desmond said court sessions under the new system were to begin no later than 10 a.m. and end no earlier than 5 p.m. throughout the state. It will apply in the State Supreme Court, Court of Claims, county courts, the new state-wide family court, surrogate's courts, city and district courts outside New York City and the new civil and criminal courts inside the city..

Judges traditionally have had virtually full power over the operations of their own courtrooms.

Other conference rulings:

1. All newly appointed judges and justices of the supreme, appeals and appellate courts must appoint clerks who are members of the bar.

The regulation will not affect clerks already serving.

2. A ban on photography, broadcasting or television in a courtroom at any time, regardless of whether court is in session.

This rule, however, may be waived by the chief judge of the Court of Appeals or by the presiding justice of the appellate division in which the court is located.

3. A ban against any judge, during his term on the bench, from holding any political party office or taking part in any political campaign "except for judicial office."

At present, the only such prohibition is in the canon of judicial ethics.

4. An extension to the entire state of a rule, now in effect in the first and second departments of the appellate division, forbidding any court employe from accepting gifts "from any attorney or from any person having or likely to have an official transaction with the court."

Spends Leave on Water

COCOA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Lt. Cmdr. Joseph Edward Coogan of St. Petersburg is back on duty after six days shore leave—most of it on water skis.

Coogan skiied across the state to Fort Myers Beach and return, a roundtrip distance of 440 miles. He spent the five nights ashore.

Goldwyn Moving Closer to Movie Deal With Video

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Samuel Goldwyn, whose 80th birthday will be marked by an industry dinner Sunday night, shows no loss of his powers as a negotiator.

The backlog of Goldwyn movies, which he wholly owns, is one of the few remaining treasuries as yet untapped by television.

"The networks come around every year to ask me about it," he remarked recently with a contented smile. "The offers get better every time.

Prime Time Must

"When I turn them down, they ask me what I would consider for the films. I tell them I am like a young man who wants to get married. He can't tell you what his future wife will be like, but he knows that he will recognize her when he sees her."

Goldwyn has had offers for the entire backlog and for "Hans Christian Andersen" as a holiday special. So far, no sale.

"I waited until feature pictures were being presented importantly in prime time, not in the afternoon or late at night when working people can't see them," he remarked, "now that the networks are showing them in the evening, I might be interested."

Gig Young is once again carrying the comedy load in "Three on a Match," in which the leading man is Kirk Douglas. His last outing was highly successful "That Touch of Mink" with Cary Grant.

The No. 2 position doesn't bother Gig. Nor does being pegged as a bibulous, offbeat character.

"An actor is always getting typed," he philosophized. "Right after the war, I was typed as Errol Flynn's buddy. Then I did 'Come Fill the Cup' and had a string of drunks.

"I did comedy on the stage in my early career, but I never had any in films until I played 'Oh Men, Oh Women' on Broadway. Now I'm typed in comedy. Listen—the way comedies are selling nowadays, that ain't bad."

'Pigeon' Successful

"The Pigeon That Took Rome" is the latest effort to find laughs in warfare and it is largely successful. The film, photographed in Italy with Hollywood interiors, is a fanciful yarn about undercover work before the liberating of Rome. It explores some familiar themes but with some new twists and a healthy cynicism throughout.

Charlton Heston, obviously happy to be allowed into the 20th century, plays the yard-bitten Yank in fine style, and he gets much help from a lively Italo-American cast including Elsa Martinelli and Harry Guardino.

Woodstock CC Votes To Give Scholarship

The Board of Governors of the Woodstock Country Club has voted to award a golf playing scholarship to the member of the Onteora High school varsity team adjudged the most improved player during the season.

Club president Walter S. Van Wagenen said the Onteora golf coach and members of the physical education department would make the selection.

He also stipulated that a player must be academically in order to be eligible for the award.

If the player selected is a member of a Woodstock Country Club family membership group, the scholarship will be given to the second most improved golfer, Van Wagenen said.

The scholarship grants the young player full course privileges and is in keeping with Woodstock's continued interest in young players.

By a co-incidence all five members of the 1962 Onteora golf varsity are members of Woodstock families. They were David Dean, Thomas DeWitt, John Gordon, Jack Peacock and Jay Van Wagenen, son of the golf coach. Dean and VanWagenen qualified for the Championship Flight at Woodstock this season and rate among the best junior players in the county.

Set Pro-Junior At Edison Links

A Pro-Junior championship will be conducted by the Northeastern PGA Monday, Aug. 27, at the Edison Club in Rexford.

All Northeastern PGA professionals are requested to bring three Junior players. There will be individual pro prizes plus Pro-Junior prizes. A buffet will follow the tournament.

Starting time is 10 a. m., with host pro Bob Haggerty and tournament chairman, Jim Murray, in charge.

The Northeastern will stage its annual Pro-Member at Wolferts Roost Country Club, Albany. The host professional is Bob Smith. Starting time is 11:30 a. m., with a cocktail party at 6:30 p. m. and stag dinner at 7:30.

Jim Murray, Northeastern tournament chairman, has announced that the Schenectady Open, scheduled Sunday, Aug. 26, has been cancelled.

Molina Meeting Joe Brown After Both Are Upset

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP)—When Luis Molina fought Kenny Lane in April, the San Jose lightweight hoped a victory would gain him a bout with the winner of the Joe Brown-Carlos Ortiz title match a week later.

Molina figured Brown would win. Now he's meeting Joe in a 10-rounder here Friday night—a fight arranged after each lost lopsided upset decisions in those April bouts.

"I'm pretty happy about this fight," says Molina, a 23-year-old former Marine who has won 20 of 21 pro bouts. "I hope now it can get me a fight with Ortiz."

Molina isn't at all worried about giving away 13 years and nearly a hundred bouts worth of experience to the ex-champ from Houston, Texas.

"Sure, he's more experienced than I am, but I've had a lot of fights now," he continues.

Molina is ranked No. 4 junior welterweight by the NBA and Ring, but isn't listed on the lightweight ladder. He's knocked out 16 of his 20 victims in two years of professional fighting.

Phils and Mets Beat Big Odds Berra's Homer Wrecks Angels

Yankee Veteran Raps Clincher In 8th Inning

By MIKE RATHET

Yogi Berra, a roly poly Satan, has shoved his pitchfork right into the Angels' inflated haloes.

The veteran catcher played a devil of a game for the New York Yankees Wednesday night, driving in three runs and applying the crusher against the pennant-hopeful Los Angeles Angels with a two-run eighth inning homer that gave the American League leaders a 4-3 victory.

Berra drove in the first Yankee run with a single in the first inning. In the eighth, with the world champions trailing by a run in the second game of the key three-game series, the 37-year-old receiver tagged a two-run homer that knocked the Angel haloes askew.

It was the second sudden-ending finish suffered by the Angels, whose dreams were punctured Tuesday night when the Yankees struck for seven runs in the 10th inning and an 11-4 triumph.

The latest defeat dropped the Angels to third place, six games behind the Yankees and a half-game back of Minnesota. The Twins moved up to 5½ back when their game with Washington was halted by rain after 10 innings with the score tied 8-8.

Elsewhere, Dick Donovan posted victory No. 16 as Cleveland belted Detroit 7-3, Mike Hershberger's ninth inning homer gave the Chicago White Sox a 7-6 decision over Baltimore and Kansas City's Moe Drabowsky won his first in the AL with a 4-2 triumph over Boston.

Donovan Starts Rally

The Senators and Twins played see-saw all night with Minnesota sending it into extra innings with two runs in the ninth. The Senators moved out front in the 10th when Joe Hicks singled and eventually scored on a fielder's choice. Rich Rollins' run-producing single in the bottom half knotted the count again. At this point, rain halted play for the third time and the umpires decided to let them replay it tonight.

Donovan (16-7), a 34-year-old veteran aiming for his first 20-victory season, started the Indians game-winning rally in the eighth inning with his third single. Willie Tasby then reached base on Dick McAuliffe's error on a doubleplay grounder that could have ended the inning. Al Luplow followed with a triple that snapped a 3-3 tie and tagged Don Mossi (8-12) with the loss.

Hershberger decided the White Sox-Orioles struggle with a two-out homer in the ninth off Hoyt Wilhelm (5-9) that won it for Chicago and Frank Baumann (6-4). The Orioles had pulled into a tie at 6-6 in the seventh inning on a walk to Whitey Herzog, singles by Jim Gentile and Brooks Robinson and an error by Jim Landis.

Drabowsky (1-0) gave up a homer to Ed Bressoud in the fourth, then was tagged for one by Gary Geiger in the eighth and John Wyatt had to come on to finish up a seven-hitter.

Jamestown First As NY-Pa League Nears Finale

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The New York-Penn Baseball League race headed down to the wire with three games left today and Jamestown on top by a game.

The Tigers beat Auburn, 9-4, Wednesday night — their 5th straight victory — as lefty Bob Schmidt pitched a six-hitter for his 17th triumph against three defeats.

Second - place Erie hung on grimly, battering Batavia, 11-3, with an 11-hit attack highlighted by Barry Freitag's three-run double.

Back-to-back doubles by Bob Montgomery and Dave Walker and a single by Larry Thomas gave Olean two runs in the seventh inning and a 9-8 triumph over last-place Geneva.

Jamestown finishes the season at Auburn with singles games tonight through Saturday. Erie plays Batavia at Erie tonight, then moves to Batavia for the final two games that will decide the pennant.

PITCHING — Chris Short, Phillies, limited National League leading Los Angeles to three hits for 5-1 victory that made it 11 victories in the last 13 games for Philadelphia.

BATTING—Eddie Kasko, Reds, hit grand slam homer in 10th inning for 9-5 triumph over Chicago Cubs, moving third-place Cincinnati to within four games of National League lead.

Franchise Shifting To Syracuse in 1963

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — A franchise of the Eastern Professional Hockey League, an all-Canadian circuit, apparently will be shifted to Syracuse next season, reported Wednesday that the Chicago Blackhawks of the National Hockey League, holders of the franchise, had reserved 40 nights, beginning in early October, at the War Memorial Auditorium here.

Giant Killers Upset Dodgers, San Francisco

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Picking the Phillies to beat the Dodgers and the Mets to beat the Giants on the same evening is something like drawing to an inside straight.

Usually the house gets rich on such odds. Wednesday night, however, it was the Cincinnati Reds who picked up the chips.

The Reds, making a determined stab at repeating as National League champs, used Eddie Kasko's 10th inning grand slam homer to beat the Chicago Cubs 9-5 while the leading Los Angeles Dodgers and second-place San Francisco Giants took their lumps from a couple of also-rans.

The stumbling Dodgers lost to Philadelphia 5-1 as Chris Short pitched a three-hitter, while San Francisco had New York on the ropes, then let the Mets get away 5-4.

The Reds trail Los Angeles by four games—the closest Cincinnati has been since the second week of the season—and are a half game behind San Francisco. Los Angeles retains a 3½ game margin over San Francisco.

Pittsburgh got three-hit pitching from Tom Sturdivant, blanking Houston 3-0, and Milwaukee rallied to beat St. Louis 6-4 in the others.

The Reds, regaining the form that brought them the pennant last season, got support from an unexpected source in the victory over the Cubs.

Rare Kasko Homer

Kasko, who faces possible loss of his starting assignment with the return of Gene Freese from the injured list, had hit only one home run this season before he unloaded with three men on base in the 10th. It was his 15th homer in six major league seasons.

Short, a lefty, was damaged only by Frank Howard's home run in pitching the Phils past the Dodgers. A walk to Bob Oldis, a sacrifice and Tony Taylor's line single broke a 1-1 tie for the Phils in the seventh and home runs by Johnny Callison and Don Demeter put it out of reach in the eighth. Short walked two in winning his eighth in 15 decisions.

San Francisco rallied from a three-run deficit to tie the Mets 4-4 in the top of the eighth, only to lose it in the bottom of the inning. Ken MacKenzie reached base on an error leading off the Met eighth and Don Larsen was relieved by Bob Garibaldi after walking Richie Ashburn. A single by Charlie Neal drove in the tie-breaker.

Knuckleball specialist Sturdivant (6-3) had a no-hitter for 4 1-3 innings as Pittsburgh eliminated Houston from the race. The only Colt hits were singles by Hal Smith and Al Spangler and a double by Bob Lillis.

Del Crandall delivered an eighth inning pinch hit single that drove in two runs, breaking a 4-4 tie and bringing Milwaukee its fourth straight victory at the expense of St. Louis.

Newburgh Rookie Leaguers Signing Up All Next Week

Registration for the 1963 season will take place all next week, Aug. 27 through Aug. 31, during the Rookie League play-offs at the main diamond of the Newburgh Recreation Park.

Candidates will be able to register from 5:30 p. m. to 7:30 p. m.

The Rookie Baseball League which is open to players age 17 through 23 will expand to six teams for the 1963 season, playing an 18 game split season schedule, nine games in each round.

Each team in the league will have a playing manager and an assistant playing manager over 23 years of age who will be valuable in coaching the younger ball players.

Any former area ball player or young physical education coach from Orange, Dutchess, Putnam or Sullivan County is invited to take part in this American Legion Americanism program.

In 1962 the Rookie League had representation from 14 high schools and 18 colleges.

Shienvold Excels

Crows Trounce Hawks, 6 to 2 For 2nd Half Jaycees Pennant

Arnie Shienvold, the leadoff man and pitcher, opened the game with a home run and the Crows went on to trounce the Hawks, 6-2, to capture the second half championship in the Jaycees Little League.

The Crows will meet the Hawks, first half champs, in the opener of the best-of-three championship series Monday at 5:45 p. m., at Forsyth Park.

The first inning homer inspired Shienvold to a topnotch pitching performance. He blanked the Hawks until the sixth inning with 2 hits and 10 strikeouts.

Crows collected off three Hawk hurlers, with Scot Findholdt taking the loss.

Artie Davis slammed three singles in four times at bat for the Crows. Wayne Havens hit a single and double and Tom Walsh a pair of singletons. Rich Oakley and Bill Lahl accounted for the two Hawk safeties.

Mohawks Shutout Apaches 5-0 to Finish Second

Third baseman Bob Struble slapped three hits Wednesday, including a double and a triple to pace the Mohawks to a 5-0 win over the Apaches in a Met Knot Hole League contest. This was the season finale for the Mohawks and as a result of the win, they finished in the number two spot in the league standings.

Jerry Keller also had a two-bagger for the winners and Blaine Kilmer paced the losing attack with three hits including a double.

Chico Greenice and Bill Plough teamed up to spin a nifty five-hitter for the Mohawks while their teammates were collecting seven hits off Apache pitchers Kilmer and Gary Bittner. Greenige picked up the win and Bittner was tabbed with the loss.

Little Gains Semi-Finals

Playing a strong, steady game, Dick Little turned back Don Bunk in straight sets, 6-4, 6-3, in the quarter final round of the Ulster County tennis championships Wednesday night at Forsyth Park.

Trailing 4-2 in the first set, Little made a strong comeback and with effective use of well executed drop shots, one of the strong points of his game.

Little moved into the semi-finals where he meets tournament favorite, Marty Kaye, this evening at 5:45. In the other semi-final, Pete Zeeh and Richard Smith clash Saturday at 10 a. m.

The singles finals are tentatively scheduled for 11 a. m. Sunday.

Daily Double Is $10.80 at Raceway

MONTICELLO, Aug. 22 — Favorites Butterwyn and Zonamite combined for a small $10.80 Dafly Double of numbers 3 and 1 Wednesday at Monticello Raceway.

Sam Caton drove Butterwyn to a wire-to-wire victory in 2:12.3 as the even-money favorite. A three-year-old filly by Scotch Victor, Butterwyn returned short mutuels of 4.20, 3.10 and 2.90. Uncle Si was second and returned 9.10 and 6.30. Tyson's Express was the show horse for 4.50.

Gene Daisey steered Zonamite to a 2:10 triumph in the second race. Daisey sat with Zonamite behind Goldie Rose for almost the entire mile. But in the race for the wire, Zonamite overtook the leader and won comfortably as the 3-2 choice.

Zonamite paid back 5.00, 2.90 and 2.90. Goldie Rose was 3.90 and 3.30 for place. Worthy Grace paid 3.80 for show.

Carmine Abbatiello drove his 43rd winner when he piloted Golden Domino to a stretch victory in 2:09.4 in the third race. The time is a new lifetime record for Golden Domino, a two-year-old colt by Meadow Gold. The second favorite in the betting, Golden Domino paid 6.40 for win.

Sonny Frost, 12-1 in the betting, closed with a rush to win the feature $2,500 Class B-1/B-2 trot in 2:06.3.

Second on the rail for most of the mile, Sonny Frost roared past even-money favorite Tyson Scott to win by three-fourths of a length. Valiant Hanover was third.

Driven by Pat Iovine for Wilbey Stables, Inc. of New Rochelle, Sonny Frost paid $26.60, $6.50 and $3.40.

Duke Rodney Is Favored to Win Challenge Cup

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Three American trotters have been installed top favorites for Saturday's $25,000 Challenge Cup which will have four foreign entries in a field of eight.

Duke Rodney, who finished second in the American Trot, drew the No. 3 post position Wednesday and was installed as the 5-2 favorite for the Roosevelt Raceway event.

Porterhouse, a doubtful starter, looked good in a recent workout and drew the No. 1 post. The American Trot winner was listed as second choice with Su Mac Lake, 1961 International winner, the third choice.

Harness racing results Wednesday night:

Saratoga—Yankee Tardios ($5) won the $2,000 Albany Lions Club Pace by a neck over Walter Knight with a 2:04 3-5. Don Huff reined the 4-year-old stallion.

Vernon — Torrence Hanover ($23.50) came out of fourth place in the stretch to win a $3,500 Invitational Trot by a length over Lucky Demon. Time for the mile was 2:03. Whitey Dennison drove.

Batavia — Sis's Brother ($8.10) took a $1,700 Class B1 trot in 2:04 1-5.

Edge Hits 497

Celestes Edge linked games of 172, 143, 182 for 497 in the Business Girls League. Team results: J&G Drywall 1, DeLuca Cleaners 2; WBAZ Radio 2, Local 259 (1); Colonial Knitwear 2, Houghtaling Cities Service 1; Gene's Bar and Grill 2, Wimpy's 1.

7 Horse Field Going Today in Spa Steeplechase

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. (AP) — The 55th running of the Saratoga Steeplechase Handicap attracted a field of seven today for the feature event at the Saratoga Track.

The 2½-mile test over big jumps will gross $19,425 if all seven entries go, with $12,625.25 going to the winner.

Becky's Ship and Negocio, the entry of Mrs. G. E. Tenner and Mrs. P. Poe, were the overnight favorites.

Edith D. Jacobs' Affectionately and Bohemia Stable's Kelso, both odds - on - favorites, captured Wednesday's top events.

Affectionately, undisputed 2-year-old filly queen, led all the way to take the 71st running of the $50,000 added Spinaway. She paid $2.60.

Kelso, horse of the year in 1960-61, held off a bid from Call The Witness to win an overnight event on the grass course. Kelso paid $2.50, shortest price at the meeting.

Mrs. Liguore - Mrs. Overbagh Win Member - Guest Tourney

Mrs. Thomas Liguore and her guest, Mrs. Gerald Overbagh of Rip Van Winkle, combined for a best-ball 70 to win Wednesday's women's Member-Guest tournament at Wiltwyck Country Club. Twenty six tandems competed.

Two shots off the pace were Mrs. Herbert Martin and Mrs. Thelma Demarest (Stamford) with 72.

Other leaders were: Mrs. Harry Spiesman-Mrs. Ben Rothberg (Stamford), 74; Mrs. Clifford Smith - Mrs. John Purvis (Twaalfskill), 75; Mrs. Beatrice Cullum - Mrs. Bernard Feeney (Twaalfskill), 76; Mrs. Charlotte Lapine - Mrs. Harry Kennedy (Woodstock), 76; Mrs. Gerald Gruberg - Mrs. Arthur Fields (Shawangunk), 77; Mrs. Samuel Levine-Miss Janet Fochi (Woodstock), 77.

Mrs. George Rifenbary was hostess for the day.

Play Team Match

A return match will be played with the I.B.M. Country Club women on Tuesday, Aug. 28. I.B.M. won the opener, 19½ to 16½. A "Par-Bogey" tournament will be staged by the Wiltwyck women the following day.

Bud Russell's 73 Leads at Taconic

Pierce (Bud) Russell, Troy attorney and several times champion at Troy Country Club, fired a 2-over-par 73 at picturesque Taconic course in Williamstown, Mass. Wednesday to lead the Class A field in the weekly Eastern New York Golf Association tournament.

Leon Randall of Wiltwyck, the only scratch player in the field, carded a 75 and Charles J. Turck had 80-5-75. Maurice Davenport posted 88-7-81. Wiltwyck had no representation in Class B and C.

Russell, a former president of the New York State Golf Association and also former head of ENYGA posted a 36-37-over the 6,630-yard layout to win by two strokes. His card showed 16 pars and two bogeys.

George Holcomb, Hoosick Falls, took the Class A net award with 68, using an 8 handicap.

The Class B and C shotmakers played at Battenkill, with Al Silvernell, Glens Falls, leading Class B with a gross 78 and Saul Weisberg, Van Schaick, pacing Class C with a 79. Net winners were Eli Albert, Ballston Spa CC, Class B, with 69 and Bill Lurie, Van Schaick, Class C, with 65. Albert had a 13 handicap and Lurie 24.

Next Tuesday the association will hold its annual Ray Delahant Memorial tourney at Troy CC.

Greene's Largest Spectator Event Coming Sunday

Greene County's largest spectator sport event will take place this coming Sunday in the form of Saint Patrick's Central Catholic High School's second annual Horse Show at the Blue Chips Stables, West Coxsackie, from 9:30 a. m. until dark.

The first running of the show last September attracted 75 top Eastern New York exhibitors and over a thousand spectators. Sunday's show promises to eclipse last year's mark, attracting championship calibre exhibitors from a wider area to compete in eight additional classes.

Saint Patrick's show is the second largest horse show in upstate New York sanctioned by the American Horse Show Association. Exhibitors can gain qualification for the National Horse Show at Madison Square Garden, the Internationals, and for Olympic competition.

The show, conducted to supplement the new high school's operating budget, has been successful in providing an atmosphere of Christian sociability among workers, exhibitors, and spectators, the ideal conditions for an enjoyable family outing.

Racing Classic On Long Island

BRIDGEHAMPTON, L. I., N. Y. — A world championship auto race meeting, ranking in importance with Le Mans in France; Italy's Targa Florio; Germany's 1,000 kilometers of the Nuerburgring and the Florida classics at Daytona Beach and Sebring, has been scheduled for the Bridgehampton Race Circuit next month.

The "Bridgehampton Double 400", to be held on September 15-16, is the first international championship motor race in the metropolitan area since the Vanderbilt Cup events of 1936 and 1937 at Roosevelt Raceway.

The Saturday and Sunday contests will be for Grand Touring cars and sports-racing autos. Each day's 87-lap race will total 400 kilometers (248.5 miles) over the challenging racing roadway.

With points counting toward the world championship for manufacturers, the races are certain to draw factory teams and top competitors from Europe, Latin America and the cream of domestic drivers.

Stroke Is Fatal For Illinois HS Football Player

GILLESPIE, Ill. (AP) — A Gillespie High School football player passed out in a locker room after a morning drill Wednesday and died about three hours later at St. Francis Hospital.

He was 15-year-old Andy Yurkovich, 6-foot-1½ and 244 pounds, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Yurkovich of nearby Benld, Ill.

Coroner James Warden said an autopsy showed the cause of death to be heat stroke.

A teammate of Yurkovich, Patrick Wesley, 15, of Gillespie also complained of feeling ill in the locker room. He was in satisfactory condition at the hospital.

Coach August Dicenso said the players engaged in a light drill for about 75 minutes in football uniforms, including pads. The coach said it was hot and he watched the players closely to avoid over-exertion.

Mrs. Davenport Plays Kowalski

Mrs. M. Richard Davenport defeated Mrs. Howard DeWitt, 8 and 7, to gain the finals in the women's Championship Flight at Wiltwyck Country Club.

Mrs. Davenport will meet Alyce Kowalski, who eliminated the defending champion, Mrs. Charles Kovacs, in the 1962 finals Saturday morning in an 18-hole playoff.

Unearned Tally In 7th Gives Catskill Win 2-1

The Catskill American Legion baseball team picked up a run in the seventh inning on a two-base throwing error, a wild pitch and a passed ball to edge the Saugerties American Legion team 2-1 and even the series between the two teams at a game apiece.

Saugerties hurried out front 1-0 in the opening frame on back-to-back doubles by Dodig and Marelli. Catskill came right back in the third to knot the score when Marra walked, moved to second on an error by the catcher, Cramer walked, a double steal was executed and Marra scored as B. Patterson grounded out second to first.

Catskill picked up the winning tally when Marra reached second after grounding to the third baseman who overthrew first, took third on a wild pitch and scored on a passed ball.

Horning worked the distance for Catskill, gave up no free trips to first, struck out seven and allowed seven hits to gain the win.

Buytkins started for Saugerties, worked six innings, walked one and struck out seven. May came on in relief, walked none and struck out one while getting tagged with the loss.

Catskill had only two hits, singles by Johnson and Leipshultz. Besides Dodig and Marelli's run producing back-to-back blows, Buytkins and Davis also had doubles for Saugerties.

Saugerties won the first game of the home-and-home series 3-2 last week in Saugerties. The two teams begin another home-and-home series Wednesday night.

Reel Handle

PRIMROSE, Neb.—(NEA)—Jewell Hemmingson came up with a new northern pike lure—a reel handle with hooks attached.

Fishing in a gravel pit near Primrose, Hemmingson landed a three-pound northern. He found a reel handle in its stomach when he cleaned the fish.

The handle, which Hemmingson is using now, came from Alex Long's reel. Long lost it a few days ago fishing in the same gravel pit.

Lasher Pitches, Bats Subway to 14-1 Playoff Win

B. Lasher crashed a homer with the bases full of teammates in the second inning thus giving himself all the runs he needed as he turned in a one-hitter and paced the Subway to a 14-1 trouncing of Yallum's Monday in City Softball League playoff game at Deitz Stadium.

Lasher's blow highlighted the Subway's big inning in which they scored seven times before the side was out.

Lasher also had two other base blows and R. Scheffel and B. Slover chipped in with two hits apiece. Slover had a double and Smith slammed a triple for the winners.

Lasher worked the route, gave up the lone safety, walked four and struck out three enroute to the win. Carpino and J. Amato Sr. teamed up to allow 11 hits and five walks while striking out four. Carpino was tagged with the loss.

LL Manager Says Boys Are Serious At Williamsport

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—Baseball is serious business at the Little League World Series, or as serious as anything can be to a 12-year-old boy with braces on his teeth.

"The pillow fighters were eliminated along the way," says Don James, manager of the Kankakee, Ill., team.

"In one of the regional tournaments we played in, the kids on the other teams were up half the night, screaming, running around and having pillow fights.

"Those teams didn't make it to the series. Here it's serious business. Lights go out at 10 o'clock. All these boys are here to win."

Kankakee is one of the favorites. "We're in good shape," James says. "Oh, I think my center fielder is a little homesick, but he's coming around."

The Illinois team meets Pitman, N.J., today, in one of the semi-final games. Monterrey, Mexico, and San Jose, Calif., meet in the second semifinal.

The other four teams, Kunitachi, Japan; Del Rio, Tex.; Stoney Creek, Ontario, Canada, and the team from the U.S. Army post at Poitiers France, have dropped into the consolation bracket.

Consolation games are scheduled for Friday, and the championship game Saturday.

Airplane Grid Circuit Possible Says ND Chief

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—A proposed Airplane Football Conference for colleges spanning both coasts is "a definite possibility by 1970," says the president of Notre Dame University.

The Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh said in a newspaper interview Wednesday that "in this era of the airplane, it is practically as easy for us to travel to California for a game as it is to get to Iowa and back."

He said the proposed league, in the talking stage for several years, ideally would consist of 10 to 15 schools of comparable academic level, including major independent east and west coast teams, the service academies and Notre Dame.

Houston Is Out Of NL Race, Bucs Make It Official

PITTSBURGH (AP)—To those who fearlessly predicted the Houston Colts wouldn't win the National League pennant this year, fret no further. They won't.

The Colts, winners of 45 games in 126 tries in their first year, officially were eliminted from the pennant race Wednesday night, losing to Pittsburgh 3-0 on Tom Sturdivant's three-hitter. Even with this fate, Manager Harry Craft isn't complaining.

"We haven't even thought of being eliminated," Craft said. "It's farthest from our minds. We still have a tremendous lot of work to do the rest of the season."

The ninth-place Colts are the second team to drop from the official chase. The New York Mets accomplished it earlier this month.

"In one sense, we're not disappointed," said Craft, who became used to disappointment with the lowly Kansas City Athletics in the American League. "Before the season, all of the polls had us finishing in 10th place.

"If we can't stay out of last with the spread between us and the Mets we better hang them up. I even think there's a chance that we'll finish eighth. We're only a game and a half from there now."

Highlands Dog Show Announced

The Hudson Highlands Dog Training Club, Inc., will sponsor an All-Breed and Obedience Match Show on Sunday, Sept. 16 at Tarr Oval, Route 52, Newburgh.

Entries will be taken from 1 p. m., with Obedience judging to start at 1:30 p. m. and Breed judging at 2 p. m. In case of rain, the show will be held indoors at Mac's Teenage Canteen, 5 Washington Terrace, Newburgh, opposite the Grand Union parking lot.

Several attractive trophies, ribbons and rozettes will be awarded. Further information may be obtained by writing the show chairman, Mrs. Joseph R. Keesler, Union Avenue, R. D. 3, Box 8, Newburgh.

San Francisco Schoolgirl in USGA Semifinals

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—A stalwart San Francisco schoolgirl moved into the semifinals of the 14th U.S. Golf Association Girls Junior Championship today with the hope that her putting problems were behind her.

Janice Ferraris, at 15 the San Francisco city womens titlist, tossed a nine-hole string in one-over-par at the tourney favorite, Roberta Albers of Temple Terrace, Fla., and crushed her, 4 and 3.

Today, she met the Western girls junior champion, Mary Lou Daniel of Louisville, Ky., over the Country Club of Buffalo's 6,102-yard, par 72 course.

Maryland junior titlist Mary Alice Sawyer of Baltimore faced Sue Lance of Woodland Hills, Calif., in the other 18-hole semifinal.

The 17-year-old Miss Daniel beat Bonnie Werner of New Berlin, Wis., 4 and 3. Miss Sawyer survived the tournament's longest match to beat Renee Powell in 21 holes. Miss Lance beat a fellow Californian, Michele Yapp of Santa Cruz, 6 and 5.

Columbus Takes Richmond 5-3 on Bailey's Blast

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Shortstop Bobby Bailey boosted his average to .296, his home run total to 23, his runs scored to 94, and his runs-batted-in to 85 Wednesday night in leading the Columbus Jets to their seventh straight International League victory, 5-3 over Richmond.

Richmond right-hander George Haney allowed only two hits in seven innings, but the first was a three-run homer by Bailey in the first following two walks and the second was a solo homer in the sixth by Larry Elliot.

Left-hander Don Rowe pitched a six-hitter for his 10th victory in the game at Columbus, one of four played in the IL Wednesday night.

Management on Top in Softball

MONTICELLO — Sparked by some late-game heroics by directors Sidney Sussman, Milt Kutsher and Don Hammond, the management softballers frolicked to a 14-9 decision over the horsemen in All-Monticello Raceway softball game today at Kutsher's Country Club.

Sussman, chairman of the board of directors, ignited an 11-run rally in the sixth inning with a walk. Kutsher and Hammond followed with hits in pinch-hitting roles and the rally was on. Sussman emerged as the winning pitcher.

The horsemen, paced by a first-inning grand-slam homer by Gene Daisey, took a commanding 8-0 lead. They led 9-3 going into the sixth when management launched its winning rally.

Pitching for the Horsemen were Billy Mitchell, Bob Interdonato, Buddy Kummer and Tony Colombo. Fred Rosenberg carried the brunt of the mound work for the winners.

The Horsemen were also represented by leading driver Carmine Abbatiello, who played left field and third base, Russ Palmer, Sam Smith, Bill Vaughan, Frank Popfinger and Lew Gregory. Lucien Fontaine added moral support from the sidelines.

The Horsemen want revenge and have challenged management to a return game next Wednesday at the Windsor Hotel. The challenge has been accepted.

Ike Risks Rough Copter Trip to Keep Erin Date

ROUNDWOOD, Ireland (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower risked a helicopter flight in rough weather today rather than disappoint his friend, former Irish President Sean T. O'Kelly.

Eisenhower flew from Dublin in the rain and landed on the front lawn of O'Kelly's home. The nearby peaks of the Wicklow Hills were shrouded in mist and a hard wind was blowing.

Roundwood is the highest village in Ireland, nestling amid the peaks of the Wicklows.

"I told you I was coming," said the ex-president as he stepped from his helicopter, "and here I am."

The Irish ex-president, who was Eisenhower's guest in the White House in 1959, stood beaming in the rain. About 150 people, the village's entire population, waited on the lawn with him.

With the rain running down his face and the wind tugging at his coat, Eisenhower said: "I'm having a wonderful time—despite the weather. Thank you for this splendid welcome. Now, I'd like to present my grandchildren."

David Eisenhower, 14 stood beside him shivering in a lightweight suit.

"This is my grandfather, David—I mean, my grandson," said the former president.

Then he introduced his granddaughter Anne, 13. Though her hair was matted by the rain, she managed a smile.

"And this," said Eisenhower, "is Craig Godsen."

Someone laughed. "I mean Craig Gosden," said the former president.

Craig is the 12-year-old son of Freeman Gosden, Amos of the American radio team of Amos and Andy. The Gosdens are close friends of the Eisenhowers and are making the current European tour with them.

Smiling and nodding his approval, O'Kelly invited the visitors into his home.

Inside he presented Eisenhower with a bottle of 20-year-old Irish whisky.

"That's for taking home with you," he said. "This other is for drinking now."

Gunman's Shots Fatal to Groom Of Four Days

RENO, Nev. (AP)—A young California man, married here Monday evening, died today after being shot twice in the head by a gunman who kidnaped him and his bride from their motel room early Wednesday and raped the wife.

Jack Foster, 23, of Yreka, Calif., died at 5 a.m. at Washoe Medical Clinic in Reno where he had been taken with two bullet wounds.

Mrs. Foster, also 23, of Medford, Ore., was treated for shock at Carson-Tahoe Hospital in Carson City, Nev.

Lester Morford III, 18, of Santa Rosa, Calif., is in jail charged with assault with intent to kill.

Larry Fister, Nevada highway patrolman, chased him down and captured him in the Foster car at Silver Springs, east of Reno, shortly after Mrs. Foster leaped from the vehicle in Carson City and reported the attack.

Foster's bride, Patricia, told officers a young man broke into their room and kidnaped them at gun point in their auto. They drove to Truckee, Calif., then to Lake Tahoe, then headed east.

She said the gunman shot her husband and dumped him from the car, raped her twice and drove to Carson City, where she escaped.

Passing motorists found Foster and he was rushed to a hospital.

Laborer Is Sentenced

A 2-year-old Newburgh laborer, was sentenced Tuesday by Acting County Judge W. Vincent Grady to six months in the Dutchess County Jail. Ernest James Ponessa, 27, of 21 East Parmenter Street, Newburgh, had pleaded guilty to charges of burglary third degree and petit larcency. He was accused of entering the Dutchess Home Beverages Co., Poughkepsie, and taking $8.50. Ponessa was given credit for 66 days served.

Kingston Men Apply

Applicants from Kingston, Newburgh, Hudson, Maybrook and Carmel are among 42 men, scheduled to take a Civil Service examination for patrolmen Sept. 8, at Poughkeepsie. William F. Moehrke, executive secretary of the Dutchess County Civil Service Commission, said the examination is being conducted to create an eligibility list for the entire Dutchess County.

Report Indicates Wassaic School Is Overcrowded

Reports from the State Mental Hygiene Department have been received by Dr. Ernest Steblen, acting director of the Wassaic State School for Mental Defectives, Amenia, disclosing that the institution is caring for 355 more patients than its designed capacity.

Dr. Steblen stated in the absence of Dr. George F. Etling, director, who is on vacation, that the state school in eastern Dutchess County was designed for 3,552 children and adults, and the present registration is 3,907.

State Mental Hygiene Department officials have made known that patients at the Wassaic School, Willowbrook and Letchworth Village, will be transferred to the Bronx State Hospital when the first new building is completed next Spring.

EAL to Resume 323 Trips Today

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Eastern Air Lines planned to resume service on 323 flights today and a spokesman said the 60-day strike against the big carrier is ended.

J. O. Jarrard, vice president in charge of industrial relations, said Eastern has replaced all striking employes and is proceeding toward full operation, scheduled for Sept. 13.

Eastern said full jet service would resume today and piston-engine flights will be restored Sept. 13.

A spokesman said both types of planes will be used when full service is resumed. He said some of the less-profitable flights will be dropped, but did not say how many.

Army, Rutgers Will Resume Next Year

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP)—A home-and-home football series between Army and Rutgers was announced here today.

The first game will be played Oct. 16, 1965 at West Point. Army will visit Rutgers Oct. 15, 1966.

The teams met six times previously, Army winning five of the contests. The last game was played in 1914, the first in 1891.

Report 15 Red Ships Cuba-Bound

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fifteen Communist ships were reported en route to Cuba today.

They are in addition to 16 vessels said to have docked at Cuban ports late last month with an estimated 3,000 to 5,000 Communist bloc technicians plus large quantities of goods including weapons.

President Kennedy said at his news conference Wednesday the U.S. government has information that Red "supplies and technicians of rather intensive quantity in recent weeks" have been landing on the Caribbean island.

Kennedy gave no figures, but said there is no information that Russian soldiers have come to Cuba or that the Communist aid is a buildup for an invasion of another country.

The President declined to assess the significance of the stepped-up assistance to the Communist-linked regime of Fidel Castro, saying "We are examining it now."

Other U.S. authorities indicated they do not yet know what the Reds are up to.

One speculation is that Moscow wants to strengthen the Communist hold on Cuba by sending in large numbers of "technicians" who will operate in key positions.

Another is that the Cuban economy is sagging so badly that the Communist bloc has decided massive aid is needed to revive its Western Hemisphere ally.

It is speculated also that the Communist help—while not of the kind for any large scale foreign attack—will augment efforts to export communism from Cuba to other Latin American countries through subversive means.

Pioneer Nuclear Ship Research Aids Development

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Writer

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP)—Development of the pioneering nuclear merchant ship Savannah has shown the way to building improved yet cheaper atomic powered vessels for world commerce.

Robert E. Wilson, a member of the Atomic Energy Commission, made that report Wednesday, forecasting that such advances could lead to:

1. Nuclear powered freighters that would speed across the Atlantic in four days—faster than luxury liners like the Queen Mary, and almost twice as fast as conventionally fueled cargo ships.

2. Long-range, 60-knot hydrofoils—ocean-going craft that would operate with only their foils submerged, while the hull rode above the water line.

3. Fast-stepping "ground effect machines" which would ride on a cushion of air near the surface of the water at speeds of perhaps 150 knots.

Wilson discussed these possibilities in a speech honoring the completion of the maiden voyage of the 22,000-ton, $53 million nuclear merchant ship, the first of its kind in the world.

He said experience acquired mainly in building the Savannah "has resulted in reactor designs which would reduce the . . . Savannah power plant weight and construction cost by 50 per cent and the operating cost by 60 per cent."

The cost of the reactor in the Savannah was $13 million, and its weight is 2,500 tons.

Po'keepsie Police Thwart Suicide Attempt in Jail

Alertness of two Poughkeepsie policemen Tuesday night thwarted a suicide attempt in the city jail, when a prisoner was cut down after police found him hanging in a cell.

Police chief John L. Martin said Wednesday, John Griffin, 57, homeless and jobless, was held for city court arraignment on a misdemeanor. Two policemen found Griffin hanging and cut his undershirt that had been fashioned into a noose.

A fire department emergency crew revived Griffin with oxygen. The man later was committed to a state institution for observation.

Toronto Women Cross Lake in Amphib Car

TORONTO (AP)—Two Toronto wives crossed Lake Ontario by automobile Wednesday.

They drove their amphibious car into the middle of a water show as a crowd of more than 4,000 cheered.

Mrs. Shirley Blatchford, a schoolteacher, and Mrs. Margaret Heintenseer, a dietitian, made the 32-mile trip from Youngstown, N.Y., in about six hours driving an amphibious West German "Amphicar".

The women arrived at the Aquarama '62 show with every hair in place and fresh coats of lipstick.

They had bet their husbands a bottle of champagne each they would make the voyage. The husbands went along by boat.

Tough Curbs Part Of Farm Measure Voted by Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has swiftly passed a new farm bill with a dose of the tough controls President Kennedy requested to reduce surpluses of corn and feed grains.

The measure, approved Wednesday by a 47-37 vote, now must go to a conference committee where differences between the Senate and House versions will be ironed out.

The House in June scrapped the original administration bill with its staff compulsory controls. In its place, the House passed a measure to continue for another year the present voluntary wheat and feed grain programs.

The Senate wrote into the measure a provision that could sharply reduce or wipe out price supports starting with the 1964 crop of corn, sorghum grains, barley and other livestock feed grains.

Another key provision—similar to one rejected earlier by the House—would establish production controls over wheat beginning with the 1964 crop if producers agree in a referendum next year.

Boos, Cheers, Applause

EDINBURGH, Scotland (AP) — The first performance of a ban-the-bomb cantata ended amid boos, cheers and polite applause.

The cantata—"On the Bridge at Hiroshima"—was composed by Italy's Luigi Nono especially for the Edinburgh Festival.

It was performed Wednesday night by the London Symphony Orchestra.

It is estimated that someone flees from a Communist country every minute of every day.

Firefighting Case Of Tillson Man Slated for Trial

A jury trial has been scheduled for Vincent Sudowski, owner of property off Springtown Road, Tillson, for Sept. 19, 7 p. m. at the Maple Hill School.

The defendant is accused of obstructing an attempt to extinguish a forest fire near his property, August 4. Norman Kellar, attorney for the defendant, requested the jury trial to be held before Justice of the Peace Edward Brodsky, Town of Rosendale.

Sudowski was accused of violating Section 1901 of the Penal Law on complaint of Forest ranger Byron E. Hill, who reportedly told authorities Sudowski refused to permit him on his property to check a forest fire. Sudowski previously posted $100 bond pending disposition of the charge.

It was reported that Tillson firemen and others had fought forest fires near the Sudowski property and on August 4, Hill drove his car through Sudowski's yard to enter the woods to check the fire. Sudowski, it was reported, fired a shot from a rifle over the ranger's automobile, and refused to permit him to go further. Hill backed his car to a main road after the defendant reportedly refused to permit him to turn around on his property.

London Mum About Meg's Second Child

LONDON (AP)—A spokesman today announced two more public engagements for Princess Margaret but said nothing about reports that she's expecting a second child.

The spokesman said the princess and her husband would attend a ball on Oct. 19 and on Oct. 23 will visit a poor folks home.

Two days ago the Daily Mirror said she was expecting a baby next year.
